HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE I Elsinore. A platform before the castle.

[FRANCISCO at his post. Enter to him BERNARDO]

BERNARDO Who's there?

FRANCISCO Nay, answer me: stand, and unfold yourself.

BERNARDO Long live the king!

FRANCISCO Bernardo?

BERNARDO He.

FRANCISCO You come most carefully upon your hour.

BERNARDO 'Tis now struck twelve; get thee to bed, Francisco.

FRANCISCO For this relief much thanks: 'tis bitter cold,
And I am sick at heart.

BERNARDO Have you had quiet guard?

FRANCISCO Not a mouse stirring.

BERNARDO Well, good night.
If you do meet Horatio and Marcellus,

The rivals of my watch, bid them make haste.

FRANCISCO I think I hear them. Stand, ho! Who's there?

[Enter HORATIO and MARCELLUS]

HORATIO Friends to this ground.

MARCELLUS And liegemen to the Dane.

FRANCISCO Give you good night.

MARCELLUS O, farewell, honest soldier:
Who hath relieved you?

FRANCISCO Bernardo has my place.
Give you good night.

[Exit]

MARCELLUS Holla! Bernardo!

BERNARDO Say,
What, is Horatio there?

HORATIO A piece of him.

BERNARDO Welcome, Horatio: welcome, good Marcellus.

MARCELLUS What, has this thing appear'd again to-night?

BERNARDO I have seen nothing.

MARCELLUS Horatio says 'tis but our fantasy,
And will not let belief take hold of him
Touching this dreaded sight, twice seen of us:
Therefore I have entreated him along
With us to watch the minutes of this night;
That if again this apparition come,
He may approve our eyes and speak to it.

HORATIO Tush, tush, 'twill not appear.

BERNARDO Sit down awhile;
And let us once again assail your ears,
That are so fortified against our story
What we have two nights seen.

HORATIO Well, sit we down,
And let us hear Bernardo speak of this.

BERNARDO Last night of all,
When yond same star that's westward from the pole
Had made his course to illume that part of heaven
Where now it burns, Marcellus and myself,
The bell then beating one,--

[Enter Ghost]

MARCELLUS Peace, break thee off; look, where it comes again!

BERNARDO In the same figure, like the king that's dead.

MARCELLUS Thou art a scholar; speak to it, Horatio.

BERNARDO Looks it not like the king? mark it, Horatio.

HORATIO Most like: it harrows me with fear and wonder.

BERNARDO It would be spoke to.

MARCELLUS Question it, Horatio.

HORATIO What art thou that usurp'st this time of night,
Together with that fair and warlike form
In which the majesty of buried Denmark
Did sometimes march? by heaven I charge thee, speak!

MARCELLUS It is offended.

BERNARDO See, it stalks away!

HORATIO Stay! speak, speak! I charge thee, speak!

[Exit Ghost]

MARCELLUS 'Tis gone, and will not answer.

BERNARDO How now, Horatio! you tremble and look pale:
Is not this something more than fantasy?
What think you on't?

HORATIO Before my God, I might not this believe
Without the sensible and true avouch
Of mine own eyes.

MARCELLUS Is it not like the king?

HORATIO As thou art to thyself:
Such was the very armour he had on
When he the ambitious Norway combated;
So frown'd he once, when, in an angry parle,
He smote the sledded Polacks on the ice.
'Tis strange.

MARCELLUS Thus twice before, and jump at this dead hour,
With martial stalk hath he gone by our watch.

HORATIO In what particular thought to work I know not;
But in the gross and scope of my opinion,
This bodes some strange eruption to our state.

MARCELLUS Good now, sit down, and tell me, he that knows,
Why this same strict and most observant watch
So nightly toils the subject of the land,
And why such daily cast of brazen cannon,
And foreign mart for implements of war;
Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task
Does not divide the Sunday from the week;
What might be toward, that this sweaty haste
Doth make the night joint-labourer with the day:
Who is't that can inform me?

HORATIO That can I;
At least, the whisper goes so. Our last king,
Whose image even but now appear'd to us,
Was, as you know, by Fortinbras of Norway,
Thereto prick'd on by a most emulate pride,
Dared to the combat; in which our valiant Hamlet--
For so this side of our known world esteem'd him--
Did slay this Fortinbras; who by a seal'd compact,
Well ratified by law and heraldry,
Did forfeit, with his life, all those his lands
Which he stood seized of, to the conqueror:
Against the which, a moiety competent
Was gaged by our king; which had return'd
To the inheritance of Fortinbras,
Had he been vanquisher; as, by the same covenant,
And carriage of the article design'd,
His fell to Hamlet. Now, sir, young Fortinbras,
Of unimproved mettle hot and full,
Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there
Shark'd up a list of lawless resolutes,
For food and diet, to some enterprise
That hath a stomach in't; which is no other--
As it doth well appear unto our state--
But to recover of us, by strong hand
And terms compulsory, those foresaid lands
So by his father lost: and this, I take it,
Is the main motive of our preparations,
The source of this our watch and the chief head
Of this post-haste and romage in the land.

BERNARDO I think it be no other but e'en so:
Well may it sort that this portentous figure
Comes armed through our watch; so like the king
That was and is the question of these wars.

HORATIO A mote it is to trouble the mind's eye.
In the most high and palmy state of Rome,
A little ere the mightiest Julius fell,
The graves stood tenantless and the sheeted dead
Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets:
As stars with trains of fire and dews of blood,
Disasters in the sun; and the moist star
Upon whose influence Neptune's empire stands
Was sick almost to doomsday with eclipse:
And even the like precurse of fierce events,

As harbingers preceding still the fates
 And prologue to the omen coming on,
 Have heaven and earth together demonstrated
 Unto our climatures and countrymen...
 But soft, behold! lo, where it comes again!

[Re-enter Ghost]

I'll cross it, though it blast me. Stay, illusion!
 If thou hast any sound, or use of voice,
 Speak to me:
 If there be any good thing to be done,
 That may to thee do ease and grace to me,
 Speak to me:

[Cock crows]

If thou art privy to thy country's fate,
 Which, happily, foreknowing may avoid, O, speak!
 Or if thou hast uphoarded in thy life
 Extorted treasure in the womb of earth,
 For which, they say, you spirits oft walk in death,
 Speak of it: stay, and speak! Stop it, Marcellus.

MARCELLUS Shall I strike at it with my partisan?

HORATIO Do, if it will not stand.

BERNARDO 'Tis here!

HORATIO 'Tis here!

MARCELLUS 'Tis gone!

[Exit Ghost]

We do it wrong, being so majestical,
 To offer it the show of violence;
 For it is, as the air, invulnerable,
 And our vain blows malicious mockery.

BERNARDO It was about to speak, when the cock crew.

HORATIO And then it started like a guilty thing
 Upon a fearful summons. I have heard,
 The cock, that is the trumpet to the morn,
 Doth with his lofty and shrill-sounding throat
 Awake the god of day; and, at his warning,
 Whether in sea or fire, in earth or air,
 The extravagant and erring spirit hies
 To his confine: and of the truth herein
 This present object made probation.

MARCELLUS It faded on the crowing of the cock.
 Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes
 Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated,

The bird of dawning singeth all night long:
 And then, they say, no spirit dares stir abroad;
 The nights are wholesome; then no planets strike,
 No fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm,
 So hallow'd and so gracious is the time.

HORATIO So have I heard and do in part believe it.
 But, look, the morn, in russet mantle clad,
 Walks o'er the dew of yon high eastward hill:
 Break we our watch up; and by my advice,
 Let us impart what we have seen to-night
 Unto young Hamlet; for, upon my life,
 This spirit, dumb to us, will speak to him.
 Do you consent we shall acquaint him with it,
 As needful in our loves, fitting our duty?

MARCELLUS Let's do't, I pray; and I this morning know
 Where we shall find him most conveniently.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE II A room of state in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, HAMLET, POLONIUS, LAERTES, VOLTIMAND, CORNELIUS, Lords,
 and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death
 The memory be green, and that it us befitted
 To bear our hearts in grief and our whole kingdom
 To be contracted in one brow of woe,
 Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature
 That we with wisest sorrow think on him,
 Together with remembrance of ourselves.
 Therefore our sometime sister, now our queen,
 The imperial jointress to this warlike state,
 Have we, as 'twere with a defeated joy,--
 With an auspicious and a dropping eye,
 With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage,
 In equal scale weighing delight and dole,--
 Taken to wife: nor have we herein barr'd
 Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone
 With this affair along. For all, our thanks.
 Now follows, that you know, young Fortinbras,
 Holding a weak supposal of our worth,

Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
 Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,
 Colleagued with the dream of his advantage,
 He hath not fail'd to pester us with message,
 Importing the surrender of those lands
 Lost by his father, with all bonds of law,
 To our most valiant brother. So much for him.
 Now for ourself and for this time of meeting:
 Thus much the business is: we have here writ
 To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras,--
 Who, impotent and bed-rid, scarcely hears
 Of this his nephew's purpose,--to suppress
 His further gait herein; in that the levies,
 The lists and full proportions, are all made
 Out of his subject: and we here dispatch
 You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltimand,
 For bearers of this greeting to old Norway;
 Giving to you no further personal power
 To business with the king, more than the scope
 Of these delated articles allow.
 Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.

CORNELIUS |
 | In that and all things will we show our duty.
 VOLTIMAND |

KING CLAUDIUS We doubt it nothing: heartily farewell.

[Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

And now, Laertes, what's the news with you?
 You told us of some suit; what is't, Laertes?
 You cannot speak of reason to the Dane,
 And loose your voice: what wouldest thou beg, Laertes,
 That shall not be my offer, not thy asking?
 The head is not more native to the heart,
 The hand more instrumental to the mouth,
 Than is the throne of Denmark to thy father.
 What wouldest thou have, Laertes?

LAERTES My dread lord,
 Your leave and favour to return to France;
 From whence though willingly I came to Denmark,
 To show my duty in your coronation,
 Yet now, I must confess, that duty done,
 My thoughts and wishes bend again toward France
 And bow them to your gracious leave and pardon.

KING CLAUDIUS Have you your father's leave? What says Polonius?

LORD POLONIUS He hath, my lord, wrung from me my slow leave
 By laboursome petition, and at last
 Upon his will I seal'd my hard consent:
 I do beseech you, give him leave to go.

KING CLAUDIUS Take thy fair hour, Laertes; time be thine,
And thy best graces spend it at thy will!
But now, my cousin Hamlet, and my son,--

HAMLET [Aside] A little more than kin, and less than kind.

KING CLAUDIUS How is it that the clouds still hang on you?

HAMLET Not so, my lord; I am too much i' the sun.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Good Hamlet, cast thy nighted colour off,
And let thine eye look like a friend on Denmark.
Do not for ever with thy vailed lids
Seek for thy noble father in the dust:
Thou know'st 'tis common; all that lives must die,
Passing through nature to eternity.

HAMLET Ay, madam, it is common.

QUEEN GERTRUDE If it be,
Why seems it so particular with thee?

HAMLET Seems, madam! nay it is; I know not 'seems.'
'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother,
Nor customary suits of solemn black,
Nor windy suspiration of forced breath,
No, nor the fruitful river in the eye,
Nor the dejected 'havior of the visage,
Together with all forms, moods, shapes of grief,
That can denote me truly: these indeed seem,
For they are actions that a man might play:
But I have that within which passeth show;
These but the trappings and the suits of woe.

KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis sweet and commendable in your nature, Hamlet,
To give these mourning duties to your father:
But, you must know, your father lost a father;
That father lost, lost his, and the survivor bound
In filial obligation for some term
To do obsequious sorrow: but to persevere
In obstinate condolment is a course
Of impious stubbornness; 'tis unmanly grief;
It shows a will most incorrect to heaven,
A heart unfortified, a mind impatient,
An understanding simple and unschool'd:
For what we know must be and is as common
As any the most vulgar thing to sense,
Why should we in our peevish opposition
Take it to heart? Fie! 'tis a fault to heaven,
A fault against the dead, a fault to nature,
To reason most absurd: whose common theme
Is death of fathers, and who still hath cried,
From the first corse till he that died to-day,
'This must be so.' We pray you, throw to earth
This unprevailing woe, and think of us

As of a father: for let the world take note,
 You are the most immediate to our throne;
 And with no less nobility of love
 Than that which dearest father bears his son,
 Do I impart toward you. For your intent
 In going back to school in Wittenberg,
 It is most retrograde to our desire:
 And we beseech you, bend you to remain
 Here, in the cheer and comfort of our eye,
 Our chiefest courtier, cousin, and our son.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Let not thy mother lose her prayers, Hamlet:
 I pray thee, stay with us; go not to Wittenberg.

HAMLET I shall in all my best obey you, madam.

KING CLAUDIUS Why, 'tis a loving and a fair reply:
 Be as ourself in Denmark. Madam, come;
 This gentle and unforced accord of Hamlet
 Sits smiling to my heart: in grace whereof,
 No jocund health that Denmark drinks to-day,
 But the great cannon to the clouds shall tell,
 And the king's rouse the heavens all bruit again,
 Re-speaking earthly thunder. Come away.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

HAMLET O, that this too too solid flesh would melt
 Thaw and resolve itself into a dew!
 Or that the Everlasting had not fix'd
 His canon 'gainst self-slaughter! O God! God!
 How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable,
 Seem to me all the uses of this world!
 Fie on't! ah fie! 'tis an unweeded garden,
 That grows to seed; things rank and gross in nature
 Possess it merely. That it should come to this!
 But two months dead: nay, not so much, not two:
 So excellent a king; that was, to this,
 Hyperion to a satyr; so loving to my mother
 That he might not beteem the winds of heaven
 Visit her face too roughly. Heaven and earth!
 Must I remember? why, she would hang on him,
 As if increase of appetite had grown
 By what it fed on: and yet, within a month--
 Let me not think on't--Frailty, thy name is woman!--
 A little month, or ere those shoes were old
 With which she follow'd my poor father's body,
 Like Niobe, all tears:--why she, even she--
 O, God! a beast, that wants discourse of reason,
 Would have mourn'd longer--married with my uncle,
 My father's brother, but no more like my father
 Than I to Hercules: within a month:
 Ere yet the salt of most unrighteous tears
 Had left the flushing in her galled eyes,
 She married. O, most wicked speed, to post
 With such dexterity to incestuous sheets!

It is not nor it cannot come to good:
But break, my heart; for I must hold my tongue.

[Enter HORATIO, MARCELLUS, and BERNARDO]

HORATIO Hail to your lordship!

HAMLET I am glad to see you well:
Horatio,--or I do forget myself.

HORATIO The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever.

HAMLET Sir, my good friend; I'll change that name with you:
And what make you from Wittenberg, Horatio? Marcellus?

MARCELLUS My good lord--

HAMLET I am very glad to see you. Good even, sir.
But what, in faith, make you from Wittenberg?

HORATIO A truant disposition, good my lord.

HAMLET I would not hear your enemy say so,
Nor shall you do mine ear that violence,
To make it truster of your own report
Against yourself: I know you are no truant.
But what is your affair in Elsinore?
We'll teach you to drink deep ere you depart.

HORATIO My lord, I came to see your father's funeral.

HAMLET I pray thee, do not mock me, fellow-student;
I think it was to see my mother's wedding.

HORATIO Indeed, my lord, it follow'd hard upon.

HAMLET Thrift, thrift, Horatio! the funeral baked meats
Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.
Would I had met my dearest foe in heaven
Or ever I had seen that day, Horatio!
My father!--methinks I see my father.

HORATIO Where, my lord?

HAMLET In my mind's eye, Horatio.

HORATIO I saw him once; he was a goodly king.

HAMLET He was a man, take him for all in all,
I shall not look upon his like again.

HORATIO My lord, I think I saw him yesternight.

HAMLET Saw? who?

HORATIO My lord, the king your father.

HAMLET The king my father!

HORATIO Season your admiration for awhile
With an attent ear, till I may deliver,
Upon the witness of these gentlemen,
This marvel to you.

HAMLET For God's love, let me hear.

HORATIO Two nights together had these gentlemen,
Marcellus and Bernardo, on their watch,
In the dead vast and middle of the night,
Been thus encounter'd. A figure like your father,
Armed at point exactly, cap-a-pe,
Appears before them, and with solemn march
Goes slow and stately by them: thrice he walk'd
By their oppress'd and fear-surprised eyes,
Within his truncheon's length; whilst they, distilled
Almost to jelly with the act of fear,
Stand dumb and speak not to him. This to me
In dreadful secrecy impart they did;
And I with them the third night kept the watch;
Where, as they had deliver'd, both in time,
Form of the thing, each word made true and good,
The apparition comes: I knew your father;
These hands are not more like.

HAMLET But where was this?

MARCELLUS My lord, upon the platform where we watch'd.

HAMLET Did you not speak to it?

HORATIO My lord, I did;
But answer made it none: yet once methought
It lifted up its head and did address
Itself to motion, like as it would speak;
But even then the morning cock crew loud,
And at the sound it shrunk in haste away,
And vanish'd from our sight.

HAMLET 'Tis very strange.

HORATIO As I do live, my honour'd lord, 'tis true;
And we did think it writ down in our duty
To let you know of it.

HAMLET Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me.
Hold you the watch to-night?

MARCELLUS |
| We do, my lord.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET Arm'd, say you?

MARCELLUS |
| Arm'd, my lord.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET From top to toe?

MARCELLUS |
| My lord, from head to foot.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET Then saw you not his face?

HORATIO O, yes, my lord; he wore his beaver up.

HAMLET What, look'd he frowningly?

HORATIO A countenance more in sorrow than in anger.

HAMLET Pale or red?

HORATIO Nay, very pale.

HAMLET And fix'd his eyes upon you?

HORATIO Most constantly.

HAMLET I would I had been there.

HORATIO It would have much amazed you.

HAMLET Very like, very like. Stay'd it long?

HORATIO While one with moderate haste might tell a hundred.

MARCELLUS |
| Longer, longer.
BERNARDO |

HORATIO Not when I saw't.

HAMLET His beard was grizzled--no?

HORATIO It was, as I have seen it in his life,
A sable silver'd.

HAMLET I will watch to-night;
Perchance 'twill walk again.

HORATIO I warrant it will.

HAMLET If it assume my noble father's person,
I'll speak to it, though hell itself should gape
And bid me hold my peace. I pray you all,
If you have hitherto conceal'd this sight,
Let it be tenable in your silence still;
And whatsoever else shall hap to-night,
Give it an understanding, but no tongue:
I will requite your loves. So, fare you well:
Upon the platform, 'twixt eleven and twelve,
I'll visit you.

All Our duty to your honour.

HAMLET Your loves, as mine to you: farewell.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

My father's spirit in arms! all is not well;
I doubt some foul play: would the night were come!
Till then sit still, my soul: foul deeds will rise,
Though all the earth o'erwhelm them, to men's eyes.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE III A room in Polonius' house.

[Enter LAERTES and OPHELIA]

LAERTES My necessaries are embark'd: farewell:
And, sister, as the winds give benefit
And convoy is assistant, do not sleep,
But let me hear from you.

OPHELIA Do you doubt that?

LAERTES For Hamlet and the trifling of his favour,
Hold it a fashion and a toy in blood,
A violet in the youth of primy nature,
Forward, not permanent, sweet, not lasting,
The perfume and suppliance of a minute; No more.

OPHELIA No more but so?

LAERTES Think it no more;
 For nature, crescent, does not grow alone
 In thews and bulk, but, as this temple waxes,
 The inward service of the mind and soul
 Grows wide withal. Perhaps he loves you now,
 And now no soil nor cautel doth besmirch
 The virtue of his will: but you must fear,
 His greatness weigh'd, his will is not his own;
 For he himself is subject to his birth:
 He may not, as unvalued persons do,
 Carve for himself; for on his choice depends
 The safety and health of this whole state;
 And therefore must his choice be circumscribed
 Unto the voice and yielding of that body
 Whereof he is the head. Then if he says he loves you,
 It fits your wisdom so far to believe it
 As he in his particular act and place
 May give his saying deed; which is no further
 Than the main voice of Denmark goes withal.
 Then weigh what loss your honour may sustain,
 If with too credent ear you list his songs,
 Or lose your heart, or your chaste treasure open
 To his unmaster'd importunity.
 Fear it, Ophelia, fear it, my dear sister,
 And keep you in the rear of your affection,
 Out of the shot and danger of desire.
 The charest maid is prodigal enough,
 If she unmask her beauty to the moon:
 Virtue itself 'scapes not calumnious strokes:
 The canker galls the infants of the spring,
 Too oft before their buttons be disclosed,
 And in the morn and liquid dew of youth
 Contagious blastments are most imminent.
 Be wary then; best safety lies in fear:
 Youth to itself rebels, though none else near.

OPHELIA I shall the effect of this good lesson keep,
 As watchman to my heart. But, good my brother,
 Do not, as some ungracious pastors do,
 Show me the steep and thorny way to heaven;
 Whiles, like a puff'd and reckless libertine,
 Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads,
 And recks not his own rede.

LAERTES O, fear me not.
 I stay too long: but here my father comes.

[Enter POLONIUS]

A double blessing is a double grace,
 Occasion smiles upon a second leave.

LORD POLONIUS Yet here, Laertes! aboard, aboard, for shame!
 The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail,
 And you are stay'd for. There; my blessing with thee!

And these few precepts in thy memory
See thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue,
Nor any unproportioned thought his act.
Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.
Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade. Beware
Of entrance to a quarrel, but being in,
Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.
Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice;
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.
Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man,
And they in France of the best rank and station
Are of a most select and generous chief in that.
Neither a borrower nor a lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This above all: to thine ownself be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Farewell: my blessing season this in thee!

LAERTES Most humbly do I take my leave, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS The time invites you; go; your servants tend.

LAERTES Farewell, Ophelia; and remember well
What I have said to you.

OPHELIA 'Tis in my memory lock'd,
And you yourself shall keep the key of it.

LAERTES Farewell.

[Exit]

LORD POLONIUS What is't, Ophelia, be hath said to you?

OPHELIA So please you, something touching the Lord Hamlet.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, well bethought:
'Tis told me, he hath very oft of late
Given private time to you; and you yourself
Have of your audience been most free and bounteous:
If it be so, as so 'tis put on me,
And that in way of caution, I must tell you,
You do not understand yourself so clearly
As it behoves my daughter and your honour.
What is between you? give me up the truth.

OPHELIA He hath, my lord, of late made many tenders
Of his affection to me.

LORD POLONIUS Affection! pooh! you speak like a green girl,
Unsifted in such perilous circumstance.
Do you believe his tenders, as you call them?

OPHELIA I do not know, my lord, what I should think.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, I'll teach you: think yourself a baby;
That you have ta'en these tenders for true pay,
Which are not sterling. Tender yourself more dearly;
Or--not to crack the wind of the poor phrase,
Running it thus--you'll tender me a fool.

OPHELIA My lord, he hath importuned me with love
In honourable fashion.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, fashion you may call it; go to, go to.

OPHELIA And hath given countenance to his speech, my lord,
With almost all the holy vows of heaven.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, springes to catch woodcocks. I do know,
When the blood burns, how prodigal the soul
Lends the tongue vows: these blazes, daughter,
Giving more light than heat, extinct in both,
Even in their promise, as it is a-making,
You must not take for fire. From this time
Be somewhat scanter of your maiden presence;
Set your entreatments at a higher rate
Than a command to parley. For Lord Hamlet,
Believe so much in him, that he is young
And with a larger tether may he walk
Than may be given you: in few, Ophelia,
Do not believe his vows; for they are brokers,
Not of that dye which their investments show,
But mere implorators of unholy suits,
Breathing like sanctified and pious bawds,
The better to beguile. This is for all:
I would not, in plain terms, from this time forth,
Have you so slander any moment leisure,
As to give words or talk with the Lord Hamlet.
Look to't, I charge you: come your ways.

OPHELIA I shall obey, my lord.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE IV The platform.

[Enter HAMLET, HORATIO, and MARCELLUS]

HAMLET The air bites shrewdly; it is very cold.

HORATIO It is a nipping and an eager air.

HAMLET What hour now?

HORATIO I think it lacks of twelve.

HAMLET No, it is struck.

HORATIO Indeed? I heard it not: then it draws near the season
Wherein the spirit held his wont to walk.

[A flourish of trumpets, and ordnance shot off, within]

What does this mean, my lord?

HAMLET The king doth wake to-night and takes his rouse,
Keeps wassail, and the swaggering up-spring reels;
And, as he drains his draughts of Rhenish down,
The kettle-drum and trumpet thus bray out
The triumph of his pledge.

HORATIO Is it a custom?

HAMLET Ay, marry, is't:
But to my mind, though I am native here
And to the manner born, it is a custom
More honour'd in the breach than the observance.
This heavy-headed revel east and west
Makes us traduced and tax'd of other nations:
They clepe us drunkards, and with swinish phrase
Soil our addition; and indeed it takes
From our achievements, though perform'd at height,
The pith and marrow of our attribute.
So, oft it chances in particular men,
That for some vicious mole of nature in them,
As, in their birth--wherein they are not guilty,
Since nature cannot choose his origin--
By the o'ergrowth of some complexion,
Oft breaking down the pales and forts of reason,
Or by some habit that too much o'er-leavens
The form of plausible manners, that these men,
Carrying, I say, the stamp of one defect,
Being nature's livery, or fortune's star,--
Their virtues else--be they as pure as grace,
As infinite as man may undergo--
Shall in the general censure take corruption
From that particular fault: the dram of eale
Doth all the noble substance of a doubt
To his own scandal.

HORATIO Look, my lord, it comes!

[Enter Ghost]

HAMLET Angels and ministers of grace defend us!
Be thou a spirit of health or goblin damn'd,
Bring with thee airs from heaven or blasts from hell,
Be thy intents wicked or charitable,
Thou comest in such a questionable shape
That I will speak to thee: I'll call thee Hamlet,
King, father, royal Dane: O, answer me!
Let me not burst in ignorance; but tell
Why thy canonized bones, hearsed in death,
Have burst their cerements; why the sepulchre,
Wherein we saw thee quietly inurn'd,
Hath oped his ponderous and marble jaws,
To cast thee up again. What may this mean,
That thou, dead corse, again in complete steel
Revisit'st thus the glimpses of the moon,
Making night hideous; and we fools of nature
So horridly to shake our disposition
With thoughts beyond the reaches of our souls?
Say, why is this? wherefore? what should we do?

[Ghost beckons HAMLET]

HORATIO It beckons you to go away with it,
As if it some impartment did desire
To you alone.

MARCELLUS Look, with what courteous action
It waves you to a more removed ground:
But do not go with it.

HORATIO No, by no means.

HAMLET It will not speak; then I will follow it.

HORATIO Do not, my lord.

HAMLET Why, what should be the fear?
I do not set my life in a pin's fee;
And for my soul, what can it do to that,
Being a thing immortal as itself?
It waves me forth again: I'll follow it.

HORATIO What if it tempt you toward the flood, my lord,
Or to the dreadful summit of the cliff
That beetles o'er his base into the sea,
And there assume some other horrible form,
Which might deprive your sovereignty of reason
And draw you into madness? think of it:
The very place puts toys of desperation,
Without more motive, into every brain
That looks so many fathoms to the sea

And hears it roar beneath.

HAMLET It waves me still.
Go on; I'll follow thee.

MARCELLUS You shall not go, my lord.

HAMLET Hold off your hands.

HORATIO Be ruled; you shall not go.

HAMLET My fate cries out,
And makes each petty artery in this body
As hardy as the Nemean lion's nerve.
Still am I call'd. Unhand me, gentlemen.
By heaven, I'll make a ghost of him that lets me!
I say, away! Go on; I'll follow thee.

[Exeunt Ghost and HAMLET]

HORATIO He waxes desperate with imagination.

MARCELLUS Let's follow; 'tis not fit thus to obey him.

HORATIO Have after. To what issue will this come?

MARCELLUS Something is rotten in the state of Denmark.

HORATIO Heaven will direct it.

MARCELLUS Nay, let's follow him.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE V Another part of the platform.

[Enter GHOST and HAMLET]

HAMLET Where wilt thou lead me? speak; I'll go no further.

Ghost Mark me.

HAMLET I will.

Ghost My hour is almost come,

When I to sulphurous and tormenting flames
Must render up myself.

HAMLET Alas, poor ghost!

Ghost Pity me not, but lend thy serious hearing
To what I shall unfold.

HAMLET Speak; I am bound to hear.

Ghost So art thou to revenge, when thou shalt hear.

HAMLET What?

Ghost I am thy father's spirit,
Doom'd for a certain term to walk the night,
And for the day confined to fast in fires,
Till the foul crimes done in my days of nature
Are burnt and purged away. But that I am forbid
To tell the secrets of my prison-house,
I could a tale unfold whose lightest word
Would harrow up thy soul, freeze thy young blood,
Make thy two eyes, like stars, start from their spheres,
Thy knotted and combined locks to part
And each particular hair to stand on end,
Like quills upon the fretful porpentine:
But this eternal blazon must not be
To ears of flesh and blood. List, list, O, list!
If thou didst ever thy dear father love--

HAMLET O God!

Ghost Revenge his foul and most unnatural murder.

HAMLET Murder!

Ghost Murder most foul, as in the best it is;
But this most foul, strange and unnatural.

HAMLET Haste me to know't, that I, with wings as swift
As meditation or the thoughts of love,
May sweep to my revenge.

Ghost I find thee apt;
And duller shouldst thou be than the fat weed
That roots itself in ease on Lethe wharf,
Wouldst thou not stir in this. Now, Hamlet, hear:
'Tis given out that, sleeping in my orchard,
A serpent stung me; so the whole ear of Denmark
Is by a forged process of my death
Rankly abused: but know, thou noble youth,
The serpent that did sting thy father's life
Now wears his crown.

HAMLET O my prophetic soul! My uncle!

Ghost Ay, that incestuous, that adulterate beast,
With witchcraft of his wit, with traitorous gifts,--
O wicked wit and gifts, that have the power
So to seduce!--won to his shameful lust
The will of my most seeming-virtuous queen:
O Hamlet, what a falling-off was there!
From me, whose love was of that dignity
That it went hand in hand even with the vow
I made to her in marriage, and to decline
Upon a wretch whose natural gifts were poor
To those of mine!

But virtue, as it never will be moved,
Though lewdness court it in a shape of heaven,
So lust, though to a radiant angel link'd,
Will sate itself in a celestial bed,
And prey on garbage.

But, soft! methinks I scent the morning air;
Brief let me be. Sleeping within my orchard,
My custom always of the afternoon,
Upon my secure hour thy uncle stole,
With juice of cursed hebenon in a vial,
And in the porches of my ears did pour
The leperous distilment; whose effect
Holds such an enmity with blood of man
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body,
And with a sudden vigour doth posset
And curd, like eager droppings into milk,
The thin and wholesome blood: so did it mine;
And a most instant tetter bark'd about,
Most lazarus-like, with vile and loathsome crust,
All my smooth body.

Thus was I, sleeping, by a brother's hand
Of life, of crown, of queen, at once dispatch'd:
Cut off even in the blossoms of my sin,
Unhousel'd, disappointed, unanel'd,
No reckoning made, but sent to my account
With all my imperfections on my head:
O, horrible! O, horrible! most horrible!
If thou hast nature in thee, bear it not;
Let not the royal bed of Denmark be
A couch for luxury and damned incest.
But, howsoever thou pursuest this act,
Taint not thy mind, nor let thy soul contrive
Against thy mother aught: leave her to heaven
And to those thorns that in her bosom lodge,
To prick and sting her. Fare thee well at once!
The glow-worm shows the matin to be near,
And 'gins to pale his uneffectual fire:
Adieu, adieu! Hamlet, remember me.

[Exit]

HAMLET O all you host of heaven! O earth! what else?
And shall I couple hell? O, fie! Hold, hold, my heart;
And you, my sinews, grow not instant old,

But bear me stiffly up. Remember thee!
 Ay, thou poor ghost, while memory holds a seat
 In this distracted globe. Remember thee!
 Yea, from the table of my memory
 I'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
 All sows of books, all forms, all pressures past,
 That youth and observation copied there;
 And thy commandment all alone shall live
 Within the book and volume of my brain,
 Unmix'd with baser matter: yes, by heaven!
 O most pernicious woman!
 O villain, villain, smiling, damned villain!
 My tables,--meet it is I set it down,
 That one may smile, and smile, and be a villain;
 At least I'm sure it may be so in Denmark:

[Writing]

So, uncle, there you are. Now to my word;
 It is 'Adieu, adieu! remember me.'
 I have sworn 't.

MARCELLUS |
 | [Within] My lord, my lord,--
 HORATIO |

MARCELLUS [Within] Lord Hamlet,--

HORATIO [Within] Heaven secure him!

HAMLET So be it!

HORATIO [Within] Hillo, ho, ho, my lord!

HAMLET Hillo, ho, ho, boy! come, bird, come.

[Enter HORATIO and MARCELLUS]

MARCELLUS How is't, my noble lord?

HORATIO What news, my lord?

HAMLET O, wonderful!

HORATIO Good my lord, tell it.

HAMLET No; you'll reveal it.

HORATIO Not I, my lord, by heaven.

MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord.

HAMLET How say you, then; would heart of man once think it?
 But you'll be secret?

HORATIO |
| Ay, by heaven, my lord.
MARCELLUS |

HAMLET There's ne'er a villain dwelling in all Denmark
But he's an arrant knave.

HORATIO There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave
To tell us this.

HAMLET Why, right; you are i' the right;
And so, without more circumstance at all,
I hold it fit that we shake hands and part:
You, as your business and desire shall point you;
For every man has business and desire,
Such as it is; and for mine own poor part,
Look you, I'll go pray.

HORATIO These are but wild and whirling words, my lord.

HAMLET I'm sorry they offend you, heartily;
Yes, 'faith heartily.

HORATIO There's no offence, my lord.

HAMLET Yes, by Saint Patrick, but there is, Horatio,
And much offence too. Touching this vision here,
It is an honest ghost, that let me tell you:
For your desire to know what is between us,
O'ermaster 't as you may. And now, good friends,
As you are friends, scholars and soldiers,
Give me one poor request.

HORATIO What is't, my lord? we will.

HAMLET Never make known what you have seen to-night.

HORATIO |
| My lord, we will not.
MARCELLUS |

HAMLET Nay, but swear't.

HORATIO In faith,
My lord, not I.

MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord, in faith.

HAMLET Upon my sword.

MARCELLUS We have sworn, my lord, already.

HAMLET Indeed, upon my sword, indeed.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Ah, ha, boy! say'st thou so? art thou there,
truepenny?
Come on--you hear this fellow in the cellarage--
Consent to swear.

HORATIO Propose the oath, my lord.

HAMLET Never to speak of this that you have seen,
Swear by my sword.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Hic et ubique? then we'll shift our ground.
Come hither, gentlemen,
And lay your hands again upon my sword:
Never to speak of this that you have heard,
Swear by my sword.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Well said, old mole! canst work i' the earth so fast?
A worthy pioner! Once more remove, good friends.

HORATIO O day and night, but this is wondrous strange!

HAMLET And therefore as a stranger give it welcome.
There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio,
Than are dreamt of in your philosophy. But come;
Here, as before, never, so help you mercy,
How strange or odd soe'er I bear myself,
As I perchance hereafter shall think meet
To put an antic disposition on,
That you, at such times seeing me, never shall,
With arms encumber'd thus, or this headshake,
Or by pronouncing of some doubtful phrase,
As 'Well, well, we know,' or 'We could, an if we would,'
Or 'If we list to speak,' or 'There be, an if they might,'
Or such ambiguous giving out, to note
That you know aught of me: this not to do,
So grace and mercy at your most need help you, Swear.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Rest, rest, perturbed spirit!

[They swear]

So, gentlemen,
With all my love I do commend me to you:
And what so poor a man as Hamlet is
May do, to express his love and friending to you,

God willing, shall not lack. Let us go in together;
And still your fingers on your lips, I pray.
The time is out of joint: O cursed spite,
That ever I was born to set it right!
Nay, come, let's go together.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE I A room in POLONIUS' house.

[Enter POLONIUS and REYNALDO]

LORD POLONIUS Give him this money and these notes, Reynaldo.

REYNALDO I will, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS You shall do marvellous wisely, good Reynaldo,
Before you visit him, to make inquire
Of his behavior.

REYNALDO My lord, I did intend it.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, well said; very well said. Look you, sir,
Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris;
And how, and who, what means, and where they keep,
What company, at what expense; and finding
By this encompassment and drift of question
That they do know my son, come you more nearer
Than your particular demands will touch it:
Take you, as 'twere, some distant knowledge of him;
As thus, 'I know his father and his friends,
And in part him: ' do you mark this, Reynaldo?

REYNALDO Ay, very well, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS 'And in part him; but' you may say 'not well:
But, if't be he I mean, he's very wild;
Addicted so and so: and there put on him
What forgeries you please; marry, none so rank
As may dishonour him; take heed of that;
But, sir, such wanton, wild and usual slips
As are companions noted and most known
To youth and liberty.

REYNALDO As gaming, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, or drinking, fencing, swearing, quarrelling,
Drabbing: you may go so far.

REYNALDO My lord, that would dishonour him.

LORD POLONIUS 'Faith, no; as you may season it in the charge
You must not put another scandal on him,
That he is open to incontinency;
That's not my meaning: but breathe his faults so quaintly
That they may seem the taints of liberty,
The flash and outbreak of a fiery mind,
A savageness in unreclaimed blood,
Of general assault.

REYNALDO But, my good lord,--

LORD POLONIUS Wherefore should you do this?

REYNALDO Ay, my lord,
I would know that.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, sir, here's my drift;
And I believe, it is a fetch of wit:
You laying these slight sullies on my son,
As 'twere a thing a little soil'd i' the working, Mark you,
Your party in converse, him you would sound,
Having ever seen in the prenominate crimes
The youth you breathe of guilty, be assured
He closes with you in this consequence;
'Good sir,' or so, or 'friend,' or 'gentleman,'
According to the phrase or the addition
Of man and country.

REYNALDO Very good, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS And then, sir, does he this--he does--what was I about to say? By the mass, I was about to say something: where did I leave?

REYNALDO At 'closes in the consequence,' at 'friend or so,'
and 'gentleman.'

LORD POLONIUS At 'closes in the consequence,' ay, marry;
He closes thus: 'I know the gentleman;
I saw him yesterday, or t' other day,
Or then, or then; with such, or such; and, as you say,
There was a' gaming; there o'ertook in's rouse;
There falling out at tennis:' or perchance,
'I saw him enter such a house of sale,'
Videlicet, a brothel, or so forth.
See you now;
Your bait of falsehood takes this carp of truth:
And thus do we of wisdom and of reach,
With windlasses and with assays of bias,
By indirections find directions out:

So by my former lecture and advice,
Shall you my son. You have me, have you not?

REYNALDO My lord, I have.

LORD POLONIUS God be wi' you; fare you well.

REYNALDO Good my lord!

LORD POLONIUS Observe his inclination in yourself.

REYNALDO I shall, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS And let him ply his music.

REYNALDO Well, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS Farewell!

[Exit REYNALDO]

[Enter OPHELIA]

How now, Ophelia! what's the matter?

OPHELIA O, my lord, my lord, I have been so affrighted!

LORD POLONIUS With what, i' the name of God?

OPHELIA My lord, as I was sewing in my closet,
Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced;
No hat upon his head; his stockings foul'd,
Ungarter'd, and down-gyved to his ankle;
Pale as his shirt; his knees knocking each other;
And with a look so piteous in purport
As if he had been loosed out of hell
To speak of horrors,--he comes before me.

LORD POLONIUS Mad for thy love?

OPHELIA My lord, I do not know;
But truly, I do fear it.

LORD POLONIUS What said he?

OPHELIA He took me by the wrist and held me hard;
Then goes he to the length of all his arm;
And, with his other hand thus o'er his brow,
He falls to such perusal of my face
As he would draw it. Long stay'd he so;
At last, a little shaking of mine arm
And thrice his head thus waving up and down,
He raised a sigh so piteous and profound
As it did seem to shatter all his bulk
And end his being: that done, he lets me go:
And, with his head over his shoulder turn'd,

He seem'd to find his way without his eyes;
For out o' doors he went without their helps,
And, to the last, bended their light on me.

LORD POLONIUS Come, go with me: I will go seek the king.
This is the very ecstasy of love,
Whose violent property fordoes itself
And leads the will to desperate undertakings
As oft as any passion under heaven
That does afflict our natures. I am sorry.
What, have you given him any hard words of late?

OPHELIA No, my good lord, but, as you did command,
I did repel his fetters and denied
His access to me.

LORD POLONIUS That hath made him mad.
I am sorry that with better heed and judgment
I had not quoted him: I fear'd he did but trifle,
And meant to wreck thee; but, beshrew my jealousy!
By heaven, it is as proper to our age
To cast beyond ourselves in our opinions
As it is common for the younger sort
To lack discretion. Come, go we to the king:
This must be known; which, being kept close, might move
More grief to hide than hate to utter love.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE II A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ,
GUILDENSTERN, and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Welcome, dear Rosencrantz and Guildenstern!
Moreover that we much did long to see you,
The need we have to use you did provoke
Our hasty sending. Something have you heard
Of Hamlet's transformation; so call it,
Sith nor the exterior nor the inward man
Resembles that it was. What it should be,
More than his father's death, that thus hath put him
So much from the understanding of himself,
I cannot dream of: I entreat you both,

That, being of so young days brought up with him,
And sith so neighbour'd to his youth and havior,
That you vouchsafe your rest here in our court
Some little time: so by your companies
To draw him on to pleasures, and to gather,
So much as from occasion you may glean,
Whether aught, to us unknown, afflicts him thus,
That, open'd, lies within our remedy.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Good gentlemen, he hath much talk'd of you;
And sure I am two men there are not living
To whom he more adheres. If it will please you
To show us so much gentry and good will
As to expend your time with us awhile,
For the supply and profit of our hope,
Your visitation shall receive such thanks
As fits a king's remembrance.

ROSENCRANTZ Both your majesties
Might, by the sovereign power you have of us,
Put your dread pleasures more into command
Than to entreaty.

GUILDENSTERN But we both obey,
And here give up ourselves, in the full bent
To lay our service freely at your feet,
To be commanded.

KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, Rosencrantz and gentle Guildenstern.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Thanks, Guildenstern and gentle Rosencrantz:
And I beseech you instantly to visit
My too much changed son. Go, some of you,
And bring these gentlemen where Hamlet is.

GUILDENSTERN Heavens make our presence and our practises
Pleasant and helpful to him!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay, amen!

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and some Attendants]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS The ambassadors from Norway, my good lord,
Are joyfully return'd.

KING CLAUDIUS Thou still hast been the father of good news.

LORD POLONIUS Have I, my lord? I assure my good liege,
I hold my duty, as I hold my soul,
Both to my God and to my gracious king:
And I do think, or else this brain of mine
Hunts not the trail of policy so sure
As it hath used to do, that I have found

The very cause of Hamlet's lunacy.

KING CLAUDIUS O, speak of that; that do I long to hear.

LORD POLONIUS Give first admittance to the ambassadors;
My news shall be the fruit to that great feast.

KING CLAUDIUS Thyself do grace to them, and bring them in.

[Exit POLONIUS]

He tells me, my dear Gertrude, he hath found
The head and source of all your son's distemper.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I doubt it is no other but the main;
His father's death, and our o'erhasty marriage.

KING CLAUDIUS Well, we shall sift him.

[Re-enter POLONIUS, with VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

Welcome, my good friends!
Say, Voltimand, what from our brother Norway?

VOLTIMAND Most fair return of greetings and desires.
Upon our first, he sent out to suppress
His nephew's levies; which to him appear'd
To be a preparation 'gainst the Polack;
But, better look'd into, he truly found
It was against your highness: whereat grieved,
That so his sickness, age and impotence
Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests
On Fortinbras; which he, in brief, obeys;
Receives rebuke from Norway, and in fine
Makes vow before his uncle never more
To give the assay of arms against your majesty.
Whereon old Norway, overcome with joy,
Gives him three thousand crowns in annual fee,
And his commission to employ those soldiers,
So levied as before, against the Polack:
With an entreaty, herein further shown,

[Giving a paper]

That it might please you to give quiet pass
Through your dominions for this enterprise,
On such regards of safety and allowance
As therein are set down.

KING CLAUDIUS It likes us well;
And at our more consider'd time well read,
Answer, and think upon this business.
Meantime we thank you for your well-took labour:
Go to your rest; at night we'll feast together:
Most welcome home!

[Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

LORD POLONIUS This business is well ended.
 My liege, and madam, to expostulate
 What majesty should be, what duty is,
 Why day is day, night night, and time is time,
 Were nothing but to waste night, day and time.
 Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit,
 And tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes,
 I will be brief: your noble son is mad:
 Mad call I it; for, to define true madness,
 What is't but to be nothing else but mad?
 But let that go.

QUEEN GERTRUDE More matter, with less art.

LORD POLONIUS Madam, I swear I use no art at all.
 That he is mad, 'tis true: 'tis true 'tis pity;
 And pity 'tis 'tis true: a foolish figure;
 But farewell it, for I will use no art.
 Mad let us grant him, then: and now remains
 That we find out the cause of this effect,
 Or rather say, the cause of this defect,
 For this effect defective comes by cause:
 Thus it remains, and the remainder thus. Perpend.
 I have a daughter--have while she is mine--
 Who, in her duty and obedience, mark,
 Hath given me this: now gather, and surmise.

[Reads]

'To the celestial and my soul's idol, the most beautified Ophelia,'--
 That's an ill phrase, a vile phrase; 'beautified' is a vile phrase: but you shall hear. Thus:

[Reads]

'In her excellent white bosom, these, &c.'

QUEEN GERTRUDE Came this from Hamlet to her?

LORD POLONIUS Good madam, stay awhile; I will be faithful.

[Reads]

'Doubt thou the stars are fire;
 Doubt that the sun doth move;
 Doubt truth to be a liar;
 But never doubt I love.
 'O dear Ophelia, I am ill at these numbers;
 I have not art to reckon my groans: but that
 I love thee best, O most best, believe it. Adieu.
 'Thine evermore most dear lady, whilst this machine is to him, HAMLET.'
 This, in obedience, hath my daughter shown me,

And more above, hath his solicitings,
As they fell out by time, by means and place,
All given to mine ear.

KING CLAUDIUS But how hath she
Received his love?

LORD POLONIUS What do you think of me?

KING CLAUDIUS As of a man faithful and honourable.

LORD POLONIUS I would fain prove so. But what might you think,
When I had seen this hot love on the wing--
As I perceived it, I must tell you that,
Before my daughter told me--what might you,
Or my dear majesty your queen here, think,
If I had play'd the desk or table-book,
Or given my heart a winking, mute and dumb,
Or look'd upon this love with idle sight;
What might you think? No, I went round to work,
And my young mistress thus I did bespeak:
'Lord Hamlet is a prince, out of thy star;
This must not be:' and then I precepts gave her,
That she should lock herself from his resort,
Admit no messengers, receive no tokens.
Which done, she took the fruits of my advice;
And he, repulsed--a short tale to make--
Fell into a sadness, then into a fast,
Thence to a watch, thence into a weakness,
Thence to a lightness, and, by this declension,
Into the madness wherein now he raves,
And all we mourn for.

KING CLAUDIUS Do you think 'tis this?

QUEEN GERTRUDE It may be, very likely.

LORD POLONIUS Hath there been such a time--I'd fain know that--
That I have positively said 'Tis so,'
When it proved otherwise?

KING CLAUDIUS Not that I know.

LORD POLONIUS [Pointing to his head and shoulder]

Take this from this, if this be otherwise:
If circumstances lead me, I will find
Where truth is hid, though it were hid indeed
Within the centre.

KING CLAUDIUS How may we try it further?

LORD POLONIUS You know, sometimes he walks four hours together
Here in the lobby.

QUEEN GERTRUDE So he does indeed.

LORD POLONIUS At such a time I'll loose my daughter to him:
Be you and I behind an arras then;
Mark the encounter: if he love her not
And be not from his reason fall'n thereon,
Let me be no assistant for a state,
But keep a farm and carters.

KING CLAUDIUS We will try it.

QUEEN GERTRUDE But, look, where sadly the poor wretch comes reading.

LORD POLONIUS Away, I do beseech you, both away:
I'll board him presently.

[Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, and Attendants]

[Enter HAMLET, reading]

O, give me leave:
How does my good Lord Hamlet?

HAMLET Well, God-a-mercy.

LORD POLONIUS Do you know me, my lord?

HAMLET Excellent well; you are a fishmonger.

LORD POLONIUS Not I, my lord.

HAMLET Then I would you were so honest a man.

LORD POLONIUS Honest, my lord!

HAMLET Ay, sir; to be honest, as this world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.

LORD POLONIUS That's very true, my lord.

HAMLET For if the sun breed maggots in a dead dog, being a god kissing carrion,--Have you a daughter?

LORD POLONIUS I have, my lord.

HAMLET Let her not walk i' the sun: conception is a blessing: but not as your daughter may conceive.
Friend, look to 't.

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] How say you by that? Still harping on my daughter: yet he knew me not at first; he said I was a fishmonger: he is far gone, far gone: and truly in my youth I suffered much extremity for love; very near this. I'll speak to him again.
What do you read, my lord?

HAMLET Words, words, words.

LORD POLONIUS What is the matter, my lord?

HAMLET Between who?

LORD POLONIUS I mean, the matter that you read, my lord.

HAMLET Slanders, sir: for the satirical rogue says here
that old men have grey beards, that their faces are wrinkled, their eyes purging thick amber and plum-tree gum and that they have a plentiful lack of wit, together with most weak hams: all which, sir,
though I most powerfully and potently believe, yet
I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down, for yourself, sir, should be old as I am, if like a crab
you could go backward.

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Though this be madness, yet there is method in 't. Will you walk out of the air, my lord?

HAMLET Into my grave.

LORD POLONIUS Indeed, that is out o' the air.

[Aside]

How pregnant sometimes his replies are! a happiness
that often madness hits on, which reason and sanity could not so prosperously be delivered of. I will leave him, and suddenly contrive the means of meeting between him and my daughter.--My honourable lord, I will most humbly take my leave of you.

HAMLET You cannot, sir, take from me any thing that I will more willingly part withal: except my life, except my life, except my life.

LORD POLONIUS Fare you well, my lord.

HAMLET These tedious old fools!

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

LORD POLONIUS You go to seek the Lord Hamlet; there he is.

ROSENCRANTZ [To POLONIUS] God save you, sir!

[Exit POLONIUS]

GUILDENSTERN My honoured lord!

ROSENCRANTZ My most dear lord!

HAMLET My excellent good friends! How dost thou,
Guildenstern? Ah, Rosencrantz! Good lads, how do ye both?

ROSENCRANTZ As the indifferent children of the earth.

GUILDENSTERN Happy, in that we are not over-happy;
On fortune's cap we are not the very button.

HAMLET Nor the soles of her shoe?

ROSENCRANTZ Neither, my lord.

HAMLET Then you live about her waist, or in the middle of her favours?

GUILDENSTERN 'Faith, her privates we.

HAMLET In the secret parts of fortune? O, most true; she is a strumpet. What's the news?

ROSENCRANTZ None, my lord, but that the world's grown honest.

HAMLET Then is doomsday near: but your news is not true.
Let me question more in particular: what have you,
my good friends, deserved at the hands of fortune,
that she sends you to prison hither?

GUILDENSTERN Prison, my lord!

HAMLET Denmark's a prison.

ROSENCRANTZ Then is the world one.

HAMLET A goodly one; in which there are many confines,
wards and dungeons, Denmark being one o' the worst.

ROSENCRANTZ We think not so, my lord.

HAMLET Why, then, 'tis none to you; for there is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so: to me
it is a prison.

ROSENCRANTZ Why then, your ambition makes it one; 'tis too narrow for your mind.

HAMLET O God, I could be bounded in a nut shell and count myself a king of infinite space, were it not that I have bad dreams.

GUILDENSTERN Which dreams indeed are ambition, for the very substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream.

HAMLET A dream itself is but a shadow.

ROSENCRANTZ Truly, and I hold ambition of so airy and light a quality that it is but a shadow's shadow.

HAMLET Then are our beggars bodies, and our monarchs and outstretched heroes the beggars' shadows. Shall we to the court? for, by my fay, I cannot reason.

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We'll wait upon you.
GUILDENSTERN |

HAMLET No such matter: I will not sort you with the rest of my servants, for, to speak to you like an honest man, I am most dreadfully attended. But, in the beaten way of friendship, what make you at Elsinore?

ROSENCRANTZ To visit you, my lord; no other occasion.

HAMLET Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks; but I thank you: and sure, dear friends, my thanks are too dear a halfpenny. Were you not sent for? Is it your own inclining? Is it a free visitation? Come,
deal justly with me: come, come; nay, speak.

GUILDENSTERN What should we say, my lord?

HAMLET Why, any thing, but to the purpose. You were sent for; and there is a kind of confession in your looks which your modesties have not craft enough to colour:
I know the good king and queen have sent for you.

ROSENCRANTZ To what end, my lord?

HAMLET That you must teach me. But let me conjure you, by the rights of our fellowship, by the consonancy of our youth, by the obligation of our ever-preserved love, and by what more dear a better proposer could charge you withal, be even and direct with me,
whether you were sent for, or no?

ROSENCRANTZ [Aside to GUILDENSTERN] What say you?

HAMLET [Aside] Nay, then, I have an eye of you.--If you love me, hold not off.

GUILDENSTERN My lord, we were sent for.

HAMLET I will tell you why; so shall my anticipation prevent your discovery, and your secrecy to the king and queen moult no feather. I have of late--but wherefore I know not--lost all my mirth, forgone all custom of exercises; and indeed it goes so heavily with my disposition that this goodly frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory, this most excellent canopy, the air, look you, this brave o'erhanging firmament, this majestical roof fretted with golden fire, why, it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapours.

What a piece of work is a man! how noble in reason!
how infinite in faculty! in form and moving how express and admirable! in action how like an angel!
in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the world! the paragon of animals! And yet, to me, what is this quintessence of dust? man delights not me: no, nor woman neither, though by your smiling
you seem to say so.

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, there was no such stuff in my thoughts.

HAMLET Why did you laugh then, when I said 'man delights not me'?

ROSENCRANTZ To think, my lord, if you delight not in man, what lenten entertainment the players shall receive from you: we coted them on the way; and hither are they coming, to offer you service.

HAMLET He that plays the king shall be welcome; his majesty shall have tribute of me; the adventurous knight shall use his foil and target; the lover shall not sigh gratis; the humourous man shall end his part in peace; the clown shall make those laugh whose lungs are tickled o' the sere; and the lady shall say her mind freely, or the blank verse shall halt for't. What players are they?

ROSENCRANTZ Even those you were wont to take delight in, the
tragedians of the city.

HAMLET How chances it they travel? their residence, both
in reputation and profit, was better both ways.

ROSENCRANTZ I think their inhibition comes by the means of the late innovation.

HAMLET Do they hold the same estimation they did when I was in the city? are they so followed?

ROSENCRANTZ No, indeed, are they not.

HAMLET How comes it? do they grow rusty?

ROSENCRANTZ Nay, their endeavour keeps in the wonted pace: but there is, sir, an aery of children, little eyases, that cry out on the top of question, and are most tyrannically clapped for't: these are now the fashion, and so berattle the common stages--so they call them--that many wearing rapiers are afraid of goose-quills and dare scarce come thither.

HAMLET What, are they children? who maintains 'em? how are they escoted? Will they pursue the quality no longer than they can sing? will they not say afterwards, if they should grow themselves to common players--as it is most like, if their means are no better--their writers do them wrong, to make them

exclaim against their own succession?

ROSENCRANTZ 'Faith, there has been much to do on both sides; and the nation holds it no sin to tarre them to controversy: there was, for a while, no money bid for argument, unless the poet and the player went to cuffs in the question.

HAMLET Is't possible?

GUILDENSTERN O, there has been much throwing about of brains.

HAMLET Do the boys carry it away?

ROSENCRANTZ Ay, that they do, my lord; Hercules and his load too.

HAMLET It is not very strange; for mine uncle is king of Denmark, and those that would make mows at him while my father lived, give twenty, forty, fifty, an hundred ducats a-piece for his picture in little.
'Sblood, there is something in this more than natural, if philosophy could find it out.

[Flourish of trumpets within]

GUILDENSTERN There are the players.

HAMLET Gentlemen, you are welcome to Elsinore. Your hands, come then: the appurtenance of welcome is fashion
and ceremony: let me comply with you in this garb,
lest my extent to the players, which, I tell you,
must show fairly outward, should more appear like entertainment than yours. You are welcome: but my uncle-father and aunt-mother are deceived.

GUILDENSTERN In what, my dear lord?

HAMLET I am but mad north-north-west: when the wind is southerly I know a hawk from a handsaw.

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS Well be with you, gentlemen!

HAMLET Hark you, Guildenstern; and you too: at each ear a hearer: that great baby you see there is not yet out of his swaddling-clouts.

ROSENCRANTZ Happily he's the second time come to them; for they say an old man is twice a child.

HAMLET I will prophesy he comes to tell me of the players;
mark it. You say right, sir: o' Monday morning;
'twas so indeed.

LORD POLONIUS My lord, I have news to tell you.

HAMLET My lord, I have news to tell you.
When Roscius was an actor in Rome,--

LORD POLONIUS The actors are come hither, my lord.

HAMLET Buzz, buzz!

LORD POLONIUS Upon mine honour,--

HAMLET Then came each actor on his ass,--

LORD POLONIUS The best actors in the world, either for tragedy, comedy, history, pastoral, pastoral-comical,
historical-pastoral, tragical-historical, tragicalcomical-historical-pastoral, scene individable, or poem unlimited: Seneca cannot be too heavy, nor Plautus too light. For the law of writ and the liberty, these are the only men.

HAMLET O Jephthah, judge of Israel, what a treasure hadst thou!

LORD POLONIUS What a treasure had he, my lord?

HAMLET Why,
'One fair daughter and no more,
The which he loved passing well.'

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Still on my daughter.

HAMLET Am I not i' the right, old Jephthah?

LORD POLONIUS If you call me Jephthah, my lord, I have a daughter
that I love passing well.

HAMLET Nay, that follows not.

LORD POLONIUS What follows, then, my lord?

HAMLET Why,
'As by lot, God wot,'
and then, you know,
'It came to pass, as most like it was,'-- the first row of the pious chanson will show you more; for look, where my abridgement comes.

[Enter four or five Players]

You are welcome, masters; welcome, all. I am glad to see thee well. Welcome, good friends. O, my old friend! thy face is valenced since I saw thee last:
comest thou to beard me in Denmark? What, my young lady and mistress! By'r lady, your ladyship is nearer to heaven than when I saw you last, by the altitude of a chopine. Pray God, your voice, like apiece of uncurrent gold, be not cracked within the ring. Masters, you are all welcome. We'll e'en to't like French falconers, fly at any thing we see: we'll have a speech straight: come, give us a taste of your quality; come, a passionate speech.

First Player What speech, my lord?

HAMLET I heard thee speak me a speech once, but it was never acted; or, if it was, not above once; for the play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviare to the general: but it was--as I received it, and others, whose judgments in such matters cried in the top of mine--an excellent play, well digested in the scenes, set down with as much modesty as cunning. I remember, one said there were no sallets in the lines to make the matter savoury, nor no matter in the phrase that might indict the author of affectation; but called it an honest method, as wholesome as sweet, and by very much more handsome than fine. One speech in it I chiefly loved: 'twas Aeneas' tale to Dido; and thereabout of it especially, where he speaks of Priam's slaughter: if it live in your memory, begin at this line: let me see, let me see--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, like the Hyrcanian beast,'-- it is not so:--it begins with Pyrrhus:--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, he whose sable arms,
 Black as his purpose, did the night resemble
 When he lay couched in the ominous horse,
 Hath now this dread and black complexion smear'd
 With heraldry more dismal; head to foot
 Now is he total gules; horridly trick'd
 With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sons,
 Baked and impasted with the parching streets,
 That lend a tyrannous and damned light
 To their lord's murder: roasted in wrath and fire,
 And thus o'er-sized with coagulate gore,
 With eyes like carbuncles, the hellish Pyrrhus
 Old grandsire Priam seeks.'
 So, proceed you.

LORD POLONIUS 'Fore God, my lord, well spoken, with good accent and good discretion.

First Player 'Anon he finds him
 Striking too short at Greeks; his antique sword,
 Rebellious to his arm, lies where it falls,
 Repugnant to command: unequal match'd,
 Pyrrhus at Priam drives; in rage strikes wide;
 But with the whiff and wind of his fell sword
 The unnerved father falls. Then senseless Ilium,
 Seeming to feel this blow, with flaming top
 Stoops to his base, and with a hideous crash
 Takes prisoner Pyrrhus' ear: for, lo! his sword,
 Which was declining on the milky head

Of reverend Priam, seem'd i' the air to stick:
 So, as a painted tyrant, Pyrrhus stood,
 And like a neutral to his will and matter,
 Did nothing.
 But, as we often see, against some storm,
 A silence in the heavens, the rack stand still,
 The bold winds speechless and the orb below
 As hush as death, anon the dreadful thunder
 Doth rend the region, so, after Pyrrhus' pause,
 Aroused vengeance sets him new a-work;
 And never did the Cyclops' hammers fall
 On Mars's armour forged for proof eterne
 With less remorse than Pyrrhus' bleeding sword
 Now falls on Priam.
 Out, out, thou strumpet, Fortune! All you gods,
 In general synod 'take away her power;
 Break all the spokes and fellies from her wheel,
 And bowl the round nave down the hill of heaven,
 As low as to the fiends!'

LORD POLONIUS This is too long.

HAMLET It shall to the barber's, with your beard. Prithee, say on: he's for a jig or a tale of bawdry, or he sleeps: say on: come to Hecuba.

First Player 'But who, O, who had seen the mobled queen--'

HAMLET 'The mobled queen?'

LORD POLONIUS That's good; 'mobled queen' is good.

First Player 'Run barefoot up and down, threatening the flames
 With bisson rheum; a clout upon that head
 Where late the diadem stood, and for a robe,
 About her lank and all o'er-teemed loins,
 A blanket, in the alarm of fear caught up;
 Who this had seen, with tongue in venom steep'd,
 'Gainst Fortune's state would treason have pronounced:
 But if the gods themselves did see her then
 When she saw Pyrrhus make malicious sport
 In mincing with his sword her husband's limbs,
 The instant burst of clamour that she made,
 Unless things mortal move them not at all,
 Would have made milch the burning eyes of heaven,
 And passion in the gods.'

LORD POLONIUS Look, whether he has not turned his colour and has tears in's eyes. Pray you, no more.

HAMLET 'Tis well: I'll have thee speak out the rest soon.
 Good my lord, will you see the players well bestowed? Do you hear, let them be well used; for they are the abstract and brief chronicles of the time: after your death you were better have a bad

epitaph than their ill report while you live.

LORD POLONIUS My lord, I will use them according to their desert.

HAMLET God's bodykins, man, much better: use every man
after his desert, and who should 'scape whipping?
Use them after your own honour and dignity: the less they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty.
Take them in.

LORD POLONIUS Come, sirs.

HAMLET Follow him, friends: we'll hear a play to-morrow.

[Exit POLONIUS with all the Players but the First]

Dost thou hear me, old friend; can you play the Murder of Gonzago?

First Player Ay, my lord.

HAMLET We'll ha't to-morrow night. You could, for a need, study a speech of some dozen or sixteen lines, which
I would set down and insert in't, could you not?

First Player Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Very well. Follow that lord; and look you mock him not.

[Exit First Player]

My good friends, I'll leave you till night: you are welcome to Elsinore.

ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord!

HAMLET Ay, so, God be wi' ye;

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Now I am alone.

O, what a rogue and peasant slave am I!
Is it not monstrous that this player here,
But in a fiction, in a dream of passion,
Could force his soul so to his own conceit
That from her working all his visage wann'd,
Tears in his eyes, distraction in's aspect,
A broken voice, and his whole function suiting
With forms to his conceit? and all for nothing!
For Hecuba!
What's Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba,
That he should weep for her? What would he do,
Had he the motive and the cue for passion
That I have? He would drown the stage with tears
And cleave the general ear with horrid speech,

Make mad the guilty and appal the free,
Confound the ignorant, and amaze indeed
The very faculties of eyes and ears. Yet I,
A dull and muddy-mettled rascal, peak,
Like John-a-dreams, unpregnant of my cause,
And can say nothing; no, not for a king,
Upon whose property and most dear life
A damn'd defeat was made. Am I a coward?
Who calls me villain? breaks my pate across?
Plucks off my beard, and blows it in my face?
Tweaks me by the nose? gives me the lie i' the throat,
As deep as to the lungs? who does me this?
Ha!
'Swounds, I should take it: for it cannot be
But I am pigeon-liver'd and lack gall
To make oppression bitter, or ere this
I should have fatted all the region kites
With this slave's offal: bloody, bawdy villain!
Remorseless, treacherous, lecherous, kindless villain!
O, vengeance!
Why, what an ass am I! This is most brave,
That I, the son of a dear father murder'd,
Prompted to my revenge by heaven and hell,
Must, like a whore, unpack my heart with words,
And fall a-cursing, like a very drab,
A scullion!
Fie upon't! fo! About, my brain! I have heard
That guilty creatures sitting at a play
Have by the very cunning of the scene
Been struck so to the soul that presently
They have proclaim'd their malefactions;
For murder, though it have no tongue, will speak
With most miraculous organ. I'll have these players
Play something like the murder of my father
Before mine uncle: I'll observe his looks;
I'll tent him to the quick: if he but blench,
I know my course. The spirit that I have seen
May be the devil: and the devil hath power
To assume a pleasing shape; yea, and perhaps
Out of my weakness and my melancholy,
As he is very potent with such spirits,
Abuses me to damn me: I'll have grounds
More relative than this: the play 's the thing
Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the king.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE I A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS,
OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS And can you, by no drift of circumstance,
Get from him why he puts on this confusion,
Grating so harshly all his days of quiet
With turbulent and dangerous lunacy?

ROSENCRANTZ He does confess he feels himself distracted;
But from what cause he will by no means speak.

GUILDENSTERN Nor do we find him forward to be sounded,
But, with a crafty madness, keeps aloof,
When we would bring him on to some confession
Of his true state.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Did he receive you well?

ROSENCRANTZ Most like a gentleman.

GUILDENSTERN But with much forcing of his disposition.

ROSENCRANTZ Niggard of question; but, of our demands,
Most free in his reply.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Did you assay him?
To any pastime?

ROSENCRANTZ Madam, it so fell out, that certain players
We o'er-raught on the way: of these we told him;
And there did seem in him a kind of joy
To hear of it: they are about the court,
And, as I think, they have already order
This night to play before him.

LORD POLONIUS 'Tis most true:
And he beseech'd me to entreat your majesties
To hear and see the matter.

KING CLAUDIUS With all my heart; and it doth much content me
To hear him so inclined.
Good gentlemen, give him a further edge,
And drive his purpose on to these delights.

ROSENCRANTZ We shall, my lord.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Sweet Gertrude, leave us too;
For we have closely sent for Hamlet hither,
That he, as 'twere by accident, may here
Affront Ophelia:

Her father and myself, lawful espials,
 Will so bestow ourselves that, seeing, unseen,
 We may of their encounter frankly judge,
 And gather by him, as he is behaved,
 If 't be the affliction of his love or no
 That thus he suffers for.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I shall obey you.
 And for your part, Ophelia, I do wish
 That your good beauties be the happy cause
 Of Hamlet's wildness: so shall I hope your virtues
 Will bring him to his wonted way again,
 To both your honours.

OPHELIA Madam, I wish it may.

[Exit QUEEN GERTRUDE]

LORD POLONIUS Ophelia, walk you here. Gracious, so please you,
 We will bestow ourselves.

[To OPHELIA]

Read on this book;
 That show of such an exercise may colour
 Your loneliness. We are oft to blame in this,--
 'Tis too much proved--that with devotion's visage
 And pious action we do sugar o'er
 The devil himself.

KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] O, 'tis too true!
 How smart a lash that speech doth give my conscience!
 The harlot's cheek, beautied with plastering art,
 Is not more ugly to the thing that helps it
 Than is my deed to my most painted word:
 O heavy burthen!

LORD POLONIUS I hear him coming: let's withdraw, my lord.

[Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET To be, or not to be: that is the question:
 Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
 The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
 Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
 And by opposing end them? To die: to sleep;
 No more; and by a sleep to say we end
 The heart-ache and the thousand natural shocks
 That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation
 Devoutly to be wish'd. To die, to sleep;
 To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub;
 For in that sleep of death what dreams may come
 When we have shuffled off this mortal coil,
 Must give us pause: there's the respect

That makes calamity of so long life;
For who would bear the whips and scorns of time,
The oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely,
The pangs of despised love, the law's delay,
The insolence of office and the spurns
That patient merit of the unworthy takes,
When he himself might his quietus make
With a bare bodkin? who would fardels bear,
To grunt and sweat under a weary life,
But that the dread of something after death,
The undiscover'd country from whose bourn
No traveller returns, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of?
Thus conscience does make cowards of us all;
And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought,
And enterprises of great pith and moment
With this regard their currents turn awry,
And lose the name of action.--Soft you now!
The fair Ophelia! Nymph, in thy orisons
Be all my sins remember'd.

OPHELIA Good my lord,
How does your honour for this many a day?

HAMLET I humbly thank you; well, well, well.

OPHELIA My lord, I have remembrances of yours,
That I have longed long to re-deliver;
I pray you, now receive them.

HAMLET No, not I;
I never gave you aught.

OPHELIA My honour'd lord, you know right well you did;
And, with them, words of so sweet breath composed
As made the things more rich: their perfume lost,
Take these again; for to the noble mind
Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind.
There, my lord.

HAMLET Ha, ha! are you honest?

OPHELIA My lord?

HAMLET Are you fair?

OPHELIA What means your lordship?

HAMLET That if you be honest and fair, your honesty should admit no discourse to your beauty.

OPHELIA Could beauty, my lord, have better commerce than
with honesty?

HAMLET Ay, truly; for the power of beauty will sooner transform honesty from what it is to a bawd than the force of honesty can translate beauty into his likeness: this was sometime a paradox, but now the time gives it proof. I did love you once.

OPHELIA Indeed, my lord, you made me believe so.

HAMLET You should not have believed me; for virtue cannot so inoculate our old stock but we shall relish of it: I loved you not.

OPHELIA I was the more deceived.

HAMLET Get thee to a nunnery: why wouldst thou be a breeder of sinners? I am myself indifferent honest; but yet I could accuse me of such things that it were better my mother had not borne me: I am very proud, revengeful, ambitious, with more offences at my beck than I have thoughts to put them in, imagination to give them shape, or time to act them in. What should such fellows as I do crawling between earth and heaven? We are arrant knaves, all; believe none of us. Go thy ways to a nunnery. Where's your father?

OPHELIA At home, my lord.

HAMLET Let the doors be shut upon him, that he may play the fool no where but in's own house. Farewell.

OPHELIA O, help him, you sweet heavens!

HAMLET If thou dost marry, I'll give thee this plague for thy dowry: be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny. Get thee to a nunnery, go: farewell. Or, if thou wilt needs marry, marry a fool; for wise men know well enough what monsters you make of them. To a nunnery, go, and quickly too. Farewell.

OPHELIA O heavenly powers, restore him!

HAMLET I have heard of your paintings too, well enough; God has given you one face, and you make yourselves another: you jig, you amble, and you lisp, and nick-name God's creatures, and make your wantonness your ignorance. Go to, I'll no more on't; it hath made me mad. I say, we will have no more marriages: those that are married already, all but one, shall live; the rest shall keep as they are. To a nunnery, go.

[Exit]

OPHELIA O, what a noble mind is here o'erthrown!

The courtier's, soldier's, scholar's, eye, tongue, sword;
The expectancy and rose of the fair state,
The glass of fashion and the mould of form,
The observed of all observers, quite, quite down!
And I, of ladies most deject and wretched,
That suck'd the honey of his music vows,
Now see that noble and most sovereign reason,
Like sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh;
That unmatch'd form and feature of blown youth
Blasted with ecstasy: O, woe is me,
To have seen what I have seen, see what I see!

[Re-enter KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

KING CLAUDIUS Love! his affections do not that way tend;
Nor what he spake, though it lack'd form a little,
Was not like madness. There's something in his soul,
O'er which his melancholy sits on brood;
And I do doubt the hatch and the disclose
Will be some danger: which for to prevent,
I have in quick determination
Thus set it down: he shall with speed to England,
For the demand of our neglected tribute
Haply the seas and countries different
With variable objects shall expel
This something-settled matter in his heart,
Whereon his brains still beating puts him thus
From fashion of himself. What think you on't?

LORD POLONIUS It shall do well: but yet do I believe
The origin and commencement of his grief
Sprung from neglected love. How now, Ophelia!
You need not tell us what Lord Hamlet said;
We heard it all. My lord, do as you please;
But, if you hold it fit, after the play
Let his queen mother all alone entreat him
To show his grief: let her be round with him;
And I'll be placed, so please you, in the ear
Of all their conference. If she find him not,
To England send him, or confine him where
Your wisdom best shall think.

KING CLAUDIUS It shall be so:
Madness in great ones must not unwatch'd go.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE II A hall in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET and Players]

HAMLET Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly on the tongue: but if you mouth it, as many of your players do, I had as lief the town-crier spoke my lines. Nor do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus, but use all gently; for in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, the whirlwind of passion, you must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness. O, it offends me to the soul to hear a robustious periwig-pated fellow tear a passion to tatters, to very rags, to split the ears of the groundlings, who for the most part are capable of nothing but inexplicable dumbshows and noise: I would have such a fellow whipped for o'erdoing Termagant; it out-herods Herod: pray you, avoid it.

First Player I warrant your honour.

HAMLET Be not too tame neither, but let your own discretion be your tutor: suit the action to the word, the word to the action; with this special o'erstep not the modesty of nature: for any thing so overdone is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first and now, was and is, to hold, as 'twere, the mirror up to nature; to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure. Now this overdone, or come tardy off, though it make the unskilful laugh, cannot but make the judicious grieve; the censure of the which one must in your allowance o'erweigh a whole theatre of others. O, there be players that I have seen play, and heard others praise, and that highly, not to speak it profanely, that, neither having the accent of Christians nor the gait of Christian, pagan, nor man, have so strutted and bellowed that I have thought some of nature's journeymen had made men and not made them well, they imitated humanity so abominably.

First Player I hope we have reformed that indifferently with us, sir.

HAMLET O, reform it altogether. And let those that play your clowns speak no more than is set down for them; for there be of them that will themselves laugh, to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too; though, in the mean time, some necessary question of the play be then to be considered: that's villanous, and shows a most pitiful ambition in the fool that uses it. Go, make you ready.

[Exeunt Players]

[Enter POLONIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

How now, my lord! I will the king hear this piece of work?

LORD POLONIUS And the queen too, and that presently.

HAMLET Bid the players make haste.

[Exit POLONIUS]

Will you two help to hasten them?

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We will, my lord.
GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

HAMLET What ho! Horatio!

[Enter HORATIO]

HORATIO Here, sweet lord, at your service.

HAMLET Horatio, thou art e'en as just a man
As e'er my conversation coped withal.

HORATIO O, my dear lord,--

HAMLET Nay, do not think I flatter;
For what advancement may I hope from thee
That no revenue hast but thy good spirits,
To feed and clothe thee? Why should the poor be flatter'd?
No, let the candied tongue lick absurd pomp,
And crook the pregnant hinges of the knee
Where thrift may follow fawning. Dost thou hear?
Since my dear soul was mistress of her choice
And could of men distinguish, her election
Hath seal'd thee for herself; for thou hast been
As one, in suffering all, that suffers nothing,
A man that fortune's buffets and rewards
Hast ta'en with equal thanks: and blest are those Whose blood and judgment are so well commingled,
That they are not a pipe for fortune's finger
To sound what stop she please. Give me that man
That is not passion's slave, and I will wear him
In my heart's core, ay, in my heart of heart,
As I do thee.--Something too much of this.--
There is a play to-night before the king;
One scene of it comes near the circumstance
Which I have told thee of my father's death:

I prithee, when thou seest that act afoot,
Even with the very comment of thy soul
Observe mine uncle: if his occulted guilt
Do not itself unkennel in one speech,
It is a damned ghost that we have seen,
And my imaginations are as foul
As Vulcan's stithy. Give him heedful note;
For I mine eyes will rivet to his face,
And after we will both our judgments join
In censure of his seeming.

HORATIO Well, my lord:
If he steal aught the whilst this play is playing,
And 'scape detecting, I will pay the theft.

HAMLET They are coming to the play; I must be idle:
Get you a place.

[Danish march. A flourish. Enter KING CLAUDIUS,
QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS, OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ,
GUILDENSTERN, and others]

KING CLAUDIUS How fares our cousin Hamlet?

HAMLET Excellent, i' faith; of the chameleon's dish: I eat
the air, promise-crammed: you cannot feed capons so.

KING CLAUDIUS I have nothing with this answer, Hamlet; these words are not mine.

HAMLET No, nor mine now.

[To POLONIUS]

My lord, you played once i' the university, you say?

LORD POLONIUS That did I, my lord; and was accounted a good actor.

HAMLET What did you enact?

LORD POLONIUS I did enact Julius Caesar: I was killed i' the Capitol; Brutus killed me.

HAMLET It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf
there. Be the players ready?

ROSENCRANTZ Ay, my lord; they stay upon your patience.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come hither, my dear Hamlet, sit by me.

HAMLET No, good mother, here's metal more attractive.

LORD POLONIUS [To KING CLAUDIUS] O, ho! do you mark that?

HAMLET Lady, shall I lie in your lap?

[Lying down at OPHELIA's feet]

OPHELIA No, my lord.

HAMLET I mean, my head upon your lap?

OPHELIA Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Do you think I meant country matters?

OPHELIA I think nothing, my lord.

HAMLET That's a fair thought to lie between maids' legs.

OPHELIA What is, my lord?

HAMLET Nothing.

OPHELIA You are merry, my lord.

HAMLET Who, I?

OPHELIA Ay, my lord.

HAMLET O God, your only jig-maker. What should a man do but be merry? for, look you, how cheerfully my mother looks, and my father died within these two hours.

OPHELIA Nay, 'tis twice two months, my lord.

HAMLET So long? Nay then, let the devil wear black, for I'll have a suit of sables. O heavens! die two months ago, and not forgotten yet? Then there's hope a great man's memory may outlive his life half a year: but, by'r lady, he must build churches,
then; or else shall he suffer not thinking on, with the hobby-horse, whose epitaph is 'For, O, for, O,
the hobby-horse is forgot.'

[Hautboys play. The dumb-show enters]

[Enter a King and a Queen very lovingly; the Queen embracing him, and he her. She kneels, and makes show of protestation unto him. He takes her up, and declines his head upon her neck: lays him down
upon a bank of flowers: she, seeing him asleep, leaves him. Anon comes in a fellow, takes off his crown, kisses it, and pours poison in the King's ears, and exit. The Queen returns; finds the King dead, and makes passionate action. The Poisoner,
with some two or three Mutes, comes in again,
seeming to lament with her. The dead body is carried away. The Poisoner wooes the Queen with gifts: she seems loath and unwilling awhile, but in the end accepts his love]

[Exeunt]

OPHELIA What means this, my lord?

HAMLET Marry, this is miching mallecho; it means mischief.

OPHELIA Belike this show imports the argument of the play.

[Enter Prologue]

HAMLET We shall know by this fellow: the players cannot keep counsel; they'll tell all.

OPHELIA Will he tell us what this show meant?

HAMLET Ay, or any show that you'll show him: be not you ashamed to show, he'll not shame to tell you what it means.

OPHELIA You are naught, you are naught: I'll mark the play.

Prologue For us, and for our tragedy,
Here stooping to your clemency,
We beg your hearing patiently.

[Exit]

HAMLET Is this a prologue, or the posy of a ring?

OPHELIA 'Tis brief, my lord.

HAMLET As woman's love.

[Enter two Players, King and Queen]

Player King Full thirty times hath Phoebus' cart gone round
Neptune's salt wash and Tellus' orbed ground,
And thirty dozen moons with borrow'd sheen
About the world have times twelve thirties been,
Since love our hearts and Hymen did our hands
Unite commutual in most sacred bands.

Player Queen So many journeys may the sun and moon
Make us again count o'er ere love be done!
But, woe is me, you are so sick of late,
So far from cheer and from your former state,
That I distrust you. Yet, though I distrust,
Discomfort you, my lord, it nothing must:
For women's fear and love holds quantity;
In neither aught, or in extremity.
Now, what my love is, proof hath made you know;
And as my love is sized, my fear is so:
Where love is great, the littlest doubts are fear;
Where little fears grow great, great love grows there.

Player King 'Faith, I must leave thee, love, and shortly too;
My operant powers their functions leave to do:

And thou shalt live in this fair world behind,
Honour'd, beloved; and haply one as kind
For husband shalt thou--

Player Queen O, confound the rest!
Such love must needs be treason in my breast:
In second husband let me be accurst!
None wed the second but who kill'd the first.

HAMLET [Aside] Wormwood, wormwood.

Player Queen The instances that second marriage move
Are base respects of thrift, but none of love:
A second time I kill my husband dead,
When second husband kisses me in bed.

Player King I do believe you think what now you speak;
But what we do determine oft we break.
Purpose is but the slave to memory,
Of violent birth, but poor validity;
Which now, like fruit unripe, sticks on the tree;
But fall, unshaken, when they mellow be.
Most necessary 'tis that we forget
To pay ourselves what to ourselves is debt:
What to ourselves in passion we propose,
The passion ending, doth the purpose lose.
The violence of either grief or joy
Their own enactures with themselves destroy:
Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament;
Grief joys, joy grieves, on slender accident.
This world is not for aye, nor 'tis not strange
That even our loves should with our fortunes change;
For 'tis a question left us yet to prove,
Whether love lead fortune, or else fortune love.
The great man down, you mark his favourite flies;
The poor advanced makes friends of enemies.
And hitherto doth love on fortune tend;
For who not needs shall never lack a friend,
And who in want a hollow friend doth try,
Directly seasons him his enemy.
But, orderly to end where I begun,
Our wills and fates do so contrary run
That our devices still are overthrown;
Our thoughts are ours, their ends none of our own:
So think thou wilt no second husband wed;
But die thy thoughts when thy first lord is dead.

Player Queen Nor earth to me give food, nor heaven light!
Sport and repose lock from me day and night!
To desperation turn my trust and hope!
An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope!
Each opposite that blanks the face of joy
Meet what I would have well and it destroy!
Both here and hence pursue me lasting strife,
If, once a widow, ever I be wife!

HAMLET If she should break it now!

Player King 'Tis deeply sworn. Sweet, leave me here awhile;
My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile
The tedious day with sleep.

[Sleeps]

Player Queen Sleep rock thy brain,
And never come mischance between us twain!

[Exit]

HAMLET Madam, how like you this play?

QUEEN GERTRUDE The lady protests too much, methinks.

HAMLET O, but she'll keep her word.

KING CLAUDIUS Have you heard the argument? Is there no offence in 't?

HAMLET No, no, they do but jest, poison in jest; no offence
i' the world.

KING CLAUDIUS What do you call the play?

HAMLET The Mouse-trap. Marry, how? Tropically. This play is the image of a murder done in Vienna: Gonzago is the duke's name; his wife, Baptista: you shall see
anon; 'tis a knavish piece of work: but what o'
that? your majesty and we that have free souls, it touches us not: let the galled jade wince, our withers are unrun.

[Enter LUCIANUS]

This is one Lucianus, nephew to the king.

OPHELIA You are as good as a chorus, my lord.

HAMLET I could interpret between you and your love, if I could see the puppets dallying.

OPHELIA You are keen, my lord, you are keen.

HAMLET It would cost you a groaning to take off my edge.

OPHELIA Still better, and worse.

HAMLET So you must take your husbands. Begin, murderer;
pox, leave thy damnable faces, and begin. Come:
'the croaking raven doth bellow for revenge.'

LUCIANUS Thoughts black, hands apt, drugs fit, and time agreeing;
Confederate season, else no creature seeing;
Thou mixture rank, of midnight weeds collected,

With Hecate's ban thrice blasted, thrice infected,
Thy natural magic and dire property,
On wholesome life usurp immediately.

[Pours the poison into the sleeper's ears]

HAMLET He poisons him i' the garden for's estate. His name's Gonzago: the story is extant, and writ in choice Italian: you shall see anon how the murderer gets the love of Gonzago's wife.

OPHELIA The king rises.

HAMLET What, frightened with false fire!

QUEEN GERTRUDE How fares my lord?

LORD POLONIUS Give o'er the play.

KING CLAUDIUS Give me some light: away!

All Lights, lights, lights!

[Exeunt all but HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET Why, let the stricken deer go weep,
The hart ungalled play;
For some must watch, while some must sleep:
So runs the world away.
Would not this, sir, and a forest of feathers-- if the rest of my fortunes turn Turk with me--with two Provincial roses on my razed shoes, get me a fellowship in a cry of players, sir?

HORATIO Half a share.

HAMLET A whole one, I.
For thou dost know, O Damon dear,
This realm dismantled was
Of Jove himself; and now reigns here
A very, very--pajock.

HORATIO You might have rhymed.

HAMLET O good Horatio, I'll take the ghost's word for a thousand pound. Didst perceive?

HORATIO Very well, my lord.

HAMLET Upon the talk of the poisoning?

HORATIO I did very well note him.

HAMLET Ah, ha! Come, some music! come, the recorders!
For if the king like not the comedy,
Why then, belike, he likes it not, perdy.

Come, some music!

[Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, vouchsafe me a word with you.

HAMLET Sir, a whole history.

GUILDENSTERN The king, sir,--

HAMLET Ay, sir, what of him?

GUILDENSTERN Is in his retirement marvellous distempered.

HAMLET With drink, sir?

GUILDENSTERN No, my lord, rather with choler.

HAMLET Your wisdom should show itself more richer to signify this to his doctor; for, for me to put him to his purgation would perhaps plunge him into far more choler.

GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, put your discourse into some frame and start not so wildly from my affair.

HAMLET I am tame, sir: pronounce.

GUILDENSTERN The queen, your mother, in most great affliction of spirit, hath sent me to you.

HAMLET You are welcome.

GUILDENSTERN Nay, good my lord, this courtesy is not of the right breed. If it shall please you to make me a wholesome answer, I will do your mother's commandment: if not, your pardon and my return shall be the end of my business.

HAMLET Sir, I cannot.

GUILDENSTERN What, my lord?

HAMLET Make you a wholesome answer; my wit's diseased: but, sir, such answer as I can make, you shall command; or, rather, as you say, my mother: therefore no more, but to the matter: my mother, you say,--

ROSENCRANTZ Then thus she says; your behavior hath struck her into amazement and admiration.

HAMLET O wonderful son, that can so astonish a mother! But is there no sequel at the heels of this mother's admiration? Impart.

ROSENCRANTZ She desires to speak with you in her closet, ere you go to bed.

HAMLET We shall obey, were she ten times our mother. Have you any further trade with us?

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you once did love me.

HAMLET So I do still, by these pickers and stealers.

ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord, what is your cause of distemper? you do, surely, bar the door upon your own liberty, if you deny your griefs to your friend.

HAMLET Sir, I lack advancement.

ROSENCRANTZ How can that be, when you have the voice of the king himself for your succession in Denmark?

HAMLET Ay, but sir, 'While the grass grows,'--the proverb is something musty.

[Re-enter Players with recorders]

O, the recorders! let me see one. To withdraw with you:--why do you go about to recover the wind of me, as if you would drive me into a toil?

GUILDENSTERN O, my lord, if my duty be too bold, my love is too unmanerly.

HAMLET I do not well understand that. Will you play upon this pipe?

GUILDENSTERN My lord, I cannot.

HAMLET I pray you.

GUILDENSTERN Believe me, I cannot.

HAMLET I do beseech you.

GUILDENSTERN I know no touch of it, my lord.

HAMLET 'Tis as easy as lying: govern these ventages with your lingers and thumb, give it breath with your mouth, and it will discourse most eloquent music. Look you, these are the stops.

GUILDENSTERN But these cannot I command to any utterance of harmony; I have not the skill.

HAMLET Why, look you now, how unworthy a thing you make of me! You would play upon me; you would seem to know my stops; you would pluck out the heart of my mystery; you would sound me from my lowest note to the top of my compass: and there is much music, excellent voice, in this little organ; yet cannot you make it speak. 'Sblood, do you think I am easier to be played on than a pipe? Call me what instrument you will, though you can fret me, yet you cannot play upon me.

[Enter POLONIUS]

God bless you, sir!

LORD POLONIUS My lord, the queen would speak with you, and presently.

HAMLET Do you see yonder cloud that's almost in shape of a camel?

LORD POLONIUS By the mass, and 'tis like a camel, indeed.

HAMLET Methinks it is like a weasel.

LORD POLONIUS It is backed like a weasel.

HAMLET Or like a whale?

LORD POLONIUS Very like a whale.

HAMLET Then I will come to my mother by and by. They fool me to the top of my bent. I will come by and by.

LORD POLONIUS I will say so.

HAMLET By and by is easily said.

[Exit POLONIUS]

Leave me, friends.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

Tis now the very witching time of night,
When churchyards yawn and hell itself breathes out
Contagion to this world: now could I drink hot blood,
And do such bitter business as the day
Would quake to look on. Soft! now to my mother.
O heart, lose not thy nature; let not ever
The soul of Nero enter this firm bosom:
Let me be cruel, not unnatural:
I will speak daggers to her, but use none;
My tongue and soul in this be hypocrites;
How in my words soever she be shent,
To give them seals never, my soul, consent!

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE III A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS I like him not, nor stands it safe with us
To let his madness range. Therefore prepare you;
I your commission will forthwith dispatch,
And he to England shall along with you:
The terms of our estate may not endure
Hazard so dangerous as doth hourly grow
Out of his lunacies.

GUILDENSTERN We will ourselves provide:
Most holy and religious fear it is
To keep those many many bodies safe
That live and feed upon your majesty.

ROSENCRANTZ The single and peculiar life is bound,
With all the strength and armour of the mind,
To keep itself from noyance; but much more
That spirit upon whose weal depend and rest
The lives of many. The cease of majesty
Dies not alone; but, like a gulf, doth draw
What's near it with it: it is a massy wheel,
Fix'd on the summit of the highest mount,
To whose huge spokes ten thousand lesser things
Are mortised and adjoin'd; which, when it falls,
Each small annexment, petty consequence,
Attends the boisterous ruin. Never alone
Did the king sigh, but with a general groan.

KING CLAUDIUS Arm you, I pray you, to this speedy voyage;
For we will fetters put upon this fear,
Which now goes too free-footed.

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We will haste us.
GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS My lord, he's going to his mother's closet:
Behind the arras I'll convey myself,
To hear the process; and warrant she'll tax him home:
And, as you said, and wisely was it said,

'Tis meet that some more audience than a mother,
 Since nature makes them partial, should o'erhear
 The speech, of vantage. Fare you well, my liege:
 I'll call upon you ere you go to bed,
 And tell you what I know.

KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, dear my lord.

[Exit POLONIUS]

O, my offence is rank it smells to heaven;
 It hath the primal eldest curse upon't,
 A brother's murder. Pray can I not,
 Though inclination be as sharp as will:
 My stronger guilt defeats my strong intent;
 And, like a man to double business bound,
 I stand in pause where I shall first begin,
 And both neglect. What if this cursed hand
 Were thicker than itself with brother's blood,
 Is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens
 To wash it white as snow? Whereto serves mercy
 But to confront the visage of offence?
 And what's in prayer but this two-fold force,
 To be forestalled ere we come to fall,
 Or pardon'd being down? Then I'll look up;
 My fault is past. But, O, what form of prayer
 Can serve my turn? 'Forgive me my foul murder'?
 That cannot be; since I am still possess'd
 Of those effects for which I did the murder,
 My crown, mine own ambition and my queen.
 May one be pardon'd and retain the offence?
 In the corrupted currents of this world
 Offence's gilded hand may shove by justice,
 And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself
 Buys out the law: but 'tis not so above;
 There is no shuffling, there the action lies
 In his true nature; and we ourselves compell'd,
 Even to the teeth and forehead of our faults,
 To give in evidence. What then? what rests?
 Try what repentance can: what can it not?
 Yet what can it when one can not repent?
 O wretched state! O bosom black as death!
 O limed soul, that, struggling to be free,
 Art more engaged! Help, angels! Make assay!
 Bow, stubborn knees; and, heart with strings of steel,
 Be soft as sinews of the newborn babe!
 All may be well.

[Retires and kneels]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now might I do it pat, now he is praying;
 And now I'll do't. And so he goes to heaven;
 And so am I revenged. That would be scann'd:
 A villain kills my father; and for that,

I, his sole son, do this same villain send
To heaven.
O, this is hire and salary, not revenge.
He took my father grossly, full of bread;
With all his crimes broad blown, as flush as May;
And how his audit stands who knows save heaven?
But in our circumstance and course of thought,
'Tis heavy with him: and am I then revenged,
To take him in the purging of his soul,
When he is fit and season'd for his passage?
No!
Up, sword; and know thou a more horrid hent:
When he is drunk asleep, or in his rage,
Or in the incestuous pleasure of his bed;
At gaming, swearing, or about some act
That has no relish of salvation in't;
Then trip him, that his heels may kick at heaven,
And that his soul may be as damn'd and black
As hell, whereto it goes. My mother stays:
This physic but prolongs thy sickly days.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS [Rising] My words fly up, my thoughts remain below:
Words without thoughts never to heaven go.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE IV The Queen's closet.

[Enter QUEEN MARGARET and POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS He will come straight. Look you lay home to him:
Tell him his pranks have been too broad to bear with,
And that your grace hath screen'd and stood between
Much heat and him. I'll sconce me even here.
Pray you, be round with him.

HAMLET [Within] Mother, mother, mother!

QUEEN GERTRUDE I'll warrant you,
Fear me not: withdraw, I hear him coming.

[POLONIUS hides behind the arras]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now, mother, what's the matter?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, thou hast thy father much offended.

HAMLET Mother, you have my father much offended.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, come, you answer with an idle tongue.

HAMLET Go, go, you question with a wicked tongue.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Why, how now, Hamlet!

HAMLET What's the matter now?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Have you forgot me?

HAMLET No, by the rood, not so:

You are the queen, your husband's brother's wife;
And--would it were not so!--you are my mother.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, then, I'll set those to you that can speak.

HAMLET Come, come, and sit you down; you shall not budge;
You go not till I set you up a glass
Where you may see the inmost part of you.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What wilt thou do? thou wilt not murder me?
Help, help, ho!

LORD POLONIUS [Behind] What, ho! help, help, help!

HAMLET [Drawing] How now! a rat? Dead, for a ducat, dead!

[Makes a pass through the arras]

LORD POLONIUS [Behind] O, I am slain!

[Falls and dies]

QUEEN GERTRUDE O me, what hast thou done?

HAMLET Nay, I know not:
Is it the king?

QUEEN GERTRUDE O, what a rash and bloody deed is this!

HAMLET A bloody deed! almost as bad, good mother,
As kill a king, and marry with his brother.

QUEEN GERTRUDE As kill a king!

HAMLET Ay, lady, 'twas my word.

[Lifts up the array and discovers POLONIUS]

Thou wretched, rash, intruding fool, farewell!
 I took thee for thy better: take thy fortune;
 Thou find'st to be too busy is some danger.
 Leave wringing of your hands: peace! sit you down,
 And let me wring your heart; for so I shall,
 If it be made of penetrable stuff,
 If damned custom have not brass'd it so
 That it is proof and bulwark against sense.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What have I done, that thou darest wag thy tongue
 In noise so rude against me?

HAMLET Such an act
 That blurs the grace and blush of modesty,
 Calls virtue hypocrite, takes off the rose
 From the fair forehead of an innocent love
 And sets a blister there, makes marriage-vows
 As false as dicers' oaths: O, such a deed
 As from the body of contraction plucks
 The very soul, and sweet religion makes
 A rhapsody of words: heaven's face doth glow:
 Yea, this solidity and compound mass,
 With tristful visage, as against the doom,
 Is thought-sick at the act.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay me, what act,
 That roars so loud, and thunders in the index?

HAMLET Look here, upon this picture, and on this,
 The counterfeit presentment of two brothers.
 See, what a grace was seated on this brow;
 Hyperion's curls; the front of Jove himself;
 An eye like Mars, to threaten and command;
 A station like the herald Mercury
 New-lighted on a heaven-kissing hill;
 A combination and a form indeed,
 Where every god did seem to set his seal,
 To give the world assurance of a man:
 This was your husband. Look you now, what follows:
 Here is your husband; like a mildew'd ear,
 Blasting his wholesome brother. Have you eyes?
 Could you on this fair mountain leave to feed,
 And batten on this moor? Ha! have you eyes?
 You cannot call it love; for at your age
 The hey-day in the blood is tame, it's humble,
 And waits upon the judgment: and what judgment
 Would step from this to this? Sense, sure, you have,
 Else could you not have motion; but sure, that sense
 Is apoplex'd; for madness would not err,
 Nor sense to ecstasy was ne'er so thrall'd
 But it reserved some quantity of choice,
 To serve in such a difference. What devil was't
 That thus hath cozen'd you at hoodman-blind?
 Eyes without feeling, feeling without sight,
 Ears without hands or eyes, smelling sans all,

Or but a sickly part of one true sense
Could not so mope.
O shame! where is thy blush? Rebellious hell,
If thou canst mutine in a matron's bones,
To flaming youth let virtue be as wax,
And melt in her own fire: proclaim no shame
When the compulsive ardour gives the charge,
Since frost itself as actively doth burn
And reason panders will.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, speak no more:
Thou turn'st mine eyes into my very soul;
And there I see such black and grained spots
As will not leave their tinct.

HAMLET Nay, but to live
In the rank sweat of an enseamed bed,
Stew'd in corruption, honeying and making love
Over the nasty sty,--

QUEEN GERTRUDE O, speak to me no more;
These words, like daggers, enter in mine ears;
No more, sweet Hamlet!

HAMLET A murderer and a villain;
A slave that is not twentieth part the tithe
Of your precedent lord; a vice of kings;
A cutpurse of the empire and the rule,
That from a shelf the precious diadem stole,
And put it in his pocket!

QUEEN GERTRUDE No more!

HAMLET A king of shreds and patches,--

[Enter Ghost]

Save me, and hover o'er me with your wings,
You heavenly guards! What would your gracious figure?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, he's mad!

HAMLET Do you not come your tardy son to chide,
That, lapsed in time and passion, lets go by
The important acting of your dread command? O, say!

Ghost Do not forget: this visitation
Is but to whet thy almost blunted purpose.
But, look, amazement on thy mother sits:
O, step between her and her fighting soul:
Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works:
Speak to her, Hamlet.

HAMLET How is it with you, lady?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, how is't with you,

That you do bend your eye on vacancy
And with the incorporeal air do hold discourse?
Forth at your eyes your spirits wildly peep;
And, as the sleeping soldiers in the alarm,
Your bedded hair, like life in excrements,
Starts up, and stands on end. O gentle son,
Upon the heat and flame of thy distemper
Sprinkle cool patience. Whereon do you look?

HAMLET On him, on him! Look you, how pale he glares!
His form and cause conjoin'd, preaching to stones,
Would make them capable. Do not look upon me;
Lest with this piteous action you convert
My stern effects: then what I have to do
Will want true colour; tears perchance for blood.

QUEEN GERTRUDE To whom do you speak this?

HAMLET Do you see nothing there?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nothing at all; yet all that is I see.

HAMLET Nor did you nothing hear?

QUEEN GERTRUDE No, nothing but ourselves.

HAMLET Why, look you there! look, how it steals away!
My father, in his habit as he lived!
Look, where he goes, even now, out at the portal!

[Exit Ghost]

QUEEN GERTRUDE This the very coinage of your brain:
This bodiless creation ecstasy
Is very cunning in.

HAMLET Ecstasy!
My pulse, as yours, doth temperately keep time,
And makes as healthful music: it is not madness
That I have utter'd: bring me to the test,
And I the matter will re-word; which madness
Would gambol from. Mother, for love of grace,
Lay not that mattering unction to your soul,
That not your trespass, but my madness speaks:
It will but skin and film the ulcerous place,
Whilst rank corruption, mining all within,
Infects unseen. Confess yourself to heaven;
Repent what's past; avoid what is to come;
And do not spread the compost on the weeds,
To make them ranker. Forgive me this my virtue;
For in the fatness of these pursy times
Virtue itself of vice must pardon beg,
Yea, curb and woo for leave to do him good.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, thou hast cleft my heart in twain.

HAMLET O, throw away the worser part of it,
 And live the purer with the other half.
 Good night: but go not to mine uncle's bed;
 Assume a virtue, if you have it not.
 That monster, custom, who all sense doth eat,
 Of habits devil, is angel yet in this,
 That to the use of actions fair and good
 He likewise gives a frock or livery,
 That aptly is put on. Refrain to-night,
 And that shall lend a kind of easiness
 To the next abstinence: the next more easy;
 For use almost can change the stamp of nature,
 And either [] the devil, or throw him out
 With wondrous potency. Once more, good night:
 And when you are desirous to be bless'd,
 I'll blessing beg of you. For this same lord,

[Pointing to POLONIUS]

I do repent: but heaven hath pleased it so,
 To punish me with this and this with me,
 That I must be their scourge and minister.
 I will bestow him, and will answer well
 The death I gave him. So, again, good night.
 I must be cruel, only to be kind:
 Thus bad begins and worse remains behind.
 One word more, good lady.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What shall I do?

HAMLET Not this, by no means, that I bid you do:
 Let the bloat king tempt you again to bed;
 Pinch wanton on your cheek; call you his mouse;
 And let him, for a pair of reechy kisses,
 Or paddling in your neck with his damn'd fingers,
 Make you to ravel all this matter out,
 That I essentially am not in madness,
 But mad in craft. 'Twere good you let him know;
 For who, that's but a queen, fair, sober, wise,
 Would from a paddock, from a bat, a gib,
 Such dear concernings hide? who would do so?
 No, in despite of sense and secrecy,
 Unpeg the basket on the house's top.
 Let the birds fly, and, like the famous ape,
 To try conclusions, in the basket creep,
 And break your own neck down.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Be thou assured, if words be made of breath,
 And breath of life, I have no life to breathe
 What thou hast said to me.

HAMLET I must to England; you know that?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack,
 I had forgot: 'tis so concluded on.

HAMLET There's letters seal'd: and my two schoolfellows,
 Whom I will trust as I will adders fang'd,
 They bear the mandate; they must sweep my way,
 And marshal me to knavery. Let it work;
 For 'tis the sport to have the engineer
 Hoist with his own petard: and 't shall go hard
 But I will delve one yard below their mines,
 And blow them at the moon: O, 'tis most sweet,
 When in one line two crafts directly meet.
 This man shall set me packing:
 I'll lug the guts into the neighbour room.
 Mother, good night. Indeed this counsellor
 Is now most still, most secret and most grave,
 Who was in life a foolish prating knave.
 Come, sir, to draw toward an end with you.
 Good night, mother.

[Exeunt severally; HAMLET dragging in POLONIUS]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE I A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ,
 and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS There's matter in these sighs, these profound heaves:
 You must translate: 'tis fit we understand them.
 Where is your son?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Bestow this place on us a little while.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Ah, my good lord, what have I seen to-night!

KING CLAUDIUS What, Gertrude? How does Hamlet?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Mad as the sea and wind, when both contend
 Which is the mightier: in his lawless fit,
 Behind the arras hearing something stir,
 Whips out his rapier, cries, 'A rat, a rat!'
 And, in this brainish apprehension, kills
 The unseen good old man.

KING CLAUDIUS O heavy deed!
 It had been so with us, had we been there:

His liberty is full of threats to all;
 To you yourself, to us, to every one.
 Alas, how shall this bloody deed be answer'd?
 It will be laid to us, whose providence
 Should have kept short, restrain'd and out of haunt,
 This mad young man: but so much was our love,
 We would not understand what was most fit;
 But, like the owner of a foul disease,
 To keep it from divulging, let it feed
 Even on the pith of Life. Where is he gone?

QUEEN GERTRUDE To draw apart the body he hath kill'd:
 O'er whom his very madness, like some ore
 Among a mineral of metals base,
 Shows itself pure; he weeps for what is done.

KING CLAUDIUS O Gertrude, come away!
 The sun no sooner shall the mountains touch,
 But we will ship him hence: and this vile deed
 We must, with all our majesty and skill,
 Both countenance and excuse. Ho, Guildenstern!

[Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Friends both, go join you with some further aid:
 Hamlet in madness hath Polonius slain,
 And from his mother's closet hath he dragg'd him:
 Go seek him out; speak fair, and bring the body
 Into the chapel. I pray you, haste in this.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Come, Gertrude, we'll call up our wisest friends;
 And let them know, both what we mean to do,
 And what's untimely done []
 Whose whisper o'er the world's diameter,
 As level as the cannon to his blank,
 Transports his poison'd shot, may miss our name,
 And hit the woundless air. O, come away!
 My soul is full of discord and dismay.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE II Another room in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Safely stowed.

ROSENCRANTZ: |
| [Within] Hamlet! Lord Hamlet!
GUILDENSTERN: |

HAMLET What noise? who calls on Hamlet?
O, here they come.

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

ROSENCRANTZ What have you done, my lord, with the dead body?

HAMLET Compounded it with dust, whereto 'tis kin.

ROSENCRANTZ Tell us where 'tis, that we may take it thence
And bear it to the chapel.

HAMLET Do not believe it.

ROSENCRANTZ Believe what?

HAMLET That I can keep your counsel and not mine own.
Besides, to be demanded of a sponge! what replication should be made by the son of a king?

ROSENCRANTZ Take you me for a sponge, my lord?

HAMLET Ay, sir, that soaks up the king's countenance, his rewards, his authorities. But such officers do the king best service in the end: he keeps them, like an ape, in the corner of his jaw; first mouthed, to be last swallowed: when he needs what you have gleaned, it is but squeezing you, and, sponge, you shall be dry again.

ROSENCRANTZ I understand you not, my lord.

HAMLET I am glad of it: a knavish speech sleeps in a foolish ear.

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you must tell us where the body is, and go with us to the king.

HAMLET The body is with the king, but the king is not with the body. The king is a thing--

GUILDENSTERN A thing, my lord!

HAMLET Of nothing: bring me to him. Hide fox, and all after.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE III Another room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, attended]

KING CLAUDIUS I have sent to seek him, and to find the body.
How dangerous is it that this man goes loose!
Yet must not we put the strong law on him:
He's loved of the distracted multitude,
Who like not in their judgment, but their eyes;
And where tis so, the offender's scourge is weigh'd,
But never the offence. To bear all smooth and even,
This sudden sending him away must seem
Deliberate pause: diseases desperate grown
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all.

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ]

How now! what hath befall'n?

ROSENCRANTZ Where the dead body is bestow'd, my lord,
We cannot get from him.

KING CLAUDIUS But where is he?

ROSENCRANTZ Without, my lord; guarded, to know your pleasure.

KING CLAUDIUS Bring him before us.

ROSENCRANTZ Ho, Guildenstern! bring in my lord.

[Enter HAMLET and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Now, Hamlet, where's Polonius?

HAMLET At supper.

KING CLAUDIUS At supper! where?

HAMLET Not where he eats, but where he is eaten: a certain convocation of politic worms are e'en at him. Your worm is your only emperor for diet: we fat all creatures else to fat us, and we fat ourselves for maggots: your fat king and your lean beggar is but variable service, two dishes, but to one table:

that's the end.

KING CLAUDIUS Alas, alas!

HAMLET A man may fish with the worm that hath eat of a king, and cat of the fish that hath fed of that worm.

KING CLAUDIUS What dost you mean by this?

HAMLET Nothing but to show you how a king may go a progress through the guts of a beggar.

KING CLAUDIUS Where is Polonius?

HAMLET In heaven; send hither to see: if your messenger
find him not there, seek him i' the other place yourself. But indeed, if you find him not within this month, you shall nose him as you go up the stairs into the lobby.

KING CLAUDIUS Go seek him there.

[To some Attendants]

HAMLET He will stay till ye come.

[Exeunt Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Hamlet, this deed, for thine especial safety,--
Which we do tender, as we dearly grieve
For that which thou hast done,--must send thee hence
With fiery quickness: therefore prepare thyself;
The bark is ready, and the wind at help,
The associates tend, and every thing is bent
For England.

HAMLET For England!

KING CLAUDIUS Ay, Hamlet.

HAMLET Good.

KING CLAUDIUS So is it, if thou knew'st our purposes.

HAMLET I see a cherub that sees them. But, come; for England! Farewell, dear mother.

KING CLAUDIUS Thy loving father, Hamlet.

HAMLET My mother: father and mother is man and wife; man and wife is one flesh; and so, my mother. Come, for England!

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow him at foot; tempt him with speed aboard;

Delay it not; I'll have him hence to-night:
Away! for every thing is seal'd and done
That else leans on the affair: pray you, make haste.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

And, England, if my love thou hold'st at aught--
As my great power thereof may give thee sense,
Since yet thy cicatrice looks raw and red
After the Danish sword, and thy free awe
Pays homage to us--thou mayst not coldly set
Our sovereign process; which imports at full,
By letters congruing to that effect,
The present death of Hamlet. Do it, England;
For like the hectic in my blood he rages,
And thou must cure me: till I know 'tis done,
Howe'er my haps, my joys were ne'er begun.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE IV A plain in Denmark.

[Enter FORTINBRAS, a Captain, and Soldiers, marching]

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go, captain, from me greet the Danish king;
Tell him that, by his licence, Fortinbras
Craves the conveyance of a promised march
Over his kingdom. You know the rendezvous.
If that his majesty would aught with us,
We shall express our duty in his eye;
And let him know so.

Captain I will do't, my lord.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go softly on.

[Exeunt FORTINBRAS and Soldiers]

[Enter HAMLET, ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and others]

HAMLET Good sir, whose powers are these?

Captain They are of Norway, sir.

HAMLET How purposed, sir, I pray you?

Captain Against some part of Poland.

HAMLET Who commands them, sir?

Captain The nephews to old Norway, Fortinbras.

HAMLET Goes it against the main of Poland, sir,
Or for some frontier?

Captain Truly to speak, and with no addition,
We go to gain a little patch of ground
That hath in it no profit but the name.
To pay five ducats, five, I would not farm it;
Nor will it yield to Norway or the Pole
A ranker rate, should it be sold in fee.

HAMLET Why, then the Polack never will defend it.

Captain Yes, it is already garrison'd.

HAMLET Two thousand souls and twenty thousand ducats
Will not debate the question of this straw:
This is the imposthume of much wealth and peace,
That inward breaks, and shows no cause without
Why the man dies. I humbly thank you, sir.

Captain God be wi' you, sir.

[Exit]

ROSENCRANTZ Wilt please you go, my lord?

HAMLET I'll be with you straight go a little before.

[Exeunt all except HAMLET]

How all occasions do inform against me,
And spur my dull revenge! What is a man,
If his chief good and market of his time
Be but to sleep and feed? a beast, no more.
Sure, he that made us with such large discourse,
Looking before and after, gave us not
That capability and god-like reason
To fust in us unused. Now, whether it be
Bestial oblivion, or some craven scruple
Of thinking too precisely on the event,
A thought which, quarter'd, hath but one part wisdom
And ever three parts coward, I do not know
Why yet I live to say 'This thing's to do;'
Sith I have cause and will and strength and means
To do't. Examples gross as earth exhort me:
Witness this army of such mass and charge
Led by a delicate and tender prince,
Whose spirit with divine ambition puff'd
Makes mouths at the invisible event,

Exposing what is mortal and unsure
To all that fortune, death and danger dare,
Even for an egg-shell. Rightly to be great
Is not to stir without great argument,
But greatly to find quarrel in a straw
When honour's at the stake. How stand I then,
That have a father kill'd, a mother stain'd,
Excitements of my reason and my blood,
And let all sleep? while, to my shame, I see
The imminent death of twenty thousand men,
That, for a fantasy and trick of fame,
Go to their graves like beds, fight for a plot
Whereon the numbers cannot try the cause,
Which is not tomb enough and continent
To hide the slain? O, from this time forth,
My thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE V Elsinore. A room in the castle.

[Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE, HORATIO, and a Gentleman]

QUEEN GERTRUDE I will not speak with her.

Gentleman She is importunate, indeed distract:
Her mood will needs be pitied.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What would she have?

Gentleman She speaks much of her father; says she hears
There's tricks i' the world; and hems, and beats her heart;
Spurns enviously at straws; speaks things in doubt,
That carry but half sense: her speech is nothing,
Yet the unshaped use of it doth move
The hearers to collection; they aim at it,
And botch the words up fit to their own thoughts;
Which, as her winks, and nods, and gestures
yield them,
Indeed would make one think there might be thought,
Though nothing sure, yet much unhappily.

HORATIO 'Twere good she were spoken with; for she may strew
Dangerous conjectures in ill-breeding minds.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Let her come in.

[Exit HORATIO]

To my sick soul, as sin's true nature is,
Each toy seems prologue to some great amiss:
So full of artless jealousy is guilt,
It spills itself in fearing to be spilt.

[Re-enter HORATIO, with OPHELIA]

OPHELIA Where is the beauteous majesty of Denmark?

QUEEN GERTRUDE How now, Ophelia!

OPHELIA [Sings]

How should I your true love know
From another one?
By his cockle hat and staff,
And his sandal shoon.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, sweet lady, what imports this song?

OPHELIA Say you? nay, pray you, mark.

[Sings]

He is dead and gone, lady,
He is dead and gone;
At his head a grass-green turf,
At his heels a stone.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, but, Ophelia,--

OPHELIA Pray you, mark.

[Sings]

White his shroud as the mountain snow,--

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, look here, my lord.

OPHELIA [Sings]

Larded with sweet flowers
Which bewept to the grave did go
With true-love showers.

KING CLAUDIUS How do you, pretty lady?

OPHELIA Well, God 'ild you! They say the owl was a baker's daughter. Lord, we know what we are, but know not what we may be. God be at your table!

KING CLAUDIUS Conceit upon her father.

OPHELIA Pray you, let's have no words of this; but when they ask you what it means, say you this:

[Sings]

To-morrow is Saint Valentine's day,
All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window,
To be your Valentine.
Then up he rose, and donn'd his clothes,
And dupp'd the chamber-door;
Let in the maid, that out a maid
Never departed more.

KING CLAUDIUS Pretty Ophelia!

OPHELIA Indeed, la, without an oath, I'll make an end on't:

[Sings]

By Gis and by Saint Charity,
Alack, and fie for shame!
Young men will do't, if they come to't;
By cock, they are to blame.
Quoth she, before you tumbled me,
You promised me to wed.
So would I ha' done, by yonder sun,
An thou hadst not come to my bed.

KING CLAUDIUS How long hath she been thus?

OPHELIA I hope all will be well. We must be patient: but I cannot choose but weep, to think they should lay him i' the cold ground. My brother shall know of it: and so I thank you for your good counsel. Come, my coach! Good night, ladies; good night, sweet ladies; good night, good night.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow her close; give her good watch,
I pray you.

[Exit HORATIO]

O, this is the poison of deep grief; it springs All from her father's death. O Gertrude, Gertrude, When sorrows come, they come not single spies But in battalions. First, her father slain: Next, your son gone; and he most violent author Of his own just remove: the people muddied, Thick and unwholesome in their thoughts and whispers, For good Polonius' death; and we have done but greenly, In hugger-mugger to inter him: poor Ophelia

Divided from herself and her fair judgment,
Without the which we are pictures, or mere beasts:
Last, and as much containing as all these,
Her brother is in secret come from France;
Feeds on his wonder, keeps himself in clouds,
And wants not buzzers to infect his ear
With pestilent speeches of his father's death;
Wherein necessity, of matter beggar'd,
Will nothing stick our person to arraign
In ear and ear. O my dear Gertrude, this,
Like to a murdering-piece, in many places
Gives me superfluous death.

[A noise within]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack, what noise is this?

KING CLAUDIUS Where are my Switzers? Let them guard the door.

[Enter another Gentleman]

What is the matter?

Gentleman Save yourself, my lord:
The ocean, overpeering of his list,
Eats not the flats with more impetuous haste
Than young Laertes, in a riotous head,
O'erbears your officers. The rabble call him lord;
And, as the world were now but to begin,
Antiquity forgot, custom not known,
The ratifiers and props of every word,
They cry 'Choose we: Laertes shall be king:'
Caps, hands, and tongues, applaud it to the clouds:
'Laertes shall be king, Laertes king!'

QUEEN GERTRUDE How cheerfully on the false trail they cry!
O, this is counter, you false Danish dogs!

KING CLAUDIUS The doors are broke.

[Noise within]

[Enter LAERTES, armed; Danes following]

LAERTES Where is this king? Sirs, stand you all without.

Danes No, let's come in.

LAERTES I pray you, give me leave.

Danes We will, we will.

[They retire without the door]

LAERTES I thank you: keep the door. O thou vile king,
Give me my father!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Calmly, good Laertes.

LAERTES That drop of blood that's calm proclaims me bastard,
Cries cuckold to my father, brands the harlot
Even here, between the chaste unsmirched brow
Of my true mother.

KING CLAUDIUS What is the cause, Laertes,
That thy rebellion looks so giant-like?
Let him go, Gertrude; do not fear our person:
There's such divinity doth hedge a king,
That treason can but peep to what it would,
Acts little of his will. Tell me, Laertes,
Why thou art thus incensed. Let him go, Gertrude.
Speak, man.

LAERTES Where is my father?

KING CLAUDIUS Dead.

QUEEN GERTRUDE But not by him.

KING CLAUDIUS Let him demand his fill.

LAERTES How came he dead? I'll not be juggled with:
To hell, allegiance! vows, to the blackest devil!
Conscience and grace, to the profoundest pit!
I dare damnation. To this point I stand,
That both the worlds I give to negligence,
Let come what comes; only I'll be revenged
Most thoroughly for my father.

KING CLAUDIUS Who shall stay you?

LAERTES My will, not all the world:
And for my means, I'll husband them so well,
They shall go far with little.

KING CLAUDIUS Good Laertes,
If you desire to know the certainty
Of your dear father's death, is't writ in your revenge,
That, swoopstake, you will draw both friend and foe,
Winner and loser?

LAERTES None but his enemies.

KING CLAUDIUS Will you know them then?

LAERTES To his good friends thus wide I'll ope my arms;
And like the kind life-rendering pelican,
Repast them with my blood.

KING CLAUDIUS Why, now you speak
Like a good child and a true gentleman.
That I am guiltless of your father's death,

And am most sensible in grief for it,
It shall as level to your judgment pierce
As day does to your eye.

Danes [Within] Let her come in.

LAERTES How now! what noise is that?

[Re-enter OPHELIA]

O heat, dry up my brains! tears seven times salt,
Burn out the sense and virtue of mine eye!
By heaven, thy madness shall be paid by weight,
Till our scale turn the beam. O rose of May!
Dear maid, kind sister, sweet Ophelia!
O heavens! is't possible, a young maid's wits
Should be as moral as an old man's life?
Nature is fine in love, and where 'tis fine,
It sends some precious instance of itself
After the thing it loves.

OPHELIA [Sings]

They bore him barefaced on the bier;
Hey non nonny, nonny, hey nonny;
And in his grave rain'd many a tear:--
Fare you well, my dove!

LAERTES Hadst thou thy wits, and didst persuade revenge,
It could not move thus.

OPHELIA [Sings]

You must sing a-down a-down,
An you call him a-down-a.
O, how the wheel becomes it! It is the false steward, that stole his master's daughter.

LAERTES This nothing's more than matter.

OPHELIA There's rosemary, that's for remembrance; pray,
love, remember: and there is pansies. that's for thoughts.

LAERTES A document in madness, thoughts and remembrance fitted.

OPHELIA There's fennel for you, and columbines: there's rue
for you; and here's some for me: we may call it herb-grace o' Sundays: O you must wear your rue with a difference. There's a daisy: I would give you some violets, but they withered all when my father died: they say he made a good end,--

[Sings]

For bonny sweet Robin is all my joy.

LAERTES Thought and affliction, passion, hell itself,
She turns to favour and to prettiness.

OPHELIA [Sings]

And will he not come again?
And will he not come again?
No, no, he is dead:
Go to thy death-bed:
He never will come again.

His beard was as white as snow,
All flaxen was his poll:
He is gone, he is gone,
And we cast away moan:
God ha' mercy on his soul!

And of all Christian souls, I pray God. God be wi' ye.

[Exit]

LAERTES Do you see this, O God?

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, I must commune with your grief,
Or you deny me right. Go but apart,
Make choice of whom your wisest friends you will.
And they shall hear and judge 'twixt you and me:
If by direct or by collateral hand
They find us touch'd, we will our kingdom give,
Our crown, our life, and all that we can ours,
To you in satisfaction; but if not,
Be you content to lend your patience to us,
And we shall jointly labour with your soul
To give it due content.

LAERTES Let this be so;
His means of death, his obscure funeral--
No trophy, sword, nor hatchment o'er his bones,
No noble rite nor formal ostentation--
Cry to be heard, as 'twere from heaven to earth,
That I must call't in question.

KING CLAUDIUS So you shall;
And where the offence is let the great axe fall.
I pray you, go with me.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VI Another room in the castle.

[Enter HORATIO and a Servant]

HORATIO What are they that would speak with me?

Servant Sailors, sir: they say they have letters for you.

HORATIO Let them come in.

[Exit Servant]

I do not know from what part of the world
I should be greeted, if not from Lord Hamlet.

[Enter Sailors]

First Sailor God bless you, sir.

HORATIO Let him bless thee too.

First Sailor He shall, sir, an't please him. There's a letter for you, sir; it comes from the ambassador that was bound for England; if your name be Horatio, as I am
let to know it is.

HORATIO [Reads] 'Horatio, when thou shalt have overlooked
this, give these fellows some means to the king:
they have letters for him. Ere we were two days old at sea, a pirate of very warlike appointment gave us chase. Finding ourselves too slow of sail, we put on a compelled valour, and in the grapple I boarded them: on the instant they got clear of our ship; so I alone became their prisoner. They have dealt with me like thieves of mercy: but they knew what they did; I am to do a good turn for them. Let the king have the letters I have sent; and repair thou to me with as much speed as thou wouldest fly death. I have words to speak in thine ear will make thee dumb; yet are they much too light for the bore of the matter. These good fellows will bring thee where I am. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern hold their course for England: of them I have much to tell thee. Farewell.
'He that thou knowest thine, HAMLET.'
Come, I will make you way for these your letters;
And do't the speedier, that you may direct me
To him from whom you brought them.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VII Another room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS and LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Now must your conscience my acquaintance seal,
And you must put me in your heart for friend,
Sith you have heard, and with a knowing ear,
That he which hath your noble father slain
Pursued my life.

LAERTES It well appears: but tell me
Why you proceeded not against these feats,
So crimeful and so capital in nature,
As by your safety, wisdom, all things else,
You mainly were stirr'd up.

KING CLAUDIUS O, for two special reasons;
Which may to you, perhaps, seem much unsinew'd,
But yet to me they are strong. The queen his mother
Lives almost by his looks; and for myself--
My virtue or my plague, be it either which--
She's so conjunctive to my life and soul,
That, as the star moves not but in his sphere,
I could not but by her. The other motive,
Why to a public count I might not go,
Is the great love the general gender bear him;
Who, dipping all his faults in their affection,
Would, like the spring that turneth wood to stone,
Convert his gyves to graces; so that my arrows,
Too slightly timber'd for so loud a wind,
Would have reverted to my bow again,
And not where I had aim'd them.

LAERTES And so have I a noble father lost;
A sister driven into desperate terms,
Whose worth, if praises may go back again,
Stood challenger on mount of all the age
For her perfections: but my revenge will come.

KING CLAUDIUS Break not your sleeps for that: you must not think
That we are made of stuff so flat and dull
That we can let our beard be shook with danger
And think it pastime. You shortly shall hear more:
I loved your father, and we love ourself;
And that, I hope, will teach you to imagine--

[Enter a Messenger]

How now! what news?

Messenger Letters, my lord, from Hamlet:
This to your majesty; this to the queen.

KING CLAUDIUS From Hamlet! who brought them?

Messenger Sailors, my lord, they say; I saw them not:
They were given me by Claudio; he received them
Of him that brought them.

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, you shall hear them. Leave us.

[Exit Messenger]

[Reads]

'High and mighty, You shall know I am set naked on your kingdom. To-morrow shall I beg leave to see your kingly eyes: when I shall, first asking your pardon thereunto, recount the occasion of my sudden and more strange return. 'HAMLET.'
What should this mean? Are all the rest come back?
Or is it some abuse, and no such thing?

LAERTES Know you the hand?

KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis Hamlets character. 'Naked!
And in a postscript here, he says 'alone.'
Can you advise me?

LAERTES I'm lost in it, my lord. But let him come;
It warms the very sickness in my heart,
That I shall live and tell him to his teeth,
'Thus didest thou.'

KING CLAUDIUS If it be so, Laertes--
As how should it be so? how otherwise?--
Will you be ruled by me?

LAERTES Ay, my lord;
So you will not o'errule me to a peace.

KING CLAUDIUS To thine own peace. If he be now return'd,
As checking at his voyage, and that he means
No more to undertake it, I will work him
To an exploit, now ripe in my device,
Under the which he shall not choose but fall:
And for his death no wind of blame shall breathe,
But even his mother shall uncharge the practise
And call it accident.

LAERTES My lord, I will be ruled;
The rather, if you could devise it so
That I might be the organ.

KING CLAUDIUS It falls right.

You have been talk'd of since your travel much,
And that in Hamlet's hearing, for a quality
Wherein, they say, you shine: your sum of parts
Did not together pluck such envy from him
As did that one, and that, in my regard,
Of the unworthiest siege.

LAERTES What part is that, my lord?

KING CLAUDIUS A very riband in the cap of youth,
Yet needful too; for youth no less becomes
The light and careless livery that it wears
Than settled age his sables and his weeds,
Importing health and graveness. Two months since,
Here was a gentleman of Normandy:--
I've seen myself, and served against, the French,
And they can well on horseback: but this gallant
Had witchcraft in't; he grew unto his seat;
And to such wondrous doing brought his horse,
As he had been incorpsed and demi-natured
With the brave beast: so far he topp'd my thought,
That I, in forgery of shapes and tricks,
Come short of what he did.

LAERTES A Norman was't?

KING CLAUDIUS A Norman.

LAERTES Upon my life, Lamond.

KING CLAUDIUS The very same.

LAERTES I know him well: he is the brooch indeed
And gem of all the nation.

KING CLAUDIUS He made confession of you,
And gave you such a masterly report
For art and exercise in your defence
And for your rapier most especially,
That he cried out, 'twould be a sight indeed,
If one could match you: the scrimers of their nation,
He swore, had had neither motion, guard, nor eye,
If you opposed them. Sir, this report of his
Did Hamlet so envenom with his envy
That he could nothing do but wish and beg
Your sudden coming o'er, to play with him.
Now, out of this,--

LAERTES What out of this, my lord?

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, was your father dear to you?
Or are you like the painting of a sorrow,
A face without a heart?

LAERTES Why ask you this?

KING CLAUDIUS Not that I think you did not love your father;
 But that I know love is begun by time;
 And that I see, in passages of proof,
 Time qualifies the spark and fire of it.
 There lives within the very flame of love
 A kind of wick or snuff that will abate it;
 And nothing is at a like goodness still;
 For goodness, growing to a plurisy,
 Dies in his own too much: that we would do
 We should do when we would; for this 'would' changes
 And hath abatements and delays as many
 As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents;
 And then this 'should' is like a spendthrift sigh,
 That hurts by easing. But, to the quick o' the ulcer:--
 Hamlet comes back: what would you undertake,
 To show yourself your father's son in deed
 More than in words?

LAERTES To cut his throat i' the church.

KING CLAUDIUS No place, indeed, should murder sanctuarize;
 Revenge should have no bounds. But, good Laertes,
 Will you do this, keep close within your chamber.
 Hamlet return'd shall know you are come home:
 We'll put on those shall praise your excellency
 And set a double varnish on the fame
 The Frenchman gave you, bring you in fine together
 And wager on your heads: he, being remiss,
 Most generous and free from all contriving,
 Will not peruse the foils; so that, with ease,
 Or with a little shuffling, you may choose
 A sword unbated, and in a pass of practise
 Requite him for your father.

LAERTES I will do't:

And, for that purpose, I'll anoint my sword.
 I bought an unction of a mountebank,
 So mortal that, but dip a knife in it,
 Where it draws blood no cataplasm so rare,
 Collected from all simples that have virtue
 Under the moon, can save the thing from death
 That is but scratch'd withal: I'll touch my point
 With this contagion, that, if I gall him slightly,
 It may be death.

KING CLAUDIUS Let's further think of this;
 Weigh what convenience both of time and means
 May fit us to our shape: if this should fail,
 And that our drift look through our bad performance,
 'Twere better not assay'd: therefore this project
 Should have a back or second, that might hold,
 If this should blast in proof. Soft! let me see:
 We'll make a solemn wager on your cunning: I ha't.
 When in your motion you are hot and dry--
 As make your bouts more violent to that end--

And that he calls for drink, I'll have prepared him
A chalice for the nonce, whereon but sipping,
If he by chance escape your venom'd stuck,
Our purpose may hold there.

[Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE]

How now, sweet queen!

QUEEN GERTRUDE One woe doth tread upon another's heel,
So fast they follow; your sister's drown'd, Laertes.

LAERTES Drown'd! O, where?

QUEEN GERTRUDE There is a willow grows aslant a brook,
That shows his hoar leaves in the glassy stream;
There with fantastic garlands did she come
Of crow-flowers, nettles, daisies, and long purples
That liberal shepherds give a grosser name,
But our cold maids do dead men's fingers call them:
There, on the pendent boughs her coronet weeds
Clambering to hang, an envious sliver broke;
When down her weedy trophies and herself
Fell in the weeping brook. Her clothes spread wide;
And, mermaid-like, awhile they bore her up:
Which time she chanted snatches of old tunes;
As one incapable of her own distress,
Or like a creature native and indued
Unto that element: but long it could not be
Till that her garments, heavy with their drink,
Pull'd the poor wretch from her melodious lay
To muddy death.

LAERTES Alas, then, she is drown'd?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Drown'd, drown'd.

LAERTES Too much of water hast thou, poor Ophelia,
And therefore I forbid my tears: but yet
It is our trick; nature her custom holds,
Let shame say what it will: when these are gone,
The woman will be out. Adieu, my lord:
I have a speech of fire, that fain would blaze,
But that this folly douts it.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Let's follow, Gertrude:
How much I had to do to calm his rage!
Now fear I this will give it start again;
Therefore let's follow.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE I A churchyard.

[Enter two Clowns, with spades, &c]

First Clown Is she to be buried in Christian burial that wilfully seeks her own salvation?

Second Clown I tell thee she is: and therefore make her grave straight: the crowner hath sat on her, and finds it Christian burial.

First Clown How can that be, unless she drowned herself in her own defence?

Second Clown Why, 'tis found so.

First Clown It must be 'se offendendo;' it cannot be else. For here lies the point: if I drown myself wittingly, it argues an act: and an act hath three branches: it is, to act, to do, to perform: argal, she drowned herself wittingly.

Second Clown Nay, but hear you, goodman delver,--

First Clown Give me leave. Here lies the water; good: here stands the man; good; if the man go to this water, and drown himself, it is, will he, nill he, he goes,--mark you that; but if the water come to him and drown him, he drowns not himself: argal, he that is not guilty of his own death shortens not his own life.

Second Clown But is this law?

First Clown Ay, marry, is't; crowner's quest law.

Second Clown Will you ha' the truth on't? If this had not been a gentlewoman, she should have been buried out o' Christian burial.

First Clown Why, there thou say'st: and the more pity that great folk should have countenance in this world to drown or hang themselves, more than their even Christian. Come, my spade. There is no ancient gentleman but gardeners, ditchers, and grave-makers: they hold up Adam's profession.

Second Clown Was he a gentleman?

First Clown He was the first that ever bore arms.

Second Clown Why, he had none.

First Clown What, art a heathen? How dost thou understand the Scripture? The Scripture says 'Adam digged:' could he dig without arms? I'll put another question to thee: if thou answerest me not to the purpose, confess thyself--

Second Clown Go to.

First Clown What is he that builds stronger than either the mason, the shipwright, or the carpenter?

Second Clown The gallows-maker; for that frame outlives a thousand tenants.

First Clown I like thy wit well, in good faith: the gallows does well; but how does it well? it does well to those that do in: now thou dost ill to say the gallows is built stronger than the church: argal, the gallows may do well to thee. To't again, come.

Second Clown 'Who builds stronger than a mason, a shipwright, or a carpenter?'

First Clown Ay, tell me that, and unyoke.

Second Clown Marry, now I can tell.

First Clown To't.

Second Clown Mass, I cannot tell.

[Enter HAMLET and HORATIO, at a distance]

First Clown Cudgel thy brains no more about it, for your dull ass will not mend his pace with beating; and, when you are asked this question next, say 'a grave-maker: 'the houses that he makes last till doomsday. Go, get thee to Yaughan: fetch me a stoup of liquor.

[Exit Second Clown]

[He digs and sings]

In youth, when I did love, did love,
Methought it was very sweet,
To contract, O, the time, for, ah, my behove,
O, methought, there was nothing meet.

HAMLET Has this fellow no feeling of his business, that he sings at grave-making?

HORATIO Custom hath made it in him a property of easiness.

HAMLET 'Tis e'en so: the hand of little employment hath
the daintier sense.

First Clown [Sings]

But age, with his stealing steps,
Hath claw'd me in his clutch,
And hath shipped me intil the land,
As if I had never been such.

[Throws up a skull]

HAMLET That skull had a tongue in it, and could sing once:
how the knave jowls it to the ground, as if it were Cain's jaw-bone, that did the first murder! It might be the pate of a politician, which this ass
now o'er-reaches; one that would circumvent God, might it not?

HORATIO It might, my lord.

HAMLET Or of a courtier; which could say 'Good morrow, sweet lord! How dost thou, good lord?' This might be my lord such-a-one, that praised my lord
such-a-one's horse, when he meant to beg it; might it not?

HORATIO Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Why, e'en so: and now my Lady Worm's; chapless, and knocked about the mazzard with a sexton's spade:
here's fine revolution, an we had the trick to see't. Did these bones cost no more the breeding, but to play at loggats with 'em? mine ache to think on't.

First Clown: [Sings]

A pick-axe, and a spade, a spade,
For and a shrouding sheet:
O, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

[Throws up another skull]

HAMLET There's another: why may not that be the skull of a lawyer? Where be his quiddities now, his quilletts, his cases, his tenures, and his tricks? why does he suffer this rude knave now to knock him about the sconce with a dirty shovel, and will not tell him of his action of battery? Hum! This fellow might be in's time a great buyer of land, with his statutes,
his recognizances, his fines, his double vouchers,
his recoveries: is this the fine of his fines, and
the recovery of his recoveries, to have his fine

pate full of fine dirt? will his vouchers vouch him no more of his purchases, and double ones too, than the length and breadth of a pair of indentures? The very conveyances of his lands will hardly lie in this box; and must the inheritor himself have no more, ha?

HORATIO Not a jot more, my lord.

HAMLET Is not parchment made of sheepskins?

HORATIO Ay, my lord, and of calf-skins too.

HAMLET They are sheep and calves which seek out assurance in that. I will speak to this fellow. Whose grave's this, sirrah?

First Clown Mine, sir.

[Sings]

O, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

HAMLET I think it be thine, indeed; for thou liest in't.

First Clown You lie out on't, sir, and therefore it is not yours: for my part, I do not lie in't, and yet it is mine.

HAMLET 'Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say it is thine:
'tis for the dead, not for the quick; therefore thou liest.

First Clown 'Tis a quick lie, sir; 'twill away gain, from me to you.

HAMLET What man dost thou dig it for?

First Clown For no man, sir.

HAMLET What woman, then?

First Clown For none, neither.

HAMLET Who is to be buried in't?

First Clown One that was a woman, sir; but, rest her soul, she's dead.

HAMLET How absolute the knave is! we must speak by the card, or equivocation will undo us. By the Lord, Horatio, these three years I have taken a note of it; the age is grown so picked that the toe of the peasant comes so near the heel of the courtier, he gaffs his kibe. How long hast thou been a grave-maker?

First Clown Of all the days i' the year, I came to't that day that our last king Hamlet overcame Fortinbras.

HAMLET How long is that since?

First Clown Cannot you tell that? every fool can tell that: it was the very day that young Hamlet was born; he that is mad, and sent into England.

HAMLET Ay, marry, why was he sent into England?

First Clown Why, because he was mad: he shall recover his wits there; or, if he do not, it's no great matter there.

HAMLET Why?

First Clown 'Twill, a not be seen in him there; there the men are as mad as he.

HAMLET How came he mad?

First Clown Very strangely, they say.

HAMLET How strangely?

First Clown Faith, e'en with losing his wits.

HAMLET Upon what ground?

First Clown Why, here in Denmark: I have been sexton here, man and boy, thirty years.

HAMLET How long will a man lie i' the earth ere he rot?

First Clown I' faith, if he be not rotten before he die--as we have many pocky corses now-a-days, that will scarce hold the laying in--he will last you some eight year or nine year: a tanner will last you nine year.

HAMLET Why he more than another?

First Clown Why, sir, his hide is so tanned with his trade, that he will keep out water a great while; and your water is a sore decayer of your whoreson dead body.
Here's a skull now; this skull has lain in the earth three and twenty years.

HAMLET Whose was it?

First Clown A whoreson mad fellow's it was: whose do you think it was?

HAMLET Nay, I know not.

First Clown A pestilence on him for a mad rogue! a' poured a flagon of Rhenish on my head once. This same skull, sir, was Yorick's skull, the king's jester.

HAMLET This?

First Clown E'en that.

HAMLET Let me see.

[Takes the skull]

Alas, poor Yorick! I knew him, Horatio: a fellow of infinite jest, of most excellent fancy: he hath borne me on his back a thousand times; and now, how abhorred in my imagination it is! my gorge rims at it. Here hung those lips that I have kissed I know not how oft. Where be your gibes now? your gambols? your songs? your flashes of merriment, that were wont to set the table on a roar? Not one now, to mock your own grinning? quite chap-fallen? Now get you to my lady's chamber, and tell her, let her paint an inch thick, to this favour she must come; make her laugh at that. Prithee, Horatio, tell me one thing.

HORATIO What's that, my lord?

HAMLET Dost thou think Alexander looked o' this fashion i' the earth?

HORATIO E'en so.

HAMLET And smelt so? pah!

[Puts down the skull]

HORATIO E'en so, my lord.

HAMLET To what base uses we may return, Horatio! Why may not imagination trace the noble dust of Alexander, till he find it stopping a bung-hole?

HORATIO 'Twere to consider too curiously, to consider so.

HAMLET No, faith, not a jot; but to follow him thither with modesty enough, and likelihood to lead it: as thus: Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander returneth into dust; the dust is earth; of earth we make loam; and why of that loam, whereto he was converted, might they not stop a beer-barrel? Imperious Caesar, dead and turn'd to clay, Might stop a hole to keep the wind away: O, that that earth, which kept the world in awe, Should patch a wall to expel the winter flaw! But soft! but soft! aside: here comes the king.

[Enter Priest, &c. in procession; the Corpse of OPHELIA, LAERTES and Mourners following; KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, their trains, &c]

The queen, the courtiers: who is this they follow?
And with such maimed rites? This doth betoken
The corse they follow did with desperate hand
Fordo its own life: 'twas of some estate.
Couch we awhile, and mark.

[Retiring with HORATIO]

LAERTES What ceremony else?

HAMLET That is Laertes,
A very noble youth: mark.

LAERTES What ceremony else?

First Priest Her obsequies have been as far enlarged
As we have warrantise: her death was doubtful;
And, but that great command o'ersways the order,
She should in ground unsanctified have lodged
Till the last trumpet: for charitable prayers,
Shards, flints and pebbles should be thrown on her;
Yet here she is allow'd her virgin crants,
Her maiden strewments and the bringing home
Of bell and burial.

LAERTES Must there no more be done?

First Priest No more be done:
We should profane the service of the dead
To sing a requiem and such rest to her
As to peace-parted souls.

LAERTES Lay her i' the earth:
And from her fair and unpolluted flesh
May violets spring! I tell thee, churlish priest,
A ministering angel shall my sister be,
When thou liest howling.

HAMLET What, the fair Ophelia!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Sweets to the sweet: farewell!

[Scattering flowers]

I hoped thou shouldst have been my Hamlet's wife;
I thought thy bride-bed to have deck'd, sweet maid,
And not have strew'd thy grave.

LAERTES O, treble woe
Fall ten times treble on that cursed head,
Whose wicked deed thy most ingenious sense
Deprived thee of! Hold off the earth awhile,
Till I have caught her once more in mine arms:

[Leaps into the grave]

Now pile your dust upon the quick and dead,
Till of this flat a mountain you have made,
To o'ertop old Pelion, or the skyish head
Of blue Olympus.

HAMLET [Advancing] What is he whose grief
Bears such an emphasis? whose phrase of sorrow
Conjures the wandering stars, and makes them stand
Like wonder-wounded hearers? This is I,
Hamlet the Dane.

[Leaps into the grave]

LAERTES The devil take thy soul!

[Grappling with him]

HAMLET Thou pray'st not well.
I prithee, take thy fingers from my throat;
For, though I am not splenitive and rash,
Yet have I something in me dangerous,
Which let thy wiseness fear: hold off thy hand.

KING CLAUDIUS Pluck them asunder.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, Hamlet!

All Gentlemen,--

HORATIO Good my lord, be quiet.

[The Attendants part them, and they come out of the grave]

HAMLET Why I will fight with him upon this theme
Until my eyelids will no longer wag.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O my son, what theme?

HAMLET I loved Ophelia: forty thousand brothers
Could not, with all their quantity of love,
Make up my sum. What wilt thou do for her?

KING CLAUDIUS O, he is mad, Laertes.

QUEEN GERTRUDE For love of God, forbear him.

HAMLET 'Swounds, show me what thou'l do:
Woo't weep? woo't fight? woo't fast? woo't tear thyself?
Woo't drink up eisel? eat a crocodile?
I'll do't. Dost thou come here to whine?
To outface me with leaping in her grave?
Be buried quick with her, and so will I:
And, if thou prate of mountains, let them throw
Millions of acres on us, till our ground,
Singeing his pate against the burning zone,
Make Ossa like a wart! Nay, an thou'l mouth,

I'll rant as well as thou.

QUEEN GERTRUDE This is mere madness:
And thus awhile the fit will work on him;
Anon, as patient as the female dove,
When that her golden couplets are disclosed,
His silence will sit drooping.

HAMLET Hear you, sir;
What is the reason that you use me thus?
I loved you ever: but it is no matter;
Let Hercules himself do what he may,
The cat will mew and dog will have his day.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS I pray you, good Horatio, wait upon him.

[Exit HORATIO]

[To LAERTES]

Strengthen your patience in our last night's speech;
We'll put the matter to the present push.
Good Gertrude, set some watch over your son.
This grave shall have a living monument:
An hour of quiet shortly shall we see;
Till then, in patience our proceeding be.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE II A hall in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET So much for this, sir: now shall you see the other;
You do remember all the circumstance?

HORATIO Remember it, my lord?

HAMLET Sir, in my heart there was a kind of fighting,
That would not let me sleep: methought I lay
Worse than the mutines in the bilboes. Rashly,
And praised be rashness for it, let us know,
Our indiscretion sometimes serves us well,
When our deep plots do pall: and that should teach us

There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
Rough-hew them how we will,--

HORATIO That is most certain.

HAMLET Up from my cabin,
My sea-gown scarf'd about me, in the dark
Groped I to find out them; had my desire.
Finger'd their packet, and in fine withdrew
To mine own room again; making so bold,
My fears forgetting manners, to unseal
Their grand commission; where I found, Horatio,--
O royal knavery!--an exact command,
Larded with many several sorts of reasons
Importing Denmark's health and England's too,
With, ho! such bugs and goblins in my life,
That, on the supervise, no leisure bated,
No, not to stay the grinding of the axe,
My head should be struck off.

HORATIO Is't possible?

HAMLET Here's the commission: read it at more leisure.
But wilt thou hear me how I did proceed?

HORATIO I beseech you.

HAMLET Being thus be-netted round with villanies,--
Ere I could make a prologue to my brains,
They had begun the play--I sat me down,
Devised a new commission, wrote it fair:
I once did hold it, as our statists do,
A baseness to write fair and labour'd much
How to forget that learning, but, sir, now
It did me yeoman's service: wilt thou know
The effect of what I wrote?

HORATIO Ay, good my lord.

HAMLET An earnest conjuration from the king,
As England was his faithful tributary,
As love between them like the palm might flourish,
As peace should stiff her wheaten garland wear
And stand a comma 'tween their amities,
And many such-like 'As'es of great charge,
That, on the view and knowing of these contents,
Without debatement further, more or less,
He should the bearers put to sudden death,
Not shriving-time allow'd.

HORATIO How was this seal'd?

HAMLET Why, even in that was heaven ordinant.
I had my father's signet in my purse,
Which was the model of that Danish seal;
Folded the writ up in form of the other,

Subscribed it, gave't the impression, placed it safely,
The changeling never known. Now, the next day
Was our sea-fight; and what to this was sequent
Thou know'st already.

HORATIO So Guildenstern and Rosencrantz go to't.

HAMLET Why, man, they did make love to this employment;
They are not near my conscience; their defeat
Does by their own insinuation grow:
'Tis dangerous when the baser nature comes
Between the pass and fell incensed points
Of mighty opposites.

HORATIO Why, what a king is this!

HAMLET Does it not, think'st thee, stand me now upon--
He that hath kill'd my king and whored my mother,
Popp'd in between the election and my hopes,
Thrown out his angle for my proper life,
And with such cozenage--is't not perfect conscience,
To quit him with this arm? and is't not to be damn'd,
To let this canker of our nature come
In further evil?

HORATIO It must be shortly known to him from England
What is the issue of the business there.

HAMLET It will be short: the interim is mine;
And a man's life's no more than to say 'One.'
But I am very sorry, good Horatio,
That to Laertes I forgot myself;
For, by the image of my cause, I see
The portraiture of his: I'll court his favours.
But, sure, the bravery of his grief did put me
Into a towering passion.

HORATIO Peace! who comes here?

[Enter OSRIC]

OSRIC Your lordship is right welcome back to Denmark.

HAMLET I humbly thank you, sir. Dost know this water-fly?

HORATIO No, my good lord.

HAMLET Thy state is the more gracious; for 'tis a vice to know him. He hath much land, and fertile: let a beast be lord of beasts, and his crib shall stand at the king's mess: 'tis a chough; but, as I say,
spacious in the possession of dirt.

OSRIC Sweet lord, if your lordship were at leisure, I should impart a thing to you from his majesty.

HAMLET I will receive it, sir, with all diligence of spirit. Put your bonnet to his right use; 'tis for the head.

OSRIC I thank your lordship, it is very hot.

HAMLET No, believe me, 'tis very cold; the wind is northerly.

OSRIC It is indifferent cold, my lord, indeed.

HAMLET But yet methinks it is very sultry and hot for my complexion.

OSRIC Exceedingly, my lord; it is very sultry,--as 'twere,--I cannot tell how. But, my lord, his majesty bade me signify to you that he has laid a great wager on your head: sir, this is the matter,--

HAMLET I beseech you, remember--

[HAMLET moves him to put on his hat]

OSRIC Nay, good my lord; for mine ease, in good faith. Sir, here is newly come to court Laertes; believe me, an absolute gentleman, full of most excellent differences, of very soft society and great showing: indeed, to speak feelingly of him, he is the card or calendar of gentry, for you shall find in him the continent of what part a gentleman would see.

HAMLET Sir, his definement suffers no perdition in you; though, I know, to divide him inventorially would dizzy the arithmetic of memory, and yet but yaw neither, in respect of his quick sail. But, in the verity of extolment, I take him to be a soul of great article; and his infusion of such dearth and rareness, as, to make true diction of him, his semblable is his mirror; and who else would trace him, his umbrage, nothing more.

OSRIC Your lordship speaks most infallibly of him.

HAMLET The concernancy, sir? why do we wrap the gentleman in our more rawer breath?

OSRIC Sir?

HORATIO Is't not possible to understand in another tongue? You will do't, sir, really.

HAMLET What imports the nomination of this gentleman?

OSRIC Of Laertes?

HORATIO His purse is empty already; all's golden words are spent.

HAMLET Of him, sir.

OSRIC I know you are not ignorant--

HAMLET I would you did, sir; yet, in faith, if you did,
it would not much approve me. Well, sir?

OSRIC You are not ignorant of what excellency Laertes is--

HAMLET I dare not confess that, lest I should compare with him in excellency; but, to know a man well, were to know himself.

OSRIC I mean, sir, for his weapon; but in the imputation
laid on him by them, in his meed he's unfellowed.

HAMLET What's his weapon?

OSRIC Rapier and dagger.

HAMLET That's two of his weapons: but, well.

OSRIC The king, sir, hath wagered with him six Barbary horses: against the which he has imposed, as I take it, six French rapiers and poniards, with their assigns, as girdle, hangers, and so: three of the carriages, in faith, are very dear to fancy, very responsive to the hilts, most delicate carriages,
and of very liberal conceit.

HAMLET What call you the carriages?

HORATIO I knew you must be edified by the Margaret ere you had done.

OSRIC The carriages, sir, are the hangers.

HAMLET The phrase would be more german to the matter, if we could carry cannon by our sides: I would it might be hangers till then. But, on: six Barbary horses against six French swords, their assigns, and three liberal-conceited carriages; that's the French bet against the Danish. Why is this 'imposed,' as you call it?

OSRIC The king, sir, hath laid, that in a dozen passes between yourself and him, he shall not exceed you three hits: he hath laid on twelve for nine; and it would come to immediate trial, if your lordship would vouchsafe the answer.

HAMLET How if I answer 'no'?

OSRIC I mean, my lord, the opposition of your person in trial.

HAMLET Sir, I will walk here in the hall: if it please his majesty, 'tis the breathing time of day with me; let the foils be brought, the gentleman willing, and the king hold his purpose, I will win for him an I can;

if not, I will gain nothing but my shame and the odd hits.

OSRIC Shall I re-deliver you e'en so?

HAMLET To this effect, sir; after what flourish your nature will.

OSRIC I commend my duty to your lordship.

HAMLET Yours, yours.

[Exit OSRIC]

He does well to commend it himself; there are no
tongues else for's turn.

HORATIO This lapwing runs away with the shell on his head.

HAMLET He did comply with his dug, before he sucked it.
Thus has he--and many more of the same bevy that I know the dressy age dotes on--only got the tune of the time and outward habit of encounter; a kind of yesty collection, which carries them through and through the most fond and winnowed opinions; and do but blow them to their trial, the bubbles are out.

[Enter a Lord]

Lord My lord, his majesty commended him to you by young Osric, who brings back to him that you attend him in the hall: he sends to know if your pleasure hold to play with Laertes, or that you will take longer time.

HAMLET I am constant to my purpose; they follow the king's pleasure: if his fitness speaks, mine is ready; now
or whensoever, provided I be so able as now.

Lord The king and queen and all are coming down.

HAMLET In happy time.

Lord The queen desires you to use some gentle entertainment to Laertes before you fall to play.

HAMLET She well instructs me.

[Exit Lord]

HORATIO You will lose this wager, my lord.

HAMLET I do not think so: since he went into France, I have been in continual practise: I shall win at the odds. But thou wouldest not think how ill all's here about my heart: but it is no matter.

HORATIO Nay, good my lord,--

HAMLET It is but foolery; but it is such a kind of gain-giving, as would perhaps trouble a woman.

HORATIO If your mind dislike any thing, obey it: I will forestall their repair hither, and say you are not fit.

HAMLET Not a whit, we defy augury: there's a special providence in the fall of a sparrow. If it be now, 'tis not to come; if it be not to come, it will be now; if it be not now, yet it will come: the readiness is all: since no man has aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, LAERTES, Lords, OSRIC, and Attendants with foils, &c]

KING CLAUDIUS Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me.

[KING CLAUDIUS puts LAERTES' hand into HAMLET's]

HAMLET Give me your pardon, sir: I've done you wrong; But pardon't, as you are a gentleman.
This presence knows,
And you must needs have heard, how I am punish'd
With sore distraction. What I have done,
That might your nature, honour and exception
Roughly awake, I here proclaim was madness.
Was't Hamlet wrong'd Laertes? Never Hamlet:
If Hamlet from himself be ta'en away,
And when he's not himself does wrong Laertes,
Then Hamlet does it not, Hamlet denies it.
Who does it, then? His madness: if't be so,
Hamlet is of the faction that is wrong'd;
His madness is poor Hamlet's enemy.
Sir, in this audience,
Let my disclaiming from a purposed evil
Free me so far in your most generous thoughts,
That I have shot mine arrow o'er the house,
And hurt my brother.

LAERTES I am satisfied in nature,
Whose motive, in this case, should stir me most
To my revenge: but in my terms of honour
I stand aloof; and will no reconciliation,
Till by some elder masters, of known honour,
I have a voice and precedent of peace,
To keep my name ungored. But till that time,
I do receive your offer'd love like love,
And will not wrong it.

HAMLET I embrace it freely;
And will this brother's wager frankly play.
Give us the foils. Come on.

LAERTES Come, one for me.

HAMLET I'll be your foil, Laertes: in mine ignorance
Your skill shall, like a star i' the darkest night,
Stick fiery off indeed.

LAERTES You mock me, sir.

HAMLET No, by this hand.

KING CLAUDIUS Give them the foils, young Osric. Cousin Hamlet,
You know the wager?

HAMLET Very well, my lord
Your grace hath laid the odds o' the weaker side.

KING CLAUDIUS I do not fear it; I have seen you both:
But since he is better'd, we have therefore odds.

LAERTES This is too heavy, let me see another.

HAMLET This likes me well. These foils have all a length?

[They prepare to play]

OSRIC Ay, my good lord.

KING CLAUDIUS Set me the stoops of wine upon that table.
If Hamlet give the first or second hit,
Or quit in answer of the third exchange,
Let all the battlements their ordnance fire:
The king shall drink to Hamlet's better breath;
And in the cup an union shall he throw,
Richer than that which four successive kings
In Denmark's crown have worn. Give me the cups;
And let the kettle to the trumpet speak,
The trumpet to the cannoneer without,
The cannons to the heavens, the heavens to earth,
'Now the king dunks to Hamlet.' Come, begin:
And you, the judges, bear a wary eye.

HAMLET Come on, sir.

LAERTES Come, my lord.

[They play]

HAMLET One.

LAERTES No.

HAMLET Judgment.

OSRIC A hit, a very palpable hit.

LAERTES Well; again.

KING CLAUDIUS Stay; give me drink. Hamlet, this pearl is thine;
Here's to thy health.

[Trumpets sound, and cannon shot off within]

Give him the cup.

HAMLET I'll play this bout first; set it by awhile. Come.

[They play]

Another hit; what say you?

LAERTES A touch, a touch, I do confess.

KING CLAUDIUS Our son shall win.

QUEEN GERTRUDE He's fat, and scant of breath.
Here, Hamlet, take my napkin, rub thy brows;
The queen carouses to thy fortune, Hamlet.

HAMLET Good madam!

KING CLAUDIUS Gertrude, do not drink.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I will, my lord; I pray you, pardon me.

KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] It is the poison'd cup: it is too late.

HAMLET I dare not drink yet, madam; by and by.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, let me wipe thy face.

LAERTES My lord, I'll hit him now.

KING CLAUDIUS I do not think't.

LAERTES [Aside] And yet 'tis almost 'gainst my conscience.

HAMLET Come, for the third, Laertes: you but dally;
I pray you, pass with your best violence;
I am afeard you make a wanton of me.

LAERTES Say you so? come on.

[They play]

OSRIC Nothing, neither way.

LAERTES Have at you now!

[LAERTES wounds HAMLET; then in scuffling, they change rapiers, and HAMLET wounds LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Part them; they are incensed.

HAMLET Nay, come, again.

[QUEEN GERTRUDE falls]

OSRIC Look to the queen there, ho!

HORATIO They bleed on both sides. How is it, my lord?

OSRIC How is't, Laertes?

LAERTES Why, as a woodcock to mine own springe, Osric;
I am justly kill'd with mine own treachery.

HAMLET How does the queen?

KING CLAUDIUS She swounds to see them bleed.

QUEEN GERTRUDE No, no, the drink, the drink,--O my dear Hamlet,--
The drink, the drink! I am poison'd.

[Dies]

HAMLET O villany! Ho! let the door be lock'd:
Treachery! Seek it out.

LAERTES It is here, Hamlet: Hamlet, thou art slain;
No medicine in the world can do thee good;
In thee there is not half an hour of life;
The treacherous instrument is in thy hand,
Unbated and envenom'd: the foul practise
Hath turn'd itself on me lo, here I lie,
Never to rise again: thy mother's poison'd:
I can no more: the king, the king's to blame.

HAMLET The point!--envenom'd too!
Then, venom, to thy work.

[Stabs KING CLAUDIUS]

All Treason! treason!

KING CLAUDIUS O, yet defend me, friends; I am but hurt.

HAMLET Here, thou incestuous, murderous, damned Dane,
Drink off this potion. Is thy union here?
Follow my mother.

[KING CLAUDIUS dies]

LAERTES He is justly served;
It is a poison temper'd by himself.
Exchange forgiveness with me, noble Hamlet:
Mine and my father's death come not upon thee,
Nor thine on me.

[Dies]

HAMLET Heaven make thee free of it! I follow thee.
I am dead, Horatio. Wretched queen, adieu!
You that look pale and tremble at this chance,
That are but mutes or audience to this act,
Had I but time--as this fell sergeant, death,
Is strict in his arrest--O, I could tell you--
But let it be. Horatio, I am dead;
Thou livest; report me and my cause aright
To the unsatisfied.

HORATIO Never believe it:
I am more an antique Roman than a Dane:

HAMLET As thou'rt a man,
Give me the cup: let go; by heaven, I'll have't.
O good Horatio, what a wounded name,
Things standing thus unknown, shall live behind me!
If thou didst ever hold me in thy heart
Absent thee from felicity awhile,
And in this harsh world draw thy breath in pain,
To tell my story.

[March afar off, and shot within]

What warlike noise is this?

OSRIC Young Fortinbras, with conquest come from Poland,
To the ambassadors of England gives
This warlike volley.

HAMLET O, I die, Horatio;
The potent poison quite o'er-crows my spirit:
I cannot live to hear the news from England;
But I do prophesy the election lights
On Fortinbras: he has my dying voice;
So tell him, with the occurrents, more and less,
Which have solicited. The rest is silence.

[Dies]

HORATIO Now cracks a noble heart. Good night sweet prince:
And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest!
Why does the drum come hither?

[March within]

[Enter FORTINBRAS, the English Ambassadors, and others]

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Where is this sight?

HORATIO What is it ye would see?
If aught of woe or wonder, cease your search.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS This quarry cries on havoc. O proud death,
What feast is toward in thine eternal cell,
That thou so many princes at a shot
So bloodily hast struck?

First Ambassador The sight is dismal;
And our affairs from England come too late:
The ears are senseless that should give us hearing,
To tell him his commandment is fulfill'd,
That Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead:
Where should we have our thanks?

HORATIO Not from his mouth,
Had it the ability of life to thank you:
He never gave commandment for their death.
But since, so jump upon this bloody question,
You from the Polack wars, and you from England,
Are here arrived give order that these bodies
High on a stage be placed to the view;
And let me speak to the yet unknowing world
How these things came about: so shall you hear
Of carnal, bloody, and unnatural acts,
Of accidental judgments, casual slayings,
Of deaths put on by cunning and forced cause,
And, in this upshot, purposes mistook
Fall'n on the inventors' reads: all this can I
Truly deliver.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let us haste to hear it,
And call the noblest to the audience.
For me, with sorrow I embrace my fortune:
I have some rights of memory in this kingdom,
Which now to claim my vantage doth invite me.

HORATIO Of that I shall have also cause to speak,
And from his mouth whose voice will draw on more;
But let this same be presently perform'd,
Even while men's minds are wild; lest more mischance
On plots and errors, happen.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let four captains
Bear Hamlet, like a soldier, to the stage;
For he was likely, had he been put on,
To have proved most royally: and, for his passage,
The soldiers' music and the rites of war
Speak loudly for him.
Take up the bodies: such a sight as this
Becomes the field, but here shows much amiss.
Go, bid the soldiers shoot.

[A dead march. Exeunt, bearing off the dead bodies; after which a peal of ordnance is shot off]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE I Elsinore. A platform before the castle.

[FRANCISCO at his post. Enter to him BERNARDO]

BERNARDO Who's there?

FRANCISCO Nay, answer me: stand, and unfold yourself.

BERNARDO Long live the king!

FRANCISCO Bernardo?

BERNARDO He.

FRANCISCO You come most carefully upon your hour.

BERNARDO 'Tis now struck twelve; get thee to bed, Francisco.

FRANCISCO For this relief much thanks: 'tis bitter cold,
And I am sick at heart.

BERNARDO Have you had quiet guard?

FRANCISCO Not a mouse stirring.

BERNARDO Well, good night.
If you do meet Horatio and Marcellus,

The rivals of my watch, bid them make haste.

FRANCISCO I think I hear them. Stand, ho! Who's there?

[Enter HORATIO and MARCELLUS]

HORATIO Friends to this ground.

MARCELLUS And liegemen to the Dane.

FRANCISCO Give you good night.

MARCELLUS O, farewell, honest soldier:
Who hath relieved you?

FRANCISCO Bernardo has my place.
Give you good night.

[Exit]

MARCELLUS Holla! Bernardo!

BERNARDO Say,
What, is Horatio there?

HORATIO A piece of him.

BERNARDO Welcome, Horatio: welcome, good Marcellus.

MARCELLUS What, has this thing appear'd again to-night?

BERNARDO I have seen nothing.

MARCELLUS Horatio says 'tis but our fantasy,
And will not let belief take hold of him
Touching this dreaded sight, twice seen of us:
Therefore I have entreated him along
With us to watch the minutes of this night;
That if again this apparition come,
He may approve our eyes and speak to it.

HORATIO Tush, tush, 'twill not appear.

BERNARDO Sit down awhile;
And let us once again assail your ears,
That are so fortified against our story
What we have two nights seen.

HORATIO Well, sit we down,
And let us hear Bernardo speak of this.

BERNARDO Last night of all,
When yond same star that's westward from the pole
Had made his course to illume that part of heaven
Where now it burns, Marcellus and myself,
The bell then beating one,--

[Enter Ghost]

MARCELLUS Peace, break thee off; look, where it comes again!

BERNARDO In the same figure, like the king that's dead.

MARCELLUS Thou art a scholar; speak to it, Horatio.

BERNARDO Looks it not like the king? mark it, Horatio.

HORATIO Most like: it harrows me with fear and wonder.

BERNARDO It would be spoke to.

MARCELLUS Question it, Horatio.

HORATIO What art thou that usurp'st this time of night,
Together with that fair and warlike form
In which the majesty of buried Denmark
Did sometimes march? by heaven I charge thee, speak!

MARCELLUS It is offended.

BERNARDO See, it stalks away!

HORATIO Stay! speak, speak! I charge thee, speak!

[Exit Ghost]

MARCELLUS 'Tis gone, and will not answer.

BERNARDO How now, Horatio! you tremble and look pale:
Is not this something more than fantasy?
What think you on't?

HORATIO Before my God, I might not this believe
Without the sensible and true avouch
Of mine own eyes.

MARCELLUS Is it not like the king?

HORATIO As thou art to thyself:
Such was the very armour he had on
When he the ambitious Norway combated;
So frown'd he once, when, in an angry parle,
He smote the sledded Polacks on the ice.
'Tis strange.

MARCELLUS Thus twice before, and jump at this dead hour,
With martial stalk hath he gone by our watch.

HORATIO In what particular thought to work I know not;
But in the gross and scope of my opinion,
This bodes some strange eruption to our state.

MARCELLUS Good now, sit down, and tell me, he that knows,
 Why this same strict and most observant watch
 So nightly toils the subject of the land,
 And why such daily cast of brazen cannon,
 And foreign mart for implements of war;
 Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task
 Does not divide the Sunday from the week;
 What might be toward, that this sweaty haste
 Doth make the night joint-labourer with the day:
 Who is't that can inform me?

HORATIO That can I;
 At least, the whisper goes so. Our last king,
 Whose image even but now appear'd to us,
 Was, as you know, by Fortinbras of Norway,
 Thereto prick'd on by a most emulate pride,
 Dared to the combat; in which our valiant Hamlet--
 For so this side of our known world esteem'd him--
 Did slay this Fortinbras; who by a seal'd compact,
 Well ratified by law and heraldry,
 Did forfeit, with his life, all those his lands
 Which he stood seized of, to the conqueror:
 Against the which, a moiety competent
 Was gaged by our king; which had return'd
 To the inheritance of Fortinbras,
 Had he been vanquisher; as, by the same covenant,
 And carriage of the article design'd,
 His fell to Hamlet. Now, sir, young Fortinbras,
 Of unimproved mettle hot and full,
 Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there
 Shark'd up a list of lawless resolutes,
 For food and diet, to some enterprise
 That hath a stomach in't; which is no other--
 As it doth well appear unto our state--
 But to recover of us, by strong hand
 And terms compulsory, those foresaid lands
 So by his father lost: and this, I take it,
 Is the main motive of our preparations,
 The source of this our watch and the chief head
 Of this post-haste and romage in the land.

BERNARDO I think it be no other but e'en so:
 Well may it sort that this portentous figure
 Comes armed through our watch; so like the king
 That was and is the question of these wars.

HORATIO A mote it is to trouble the mind's eye.
 In the most high and palmy state of Rome,
 A little ere the mightiest Julius fell,
 The graves stood tenantless and the sheeted dead
 Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets:
 As stars with trains of fire and dews of blood,
 Disasters in the sun; and the moist star
 Upon whose influence Neptune's empire stands
 Was sick almost to doomsday with eclipse:
 And even the like precurse of fierce events,

As harbingers preceding still the fates
 And prologue to the omen coming on,
 Have heaven and earth together demonstrated
 Unto our climatures and countrymen...
 But soft, behold! lo, where it comes again!

[Re-enter Ghost]

I'll cross it, though it blast me. Stay, illusion!
 If thou hast any sound, or use of voice,
 Speak to me:
 If there be any good thing to be done,
 That may to thee do ease and grace to me,
 Speak to me:

[Cock crows]

If thou art privy to thy country's fate,
 Which, happily, foreknowing may avoid, O, speak!
 Or if thou hast uphoarded in thy life
 Extorted treasure in the womb of earth,
 For which, they say, you spirits oft walk in death,
 Speak of it: stay, and speak! Stop it, Marcellus.

MARCELLUS Shall I strike at it with my partisan?

HORATIO Do, if it will not stand.

BERNARDO 'Tis here!

HORATIO 'Tis here!

MARCELLUS 'Tis gone!

[Exit Ghost]

We do it wrong, being so majestical,
 To offer it the show of violence;
 For it is, as the air, invulnerable,
 And our vain blows malicious mockery.

BERNARDO It was about to speak, when the cock crew.

HORATIO And then it started like a guilty thing
 Upon a fearful summons. I have heard,
 The cock, that is the trumpet to the morn,
 Doth with his lofty and shrill-sounding throat
 Awake the god of day; and, at his warning,
 Whether in sea or fire, in earth or air,
 The extravagant and erring spirit hies
 To his confine: and of the truth herein
 This present object made probation.

MARCELLUS It faded on the crowing of the cock.
 Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes
 Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated,

The bird of dawning singeth all night long:
And then, they say, no spirit dares stir abroad;
The nights are wholesome; then no planets strike,
No fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm,
So hallow'd and so gracious is the time.

HORATIO So have I heard and do in part believe it.
But, look, the morn, in russet mantle clad,
Walks o'er the dew of yon high eastward hill:
Break we our watch up; and by my advice,
Let us impart what we have seen to-night
Unto young Hamlet; for, upon my life,
This spirit, dumb to us, will speak to him.
Do you consent we shall acquaint him with it,
As needful in our loves, fitting our duty?

MARCELLUS Let's do't, I pray; and I this morning know
Where we shall find him most conveniently.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE II A room of state in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, HAMLET, POLONIUS, LAERTES, VOLTIMAND, CORNELIUS, Lords,
and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death
The memory be green, and that it us befitted
To bear our hearts in grief and our whole kingdom
To be contracted in one brow of woe,
Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature
That we with wisest sorrow think on him,
Together with remembrance of ourselves.
Therefore our sometime sister, now our queen,
The imperial jointress to this warlike state,
Have we, as 'twere with a defeated joy,--
With an auspicious and a dropping eye,
With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage,
In equal scale weighing delight and dole,--
Taken to wife: nor have we herein barr'd
Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone
With this affair along. For all, our thanks.
Now follows, that you know, young Fortinbras,
Holding a weak supposal of our worth,

Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
 Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,
 Colleagued with the dream of his advantage,
 He hath not fail'd to pester us with message,
 Importing the surrender of those lands
 Lost by his father, with all bonds of law,
 To our most valiant brother. So much for him.
 Now for ourself and for this time of meeting:
 Thus much the business is: we have here writ
 To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras,--
 Who, impotent and bed-rid, scarcely hears
 Of this his nephew's purpose,--to suppress
 His further gait herein; in that the levies,
 The lists and full proportions, are all made
 Out of his subject: and we here dispatch
 You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltimand,
 For bearers of this greeting to old Norway;
 Giving to you no further personal power
 To business with the king, more than the scope
 Of these delated articles allow.
 Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.

CORNELIUS |
 | In that and all things will we show our duty.
 VOLTIMAND |

KING CLAUDIUS We doubt it nothing: heartily farewell.

[Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

And now, Laertes, what's the news with you?
 You told us of some suit; what is't, Laertes?
 You cannot speak of reason to the Dane,
 And loose your voice: what wouldest thou beg, Laertes,
 That shall not be my offer, not thy asking?
 The head is not more native to the heart,
 The hand more instrumental to the mouth,
 Than is the throne of Denmark to thy father.
 What wouldest thou have, Laertes?

LAERTES My dread lord,
 Your leave and favour to return to France;
 From whence though willingly I came to Denmark,
 To show my duty in your coronation,
 Yet now, I must confess, that duty done,
 My thoughts and wishes bend again toward France
 And bow them to your gracious leave and pardon.

KING CLAUDIUS Have you your father's leave? What says Polonius?

LORD POLONIUS He hath, my lord, wrung from me my slow leave
 By laboursome petition, and at last
 Upon his will I seal'd my hard consent:
 I do beseech you, give him leave to go.

KING CLAUDIUS Take thy fair hour, Laertes; time be thine,
And thy best graces spend it at thy will!
But now, my cousin Hamlet, and my son,--

HAMLET [Aside] A little more than kin, and less than kind.

KING CLAUDIUS How is it that the clouds still hang on you?

HAMLET Not so, my lord; I am too much i' the sun.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Good Hamlet, cast thy nighted colour off,
And let thine eye look like a friend on Denmark.
Do not for ever with thy vailed lids
Seek for thy noble father in the dust:
Thou know'st 'tis common; all that lives must die,
Passing through nature to eternity.

HAMLET Ay, madam, it is common.

QUEEN GERTRUDE If it be,
Why seems it so particular with thee?

HAMLET Seems, madam! nay it is; I know not 'seems.'
'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother,
Nor customary suits of solemn black,
Nor windy suspiration of forced breath,
No, nor the fruitful river in the eye,
Nor the dejected 'havior of the visage,
Together with all forms, moods, shapes of grief,
That can denote me truly: these indeed seem,
For they are actions that a man might play:
But I have that within which passeth show;
These but the trappings and the suits of woe.

KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis sweet and commendable in your nature, Hamlet,
To give these mourning duties to your father:
But, you must know, your father lost a father;
That father lost, lost his, and the survivor bound
In filial obligation for some term
To do obsequious sorrow: but to persevere
In obstinate condolment is a course
Of impious stubbornness; 'tis unmanly grief;
It shows a will most incorrect to heaven,
A heart unfortified, a mind impatient,
An understanding simple and unschool'd:
For what we know must be and is as common
As any the most vulgar thing to sense,
Why should we in our peevish opposition
Take it to heart? Fie! 'tis a fault to heaven,
A fault against the dead, a fault to nature,
To reason most absurd: whose common theme
Is death of fathers, and who still hath cried,
From the first corse till he that died to-day,
'This must be so.' We pray you, throw to earth
This unprevailing woe, and think of us

As of a father: for let the world take note,
 You are the most immediate to our throne;
 And with no less nobility of love
 Than that which dearest father bears his son,
 Do I impart toward you. For your intent
 In going back to school in Wittenberg,
 It is most retrograde to our desire:
 And we beseech you, bend you to remain
 Here, in the cheer and comfort of our eye,
 Our chiefest courtier, cousin, and our son.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Let not thy mother lose her prayers, Hamlet:
 I pray thee, stay with us; go not to Wittenberg.

HAMLET I shall in all my best obey you, madam.

KING CLAUDIUS Why, 'tis a loving and a fair reply:
 Be as ourself in Denmark. Madam, come;
 This gentle and unforced accord of Hamlet
 Sits smiling to my heart: in grace whereof,
 No jocund health that Denmark drinks to-day,
 But the great cannon to the clouds shall tell,
 And the king's rouse the heavens all bruit again,
 Re-speaking earthly thunder. Come away.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

HAMLET O, that this too too solid flesh would melt
 Thaw and resolve itself into a dew!
 Or that the Everlasting had not fix'd
 His canon 'gainst self-slaughter! O God! God!
 How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable,
 Seem to me all the uses of this world!
 Fie on't! ah fie! 'tis an unweeded garden,
 That grows to seed; things rank and gross in nature
 Possess it merely. That it should come to this!
 But two months dead: nay, not so much, not two:
 So excellent a king; that was, to this,
 Hyperion to a satyr; so loving to my mother
 That he might not beteem the winds of heaven
 Visit her face too roughly. Heaven and earth!
 Must I remember? why, she would hang on him,
 As if increase of appetite had grown
 By what it fed on: and yet, within a month--
 Let me not think on't--Frailty, thy name is woman!--
 A little month, or ere those shoes were old
 With which she follow'd my poor father's body,
 Like Niobe, all tears:--why she, even she--
 O, God! a beast, that wants discourse of reason,
 Would have mourn'd longer--married with my uncle,
 My father's brother, but no more like my father
 Than I to Hercules: within a month:
 Ere yet the salt of most unrighteous tears
 Had left the flushing in her galled eyes,
 She married. O, most wicked speed, to post
 With such dexterity to incestuous sheets!

It is not nor it cannot come to good:
But break, my heart; for I must hold my tongue.

[Enter HORATIO, MARCELLUS, and BERNARDO]

HORATIO Hail to your lordship!

HAMLET I am glad to see you well:
Horatio,--or I do forget myself.

HORATIO The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever.

HAMLET Sir, my good friend; I'll change that name with you:
And what make you from Wittenberg, Horatio? Marcellus?

MARCELLUS My good lord--

HAMLET I am very glad to see you. Good even, sir.
But what, in faith, make you from Wittenberg?

HORATIO A truant disposition, good my lord.

HAMLET I would not hear your enemy say so,
Nor shall you do mine ear that violence,
To make it truster of your own report
Against yourself: I know you are no truant.
But what is your affair in Elsinore?
We'll teach you to drink deep ere you depart.

HORATIO My lord, I came to see your father's funeral.

HAMLET I pray thee, do not mock me, fellow-student;
I think it was to see my mother's wedding.

HORATIO Indeed, my lord, it follow'd hard upon.

HAMLET Thrift, thrift, Horatio! the funeral baked meats
Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.
Would I had met my dearest foe in heaven
Or ever I had seen that day, Horatio!
My father!--methinks I see my father.

HORATIO Where, my lord?

HAMLET In my mind's eye, Horatio.

HORATIO I saw him once; he was a goodly king.

HAMLET He was a man, take him for all in all,
I shall not look upon his like again.

HORATIO My lord, I think I saw him yesternight.

HAMLET Saw? who?

HORATIO My lord, the king your father.

HAMLET The king my father!

HORATIO Season your admiration for awhile
With an attent ear, till I may deliver,
Upon the witness of these gentlemen,
This marvel to you.

HAMLET For God's love, let me hear.

HORATIO Two nights together had these gentlemen,
Marcellus and Bernardo, on their watch,
In the dead vast and middle of the night,
Been thus encounter'd. A figure like your father,
Armed at point exactly, cap-a-pe,
Appears before them, and with solemn march
Goes slow and stately by them: thrice he walk'd
By their oppress'd and fear-surprised eyes,
Within his truncheon's length; whilst they, distilled
Almost to jelly with the act of fear,
Stand dumb and speak not to him. This to me
In dreadful secrecy impart they did;
And I with them the third night kept the watch;
Where, as they had deliver'd, both in time,
Form of the thing, each word made true and good,
The apparition comes: I knew your father;
These hands are not more like.

HAMLET But where was this?

MARCELLUS My lord, upon the platform where we watch'd.

HAMLET Did you not speak to it?

HORATIO My lord, I did;
But answer made it none: yet once methought
It lifted up its head and did address
Itself to motion, like as it would speak;
But even then the morning cock crew loud,
And at the sound it shrunk in haste away,
And vanish'd from our sight.

HAMLET 'Tis very strange.

HORATIO As I do live, my honour'd lord, 'tis true;
And we did think it writ down in our duty
To let you know of it.

HAMLET Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me.
Hold you the watch to-night?

MARCELLUS |
| We do, my lord.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET Arm'd, say you?

MARCELLUS |
| Arm'd, my lord.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET From top to toe?

MARCELLUS |
| My lord, from head to foot.
BERNARDO |

HAMLET Then saw you not his face?

HORATIO O, yes, my lord; he wore his beaver up.

HAMLET What, look'd he frowningly?

HORATIO A countenance more in sorrow than in anger.

HAMLET Pale or red?

HORATIO Nay, very pale.

HAMLET And fix'd his eyes upon you?

HORATIO Most constantly.

HAMLET I would I had been there.

HORATIO It would have much amazed you.

HAMLET Very like, very like. Stay'd it long?

HORATIO While one with moderate haste might tell a hundred.

MARCELLUS |
| Longer, longer.
BERNARDO |

HORATIO Not when I saw't.

HAMLET His beard was grizzled--no?

HORATIO It was, as I have seen it in his life,
A sable silver'd.

HAMLET I will watch to-night;
Perchance 'twill walk again.

HORATIO I warrant it will.

HAMLET If it assume my noble father's person,
I'll speak to it, though hell itself should gape
And bid me hold my peace. I pray you all,
If you have hitherto conceal'd this sight,
Let it be tenable in your silence still;
And whatsoever else shall hap to-night,
Give it an understanding, but no tongue:
I will requite your loves. So, fare you well:
Upon the platform, 'twixt eleven and twelve,
I'll visit you.

All Our duty to your honour.

HAMLET Your loves, as mine to you: farewell.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

My father's spirit in arms! all is not well;
I doubt some foul play: would the night were come!
Till then sit still, my soul: foul deeds will rise,
Though all the earth o'erwhelm them, to men's eyes.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE III A room in Polonius' house.

[Enter LAERTES and OPHELIA]

LAERTES My necessaries are embark'd: farewell:
And, sister, as the winds give benefit
And convoy is assistant, do not sleep,
But let me hear from you.

OPHELIA Do you doubt that?

LAERTES For Hamlet and the trifling of his favour,
Hold it a fashion and a toy in blood,
A violet in the youth of primy nature,
Forward, not permanent, sweet, not lasting,
The perfume and suppliance of a minute; No more.

OPHELIA No more but so?

LAERTES Think it no more;
 For nature, crescent, does not grow alone
 In thews and bulk, but, as this temple waxes,
 The inward service of the mind and soul
 Grows wide withal. Perhaps he loves you now,
 And now no soil nor cautel doth besmirch
 The virtue of his will: but you must fear,
 His greatness weigh'd, his will is not his own;
 For he himself is subject to his birth:
 He may not, as unvalued persons do,
 Carve for himself; for on his choice depends
 The safety and health of this whole state;
 And therefore must his choice be circumscribed
 Unto the voice and yielding of that body
 Whereof he is the head. Then if he says he loves you,
 It fits your wisdom so far to believe it
 As he in his particular act and place
 May give his saying deed; which is no further
 Than the main voice of Denmark goes withal.
 Then weigh what loss your honour may sustain,
 If with too credent ear you list his songs,
 Or lose your heart, or your chaste treasure open
 To his unmaster'd importunity.
 Fear it, Ophelia, fear it, my dear sister,
 And keep you in the rear of your affection,
 Out of the shot and danger of desire.
 The charest maid is prodigal enough,
 If she unmask her beauty to the moon:
 Virtue itself 'scapes not calumnious strokes:
 The canker galls the infants of the spring,
 Too oft before their buttons be disclosed,
 And in the morn and liquid dew of youth
 Contagious blastments are most imminent.
 Be wary then; best safety lies in fear:
 Youth to itself rebels, though none else near.

OPHELIA I shall the effect of this good lesson keep,
 As watchman to my heart. But, good my brother,
 Do not, as some ungracious pastors do,
 Show me the steep and thorny way to heaven;
 Whiles, like a puff'd and reckless libertine,
 Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads,
 And recks not his own rede.

LAERTES O, fear me not.
 I stay too long: but here my father comes.

[Enter POLONIUS]

A double blessing is a double grace,
 Occasion smiles upon a second leave.

LORD POLONIUS Yet here, Laertes! aboard, aboard, for shame!
 The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail,
 And you are stay'd for. There; my blessing with thee!

And these few precepts in thy memory
See thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue,
Nor any unproportioned thought his act.
Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.
Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade. Beware
Of entrance to a quarrel, but being in,
Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.
Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice;
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.
Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man,
And they in France of the best rank and station
Are of a most select and generous chief in that.
Neither a borrower nor a lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This above all: to thine ownself be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Farewell: my blessing season this in thee!

LAERTES Most humbly do I take my leave, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS The time invites you; go; your servants tend.

LAERTES Farewell, Ophelia; and remember well
What I have said to you.

OPHELIA 'Tis in my memory lock'd,
And you yourself shall keep the key of it.

LAERTES Farewell.

[Exit]

LORD POLONIUS What is't, Ophelia, be hath said to you?

OPHELIA So please you, something touching the Lord Hamlet.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, well bethought:
'Tis told me, he hath very oft of late
Given private time to you; and you yourself
Have of your audience been most free and bounteous:
If it be so, as so 'tis put on me,
And that in way of caution, I must tell you,
You do not understand yourself so clearly
As it behoves my daughter and your honour.
What is between you? give me up the truth.

OPHELIA He hath, my lord, of late made many tenders
Of his affection to me.

LORD POLONIUS Affection! pooh! you speak like a green girl,
Unsifted in such perilous circumstance.
Do you believe his tenders, as you call them?

OPHELIA I do not know, my lord, what I should think.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, I'll teach you: think yourself a baby;
That you have ta'en these tenders for true pay,
Which are not sterling. Tender yourself more dearly;
Or--not to crack the wind of the poor phrase,
Running it thus--you'll tender me a fool.

OPHELIA My lord, he hath importuned me with love
In honourable fashion.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, fashion you may call it; go to, go to.

OPHELIA And hath given countenance to his speech, my lord,
With almost all the holy vows of heaven.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, springes to catch woodcocks. I do know,
When the blood burns, how prodigal the soul
Lends the tongue vows: these blazes, daughter,
Giving more light than heat, extinct in both,
Even in their promise, as it is a-making,
You must not take for fire. From this time
Be somewhat scanter of your maiden presence;
Set your entreatments at a higher rate
Than a command to parley. For Lord Hamlet,
Believe so much in him, that he is young
And with a larger tether may he walk
Than may be given you: in few, Ophelia,
Do not believe his vows; for they are brokers,
Not of that dye which their investments show,
But mere implorators of unholy suits,
Breathing like sanctified and pious bawds,
The better to beguile. This is for all:
I would not, in plain terms, from this time forth,
Have you so slander any moment leisure,
As to give words or talk with the Lord Hamlet.
Look to't, I charge you: come your ways.

OPHELIA I shall obey, my lord.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE IV The platform.

[Enter HAMLET, HORATIO, and MARCELLUS]

HAMLET The air bites shrewdly; it is very cold.

HORATIO It is a nipping and an eager air.

HAMLET What hour now?

HORATIO I think it lacks of twelve.

HAMLET No, it is struck.

HORATIO Indeed? I heard it not: then it draws near the season
Wherein the spirit held his wont to walk.

[A flourish of trumpets, and ordnance shot off, within]

What does this mean, my lord?

HAMLET The king doth wake to-night and takes his rouse,
Keeps wassail, and the swaggering up-spring reels;
And, as he drains his draughts of Rhenish down,
The kettle-drum and trumpet thus bray out
The triumph of his pledge.

HORATIO Is it a custom?

HAMLET Ay, marry, is't:
But to my mind, though I am native here
And to the manner born, it is a custom
More honour'd in the breach than the observance.
This heavy-headed revel east and west
Makes us traduced and tax'd of other nations:
They clepe us drunkards, and with swinish phrase
Soil our addition; and indeed it takes
From our achievements, though perform'd at height,
The pith and marrow of our attribute.
So, oft it chances in particular men,
That for some vicious mole of nature in them,
As, in their birth--wherein they are not guilty,
Since nature cannot choose his origin--
By the o'ergrowth of some complexion,
Oft breaking down the pales and forts of reason,
Or by some habit that too much o'er-leavens
The form of plausible manners, that these men,
Carrying, I say, the stamp of one defect,
Being nature's livery, or fortune's star,--
Their virtues else--be they as pure as grace,
As infinite as man may undergo--
Shall in the general censure take corruption
From that particular fault: the dram of eale
Doth all the noble substance of a doubt
To his own scandal.

HORATIO Look, my lord, it comes!

[Enter Ghost]

HAMLET Angels and ministers of grace defend us!
Be thou a spirit of health or goblin damn'd,
Bring with thee airs from heaven or blasts from hell,
Be thy intents wicked or charitable,
Thou comest in such a questionable shape
That I will speak to thee: I'll call thee Hamlet,
King, father, royal Dane: O, answer me!
Let me not burst in ignorance; but tell
Why thy canonized bones, hearsed in death,
Have burst their cerements; why the sepulchre,
Wherein we saw thee quietly inurn'd,
Hath oped his ponderous and marble jaws,
To cast thee up again. What may this mean,
That thou, dead corse, again in complete steel
Revisit'st thus the glimpses of the moon,
Making night hideous; and we fools of nature
So horridly to shake our disposition
With thoughts beyond the reaches of our souls?
Say, why is this? wherefore? what should we do?

[Ghost beckons HAMLET]

HORATIO It beckons you to go away with it,
As if it some impartment did desire
To you alone.

MARCELLUS Look, with what courteous action
It waves you to a more removed ground:
But do not go with it.

HORATIO No, by no means.

HAMLET It will not speak; then I will follow it.

HORATIO Do not, my lord.

HAMLET Why, what should be the fear?
I do not set my life in a pin's fee;
And for my soul, what can it do to that,
Being a thing immortal as itself?
It waves me forth again: I'll follow it.

HORATIO What if it tempt you toward the flood, my lord,
Or to the dreadful summit of the cliff
That beetles o'er his base into the sea,
And there assume some other horrible form,
Which might deprive your sovereignty of reason
And draw you into madness? think of it:
The very place puts toys of desperation,
Without more motive, into every brain
That looks so many fathoms to the sea

And hears it roar beneath.

HAMLET It waves me still.
Go on; I'll follow thee.

MARCELLUS You shall not go, my lord.

HAMLET Hold off your hands.

HORATIO Be ruled; you shall not go.

HAMLET My fate cries out,
And makes each petty artery in this body
As hardy as the Nemean lion's nerve.
Still am I call'd. Unhand me, gentlemen.
By heaven, I'll make a ghost of him that lets me!
I say, away! Go on; I'll follow thee.

[Exeunt Ghost and HAMLET]

HORATIO He waxes desperate with imagination.

MARCELLUS Let's follow; 'tis not fit thus to obey him.

HORATIO Have after. To what issue will this come?

MARCELLUS Something is rotten in the state of Denmark.

HORATIO Heaven will direct it.

MARCELLUS Nay, let's follow him.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE V Another part of the platform.

[Enter GHOST and HAMLET]

HAMLET Where wilt thou lead me? speak; I'll go no further.

Ghost Mark me.

HAMLET I will.

Ghost My hour is almost come,

When I to sulphurous and tormenting flames
Must render up myself.

HAMLET Alas, poor ghost!

Ghost Pity me not, but lend thy serious hearing
To what I shall unfold.

HAMLET Speak; I am bound to hear.

Ghost So art thou to revenge, when thou shalt hear.

HAMLET What?

Ghost I am thy father's spirit,
Doom'd for a certain term to walk the night,
And for the day confined to fast in fires,
Till the foul crimes done in my days of nature
Are burnt and purged away. But that I am forbid
To tell the secrets of my prison-house,
I could a tale unfold whose lightest word
Would harrow up thy soul, freeze thy young blood,
Make thy two eyes, like stars, start from their spheres,
Thy knotted and combined locks to part
And each particular hair to stand on end,
Like quills upon the fretful porpentine:
But this eternal blazon must not be
To ears of flesh and blood. List, list, O, list!
If thou didst ever thy dear father love--

HAMLET O God!

Ghost Revenge his foul and most unnatural murder.

HAMLET Murder!

Ghost Murder most foul, as in the best it is;
But this most foul, strange and unnatural.

HAMLET Haste me to know't, that I, with wings as swift
As meditation or the thoughts of love,
May sweep to my revenge.

Ghost I find thee apt;
And duller shouldst thou be than the fat weed
That roots itself in ease on Lethe wharf,
Wouldst thou not stir in this. Now, Hamlet, hear:
'Tis given out that, sleeping in my orchard,
A serpent stung me; so the whole ear of Denmark
Is by a forged process of my death
Rankly abused: but know, thou noble youth,
The serpent that did sting thy father's life
Now wears his crown.

HAMLET O my prophetic soul! My uncle!

Ghost Ay, that incestuous, that adulterate beast,
With witchcraft of his wit, with traitorous gifts,--
O wicked wit and gifts, that have the power
So to seduce!--won to his shameful lust
The will of my most seeming-virtuous queen:
O Hamlet, what a falling-off was there!
From me, whose love was of that dignity
That it went hand in hand even with the vow
I made to her in marriage, and to decline
Upon a wretch whose natural gifts were poor
To those of mine!

But virtue, as it never will be moved,
Though lewdness court it in a shape of heaven,
So lust, though to a radiant angel link'd,
Will sate itself in a celestial bed,
And prey on garbage.

But, soft! methinks I scent the morning air;
Brief let me be. Sleeping within my orchard,
My custom always of the afternoon,
Upon my secure hour thy uncle stole,
With juice of cursed hebenon in a vial,
And in the porches of my ears did pour
The leperous distilment; whose effect
Holds such an enmity with blood of man
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body,
And with a sudden vigour doth posset
And curd, like eager droppings into milk,
The thin and wholesome blood: so did it mine;
And a most instant tetter bark'd about,
Most lazarus-like, with vile and loathsome crust,
All my smooth body.

Thus was I, sleeping, by a brother's hand
Of life, of crown, of queen, at once dispatch'd:
Cut off even in the blossoms of my sin,
Unhousel'd, disappointed, unanel'd,
No reckoning made, but sent to my account
With all my imperfections on my head:
O, horrible! O, horrible! most horrible!
If thou hast nature in thee, bear it not;
Let not the royal bed of Denmark be
A couch for luxury and damned incest.
But, howsoever thou pursuest this act,
Taint not thy mind, nor let thy soul contrive
Against thy mother aught: leave her to heaven
And to those thorns that in her bosom lodge,
To prick and sting her. Fare thee well at once!
The glow-worm shows the matin to be near,
And 'gins to pale his uneffectual fire:
Adieu, adieu! Hamlet, remember me.

[Exit]

HAMLET O all you host of heaven! O earth! what else?
And shall I couple hell? O, fie! Hold, hold, my heart;
And you, my sinews, grow not instant old,

But bear me stiffly up. Remember thee!
 Ay, thou poor ghost, while memory holds a seat
 In this distracted globe. Remember thee!
 Yea, from the table of my memory
 I'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
 All sows of books, all forms, all pressures past,
 That youth and observation copied there;
 And thy commandment all alone shall live
 Within the book and volume of my brain,
 Unmix'd with baser matter: yes, by heaven!
 O most pernicious woman!
 O villain, villain, smiling, damned villain!
 My tables,--meet it is I set it down,
 That one may smile, and smile, and be a villain;
 At least I'm sure it may be so in Denmark:

[Writing]

So, uncle, there you are. Now to my word;
 It is 'Adieu, adieu! remember me.'
 I have sworn 't.

MARCELLUS |
 | [Within] My lord, my lord,--
 HORATIO |

MARCELLUS [Within] Lord Hamlet,--

HORATIO [Within] Heaven secure him!

HAMLET So be it!

HORATIO [Within] Hillo, ho, ho, my lord!

HAMLET Hillo, ho, ho, boy! come, bird, come.

[Enter HORATIO and MARCELLUS]

MARCELLUS How is't, my noble lord?

HORATIO What news, my lord?

HAMLET O, wonderful!

HORATIO Good my lord, tell it.

HAMLET No; you'll reveal it.

HORATIO Not I, my lord, by heaven.

MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord.

HAMLET How say you, then; would heart of man once think it?
 But you'll be secret?

HORATIO |
| Ay, by heaven, my lord.
MARCELLUS |

HAMLET There's ne'er a villain dwelling in all Denmark
But he's an arrant knave.

HORATIO There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave
To tell us this.

HAMLET Why, right; you are i' the right;
And so, without more circumstance at all,
I hold it fit that we shake hands and part:
You, as your business and desire shall point you;
For every man has business and desire,
Such as it is; and for mine own poor part,
Look you, I'll go pray.

HORATIO These are but wild and whirling words, my lord.

HAMLET I'm sorry they offend you, heartily;
Yes, 'faith heartily.

HORATIO There's no offence, my lord.

HAMLET Yes, by Saint Patrick, but there is, Horatio,
And much offence too. Touching this vision here,
It is an honest ghost, that let me tell you:
For your desire to know what is between us,
O'ermaster 't as you may. And now, good friends,
As you are friends, scholars and soldiers,
Give me one poor request.

HORATIO What is't, my lord? we will.

HAMLET Never make known what you have seen to-night.

HORATIO |
| My lord, we will not.
MARCELLUS |

HAMLET Nay, but swear't.

HORATIO In faith,
My lord, not I.

MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord, in faith.

HAMLET Upon my sword.

MARCELLUS We have sworn, my lord, already.

HAMLET Indeed, upon my sword, indeed.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Ah, ha, boy! say'st thou so? art thou there,
truepenny?
Come on--you hear this fellow in the cellarage--
Consent to swear.

HORATIO Propose the oath, my lord.

HAMLET Never to speak of this that you have seen,
Swear by my sword.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Hic et ubique? then we'll shift our ground.
Come hither, gentlemen,
And lay your hands again upon my sword:
Never to speak of this that you have heard,
Swear by my sword.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Well said, old mole! canst work i' the earth so fast?
A worthy pioner! Once more remove, good friends.

HORATIO O day and night, but this is wondrous strange!

HAMLET And therefore as a stranger give it welcome.
There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio,
Than are dreamt of in your philosophy. But come;
Here, as before, never, so help you mercy,
How strange or odd soe'er I bear myself,
As I perchance hereafter shall think meet
To put an antic disposition on,
That you, at such times seeing me, never shall,
With arms encumber'd thus, or this headshake,
Or by pronouncing of some doubtful phrase,
As 'Well, well, we know,' or 'We could, an if we would,'
Or 'If we list to speak,' or 'There be, an if they might,'
Or such ambiguous giving out, to note
That you know aught of me: this not to do,
So grace and mercy at your most need help you, Swear.

Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

HAMLET Rest, rest, perturbed spirit!

[They swear]

So, gentlemen,
With all my love I do commend me to you:
And what so poor a man as Hamlet is
May do, to express his love and friending to you,

God willing, shall not lack. Let us go in together;
And still your fingers on your lips, I pray.
The time is out of joint: O cursed spite,
That ever I was born to set it right!
Nay, come, let's go together.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE I A room in POLONIUS' house.

[Enter POLONIUS and REYNALDO]

LORD POLONIUS Give him this money and these notes, Reynaldo.

REYNALDO I will, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS You shall do marvellous wisely, good Reynaldo,
Before you visit him, to make inquire
Of his behavior.

REYNALDO My lord, I did intend it.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, well said; very well said. Look you, sir,
Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris;
And how, and who, what means, and where they keep,
What company, at what expense; and finding
By this encompassment and drift of question
That they do know my son, come you more nearer
Than your particular demands will touch it:
Take you, as 'twere, some distant knowledge of him;
As thus, 'I know his father and his friends,
And in part him: ' do you mark this, Reynaldo?

REYNALDO Ay, very well, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS 'And in part him; but' you may say 'not well:
But, if't be he I mean, he's very wild;
Addicted so and so: and there put on him
What forgeries you please; marry, none so rank
As may dishonour him; take heed of that;
But, sir, such wanton, wild and usual slips
As are companions noted and most known
To youth and liberty.

REYNALDO As gaming, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS Ay, or drinking, fencing, swearing, quarrelling,
Drabbing: you may go so far.

REYNALDO My lord, that would dishonour him.

LORD POLONIUS 'Faith, no; as you may season it in the charge
You must not put another scandal on him,
That he is open to incontinency;
That's not my meaning: but breathe his faults so quaintly
That they may seem the taints of liberty,
The flash and outbreak of a fiery mind,
A savageness in unreclaimed blood,
Of general assault.

REYNALDO But, my good lord,--

LORD POLONIUS Wherefore should you do this?

REYNALDO Ay, my lord,
I would know that.

LORD POLONIUS Marry, sir, here's my drift;
And I believe, it is a fetch of wit:
You laying these slight sullies on my son,
As 'twere a thing a little soil'd i' the working, Mark you,
Your party in converse, him you would sound,
Having ever seen in the prenominate crimes
The youth you breathe of guilty, be assured
He closes with you in this consequence;
'Good sir,' or so, or 'friend,' or 'gentleman,'
According to the phrase or the addition
Of man and country.

REYNALDO Very good, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS And then, sir, does he this--he does--what was I about to say? By the mass, I was about to say something: where did I leave?

REYNALDO At 'closes in the consequence,' at 'friend or so,'
and 'gentleman.'

LORD POLONIUS At 'closes in the consequence,' ay, marry;
He closes thus: 'I know the gentleman;
I saw him yesterday, or t' other day,
Or then, or then; with such, or such; and, as you say,
There was a' gaming; there o'ertook in's rouse;
There falling out at tennis:' or perchance,
'I saw him enter such a house of sale,'
Videlicet, a brothel, or so forth.
See you now;
Your bait of falsehood takes this carp of truth:
And thus do we of wisdom and of reach,
With windlasses and with assays of bias,
By indirections find directions out:

So by my former lecture and advice,
Shall you my son. You have me, have you not?

REYNALDO My lord, I have.

LORD POLONIUS God be wi' you; fare you well.

REYNALDO Good my lord!

LORD POLONIUS Observe his inclination in yourself.

REYNALDO I shall, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS And let him ply his music.

REYNALDO Well, my lord.

LORD POLONIUS Farewell!

[Exit REYNALDO]

[Enter OPHELIA]

How now, Ophelia! what's the matter?

OPHELIA O, my lord, my lord, I have been so affrighted!

LORD POLONIUS With what, i' the name of God?

OPHELIA My lord, as I was sewing in my closet,
Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced;
No hat upon his head; his stockings foul'd,
Ungarter'd, and down-gyved to his ankle;
Pale as his shirt; his knees knocking each other;
And with a look so piteous in purport
As if he had been loosed out of hell
To speak of horrors,--he comes before me.

LORD POLONIUS Mad for thy love?

OPHELIA My lord, I do not know;
But truly, I do fear it.

LORD POLONIUS What said he?

OPHELIA He took me by the wrist and held me hard;
Then goes he to the length of all his arm;
And, with his other hand thus o'er his brow,
He falls to such perusal of my face
As he would draw it. Long stay'd he so;
At last, a little shaking of mine arm
And thrice his head thus waving up and down,
He raised a sigh so piteous and profound
As it did seem to shatter all his bulk
And end his being: that done, he lets me go:
And, with his head over his shoulder turn'd,

He seem'd to find his way without his eyes;
 For out o' doors he went without their helps,
 And, to the last, bended their light on me.

LORD POLONIUS Come, go with me: I will go seek the king.
 This is the very ecstasy of love,
 Whose violent property fordoes itself
 And leads the will to desperate undertakings
 As oft as any passion under heaven
 That does afflict our natures. I am sorry.
 What, have you given him any hard words of late?

OPHELIA No, my good lord, but, as you did command,
 I did repel his fetters and denied
 His access to me.

LORD POLONIUS That hath made him mad.
 I am sorry that with better heed and judgment
 I had not quoted him: I fear'd he did but trifile,
 And meant to wreck thee; but, beshrew my jealousy!
 By heaven, it is as proper to our age
 To cast beyond ourselves in our opinions
 As it is common for the younger sort
 To lack discretion. Come, go we to the king:
 This must be known; which, being kept close, might
 move
 More grief to hide than hate to utter love.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE II A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ,
 GUILDENSTERN, and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Welcome, dear Rosencrantz and Guildenstern!
 Moreover that we much did long to see you,
 The need we have to use you did provoke
 Our hasty sending. Something have you heard
 Of Hamlet's transformation; so call it,
 Sith nor the exterior nor the inward man
 Resembles that it was. What it should be,
 More than his father's death, that thus hath put him
 So much from the understanding of himself,
 I cannot dream of: I entreat you both,

That, being of so young days brought up with him,
And sith so neighbour'd to his youth and havior,
That you vouchsafe your rest here in our court
Some little time: so by your companies
To draw him on to pleasures, and to gather,
So much as from occasion you may glean,
Whether aught, to us unknown, afflicts him thus,
That, open'd, lies within our remedy.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Good gentlemen, he hath much talk'd of you;
And sure I am two men there are not living
To whom he more adheres. If it will please you
To show us so much gentry and good will
As to expend your time with us awhile,
For the supply and profit of our hope,
Your visitation shall receive such thanks
As fits a king's remembrance.

ROSENCRANTZ Both your majesties
Might, by the sovereign power you have of us,
Put your dread pleasures more into command
Than to entreaty.

GUILDENSTERN But we both obey,
And here give up ourselves, in the full bent
To lay our service freely at your feet,
To be commanded.

KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, Rosencrantz and gentle Guildenstern.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Thanks, Guildenstern and gentle Rosencrantz:
And I beseech you instantly to visit
My too much changed son. Go, some of you,
And bring these gentlemen where Hamlet is.

GUILDENSTERN Heavens make our presence and our practises
Pleasant and helpful to him!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay, amen!

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and some Attendants]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS The ambassadors from Norway, my good lord,
Are joyfully return'd.

KING CLAUDIUS Thou still hast been the father of good news.

LORD POLONIUS Have I, my lord? I assure my good liege,
I hold my duty, as I hold my soul,
Both to my God and to my gracious king:
And I do think, or else this brain of mine
Hunts not the trail of policy so sure
As it hath used to do, that I have found

The very cause of Hamlet's lunacy.

KING CLAUDIUS O, speak of that; that do I long to hear.

LORD POLONIUS Give first admittance to the ambassadors;
My news shall be the fruit to that great feast.

KING CLAUDIUS Thyself do grace to them, and bring them in.

[Exit POLONIUS]

He tells me, my dear Gertrude, he hath found
The head and source of all your son's distemper.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I doubt it is no other but the main;
His father's death, and our o'erhasty marriage.

KING CLAUDIUS Well, we shall sift him.

[Re-enter POLONIUS, with VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

Welcome, my good friends!
Say, Voltimand, what from our brother Norway?

VOLTIMAND Most fair return of greetings and desires.
Upon our first, he sent out to suppress
His nephew's levies; which to him appear'd
To be a preparation 'gainst the Polack;
But, better look'd into, he truly found
It was against your highness: whereat grieved,
That so his sickness, age and impotence
Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests
On Fortinbras; which he, in brief, obeys;
Receives rebuke from Norway, and in fine
Makes vow before his uncle never more
To give the assay of arms against your majesty.
Whereon old Norway, overcome with joy,
Gives him three thousand crowns in annual fee,
And his commission to employ those soldiers,
So levied as before, against the Polack:
With an entreaty, herein further shown,

[Giving a paper]

That it might please you to give quiet pass
Through your dominions for this enterprise,
On such regards of safety and allowance
As therein are set down.

KING CLAUDIUS It likes us well;
And at our more consider'd time well read,
Answer, and think upon this business.
Meantime we thank you for your well-took labour:
Go to your rest; at night we'll feast together:
Most welcome home!

[Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

LORD POLONIUS This business is well ended.
 My liege, and madam, to expostulate
 What majesty should be, what duty is,
 Why day is day, night night, and time is time,
 Were nothing but to waste night, day and time.
 Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit,
 And tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes,
 I will be brief: your noble son is mad:
 Mad call I it; for, to define true madness,
 What is't but to be nothing else but mad?
 But let that go.

QUEEN GERTRUDE More matter, with less art.

LORD POLONIUS Madam, I swear I use no art at all.
 That he is mad, 'tis true: 'tis true 'tis pity;
 And pity 'tis 'tis true: a foolish figure;
 But farewell it, for I will use no art.
 Mad let us grant him, then: and now remains
 That we find out the cause of this effect,
 Or rather say, the cause of this defect,
 For this effect defective comes by cause:
 Thus it remains, and the remainder thus. Perpend.
 I have a daughter--have while she is mine--
 Who, in her duty and obedience, mark,
 Hath given me this: now gather, and surmise.

[Reads]

'To the celestial and my soul's idol, the most
 beautified Ophelia,'--
 That's an ill phrase, a vile phrase; 'beautified' is a vile phrase: but you shall hear. Thus:

[Reads]

'In her excellent white bosom, these, &c.'

QUEEN GERTRUDE Came this from Hamlet to her?

LORD POLONIUS Good madam, stay awhile; I will be faithful.

[Reads]

'Doubt thou the stars are fire;
 Doubt that the sun doth move;
 Doubt truth to be a liar;
 But never doubt I love.
 'O dear Ophelia, I am ill at these numbers;
 I have not art to reckon my groans: but that
 I love thee best, O most best, believe it. Adieu.
 'Thine evermore most dear lady, whilst
 this machine is to him, HAMLET.'
 This, in obedience, hath my daughter shown me,

And more above, hath his solicitings,
As they fell out by time, by means and place,
All given to mine ear.

KING CLAUDIUS But how hath she
Received his love?

LORD POLONIUS What do you think of me?

KING CLAUDIUS As of a man faithful and honourable.

LORD POLONIUS I would fain prove so. But what might you think,
When I had seen this hot love on the wing--
As I perceived it, I must tell you that,
Before my daughter told me--what might you,
Or my dear majesty your queen here, think,
If I had play'd the desk or table-book,
Or given my heart a winking, mute and dumb,
Or look'd upon this love with idle sight;
What might you think? No, I went round to work,
And my young mistress thus I did bespeak:
'Lord Hamlet is a prince, out of thy star;
This must not be:' and then I precepts gave her,
That she should lock herself from his resort,
Admit no messengers, receive no tokens.
Which done, she took the fruits of my advice;
And he, repulsed--a short tale to make--
Fell into a sadness, then into a fast,
Thence to a watch, thence into a weakness,
Thence to a lightness, and, by this declension,
Into the madness wherein now he raves,
And all we mourn for.

KING CLAUDIUS Do you think 'tis this?

QUEEN GERTRUDE It may be, very likely.

LORD POLONIUS Hath there been such a time--I'd fain know that--
That I have positively said 'Tis so,'
When it proved otherwise?

KING CLAUDIUS Not that I know.

LORD POLONIUS [Pointing to his head and shoulder]

Take this from this, if this be otherwise:
If circumstances lead me, I will find
Where truth is hid, though it were hid indeed
Within the centre.

KING CLAUDIUS How may we try it further?

LORD POLONIUS You know, sometimes he walks four hours together
Here in the lobby.

QUEEN GERTRUDE So he does indeed.

LORD POLONIUS At such a time I'll loose my daughter to him:
Be you and I behind an arras then;
Mark the encounter: if he love her not
And be not from his reason fall'n thereon,
Let me be no assistant for a state,
But keep a farm and carters.

KING CLAUDIUS We will try it.

QUEEN GERTRUDE But, look, where sadly the poor wretch comes reading.

LORD POLONIUS Away, I do beseech you, both away:
I'll board him presently.

[Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, and Attendants]

[Enter HAMLET, reading]

O, give me leave:
How does my good Lord Hamlet?

HAMLET Well, God-a-mercy.

LORD POLONIUS Do you know me, my lord?

HAMLET Excellent well; you are a fishmonger.

LORD POLONIUS Not I, my lord.

HAMLET Then I would you were so honest a man.

LORD POLONIUS Honest, my lord!

HAMLET Ay, sir; to be honest, as this world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.

LORD POLONIUS That's very true, my lord.

HAMLET For if the sun breed maggots in a dead dog, being a god kissing carrion,--Have you a daughter?

LORD POLONIUS I have, my lord.

HAMLET Let her not walk i' the sun: conception is a blessing: but not as your daughter may conceive.
Friend, look to 't.

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] How say you by that? Still harping on my daughter: yet he knew me not at first; he said I was a fishmonger: he is far gone, far gone: and truly in my youth I suffered much extremity for love; very near this. I'll speak to him again.
What do you read, my lord?

HAMLET Words, words, words.

LORD POLONIUS What is the matter, my lord?

HAMLET Between who?

LORD POLONIUS I mean, the matter that you read, my lord.

HAMLET Slanders, sir: for the satirical rogue says here
that old men have grey beards, that their faces are wrinkled, their eyes purging thick amber and plum-tree gum and that they have a plentiful lack of
wit, together with most weak hams: all which, sir,
though I most powerfully and potently believe, yet
I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down, for yourself, sir, should be old as I am, if like a crab
you could go backward.

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Though this be madness, yet there is method in 't. Will you walk out of the air, my lord?

HAMLET Into my grave.

LORD POLONIUS Indeed, that is out o' the air.

[Aside]

How pregnant sometimes his replies are! a happiness
that often madness hits on, which reason and sanity
could not so prosperously be delivered of. I will leave him, and suddenly contrive the means of meeting between him and my daughter.--My honourable
lord, I will most humbly take my leave of you.

HAMLET You cannot, sir, take from me any thing that I will more willingly part withal: except my life, except
my life, except my life.

LORD POLONIUS Fare you well, my lord.

HAMLET These tedious old fools!

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

LORD POLONIUS You go to seek the Lord Hamlet; there he is.

ROSENCRANTZ [To POLONIUS] God save you, sir!

[Exit POLONIUS]

GUILDENSTERN My honoured lord!

ROSENCRANTZ My most dear lord!

HAMLET My excellent good friends! How dost thou,
Guildenstern? Ah, Rosencrantz! Good lads, how do ye both?

ROSENCRANTZ As the indifferent children of the earth.

GUILDENSTERN Happy, in that we are not over-happy;
On fortune's cap we are not the very button.

HAMLET Nor the soles of her shoe?

ROSENCRANTZ Neither, my lord.

HAMLET Then you live about her waist, or in the middle of
her favours?

GUILDENSTERN 'Faith, her privates we.

HAMLET In the secret parts of fortune? O, most true; she is a strumpet. What's the news?

ROSENCRANTZ None, my lord, but that the world's grown honest.

HAMLET Then is doomsday near: but your news is not true.
Let me question more in particular: what have you,
my good friends, deserved at the hands of fortune,
that she sends you to prison hither?

GUILDENSTERN Prison, my lord!

HAMLET Denmark's a prison.

ROSENCRANTZ Then is the world one.

HAMLET A goodly one; in which there are many confines,
wards and dungeons, Denmark being one o' the worst.

ROSENCRANTZ We think not so, my lord.

HAMLET Why, then, 'tis none to you; for there is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so: to me
it is a prison.

ROSENCRANTZ Why then, your ambition makes it one; 'tis too
narrow for your mind.

HAMLET O God, I could be bounded in a nut shell and count myself a king of infinite space, were it not that I have bad dreams.

GUILDENSTERN Which dreams indeed are ambition, for the very substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream.

HAMLET A dream itself is but a shadow.

ROSENCRANTZ Truly, and I hold ambition of so airy and light a quality that it is but a shadow's shadow.

HAMLET Then are our beggars bodies, and our monarchs and outstretched heroes the beggars' shadows. Shall we

to the court? for, by my fay, I cannot reason.

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We'll wait upon you.
GUILDENSTERN |

HAMLET No such matter: I will not sort you with the rest of my servants, for, to speak to you like an honest man, I am most dreadfully attended. But, in the beaten way of friendship, what make you at Elsinore?

ROSENCRANTZ To visit you, my lord; no other occasion.

HAMLET Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks; but I thank you: and sure, dear friends, my thanks are too dear a halfpenny. Were you not sent for? Is it your own inclining? Is it a free visitation? Come,
deal justly with me: come, come; nay, speak.

GUILDENSTERN What should we say, my lord?

HAMLET Why, any thing, but to the purpose. You were sent for; and there is a kind of confession in your looks
which your modesties have not craft enough to colour:
I know the good king and queen have sent for you.

ROSENCRANTZ To what end, my lord?

HAMLET That you must teach me. But let me conjure you, by the rights of our fellowship, by the consonancy of our youth, by the obligation of our ever-preserved
love, and by what more dear a better proposer could charge you withal, be even and direct with me,
whether you were sent for, or no?

ROSENCRANTZ [Aside to GUILDENSTERN] What say you?

HAMLET [Aside] Nay, then, I have an eye of you.--If you
love me, hold not off.

GUILDENSTERN My lord, we were sent for.

HAMLET I will tell you why; so shall my anticipation prevent your discovery, and your secrecy to the king and queen moult no feather. I have of late--but wherefore I know not--lost all my mirth, forgone all custom of exercises; and indeed it goes so heavily with my disposition that this goodly frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory, this most excellent canopy, the air, look you, this brave
o'erhanging firmament, this majestical roof fretted
with golden fire, why, it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapours.

What a piece of work is a man! how noble in reason!
how infinite in faculty! in form and moving how express and admirable! in action how like an angel!
in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the world! the paragon of animals! And yet, to me,
what is this quintessence of dust? man delights not
me: no, nor woman neither, though by your smiling
you seem to say so.

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, there was no such stuff in my thoughts.

HAMLET Why did you laugh then, when I said 'man delights not me'?

ROSENCRANTZ To think, my lord, if you delight not in man, what lenten entertainment the players shall receive from you: we coted them on the way; and hither are they coming, to offer you service.

HAMLET He that plays the king shall be welcome; his majesty
shall have tribute of me; the adventurous knight shall use his foil and target; the lover shall not sigh gratis; the humourous man shall end his part in peace; the clown shall make those laugh whose lungs are tickled o' the sere; and the lady shall say her mind freely, or the blank verse shall halt
for't. What players are they?

ROSENCRANTZ Even those you were wont to take delight in, the
tragedians of the city.

HAMLET How chances it they travel? their residence, both
in reputation and profit, was better both ways.

ROSENCRANTZ I think their inhibition comes by the means of the late innovation.

HAMLET Do they hold the same estimation they did when I was in the city? are they so followed?

ROSENCRANTZ No, indeed, are they not.

HAMLET How comes it? do they grow rusty?

ROSENCRANTZ Nay, their endeavour keeps in the wonted pace: but there is, sir, an aery of children, little eyases,
that cry out on the top of question, and are most tyrannically clapped for't: these are now the fashion, and so berattle the common stages--so they call them--that many wearing rapiers are afraid of goose-quills and dare scarce come thither.

HAMLET What, are they children? who maintains 'em? how are they escoted? Will they pursue the quality no longer than they can sing? will they not say afterwards, if they should grow themselves to common players--as it is most like, if their means are no better--their writers do them wrong, to make them

exclaim against their own succession?

ROSENCRANTZ 'Faith, there has been much to do on both sides; and the nation holds it no sin to tarre them to controversy: there was, for a while, no money bid
for argument, unless the poet and the player went to
cuffs in the question.

HAMLET Is't possible?

GUILDENSTERN O, there has been much throwing about of brains.

HAMLET Do the boys carry it away?

ROSENCRANTZ Ay, that they do, my lord; Hercules and his load too.

HAMLET It is not very strange; for mine uncle is king of Denmark, and those that would make mows at him while my father lived, give twenty, forty, fifty, an hundred ducats a-piece for his picture in little.
'Sblood, there is something in this more than natural, if philosophy could find it out.

[Flourish of trumpets within]

GUILDENSTERN There are the players.

HAMLET Gentlemen, you are welcome to Elsinore. Your hands,
come then: the appurtenance of welcome is fashion
and ceremony: let me comply with you in this garb,
lest my extent to the players, which, I tell you,
must show fairly outward, should more appear like entertainment than yours. You are welcome: but my uncle-father and aunt-mother are deceived.

GUILDENSTERN In what, my dear lord?

HAMLET I am but mad north-north-west: when the wind is southerly I know a hawk from a handsaw.

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS Well be with you, gentlemen!

HAMLET Hark you, Guildenstern; and you too: at each ear a hearer: that great baby you see there is not yet
out of his swaddling-clouts.

ROSENCRANTZ Happily he's the second time come to them; for they say an old man is twice a child.

HAMLET I will prophesy he comes to tell me of the players;
mark it. You say right, sir: o' Monday morning;
'twas so indeed.

LORD POLONIUS My lord, I have news to tell you.

HAMLET My lord, I have news to tell you.
When Roscius was an actor in Rome,--

LORD POLONIUS The actors are come hither, my lord.

HAMLET Buzz, buzz!

LORD POLONIUS Upon mine honour,--

HAMLET Then came each actor on his ass,--

LORD POLONIUS The best actors in the world, either for tragedy,
comedy, history, pastoral, pastoral-comical,
historical-pastoral, tragical-historical, tragicalcomical-historical-pastoral, scene individable, or poem unlimited: Seneca cannot be too heavy, nor Plautus too light. For the law of writ and the liberty, these are the only men.

HAMLET O Jephthah, judge of Israel, what a treasure hadst thou!

LORD POLONIUS What a treasure had he, my lord?

HAMLET Why,
'One fair daughter and no more,
The which he loved passing well.'

LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Still on my daughter.

HAMLET Am I not i' the right, old Jephthah?

LORD POLONIUS If you call me Jephthah, my lord, I have a daughter
that I love passing well.

HAMLET Nay, that follows not.

LORD POLONIUS What follows, then, my lord?

HAMLET Why,
'As by lot, God wot,'
and then, you know,
'It came to pass, as most like it was,'--
the first row of the pious chanson will show you more; for look, where my abridgement comes.

[Enter four or five Players]

You are welcome, masters; welcome, all. I am glad to see thee well. Welcome, good friends. O, my old friend! thy face is valenced since I saw thee last:
comest thou to beard me in Denmark? What, my young lady and mistress! By'r lady, your ladyship is nearer to heaven than when I saw you last, by the altitude of a chopine. Pray God, your voice, like apiece of uncurrent gold, be not cracked within the ring. Masters, you are all welcome. We'll e'en to't like French falconers, fly at any thing we see: we'll have a speech straight: come, give us a taste of your quality; come, a passionate speech.

First Player What speech, my lord?

HAMLET I heard thee speak me a speech once, but it was never acted; or, if it was, not above once; for the play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviare to the general: but it was--as I received it, and others, whose judgments in such matters cried in the top of mine--an excellent play, well digested in the scenes, set down with as much modesty as cunning. I remember, one said there were no sallets in the lines to make the matter savoury, nor no matter in the phrase that might indict the author of affectation; but called it an honest method, as wholesome as sweet, and by very much more handsome than fine. One speech in it I chiefly loved: 'twas Aeneas' tale to Dido; and thereabout of it especially, where he speaks of Priam's slaughter: if it live in your memory, begin at this line: let me see, let me see--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, like the Hyrcanian beast,'-- it is not so:--it begins with Pyrrhus:--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, he whose sable arms,
 Black as his purpose, did the night resemble
 When he lay couched in the ominous horse,
 Hath now this dread and black complexion smear'd
 With heraldry more dismal; head to foot
 Now is he total gules; horridly trick'd
 With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sons,
 Baked and impasted with the parching streets,
 That lend a tyrannous and damned light
 To their lord's murder: roasted in wrath and fire,
 And thus o'er-sized with coagulate gore,
 With eyes like carbuncles, the hellish Pyrrhus
 Old grandsire Priam seeks.'
 So, proceed you.

LORD POLONIUS 'Fore God, my lord, well spoken, with good accent and good discretion.

First Player 'Anon he finds him
 Striking too short at Greeks; his antique sword,
 Rebellious to his arm, lies where it falls,
 Repugnant to command: unequal match'd,
 Pyrrhus at Priam drives; in rage strikes wide;
 But with the whiff and wind of his fell sword
 The unnerved father falls. Then senseless Ilium,
 Seeming to feel this blow, with flaming top
 Stoops to his base, and with a hideous crash
 Takes prisoner Pyrrhus' ear: for, lo! his sword,
 Which was declining on the milky head

Of reverend Priam, seem'd i' the air to stick:
 So, as a painted tyrant, Pyrrhus stood,
 And like a neutral to his will and matter,
 Did nothing.
 But, as we often see, against some storm,
 A silence in the heavens, the rack stand still,
 The bold winds speechless and the orb below
 As hush as death, anon the dreadful thunder
 Doth rend the region, so, after Pyrrhus' pause,
 Aroused vengeance sets him new a-work;
 And never did the Cyclops' hammers fall
 On Mars's armour forged for proof eterne
 With less remorse than Pyrrhus' bleeding sword
 Now falls on Priam.
 Out, out, thou strumpet, Fortune! All you gods,
 In general synod 'take away her power;
 Break all the spokes and fellies from her wheel,
 And bowl the round nave down the hill of heaven,
 As low as to the fiends!'

LORD POLONIUS This is too long.

HAMLET It shall to the barber's, with your beard. Prithee, say on: he's for a jig or a tale of bawdry, or he sleeps: say on: come to Hecuba.

First Player 'But who, O, who had seen the mobled queen--'

HAMLET 'The mobled queen?'

LORD POLONIUS That's good; 'mobled queen' is good.

First Player 'Run barefoot up and down, threatening the flames
 With bisson rheum; a clout upon that head
 Where late the diadem stood, and for a robe,
 About her lank and all o'er-teemed loins,
 A blanket, in the alarm of fear caught up;
 Who this had seen, with tongue in venom steep'd,
 'Gainst Fortune's state would treason have
 pronounced:
 But if the gods themselves did see her then
 When she saw Pyrrhus make malicious sport
 In mincing with his sword her husband's limbs,
 The instant burst of clamour that she made,
 Unless things mortal move them not at all,
 Would have made milch the burning eyes of heaven,
 And passion in the gods.'

LORD POLONIUS Look, whether he has not turned his colour and has tears in's eyes. Pray you, no more.

HAMLET 'Tis well: I'll have thee speak out the rest soon.
 Good my lord, will you see the players well bestowed? Do you hear, let them be well used; for they are the abstract and brief chronicles of the time: after your death you were better have a bad

epitaph than their ill report while you live.

LORD POLONIUS My lord, I will use them according to their desert.

HAMLET God's bodykins, man, much better: use every man
after his desert, and who should 'scape whipping?
Use them after your own honour and dignity: the less
they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty.
Take them in.

LORD POLONIUS Come, sirs.

HAMLET Follow him, friends: we'll hear a play to-morrow.

[Exit POLONIUS with all the Players but the First]

Dost thou hear me, old friend; can you play the Murder of Gonzago?

First Player Ay, my lord.

HAMLET We'll ha't to-morrow night. You could, for a need,
study a speech of some dozen or sixteen lines, which
I would set down and insert in't, could you not?

First Player Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Very well. Follow that lord; and look you mock him
not.

[Exit First Player]

My good friends, I'll leave you till night: you are welcome to Elsinore.

ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord!

HAMLET Ay, so, God be wi' ye;

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Now I am alone.

O, what a rogue and peasant slave am I!
Is it not monstrous that this player here,
But in a fiction, in a dream of passion,
Could force his soul so to his own conceit
That from her working all his visage wann'd,
Tears in his eyes, distraction in's aspect,
A broken voice, and his whole function suiting
With forms to his conceit? and all for nothing!
For Hecuba!
What's Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba,
That he should weep for her? What would he do,
Had he the motive and the cue for passion
That I have? He would drown the stage with tears
And cleave the general ear with horrid speech,

Make mad the guilty and appal the free,
Confound the ignorant, and amaze indeed
The very faculties of eyes and ears. Yet I,
A dull and muddy-mettled rascal, peak,
Like John-a-dreams, unpregnant of my cause,
And can say nothing; no, not for a king,
Upon whose property and most dear life
A damn'd defeat was made. Am I a coward?
Who calls me villain? breaks my pate across?
Plucks off my beard, and blows it in my face?
Tweaks me by the nose? gives me the lie i' the throat,
As deep as to the lungs? who does me this?
Ha!
'Swounds, I should take it: for it cannot be
But I am pigeon-liver'd and lack gall
To make oppression bitter, or ere this
I should have fatted all the region kites
With this slave's offal: bloody, bawdy villain!
Remorseless, treacherous, lecherous, kindless villain!
O, vengeance!
Why, what an ass am I! This is most brave,
That I, the son of a dear father murder'd,
Prompted to my revenge by heaven and hell,
Must, like a whore, unpack my heart with words,
And fall a-cursing, like a very drab,
A scullion!
Fie upon't! fo! About, my brain! I have heard
That guilty creatures sitting at a play
Have by the very cunning of the scene
Been struck so to the soul that presently
They have proclaim'd their malefactions;
For murder, though it have no tongue, will speak
With most miraculous organ. I'll have these players
Play something like the murder of my father
Before mine uncle: I'll observe his looks;
I'll tent him to the quick: if he but blench,
I know my course. The spirit that I have seen
May be the devil: and the devil hath power
To assume a pleasing shape; yea, and perhaps
Out of my weakness and my melancholy,
As he is very potent with such spirits,
Abuses me to damn me: I'll have grounds
More relative than this: the play 's the thing
Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the king.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE I A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS,
OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS And can you, by no drift of circumstance,
Get from him why he puts on this confusion,
Grating so harshly all his days of quiet
With turbulent and dangerous lunacy?

ROSENCRANTZ He does confess he feels himself distracted;
But from what cause he will by no means speak.

GUILDENSTERN Nor do we find him forward to be sounded,
But, with a crafty madness, keeps aloof,
When we would bring him on to some confession
Of his true state.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Did he receive you well?

ROSENCRANTZ Most like a gentleman.

GUILDENSTERN But with much forcing of his disposition.

ROSENCRANTZ Niggard of question; but, of our demands,
Most free in his reply.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Did you assay him?
To any pastime?

ROSENCRANTZ Madam, it so fell out, that certain players
We o'er-raught on the way: of these we told him;
And there did seem in him a kind of joy
To hear of it: they are about the court,
And, as I think, they have already order
This night to play before him.

LORD POLONIUS 'Tis most true:
And he beseech'd me to entreat your majesties
To hear and see the matter.

KING CLAUDIUS With all my heart; and it doth much content me
To hear him so inclined.
Good gentlemen, give him a further edge,
And drive his purpose on to these delights.

ROSENCRANTZ We shall, my lord.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Sweet Gertrude, leave us too;
For we have closely sent for Hamlet hither,
That he, as 'twere by accident, may here
Affront Ophelia:

Her father and myself, lawful espials,
Will so bestow ourselves that, seeing, unseen,
We may of their encounter frankly judge,
And gather by him, as he is behaved,
If 't be the affliction of his love or no
That thus he suffers for.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I shall obey you.
And for your part, Ophelia, I do wish
That your good beauties be the happy cause
Of Hamlet's wildness: so shall I hope your virtues
Will bring him to his wonted way again,
To both your honours.

OPHELIA Madam, I wish it may.

[Exit QUEEN GERTRUDE]

LORD POLONIUS Ophelia, walk you here. Gracious, so please you,
We will bestow ourselves.

[To OPHELIA]

Read on this book;
That show of such an exercise may colour
Your loneliness. We are oft to blame in this,--
'Tis too much proved--that with devotion's visage
And pious action we do sugar o'er
The devil himself.

KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] O, 'tis too true!
How smart a lash that speech doth give my conscience!
The harlot's cheek, beautied with plastering art,
Is not more ugly to the thing that helps it
Than is my deed to my most painted word:
O heavy burthen!

LORD POLONIUS I hear him coming: let's withdraw, my lord.

[Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET To be, or not to be: that is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
And by opposing end them? To die: to sleep;
No more; and by a sleep to say we end
The heart-ache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wish'd. To die, to sleep;
To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub;
For in that sleep of death what dreams may come
When we have shuffled off this mortal coil,
Must give us pause: there's the respect

That makes calamity of so long life;
For who would bear the whips and scorns of time,
The oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely,
The pangs of despised love, the law's delay,
The insolence of office and the spurns
That patient merit of the unworthy takes,
When he himself might his quietus make
With a bare bodkin? who would fardels bear,
To grunt and sweat under a weary life,
But that the dread of something after death,
The undiscover'd country from whose bourn
No traveller returns, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of?
Thus conscience does make cowards of us all;
And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought,
And enterprises of great pith and moment
With this regard their currents turn awry,
And lose the name of action.--Soft you now!
The fair Ophelia! Nymph, in thy orisons
Be all my sins remember'd.

OPHELIA Good my lord,
How does your honour for this many a day?

HAMLET I humbly thank you; well, well, well.

OPHELIA My lord, I have remembrances of yours,
That I have longed long to re-deliver;
I pray you, now receive them.

HAMLET No, not I;
I never gave you aught.

OPHELIA My honour'd lord, you know right well you did;
And, with them, words of so sweet breath composed
As made the things more rich: their perfume lost,
Take these again; for to the noble mind
Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind.
There, my lord.

HAMLET Ha, ha! are you honest?

OPHELIA My lord?

HAMLET Are you fair?

OPHELIA What means your lordship?

HAMLET That if you be honest and fair, your honesty should admit no discourse to your beauty.

OPHELIA Could beauty, my lord, have better commerce than
with honesty?

HAMLET Ay, truly; for the power of beauty will sooner transform honesty from what it is to a bawd than the force of honesty can translate beauty into his likeness: this was sometime a paradox, but now the time gives it proof. I did love you once.

OPHELIA Indeed, my lord, you made me believe so.

HAMLET You should not have believed me; for virtue cannot so inoculate our old stock but we shall relish of it: I loved you not.

OPHELIA I was the more deceived.

HAMLET Get thee to a nunnery: why wouldst thou be a breeder of sinners? I am myself indifferent honest; but yet I could accuse me of such things that it were better my mother had not borne me: I am very proud, revengeful, ambitious, with more offences at my beck than I have thoughts to put them in, imagination to give them shape, or time to act them in. What should such fellows as I do crawling between earth and heaven? We are arrant knaves, all; believe none of us. Go thy ways to a nunnery. Where's your father?

OPHELIA At home, my lord.

HAMLET Let the doors be shut upon him, that he may play the fool no where but in's own house. Farewell.

OPHELIA O, help him, you sweet heavens!

HAMLET If thou dost marry, I'll give thee this plague for thy dowry: be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny. Get thee to a nunnery, go: farewell. Or, if thou wilt needs marry, marry a fool; for wise men know well enough what monsters you make of them. To a nunnery, go, and quickly too. Farewell.

OPHELIA O heavenly powers, restore him!

HAMLET I have heard of your paintings too, well enough; God has given you one face, and you make yourselves another: you jig, you amble, and you lisp, and nick-name God's creatures, and make your wantonness your ignorance. Go to, I'll no more on't; it hath made me mad. I say, we will have no more marriages: those that are married already, all but one, shall live; the rest shall keep as they are. To a nunnery, go.

[Exit]

OPHELIA O, what a noble mind is here o'erthrown!

The courtier's, soldier's, scholar's, eye, tongue, sword;
 The expectancy and rose of the fair state,
 The glass of fashion and the mould of form,
 The observed of all observers, quite, quite down!
 And I, of ladies most deject and wretched,
 That suck'd the honey of his music vows,
 Now see that noble and most sovereign reason,
 Like sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh;
 That unmatch'd form and feature of blown youth
 Blasted with ecstasy: O, woe is me,
 To have seen what I have seen, see what I see!

[Re-enter KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

KING CLAUDIUS Love! his affections do not that way tend;
 Nor what he spake, though it lack'd form a little,
 Was not like madness. There's something in his soul,
 O'er which his melancholy sits on brood;
 And I do doubt the hatch and the disclose
 Will be some danger: which for to prevent,
 I have in quick determination
 Thus set it down: he shall with speed to England,
 For the demand of our neglected tribute
 Haply the seas and countries different
 With variable objects shall expel
 This something-settled matter in his heart,
 Whereon his brains still beating puts him thus
 From fashion of himself. What think you on't?

LORD POLONIUS It shall do well: but yet do I believe
 The origin and commencement of his grief
 Sprung from neglected love. How now, Ophelia!
 You need not tell us what Lord Hamlet said;
 We heard it all. My lord, do as you please;
 But, if you hold it fit, after the play
 Let his queen mother all alone entreat him
 To show his grief: let her be round with him;
 And I'll be placed, so please you, in the ear
 Of all their conference. If she find him not,
 To England send him, or confine him where
 Your wisdom best shall think.

KING CLAUDIUS It shall be so:
 Madness in great ones must not unwatch'd go.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE II A hall in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET and Players]

HAMLET Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly on the tongue: but if you mouth it, as many of your players do, I had as lief the town-crier spoke my lines. Nor do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus, but use all gently; for in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, the whirlwind of passion, you must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness. O, it offends me to the soul to hear a robustious periwig-pated fellow tear a passion to tatters, to very rags, to split the ears of the groundlings, who for the most part are capable of nothing but inexplicable dumbshows and noise: I would have such a fellow whipped for o'erdoing Termagant; it out-herods Herod: pray you, avoid it.

First Player I warrant your honour.

HAMLET Be not too tame neither, but let your own discretion be your tutor: suit the action to the word, the word to the action; with this special o'erstep not the modesty of nature: for any thing so overdone is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first and now, was and is, to hold, as 'twere, the mirror up to nature; to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure. Now this overdone, or come tardy off, though it make the unskilful laugh, cannot but make the judicious grieve; the censure of the which one must in your allowance o'erweigh a whole theatre of others. O, there be players that I have seen play, and heard others praise, and that highly, not to speak it profanely, that, neither having the accent of Christians nor the gait of Christian, pagan, nor man, have so strutted and bellowed that I have thought some of nature's journeymen had made men and not made them well, they imitated humanity so abominably.

First Player I hope we have reformed that indifferently with us, sir.

HAMLET O, reform it altogether. And let those that play your clowns speak no more than is set down for them; for there be of them that will themselves laugh, to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too; though, in the mean time, some necessary question of the play be then to be considered: that's villanous, and shows a most pitiful ambition in the fool that uses it. Go, make you ready.

[Exeunt Players]

[Enter POLONIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

How now, my lord! I will the king hear this piece of work?

LORD POLONIUS And the queen too, and that presently.

HAMLET Bid the players make haste.

[Exit POLONIUS]

Will you two help to hasten them?

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We will, my lord.
GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

HAMLET What ho! Horatio!

[Enter HORATIO]

HORATIO Here, sweet lord, at your service.

HAMLET Horatio, thou art e'en as just a man
As e'er my conversation coped withal.

HORATIO O, my dear lord,--

HAMLET Nay, do not think I flatter;
For what advancement may I hope from thee
That no revenue hast but thy good spirits,
To feed and clothe thee? Why should the poor be flatter'd?
No, let the candied tongue lick absurd pomp,
And crook the pregnant hinges of the knee
Where thrift may follow fawning. Dost thou hear?
Since my dear soul was mistress of her choice
And could of men distinguish, her election
Hath seal'd thee for herself; for thou hast been
As one, in suffering all, that suffers nothing,
A man that fortune's buffets and rewards
Hast ta'en with equal thanks: and blest are those
Whose blood and judgment are so well commingled,
That they are not a pipe for fortune's finger
To sound what stop she please. Give me that man
That is not passion's slave, and I will wear him
In my heart's core, ay, in my heart of heart,
As I do thee.--Something too much of this.--
There is a play to-night before the king;
One scene of it comes near the circumstance
Which I have told thee of my father's death:

I prithee, when thou seest that act afoot,
Even with the very comment of thy soul
Observe mine uncle: if his occulted guilt
Do not itself unkennel in one speech,
It is a damned ghost that we have seen,
And my imaginations are as foul
As Vulcan's stithy. Give him heedful note;
For I mine eyes will rivet to his face,
And after we will both our judgments join
In censure of his seeming.

HORATIO Well, my lord:
If he steal aught the whilst this play is playing,
And 'scape detecting, I will pay the theft.

HAMLET They are coming to the play; I must be idle:
Get you a place.

[Danish march. A flourish. Enter KING CLAUDIUS,
QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS, OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ,
GUILDENSTERN, and others]

KING CLAUDIUS How fares our cousin Hamlet?

HAMLET Excellent, i' faith; of the chameleon's dish: I eat
the air, promise-crammed: you cannot feed capons so.

KING CLAUDIUS I have nothing with this answer, Hamlet; these words
are not mine.

HAMLET No, nor mine now.

[To POLONIUS]

My lord, you played once i' the university, you say?

LORD POLONIUS That did I, my lord; and was accounted a good actor.

HAMLET What did you enact?

LORD POLONIUS I did enact Julius Caesar: I was killed i' the Capitol; Brutus killed me.

HAMLET It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf
there. Be the players ready?

ROSENCRANTZ Ay, my lord; they stay upon your patience.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come hither, my dear Hamlet, sit by me.

HAMLET No, good mother, here's metal more attractive.

LORD POLONIUS [To KING CLAUDIUS] O, ho! do you mark that?

HAMLET Lady, shall I lie in your lap?

[Lying down at OPHELIA's feet]

OPHELIA No, my lord.

HAMLET I mean, my head upon your lap?

OPHELIA Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Do you think I meant country matters?

OPHELIA I think nothing, my lord.

HAMLET That's a fair thought to lie between maids' legs.

OPHELIA What is, my lord?

HAMLET Nothing.

OPHELIA You are merry, my lord.

HAMLET Who, I?

OPHELIA Ay, my lord.

HAMLET O God, your only jig-maker. What should a man do but be merry? for, look you, how cheerfully my mother looks, and my father died within these two hours.

OPHELIA Nay, 'tis twice two months, my lord.

HAMLET So long? Nay then, let the devil wear black, for I'll have a suit of sables. O heavens! die two months ago, and not forgotten yet? Then there's hope a great man's memory may outlive his life half
a year: but, by'r lady, he must build churches,
then; or else shall he suffer not thinking on, with
the hobby-horse, whose epitaph is 'For, O, for, O,
the hobby-horse is forgot.'

[Hautboys play. The dumb-show enters]

[Enter a King and a Queen very lovingly; the Queen embracing him, and he her. She kneels, and makes show of protestation unto him. He takes her up,
and declines his head upon her neck: lays him down
upon a bank of flowers: she, seeing him asleep, leaves him. Anon comes in a fellow, takes off his crown, kisses it, and pours poison in the King's ears, and exit. The Queen returns; finds the King
dead, and makes passionate action. The Poisoner,
with some two or three Mutes, comes in again,
seeming to lament with her. The dead body is carried away. The Poisoner wooes the Queen with gifts: she seems loath and unwilling awhile, but in the end accepts his love]

[Exeunt]

OPHELIA What means this, my lord?

HAMLET Marry, this is miching mallecho; it means mischief.

OPHELIA Belike this show imports the argument of the play.

[Enter Prologue]

HAMLET We shall know by this fellow: the players cannot keep counsel; they'll tell all.

OPHELIA Will he tell us what this show meant?

HAMLET Ay, or any show that you'll show him: be not you ashamed to show, he'll not shame to tell you what it means.

OPHELIA You are naught, you are naught: I'll mark the play.

Prologue For us, and for our tragedy,
Here stooping to your clemency,
We beg your hearing patiently.

[Exit]

HAMLET Is this a prologue, or the posy of a ring?

OPHELIA 'Tis brief, my lord.

HAMLET As woman's love.

[Enter two Players, King and Queen]

Player King Full thirty times hath Phoebus' cart gone round
Neptune's salt wash and Tellus' orbed ground,
And thirty dozen moons with borrow'd sheen
About the world have times twelve thirties been,
Since love our hearts and Hymen did our hands
Unite commutual in most sacred bands.

Player Queen So many journeys may the sun and moon
Make us again count o'er ere love be done!
But, woe is me, you are so sick of late,
So far from cheer and from your former state,
That I distrust you. Yet, though I distrust,
Discomfort you, my lord, it nothing must:
For women's fear and love holds quantity;
In neither aught, or in extremity.
Now, what my love is, proof hath made you know;
And as my love is sized, my fear is so:
Where love is great, the littlest doubts are fear;
Where little fears grow great, great love grows there.

Player King 'Faith, I must leave thee, love, and shortly too;
My operant powers their functions leave to do:

And thou shalt live in this fair world behind,
Honour'd, beloved; and haply one as kind
For husband shalt thou--

Player Queen O, confound the rest!
Such love must needs be treason in my breast:
In second husband let me be accurst!
None wed the second but who kill'd the first.

HAMLET [Aside] Wormwood, wormwood.

Player Queen The instances that second marriage move
Are base respects of thrift, but none of love:
A second time I kill my husband dead,
When second husband kisses me in bed.

Player King I do believe you think what now you speak;
But what we do determine oft we break.
Purpose is but the slave to memory,
Of violent birth, but poor validity;
Which now, like fruit unripe, sticks on the tree;
But fall, unshaken, when they mellow be.
Most necessary 'tis that we forget
To pay ourselves what to ourselves is debt:
What to ourselves in passion we propose,
The passion ending, doth the purpose lose.
The violence of either grief or joy
Their own enactures with themselves destroy:
Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament;
Grief joys, joy grieves, on slender accident.
This world is not for aye, nor 'tis not strange
That even our loves should with our fortunes change;
For 'tis a question left us yet to prove,
Whether love lead fortune, or else fortune love.
The great man down, you mark his favourite flies;
The poor advanced makes friends of enemies.
And hitherto doth love on fortune tend;
For who not needs shall never lack a friend,
And who in want a hollow friend doth try,
Directly seasons him his enemy.
But, orderly to end where I begun,
Our wills and fates do so contrary run
That our devices still are overthrown;
Our thoughts are ours, their ends none of our own:
So think thou wilt no second husband wed;
But die thy thoughts when thy first lord is dead.

Player Queen Nor earth to me give food, nor heaven light!
Sport and repose lock from me day and night!
To desperation turn my trust and hope!
An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope!
Each opposite that blanks the face of joy
Meet what I would have well and it destroy!
Both here and hence pursue me lasting strife,
If, once a widow, ever I be wife!

HAMLET If she should break it now!

Player King 'Tis deeply sworn. Sweet, leave me here awhile;
My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile
The tedious day with sleep.

[Sleeps]

Player Queen Sleep rock thy brain,
And never come mischance between us twain!

[Exit]

HAMLET Madam, how like you this play?

QUEEN GERTRUDE The lady protests too much, methinks.

HAMLET O, but she'll keep her word.

KING CLAUDIUS Have you heard the argument? Is there no offence in 't?

HAMLET No, no, they do but jest, poison in jest; no offence
i' the world.

KING CLAUDIUS What do you call the play?

HAMLET The Mouse-trap. Marry, how? Tropically. This play is the image of a murder done in Vienna: Gonzago is the duke's name; his wife, Baptista: you shall see
anon; 'tis a knavish piece of work: but what o'
that? your majesty and we that have free souls, it touches us not: let the galled jade wince, our withers are unrun.

[Enter LUCIANUS]

This is one Lucianus, nephew to the king.

OPHELIA You are as good as a chorus, my lord.

HAMLET I could interpret between you and your love, if I could see the puppets dallying.

OPHELIA You are keen, my lord, you are keen.

HAMLET It would cost you a groaning to take off my edge.

OPHELIA Still better, and worse.

HAMLET So you must take your husbands. Begin, murderer;
pox, leave thy damnable faces, and begin. Come:
'the croaking raven doth bellow for revenge.'

LUCIANUS Thoughts black, hands apt, drugs fit, and time agreeing;
Confederate season, else no creature seeing;
Thou mixture rank, of midnight weeds collected,

With Hecate's ban thrice blasted, thrice infected,
Thy natural magic and dire property,
On wholesome life usurp immediately.

[Pours the poison into the sleeper's ears]

HAMLET He poisons him i' the garden for's estate. His name's Gonzago: the story is extant, and writ in choice Italian: you shall see anon how the murderer gets the love of Gonzago's wife.

OPHELIA The king rises.

HAMLET What, frightened with false fire!

QUEEN GERTRUDE How fares my lord?

LORD POLONIUS Give o'er the play.

KING CLAUDIUS Give me some light: away!

All Lights, lights, lights!

[Exeunt all but HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET Why, let the stricken deer go weep,
The hart ungalled play;
For some must watch, while some must sleep:
So runs the world away.
Would not this, sir, and a forest of feathers-- if the rest of my fortunes turn Turk with me--with two Provincial roses on my razed shoes, get me a fellowship in a cry of players, sir?

HORATIO Half a share.

HAMLET A whole one, I.
For thou dost know, O Damon dear,
This realm dismantled was
Of Jove himself; and now reigns here
A very, very--pajock.

HORATIO You might have rhymed.

HAMLET O good Horatio, I'll take the ghost's word for a thousand pound. Didst perceive?

HORATIO Very well, my lord.

HAMLET Upon the talk of the poisoning?

HORATIO I did very well note him.

HAMLET Ah, ha! Come, some music! come, the recorders!
For if the king like not the comedy,
Why then, belike, he likes it not, perdy.

Come, some music!

[Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, vouchsafe me a word with you.

HAMLET Sir, a whole history.

GUILDENSTERN The king, sir,--

HAMLET Ay, sir, what of him?

GUILDENSTERN Is in his retirement marvellous distempered.

HAMLET With drink, sir?

GUILDENSTERN No, my lord, rather with choler.

HAMLET Your wisdom should show itself more richer to signify this to his doctor; for, for me to put him to his purgation would perhaps plunge him into far more choler.

GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, put your discourse into some frame and start not so wildly from my affair.

HAMLET I am tame, sir: pronounce.

GUILDENSTERN The queen, your mother, in most great affliction of spirit, hath sent me to you.

HAMLET You are welcome.

GUILDENSTERN Nay, good my lord, this courtesy is not of the right breed. If it shall please you to make me a wholesome answer, I will do your mother's commandment: if not, your pardon and my return shall be the end of my business.

HAMLET Sir, I cannot.

GUILDENSTERN What, my lord?

HAMLET Make you a wholesome answer; my wit's diseased: but, sir, such answer as I can make, you shall command; or, rather, as you say, my mother: therefore no more, but to the matter: my mother, you say,--

ROSENCRANTZ Then thus she says; your behavior hath struck her into amazement and admiration.

HAMLET O wonderful son, that can so astonish a mother! But is there no sequel at the heels of this mother's admiration? Impart.

ROSENCRANTZ She desires to speak with you in her closet, ere you go to bed.

HAMLET We shall obey, were she ten times our mother. Have you any further trade with us?

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you once did love me.

HAMLET So I do still, by these pickers and stealers.

ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord, what is your cause of distemper? you do, surely, bar the door upon your own liberty, if you deny your griefs to your friend.

HAMLET Sir, I lack advancement.

ROSENCRANTZ How can that be, when you have the voice of the king himself for your succession in Denmark?

HAMLET Ay, but sir, 'While the grass grows,'--the proverb is something musty.

[Re-enter Players with recorders]

O, the recorders! let me see one. To withdraw with you:--why do you go about to recover the wind of me, as if you would drive me into a toil?

GUILDENSTERN O, my lord, if my duty be too bold, my love is too unmanerly.

HAMLET I do not well understand that. Will you play upon this pipe?

GUILDENSTERN My lord, I cannot.

HAMLET I pray you.

GUILDENSTERN Believe me, I cannot.

HAMLET I do beseech you.

GUILDENSTERN I know no touch of it, my lord.

HAMLET 'Tis as easy as lying: govern these ventages with your lingers and thumb, give it breath with your mouth, and it will discourse most eloquent music. Look you, these are the stops.

GUILDENSTERN But these cannot I command to any utterance of harmony; I have not the skill.

HAMLET Why, look you now, how unworthy a thing you make of me! You would play upon me; you would seem to know my stops; you would pluck out the heart of my mystery; you would sound me from my lowest note to the top of my compass: and there is much music, excellent voice, in this little organ; yet cannot you make it speak. 'Sblood, do you think I am easier to be played on than a pipe? Call me what instrument you will, though you can fret me, yet you cannot play upon me.

[Enter POLONIUS]

God bless you, sir!

LORD POLONIUS My lord, the queen would speak with you, and presently.

HAMLET Do you see yonder cloud that's almost in shape of a camel?

LORD POLONIUS By the mass, and 'tis like a camel, indeed.

HAMLET Methinks it is like a weasel.

LORD POLONIUS It is backed like a weasel.

HAMLET Or like a whale?

LORD POLONIUS Very like a whale.

HAMLET Then I will come to my mother by and by. They fool me to the top of my bent. I will come by and by.

LORD POLONIUS I will say so.

HAMLET By and by is easily said.

[Exit POLONIUS]

Leave me, friends.

[Exeunt all but HAMLET]

Tis now the very witching time of night,
When churchyards yawn and hell itself breathes out
Contagion to this world: now could I drink hot blood,
And do such bitter business as the day
Would quake to look on. Soft! now to my mother.
O heart, lose not thy nature; let not ever
The soul of Nero enter this firm bosom:
Let me be cruel, not unnatural:
I will speak daggers to her, but use none;
My tongue and soul in this be hypocrites;
How in my words soever she be shent,
To give them seals never, my soul, consent!

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE III A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS I like him not, nor stands it safe with us
To let his madness range. Therefore prepare you;
I your commission will forthwith dispatch,
And he to England shall along with you:
The terms of our estate may not endure
Hazard so dangerous as doth hourly grow
Out of his lunacies.

GUILDENSTERN We will ourselves provide:
Most holy and religious fear it is
To keep those many many bodies safe
That live and feed upon your majesty.

ROSENCRANTZ The single and peculiar life is bound,
With all the strength and armour of the mind,
To keep itself from noyance; but much more
That spirit upon whose weal depend and rest
The lives of many. The cease of majesty
Dies not alone; but, like a gulf, doth draw
What's near it with it: it is a massy wheel,
Fix'd on the summit of the highest mount,
To whose huge spokes ten thousand lesser things
Are mortised and adjoin'd; which, when it falls,
Each small annexment, petty consequence,
Attends the boisterous ruin. Never alone
Did the king sigh, but with a general groan.

KING CLAUDIUS Arm you, I pray you, to this speedy voyage;
For we will fetters put upon this fear,
Which now goes too free-footed.

ROSENCRANTZ |
| We will haste us.
GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS My lord, he's going to his mother's closet:
Behind the arras I'll convey myself,
To hear the process; and warrant she'll tax him home:
And, as you said, and wisely was it said,

'Tis meet that some more audience than a mother,
 Since nature makes them partial, should o'erhear
 The speech, of vantage. Fare you well, my liege:
 I'll call upon you ere you go to bed,
 And tell you what I know.

KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, dear my lord.

[Exit POLONIUS]

O, my offence is rank it smells to heaven;
 It hath the primal eldest curse upon't,
 A brother's murder. Pray can I not,
 Though inclination be as sharp as will:
 My stronger guilt defeats my strong intent;
 And, like a man to double business bound,
 I stand in pause where I shall first begin,
 And both neglect. What if this cursed hand
 Were thicker than itself with brother's blood,
 Is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens
 To wash it white as snow? Whereto serves mercy
 But to confront the visage of offence?
 And what's in prayer but this two-fold force,
 To be forestalled ere we come to fall,
 Or pardon'd being down? Then I'll look up;
 My fault is past. But, O, what form of prayer
 Can serve my turn? 'Forgive me my foul murder'?
 That cannot be; since I am still possess'd
 Of those effects for which I did the murder,
 My crown, mine own ambition and my queen.
 May one be pardon'd and retain the offence?
 In the corrupted currents of this world
 Offence's gilded hand may shove by justice,
 And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself
 Buys out the law: but 'tis not so above;
 There is no shuffling, there the action lies
 In his true nature; and we ourselves compell'd,
 Even to the teeth and forehead of our faults,
 To give in evidence. What then? what rests?
 Try what repentance can: what can it not?
 Yet what can it when one can not repent?
 O wretched state! O bosom black as death!
 O limed soul, that, struggling to be free,
 Art more engaged! Help, angels! Make assay!
 Bow, stubborn knees; and, heart with strings of steel,
 Be soft as sinews of the newborn babe!
 All may be well.

[Retires and kneels]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now might I do it pat, now he is praying;
 And now I'll do't. And so he goes to heaven;
 And so am I revenged. That would be scann'd:
 A villain kills my father; and for that,

I, his sole son, do this same villain send
To heaven.
O, this is hire and salary, not revenge.
He took my father grossly, full of bread;
With all his crimes broad blown, as flush as May;
And how his audit stands who knows save heaven?
But in our circumstance and course of thought,
'Tis heavy with him: and am I then revenged,
To take him in the purging of his soul,
When he is fit and season'd for his passage?
No!
Up, sword; and know thou a more horrid hent:
When he is drunk asleep, or in his rage,
Or in the incestuous pleasure of his bed;
At gaming, swearing, or about some act
That has no relish of salvation in't;
Then trip him, that his heels may kick at heaven,
And that his soul may be as damn'd and black
As hell, whereto it goes. My mother stays:
This physic but prolongs thy sickly days.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS [Rising] My words fly up, my thoughts remain below:
Words without thoughts never to heaven go.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE IV The Queen's closet.

[Enter QUEEN MARGARET and POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS He will come straight. Look you lay home to him:
Tell him his pranks have been too broad to bear with,
And that your grace hath screen'd and stood between
Much heat and him. I'll sconce me even here.
Pray you, be round with him.

HAMLET [Within] Mother, mother, mother!

QUEEN GERTRUDE I'll warrant you,
Fear me not: withdraw, I hear him coming.

[POLONIUS hides behind the arras]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now, mother, what's the matter?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, thou hast thy father much offended.

HAMLET Mother, you have my father much offended.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, come, you answer with an idle tongue.

HAMLET Go, go, you question with a wicked tongue.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Why, how now, Hamlet!

HAMLET What's the matter now?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Have you forgot me?

HAMLET No, by the rood, not so:

You are the queen, your husband's brother's wife;
And--would it were not so!--you are my mother.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, then, I'll set those to you that can speak.

HAMLET Come, come, and sit you down; you shall not budge;
You go not till I set you up a glass
Where you may see the inmost part of you.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What wilt thou do? thou wilt not murder me?
Help, help, ho!

LORD POLONIUS [Behind] What, ho! help, help, help!

HAMLET [Drawing] How now! a rat? Dead, for a ducat, dead!

[Makes a pass through the arras]

LORD POLONIUS [Behind] O, I am slain!

[Falls and dies]

QUEEN GERTRUDE O me, what hast thou done?

HAMLET Nay, I know not:
Is it the king?

QUEEN GERTRUDE O, what a rash and bloody deed is this!

HAMLET A bloody deed! almost as bad, good mother,
As kill a king, and marry with his brother.

QUEEN GERTRUDE As kill a king!

HAMLET Ay, lady, 'twas my word.

[Lifts up the array and discovers POLONIUS]

Thou wretched, rash, intruding fool, farewell!
 I took thee for thy better: take thy fortune;
 Thou find'st to be too busy is some danger.
 Leave wringing of your hands: peace! sit you down,
 And let me wring your heart; for so I shall,
 If it be made of penetrable stuff,
 If damned custom have not brass'd it so
 That it is proof and bulwark against sense.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What have I done, that thou darest wag thy tongue
 In noise so rude against me?

HAMLET Such an act
 That blurs the grace and blush of modesty,
 Calls virtue hypocrite, takes off the rose
 From the fair forehead of an innocent love
 And sets a blister there, makes marriage-vows
 As false as dicers' oaths: O, such a deed
 As from the body of contraction plucks
 The very soul, and sweet religion makes
 A rhapsody of words: heaven's face doth glow:
 Yea, this solidity and compound mass,
 With tristful visage, as against the doom,
 Is thought-sick at the act.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay me, what act,
 That roars so loud, and thunders in the index?

HAMLET Look here, upon this picture, and on this,
 The counterfeit presentment of two brothers.
 See, what a grace was seated on this brow;
 Hyperion's curls; the front of Jove himself;
 An eye like Mars, to threaten and command;
 A station like the herald Mercury
 New-lighted on a heaven-kissing hill;
 A combination and a form indeed,
 Where every god did seem to set his seal,
 To give the world assurance of a man:
 This was your husband. Look you now, what follows:
 Here is your husband; like a mildew'd ear,
 Blasting his wholesome brother. Have you eyes?
 Could you on this fair mountain leave to feed,
 And batten on this moor? Ha! have you eyes?
 You cannot call it love; for at your age
 The hey-day in the blood is tame, it's humble,
 And waits upon the judgment: and what judgment
 Would step from this to this? Sense, sure, you have,
 Else could you not have motion; but sure, that sense
 Is apoplex'd; for madness would not err,
 Nor sense to ecstasy was ne'er so thrall'd
 But it reserved some quantity of choice,
 To serve in such a difference. What devil was't
 That thus hath cozen'd you at hoodman-blind?
 Eyes without feeling, feeling without sight,
 Ears without hands or eyes, smelling sans all,

Or but a sickly part of one true sense
Could not so mope.
O shame! where is thy blush? Rebellious hell,
If thou canst mutine in a matron's bones,
To flaming youth let virtue be as wax,
And melt in her own fire: proclaim no shame
When the compulsive ardour gives the charge,
Since frost itself as actively doth burn
And reason panders will.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, speak no more:
Thou turn'st mine eyes into my very soul;
And there I see such black and grained spots
As will not leave their tinct.

HAMLET Nay, but to live
In the rank sweat of an enseamed bed,
Stew'd in corruption, honeying and making love
Over the nasty sty,--

QUEEN GERTRUDE O, speak to me no more;
These words, like daggers, enter in mine ears;
No more, sweet Hamlet!

HAMLET A murderer and a villain;
A slave that is not twentieth part the tithe
Of your precedent lord; a vice of kings;
A cutpurse of the empire and the rule,
That from a shelf the precious diadem stole,
And put it in his pocket!

QUEEN GERTRUDE No more!

HAMLET A king of shreds and patches,--

[Enter Ghost]

Save me, and hover o'er me with your wings,
You heavenly guards! What would your gracious figure?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, he's mad!

HAMLET Do you not come your tardy son to chide,
That, lapsed in time and passion, lets go by
The important acting of your dread command? O, say!

Ghost Do not forget: this visitation
Is but to whet thy almost blunted purpose.
But, look, amazement on thy mother sits:
O, step between her and her fighting soul:
Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works:
Speak to her, Hamlet.

HAMLET How is it with you, lady?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, how is't with you,

That you do bend your eye on vacancy
And with the incorporeal air do hold discourse?
Forth at your eyes your spirits wildly peep;
And, as the sleeping soldiers in the alarm,
Your bedded hair, like life in excrements,
Starts up, and stands on end. O gentle son,
Upon the heat and flame of thy distemper
Sprinkle cool patience. Whereon do you look?

HAMLET On him, on him! Look you, how pale he glares!
His form and cause conjoin'd, preaching to stones,
Would make them capable. Do not look upon me;
Lest with this piteous action you convert
My stern effects: then what I have to do
Will want true colour; tears perchance for blood.

QUEEN GERTRUDE To whom do you speak this?

HAMLET Do you see nothing there?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nothing at all; yet all that is I see.

HAMLET Nor did you nothing hear?

QUEEN GERTRUDE No, nothing but ourselves.

HAMLET Why, look you there! look, how it steals away!
My father, in his habit as he lived!
Look, where he goes, even now, out at the portal!

[Exit Ghost]

QUEEN GERTRUDE This the very coinage of your brain:
This bodiless creation ecstasy
Is very cunning in.

HAMLET Ecstasy!
My pulse, as yours, doth temperately keep time,
And makes as healthful music: it is not madness
That I have utter'd: bring me to the test,
And I the matter will re-word; which madness
Would gambol from. Mother, for love of grace,
Lay not that mattering unction to your soul,
That not your trespass, but my madness speaks:
It will but skin and film the ulcerous place,
Whilst rank corruption, mining all within,
Infects unseen. Confess yourself to heaven;
Repent what's past; avoid what is to come;
And do not spread the compost on the weeds,
To make them ranker. Forgive me this my virtue;
For in the fatness of these pursy times
Virtue itself of vice must pardon beg,
Yea, curb and woo for leave to do him good.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, thou hast cleft my heart in twain.

HAMLET O, throw away the worser part of it,
 And live the purer with the other half.
 Good night: but go not to mine uncle's bed;
 Assume a virtue, if you have it not.
 That monster, custom, who all sense doth eat,
 Of habits devil, is angel yet in this,
 That to the use of actions fair and good
 He likewise gives a frock or livery,
 That aptly is put on. Refrain to-night,
 And that shall lend a kind of easiness
 To the next abstinence: the next more easy;
 For use almost can change the stamp of nature,
 And either [] the devil, or throw him out
 With wondrous potency. Once more, good night:
 And when you are desirous to be bless'd,
 I'll blessing beg of you. For this same lord,

[Pointing to POLONIUS]

I do repent: but heaven hath pleased it so,
 To punish me with this and this with me,
 That I must be their scourge and minister.
 I will bestow him, and will answer well
 The death I gave him. So, again, good night.
 I must be cruel, only to be kind:
 Thus bad begins and worse remains behind.
 One word more, good lady.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What shall I do?

HAMLET Not this, by no means, that I bid you do:
 Let the bloat king tempt you again to bed;
 Pinch wanton on your cheek; call you his mouse;
 And let him, for a pair of reechy kisses,
 Or paddling in your neck with his damn'd fingers,
 Make you to ravel all this matter out,
 That I essentially am not in madness,
 But mad in craft. 'Twere good you let him know;
 For who, that's but a queen, fair, sober, wise,
 Would from a paddock, from a bat, a gib,
 Such dear concernings hide? who would do so?
 No, in despite of sense and secrecy,
 Unpeg the basket on the house's top.
 Let the birds fly, and, like the famous ape,
 To try conclusions, in the basket creep,
 And break your own neck down.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Be thou assured, if words be made of breath,
 And breath of life, I have no life to breathe
 What thou hast said to me.

HAMLET I must to England; you know that?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack,
 I had forgot: 'tis so concluded on.

HAMLET There's letters seal'd: and my two schoolfellows,
 Whom I will trust as I will adders fang'd,
 They bear the mandate; they must sweep my way,
 And marshal me to knavery. Let it work;
 For 'tis the sport to have the engineer
 Hoist with his own petard: and 't shall go hard
 But I will delve one yard below their mines,
 And blow them at the moon: O, 'tis most sweet,
 When in one line two crafts directly meet.
 This man shall set me packing:
 I'll lug the guts into the neighbour room.
 Mother, good night. Indeed this counsellor
 Is now most still, most secret and most grave,
 Who was in life a foolish prating knave.
 Come, sir, to draw toward an end with you.
 Good night, mother.

[Exeunt severally; HAMLET dragging in POLONIUS]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE I A room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ,
 and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS There's matter in these sighs, these profound heaves:
 You must translate: 'tis fit we understand them.
 Where is your son?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Bestow this place on us a little while.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Ah, my good lord, what have I seen to-night!

KING CLAUDIUS What, Gertrude? How does Hamlet?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Mad as the sea and wind, when both contend
 Which is the mightier: in his lawless fit,
 Behind the arras hearing something stir,
 Whips out his rapier, cries, 'A rat, a rat!'
 And, in this brainish apprehension, kills
 The unseen good old man.

KING CLAUDIUS O heavy deed!
 It had been so with us, had we been there:

His liberty is full of threats to all;
 To you yourself, to us, to every one.
 Alas, how shall this bloody deed be answer'd?
 It will be laid to us, whose providence
 Should have kept short, restrain'd and out of haunt,
 This mad young man: but so much was our love,
 We would not understand what was most fit;
 But, like the owner of a foul disease,
 To keep it from divulging, let it feed
 Even on the pith of Life. Where is he gone?

QUEEN GERTRUDE To draw apart the body he hath kill'd:
 O'er whom his very madness, like some ore
 Among a mineral of metals base,
 Shows itself pure; he weeps for what is done.

KING CLAUDIUS O Gertrude, come away!
 The sun no sooner shall the mountains touch,
 But we will ship him hence: and this vile deed
 We must, with all our majesty and skill,
 Both countenance and excuse. Ho, Guildenstern!

[Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Friends both, go join you with some further aid:
 Hamlet in madness hath Polonius slain,
 And from his mother's closet hath he dragg'd him:
 Go seek him out; speak fair, and bring the body
 Into the chapel. I pray you, haste in this.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Come, Gertrude, we'll call up our wisest friends;
 And let them know, both what we mean to do,
 And what's untimely done []
 Whose whisper o'er the world's diameter,
 As level as the cannon to his blank,
 Transports his poison'd shot, may miss our name,
 And hit the woundless air. O, come away!
 My soul is full of discord and dismay.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE II Another room in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Safely stowed.

ROSENCRANTZ: |
| [Within] Hamlet! Lord Hamlet!
GUILDENSTERN: |

HAMLET What noise? who calls on Hamlet?
O, here they come.

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

ROSENCRANTZ What have you done, my lord, with the dead body?

HAMLET Compounded it with dust, whereto 'tis kin.

ROSENCRANTZ Tell us where 'tis, that we may take it thence
And bear it to the chapel.

HAMLET Do not believe it.

ROSENCRANTZ Believe what?

HAMLET That I can keep your counsel and not mine own.
Besides, to be demanded of a sponge! what replication should be made by the son of a king?

ROSENCRANTZ Take you me for a sponge, my lord?

HAMLET Ay, sir, that soaks up the king's countenance, his rewards, his authorities. But such officers do the king best service in the end: he keeps them, like an ape, in the corner of his jaw; first mouthed, to be last swallowed: when he needs what you have gleaned, it is but squeezing you, and, sponge, you
shall be dry again.

ROSENCRANTZ I understand you not, my lord.

HAMLET I am glad of it: a knavish speech sleeps in a foolish ear.

ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you must tell us where the body is, and go
with us to the king.

HAMLET The body is with the king, but the king is not with the body. The king is a thing--

GUILDENSTERN A thing, my lord!

HAMLET Of nothing: bring me to him. Hide fox, and all after.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE III Another room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, attended]

KING CLAUDIUS I have sent to seek him, and to find the body.
How dangerous is it that this man goes loose!
Yet must not we put the strong law on him:
He's loved of the distracted multitude,
Who like not in their judgment, but their eyes;
And where tis so, the offender's scourge is weigh'd,
But never the offence. To bear all smooth and even,
This sudden sending him away must seem
Deliberate pause: diseases desperate grown
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all.

[Enter ROSENCRANTZ]

How now! what hath befall'n?

ROSENCRANTZ Where the dead body is bestow'd, my lord,
We cannot get from him.

KING CLAUDIUS But where is he?

ROSENCRANTZ Without, my lord; guarded, to know your pleasure.

KING CLAUDIUS Bring him before us.

ROSENCRANTZ Ho, Guildenstern! bring in my lord.

[Enter HAMLET and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Now, Hamlet, where's Polonius?

HAMLET At supper.

KING CLAUDIUS At supper! where?

HAMLET Not where he eats, but where he is eaten: a certain convocation of politic worms are e'en at him. Your worm is your only emperor for diet: we fat all creatures else to fat us, and we fat ourselves for maggots: your fat king and your lean beggar is but variable service, two dishes, but to one table:

that's the end.

KING CLAUDIUS Alas, alas!

HAMLET A man may fish with the worm that hath eat of a king, and cat of the fish that hath fed of that worm.

KING CLAUDIUS What dost you mean by this?

HAMLET Nothing but to show you how a king may go a progress through the guts of a beggar.

KING CLAUDIUS Where is Polonius?

HAMLET In heaven; send hither to see: if your messenger
find him not there, seek him i' the other place yourself. But indeed, if you find him not within this month, you shall nose him as you go up the stairs into the lobby.

KING CLAUDIUS Go seek him there.

[To some Attendants]

HAMLET He will stay till ye come.

[Exeunt Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Hamlet, this deed, for thine especial safety,--
Which we do tender, as we dearly grieve
For that which thou hast done,--must send thee hence
With fiery quickness: therefore prepare thyself;
The bark is ready, and the wind at help,
The associates tend, and every thing is bent
For England.

HAMLET For England!

KING CLAUDIUS Ay, Hamlet.

HAMLET Good.

KING CLAUDIUS So is it, if thou knew'st our purposes.

HAMLET I see a cherub that sees them. But, come; for England! Farewell, dear mother.

KING CLAUDIUS Thy loving father, Hamlet.

HAMLET My mother: father and mother is man and wife; man and wife is one flesh; and so, my mother. Come, for England!

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow him at foot; tempt him with speed aboard;

Delay it not; I'll have him hence to-night:
Away! for every thing is seal'd and done
That else leans on the affair: pray you, make haste.

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

And, England, if my love thou hold'st at aught--
As my great power thereof may give thee sense,
Since yet thy cicatrice looks raw and red
After the Danish sword, and thy free awe
Pays homage to us--thou mayst not coldly set
Our sovereign process; which imports at full,
By letters congruing to that effect,
The present death of Hamlet. Do it, England;
For like the hectic in my blood he rages,
And thou must cure me: till I know 'tis done,
Howe'er my haps, my joys were ne'er begun.

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE IV A plain in Denmark.

[Enter FORTINBRAS, a Captain, and Soldiers, marching]

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go, captain, from me greet the Danish king;
Tell him that, by his licence, Fortinbras
Craves the conveyance of a promised march
Over his kingdom. You know the rendezvous.
If that his majesty would aught with us,
We shall express our duty in his eye;
And let him know so.

Captain I will do't, my lord.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go softly on.

[Exeunt FORTINBRAS and Soldiers]

[Enter HAMLET, ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and others]

HAMLET Good sir, whose powers are these?

Captain They are of Norway, sir.

HAMLET How purposed, sir, I pray you?

Captain Against some part of Poland.

HAMLET Who commands them, sir?

Captain The nephews to old Norway, Fortinbras.

HAMLET Goes it against the main of Poland, sir,
Or for some frontier?

Captain Truly to speak, and with no addition,
We go to gain a little patch of ground
That hath in it no profit but the name.
To pay five ducats, five, I would not farm it;
Nor will it yield to Norway or the Pole
A ranker rate, should it be sold in fee.

HAMLET Why, then the Polack never will defend it.

Captain Yes, it is already garrison'd.

HAMLET Two thousand souls and twenty thousand ducats
Will not debate the question of this straw:
This is the imposthume of much wealth and peace,
That inward breaks, and shows no cause without
Why the man dies. I humbly thank you, sir.

Captain God be wi' you, sir.

[Exit]

ROSENCRANTZ Wilt please you go, my lord?

HAMLET I'll be with you straight go a little before.

[Exeunt all except HAMLET]

How all occasions do inform against me,
And spur my dull revenge! What is a man,
If his chief good and market of his time
Be but to sleep and feed? a beast, no more.
Sure, he that made us with such large discourse,
Looking before and after, gave us not
That capability and god-like reason
To fust in us unused. Now, whether it be
Bestial oblivion, or some craven scruple
Of thinking too precisely on the event,
A thought which, quarter'd, hath but one part wisdom
And ever three parts coward, I do not know
Why yet I live to say 'This thing's to do;'
Sith I have cause and will and strength and means
To do't. Examples gross as earth exhort me:
Witness this army of such mass and charge
Led by a delicate and tender prince,
Whose spirit with divine ambition puff'd
Makes mouths at the invisible event,

Exposing what is mortal and unsure
To all that fortune, death and danger dare,
Even for an egg-shell. Rightly to be great
Is not to stir without great argument,
But greatly to find quarrel in a straw
When honour's at the stake. How stand I then,
That have a father kill'd, a mother stain'd,
Excitements of my reason and my blood,
And let all sleep? while, to my shame, I see
The imminent death of twenty thousand men,
That, for a fantasy and trick of fame,
Go to their graves like beds, fight for a plot
Whereon the numbers cannot try the cause,
Which is not tomb enough and continent
To hide the slain? O, from this time forth,
My thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!

[Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE V Elsinore. A room in the castle.

[Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE, HORATIO, and a Gentleman]

QUEEN GERTRUDE I will not speak with her.

Gentleman She is importunate, indeed distract:
Her mood will needs be pitied.

QUEEN GERTRUDE What would she have?

Gentleman She speaks much of her father; says she hears
There's tricks i' the world; and hems, and beats her heart;
Spurns enviously at straws; speaks things in doubt,
That carry but half sense: her speech is nothing,
Yet the unshaped use of it doth move
The hearers to collection; they aim at it,
And botch the words up fit to their own thoughts;
Which, as her winks, and nods, and gestures
yield them,
Indeed would make one think there might be thought,
Though nothing sure, yet much unhappily.

HORATIO 'Twere good she were spoken with; for she may strew
Dangerous conjectures in ill-breeding minds.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Let her come in.

[Exit HORATIO]

To my sick soul, as sin's true nature is,
Each toy seems prologue to some great amiss:
So full of artless jealousy is guilt,
It spills itself in fearing to be spilt.

[Re-enter HORATIO, with OPHELIA]

OPHELIA Where is the beauteous majesty of Denmark?

QUEEN GERTRUDE How now, Ophelia!

OPHELIA [Sings]

How should I your true love know
From another one?
By his cockle hat and staff,
And his sandal shoon.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, sweet lady, what imports this song?

OPHELIA Say you? nay, pray you, mark.

[Sings]

He is dead and gone, lady,
He is dead and gone;
At his head a grass-green turf,
At his heels a stone.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, but, Ophelia,--

OPHELIA Pray you, mark.

[Sings]

White his shroud as the mountain snow,--

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, look here, my lord.

OPHELIA [Sings]

Larded with sweet flowers
Which bewept to the grave did go
With true-love showers.

KING CLAUDIUS How do you, pretty lady?

OPHELIA Well, God 'ild you! They say the owl was a baker's daughter. Lord, we know what we are, but know not what we may be. God be at your table!

KING CLAUDIUS Conceit upon her father.

OPHELIA Pray you, let's have no words of this; but when they ask you what it means, say you this:

[Sings]

To-morrow is Saint Valentine's day,
All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window,
To be your Valentine.
Then up he rose, and donn'd his clothes,
And dupp'd the chamber-door;
Let in the maid, that out a maid
Never departed more.

KING CLAUDIUS Pretty Ophelia!

OPHELIA Indeed, la, without an oath, I'll make an end on't:

[Sings]

By Gis and by Saint Charity,
Alack, and fie for shame!
Young men will do't, if they come to't;
By cock, they are to blame.
Quoth she, before you tumbled me,
You promised me to wed.
So would I ha' done, by yonder sun,
An thou hadst not come to my bed.

KING CLAUDIUS How long hath she been thus?

OPHELIA I hope all will be well. We must be patient: but I cannot choose but weep, to think they should lay him i' the cold ground. My brother shall know of it: and so I thank you for your good counsel. Come, my coach! Good night, ladies; good night, sweet ladies; good night, good night.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow her close; give her good watch,
I pray you.

[Exit HORATIO]

O, this is the poison of deep grief; it springs All from her father's death. O Gertrude, Gertrude, When sorrows come, they come not single spies But in battalions. First, her father slain: Next, your son gone; and he most violent author Of his own just remove: the people muddied, Thick and unwholesome in their thoughts and whispers, For good Polonius' death; and we have done but greenly, In hugger-mugger to inter him: poor Ophelia

Divided from herself and her fair judgment,
Without the which we are pictures, or mere beasts:
Last, and as much containing as all these,
Her brother is in secret come from France;
Feeds on his wonder, keeps himself in clouds,
And wants not buzzers to infect his ear
With pestilent speeches of his father's death;
Wherein necessity, of matter beggar'd,
Will nothing stick our person to arraign
In ear and ear. O my dear Gertrude, this,
Like to a murdering-piece, in many places
Gives me superfluous death.

[A noise within]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack, what noise is this?

KING CLAUDIUS Where are my Switzers? Let them guard the door.

[Enter another Gentleman]

What is the matter?

Gentleman Save yourself, my lord:
The ocean, overpeering of his list,
Eats not the flats with more impetuous haste
Than young Laertes, in a riotous head,
O'erbears your officers. The rabble call him lord;
And, as the world were now but to begin,
Antiquity forgot, custom not known,
The ratifiers and props of every word,
They cry 'Choose we: Laertes shall be king:'
Caps, hands, and tongues, applaud it to the clouds:
'Laertes shall be king, Laertes king!'

QUEEN GERTRUDE How cheerfully on the false trail they cry!
O, this is counter, you false Danish dogs!

KING CLAUDIUS The doors are broke.

[Noise within]

[Enter LAERTES, armed; Danes following]

LAERTES Where is this king? Sirs, stand you all without.

Danes No, let's come in.

LAERTES I pray you, give me leave.

Danes We will, we will.

[They retire without the door]

LAERTES I thank you: keep the door. O thou vile king,
Give me my father!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Calmly, good Laertes.

LAERTES That drop of blood that's calm proclaims me bastard,
Cries cuckold to my father, brands the harlot
Even here, between the chaste unsmirched brow
Of my true mother.

KING CLAUDIUS What is the cause, Laertes,
That thy rebellion looks so giant-like?
Let him go, Gertrude; do not fear our person:
There's such divinity doth hedge a king,
That treason can but peep to what it would,
Acts little of his will. Tell me, Laertes,
Why thou art thus incensed. Let him go, Gertrude.
Speak, man.

LAERTES Where is my father?

KING CLAUDIUS Dead.

QUEEN GERTRUDE But not by him.

KING CLAUDIUS Let him demand his fill.

LAERTES How came he dead? I'll not be juggled with:
To hell, allegiance! vows, to the blackest devil!
Conscience and grace, to the profoundest pit!
I dare damnation. To this point I stand,
That both the worlds I give to negligence,
Let come what comes; only I'll be revenged
Most thoroughly for my father.

KING CLAUDIUS Who shall stay you?

LAERTES My will, not all the world:
And for my means, I'll husband them so well,
They shall go far with little.

KING CLAUDIUS Good Laertes,
If you desire to know the certainty
Of your dear father's death, is't writ in your revenge,
That, swoopstake, you will draw both friend and foe,
Winner and loser?

LAERTES None but his enemies.

KING CLAUDIUS Will you know them then?

LAERTES To his good friends thus wide I'll ope my arms;
And like the kind life-rendering pelican,
Repast them with my blood.

KING CLAUDIUS Why, now you speak
Like a good child and a true gentleman.
That I am guiltless of your father's death,

And am most sensible in grief for it,
It shall as level to your judgment pierce
As day does to your eye.

Danes [Within] Let her come in.

LAERTES How now! what noise is that?

[Re-enter OPHELIA]

O heat, dry up my brains! tears seven times salt,
Burn out the sense and virtue of mine eye!
By heaven, thy madness shall be paid by weight,
Till our scale turn the beam. O rose of May!
Dear maid, kind sister, sweet Ophelia!
O heavens! is't possible, a young maid's wits
Should be as moral as an old man's life?
Nature is fine in love, and where 'tis fine,
It sends some precious instance of itself
After the thing it loves.

OPHELIA [Sings]

They bore him barefaced on the bier;
Hey non nonny, nonny, hey nonny;
And in his grave rain'd many a tear:--
Fare you well, my dove!

LAERTES Hadst thou thy wits, and didst persuade revenge,
It could not move thus.

OPHELIA [Sings]

You must sing a-down a-down,
An you call him a-down-a.
O, how the wheel becomes it! It is the false steward, that stole his master's daughter.

LAERTES This nothing's more than matter.

OPHELIA There's rosemary, that's for remembrance; pray,
love, remember: and there is pansies. that's for thoughts.

LAERTES A document in madness, thoughts and remembrance fitted.

OPHELIA There's fennel for you, and columbines: there's rue
for you; and here's some for me: we may call it herb-grace o' Sundays: O you must wear your rue with a difference. There's a daisy: I would give you some violets, but they withered all when my father died: they say he made a good end,--

[Sings]

For bonny sweet Robin is all my joy.

LAERTES Thought and affliction, passion, hell itself,
She turns to favour and to prettiness.

OPHELIA [Sings]

And will he not come again?
And will he not come again?
No, no, he is dead:
Go to thy death-bed:
He never will come again.

His beard was as white as snow,
All flaxen was his poll:
He is gone, he is gone,
And we cast away moan:
God ha' mercy on his soul!

And of all Christian souls, I pray God. God be wi' ye.

[Exit]

LAERTES Do you see this, O God?

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, I must commune with your grief,
Or you deny me right. Go but apart,
Make choice of whom your wisest friends you will.
And they shall hear and judge 'twixt you and me:
If by direct or by collateral hand
They find us touch'd, we will our kingdom give,
Our crown, our life, and all that we can ours,
To you in satisfaction; but if not,
Be you content to lend your patience to us,
And we shall jointly labour with your soul
To give it due content.

LAERTES Let this be so;
His means of death, his obscure funeral--
No trophy, sword, nor hatchment o'er his bones,
No noble rite nor formal ostentation--
Cry to be heard, as 'twere from heaven to earth,
That I must call't in question.

KING CLAUDIUS So you shall;
And where the offence is let the great axe fall.
I pray you, go with me.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VI Another room in the castle.

[Enter HORATIO and a Servant]

HORATIO What are they that would speak with me?

Servant Sailors, sir: they say they have letters for you.

HORATIO Let them come in.

[Exit Servant]

I do not know from what part of the world
I should be greeted, if not from Lord Hamlet.

[Enter Sailors]

First Sailor God bless you, sir.

HORATIO Let him bless thee too.

First Sailor He shall, sir, an't please him. There's a letter for you, sir; it comes from the ambassador that was bound for England; if your name be Horatio, as I am
let to know it is.

HORATIO [Reads] 'Horatio, when thou shalt have overlooked
this, give these fellows some means to the king:
they have letters for him. Ere we were two days old at sea, a pirate of very warlike appointment gave us chase. Finding ourselves too slow of sail, we put on a compelled valour, and in the grapple I boarded
them: on the instant they got clear of our ship; so I alone became their prisoner. They have dealt with me like thieves of mercy: but they knew what they did; I am to do a good turn for them. Let the king have the letters I have sent; and repair thou to me with as much speed as thou wouldest fly death. I have words to speak in thine ear will make thee
dumb; yet are they much too light for the bore of the matter. These good fellows will bring thee where I am. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern hold their course for England: of them I have much to tell thee. Farewell.
'He that thou knowest thine, HAMLET.'
Come, I will make you way for these your letters;
And do't the speedier, that you may direct me
To him from whom you brought them.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VII Another room in the castle.

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS and LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Now must your conscience my acquaintance seal,
And you must put me in your heart for friend,
Sith you have heard, and with a knowing ear,
That he which hath your noble father slain
Pursued my life.

LAERTES It well appears: but tell me
Why you proceeded not against these feats,
So crimeful and so capital in nature,
As by your safety, wisdom, all things else,
You mainly were stirr'd up.

KING CLAUDIUS O, for two special reasons;
Which may to you, perhaps, seem much unsinew'd,
But yet to me they are strong. The queen his mother
Lives almost by his looks; and for myself--
My virtue or my plague, be it either which--
She's so conjunctive to my life and soul,
That, as the star moves not but in his sphere,
I could not but by her. The other motive,
Why to a public count I might not go,
Is the great love the general gender bear him;
Who, dipping all his faults in their affection,
Would, like the spring that turneth wood to stone,
Convert his gyves to graces; so that my arrows,
Too slightly timber'd for so loud a wind,
Would have reverted to my bow again,
And not where I had aim'd them.

LAERTES And so have I a noble father lost;
A sister driven into desperate terms,
Whose worth, if praises may go back again,
Stood challenger on mount of all the age
For her perfections: but my revenge will come.

KING CLAUDIUS Break not your sleeps for that: you must not think
That we are made of stuff so flat and dull
That we can let our beard be shook with danger
And think it pastime. You shortly shall hear more:
I loved your father, and we love ourself;
And that, I hope, will teach you to imagine--

[Enter a Messenger]

How now! what news?

Messenger Letters, my lord, from Hamlet:
This to your majesty; this to the queen.

KING CLAUDIUS From Hamlet! who brought them?

Messenger Sailors, my lord, they say; I saw them not:
They were given me by Claudio; he received them
Of him that brought them.

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, you shall hear them. Leave us.

[Exit Messenger]

[Reads]

'High and mighty, You shall know I am set naked on your kingdom. To-morrow shall I beg leave to see your kingly eyes: when I shall, first asking your pardon thereunto, recount the occasion of my sudden
and more strange return. 'HAMLET.'
What should this mean? Are all the rest come back?
Or is it some abuse, and no such thing?

LAERTES Know you the hand?

KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis Hamlets character. 'Naked!
And in a postscript here, he says 'alone.'
Can you advise me?

LAERTES I'm lost in it, my lord. But let him come;
It warms the very sickness in my heart,
That I shall live and tell him to his teeth,
'Thus didest thou.'

KING CLAUDIUS If it be so, Laertes--
As how should it be so? how otherwise?--
Will you be ruled by me?

LAERTES Ay, my lord;
So you will not o'errule me to a peace.

KING CLAUDIUS To thine own peace. If he be now return'd,
As checking at his voyage, and that he means
No more to undertake it, I will work him
To an exploit, now ripe in my device,
Under the which he shall not choose but fall:
And for his death no wind of blame shall breathe,
But even his mother shall uncharge the practise
And call it accident.

LAERTES My lord, I will be ruled;
The rather, if you could devise it so
That I might be the organ.

KING CLAUDIUS It falls right.

You have been talk'd of since your travel much,
And that in Hamlet's hearing, for a quality
Wherein, they say, you shine: your sum of parts
Did not together pluck such envy from him
As did that one, and that, in my regard,
Of the unworthiest siege.

LAERTES What part is that, my lord?

KING CLAUDIUS A very riband in the cap of youth,
Yet needful too; for youth no less becomes
The light and careless livery that it wears
Than settled age his sables and his weeds,
Importing health and graveness. Two months since,
Here was a gentleman of Normandy:--
I've seen myself, and served against, the French,
And they can well on horseback: but this gallant
Had witchcraft in't; he grew unto his seat;
And to such wondrous doing brought his horse,
As he had been incorpsed and demi-natured
With the brave beast: so far he topp'd my thought,
That I, in forgery of shapes and tricks,
Come short of what he did.

LAERTES A Norman was't?

KING CLAUDIUS A Norman.

LAERTES Upon my life, Lamond.

KING CLAUDIUS The very same.

LAERTES I know him well: he is the brooch indeed
And gem of all the nation.

KING CLAUDIUS He made confession of you,
And gave you such a masterly report
For art and exercise in your defence
And for your rapier most especially,
That he cried out, 'twould be a sight indeed,
If one could match you: the scrimers of their nation,
He swore, had had neither motion, guard, nor eye,
If you opposed them. Sir, this report of his
Did Hamlet so envenom with his envy
That he could nothing do but wish and beg
Your sudden coming o'er, to play with him.
Now, out of this,--

LAERTES What out of this, my lord?

KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, was your father dear to you?
Or are you like the painting of a sorrow,
A face without a heart?

LAERTES Why ask you this?

KING CLAUDIUS Not that I think you did not love your father;
 But that I know love is begun by time;
 And that I see, in passages of proof,
 Time qualifies the spark and fire of it.
 There lives within the very flame of love
 A kind of wick or snuff that will abate it;
 And nothing is at a like goodness still;
 For goodness, growing to a plurisy,
 Dies in his own too much: that we would do
 We should do when we would; for this 'would' changes
 And hath abatements and delays as many
 As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents;
 And then this 'should' is like a spendthrift sigh,
 That hurts by easing. But, to the quick o' the ulcer:--
 Hamlet comes back: what would you undertake,
 To show yourself your father's son in deed
 More than in words?

LAERTES To cut his throat i' the church.

KING CLAUDIUS No place, indeed, should murder sanctuarize;
 Revenge should have no bounds. But, good Laertes,
 Will you do this, keep close within your chamber.
 Hamlet return'd shall know you are come home:
 We'll put on those shall praise your excellency
 And set a double varnish on the fame
 The Frenchman gave you, bring you in fine together
 And wager on your heads: he, being remiss,
 Most generous and free from all contriving,
 Will not peruse the foils; so that, with ease,
 Or with a little shuffling, you may choose
 A sword unbated, and in a pass of practise
 Requite him for your father.

LAERTES I will do't:

And, for that purpose, I'll anoint my sword.
 I bought an unction of a mountebank,
 So mortal that, but dip a knife in it,
 Where it draws blood no cataplasm so rare,
 Collected from all simples that have virtue
 Under the moon, can save the thing from death
 That is but scratch'd withal: I'll touch my point
 With this contagion, that, if I gall him slightly,
 It may be death.

KING CLAUDIUS Let's further think of this;
 Weigh what convenience both of time and means
 May fit us to our shape: if this should fail,
 And that our drift look through our bad performance,
 'Twere better not assay'd: therefore this project
 Should have a back or second, that might hold,
 If this should blast in proof. Soft! let me see:
 We'll make a solemn wager on your cunning: I ha't.
 When in your motion you are hot and dry--
 As make your bouts more violent to that end--

And that he calls for drink, I'll have prepared him
A chalice for the nonce, whereon but sipping,
If he by chance escape your venom'd stuck,
Our purpose may hold there.

[Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE]

How now, sweet queen!

QUEEN GERTRUDE One woe doth tread upon another's heel,
So fast they follow; your sister's drown'd, Laertes.

LAERTES Drown'd! O, where?

QUEEN GERTRUDE There is a willow grows aslant a brook,
That shows his hoar leaves in the glassy stream;
There with fantastic garlands did she come
Of crow-flowers, nettles, daisies, and long purples
That liberal shepherds give a grosser name,
But our cold maids do dead men's fingers call them:
There, on the pendent boughs her coronet weeds
Clambering to hang, an envious sliver broke;
When down her weedy trophies and herself
Fell in the weeping brook. Her clothes spread wide;
And, mermaid-like, awhile they bore her up:
Which time she chanted snatches of old tunes;
As one incapable of her own distress,
Or like a creature native and indued
Unto that element: but long it could not be
Till that her garments, heavy with their drink,
Pull'd the poor wretch from her melodious lay
To muddy death.

LAERTES Alas, then, she is drown'd?

QUEEN GERTRUDE Drown'd, drown'd.

LAERTES Too much of water hast thou, poor Ophelia,
And therefore I forbid my tears: but yet
It is our trick; nature her custom holds,
Let shame say what it will: when these are gone,
The woman will be out. Adieu, my lord:
I have a speech of fire, that fain would blaze,
But that this folly douts it.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Let's follow, Gertrude:
How much I had to do to calm his rage!
Now fear I this will give it start again;
Therefore let's follow.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE I A churchyard.

[Enter two Clowns, with spades, &c]

First Clown Is she to be buried in Christian burial that wilfully seeks her own salvation?

Second Clown I tell thee she is: and therefore make her grave straight: the crowner hath sat on her, and finds it Christian burial.

First Clown How can that be, unless she drowned herself in her own defence?

Second Clown Why, 'tis found so.

First Clown It must be 'se offendendo;' it cannot be else. For here lies the point: if I drown myself wittingly, it argues an act: and an act hath three branches: it is, to act, to do, to perform: argal, she drowned herself wittingly.

Second Clown Nay, but hear you, goodman delver,--

First Clown Give me leave. Here lies the water; good: here stands the man; good; if the man go to this water, and drown himself, it is, will he, nill he, he goes,--mark you that; but if the water come to him and drown him, he drowns not himself: argal, he that is not guilty of his own death shortens not his own life.

Second Clown But is this law?

First Clown Ay, marry, is't; crowner's quest law.

Second Clown Will you ha' the truth on't? If this had not been a gentlewoman, she should have been buried out o' Christian burial.

First Clown Why, there thou say'st: and the more pity that great folk should have countenance in this world to drown or hang themselves, more than their even Christian. Come, my spade. There is no ancient gentleman but gardeners, ditchers, and grave-makers: they hold up Adam's profession.

Second Clown Was he a gentleman?

First Clown He was the first that ever bore arms.

Second Clown Why, he had none.

First Clown What, art a heathen? How dost thou understand the Scripture? The Scripture says 'Adam digged:' could he dig without arms? I'll put another question to thee: if thou answerest me not to the purpose, confess thyself--

Second Clown Go to.

First Clown What is he that builds stronger than either the mason, the shipwright, or the carpenter?

Second Clown The gallows-maker; for that frame outlives a thousand tenants.

First Clown I like thy wit well, in good faith: the gallows does well; but how does it well? it does well to those that do in: now thou dost ill to say the gallows is built stronger than the church: argal, the gallows may do well to thee. To't again, come.

Second Clown 'Who builds stronger than a mason, a shipwright, or a carpenter?'

First Clown Ay, tell me that, and unyoke.

Second Clown Marry, now I can tell.

First Clown To't.

Second Clown Mass, I cannot tell.

[Enter HAMLET and HORATIO, at a distance]

First Clown Cudgel thy brains no more about it, for your dull ass will not mend his pace with beating; and, when you are asked this question next, say 'a grave-maker: 'the houses that he makes last till doomsday. Go, get thee to Yaughan: fetch me a stoup of liquor.

[Exit Second Clown]

[He digs and sings]

In youth, when I did love, did love,
Methought it was very sweet,
To contract, O, the time, for, ah, my behove,
O, methought, there was nothing meet.

HAMLET Has this fellow no feeling of his business, that he sings at grave-making?

HORATIO Custom hath made it in him a property of easiness.

HAMLET 'Tis e'en so: the hand of little employment hath
the daintier sense.

First Clown [Sings]

But age, with his stealing steps,
Hath claw'd me in his clutch,
And hath shipped me intil the land,
As if I had never been such.

[Throws up a skull]

HAMLET That skull had a tongue in it, and could sing once:
how the knave jowls it to the ground, as if it were Cain's jaw-bone, that did the first murder! It might be the pate of a politician, which this ass
now o'er-reaches; one that would circumvent God,
might it not?

HORATIO It might, my lord.

HAMLET Or of a courtier; which could say 'Good morrow,
sweet lord! How dost thou, good lord?' This might be my lord such-a-one, that praised my lord
such-a-one's horse, when he meant to beg it; might it not?

HORATIO Ay, my lord.

HAMLET Why, e'en so: and now my Lady Worm's; chapless, and
knocked about the mazzard with a sexton's spade:
here's fine revolution, an we had the trick to see't. Did these bones cost no more the breeding,
but to play at loggats with 'em? mine ache to think on't.

First Clown: [Sings]

A pick-axe, and a spade, a spade,
For and a shrouding sheet:
O, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

[Throws up another skull]

HAMLET There's another: why may not that be the skull of a lawyer? Where be his quiddities now, his quilletts, his cases, his tenures, and his tricks? why does he suffer this rude knave now to knock him about the sconce with a dirty shovel, and will not tell him of his action of battery? Hum! This fellow might be in's time a great buyer of land, with his statutes,
his recognizances, his fines, his double vouchers,
his recoveries: is this the fine of his fines, and
the recovery of his recoveries, to have his fine

pate full of fine dirt? will his vouchers vouch him no more of his purchases, and double ones too, than the length and breadth of a pair of indentures? The very conveyances of his lands will hardly lie in this box; and must the inheritor himself have no more, ha?

HORATIO Not a jot more, my lord.

HAMLET Is not parchment made of sheepskins?

HORATIO Ay, my lord, and of calf-skins too.

HAMLET They are sheep and calves which seek out assurance in that. I will speak to this fellow. Whose grave's this, sirrah?

First Clown Mine, sir.

[Sings]

O, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

HAMLET I think it be thine, indeed; for thou liest in't.

First Clown You lie out on't, sir, and therefore it is not yours: for my part, I do not lie in't, and yet it is mine.

HAMLET 'Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say it is thine:
'tis for the dead, not for the quick; therefore thou liest.

First Clown 'Tis a quick lie, sir; 'twill away gain, from me to you.

HAMLET What man dost thou dig it for?

First Clown For no man, sir.

HAMLET What woman, then?

First Clown For none, neither.

HAMLET Who is to be buried in't?

First Clown One that was a woman, sir; but, rest her soul, she's dead.

HAMLET How absolute the knave is! we must speak by the card, or equivocation will undo us. By the Lord, Horatio, these three years I have taken a note of it; the age is grown so picked that the toe of the peasant comes so near the heel of the courtier, he gaffs his kibe. How long hast thou been a grave-maker?

First Clown Of all the days i' the year, I came to't that day that our last king Hamlet overcame Fortinbras.

HAMLET How long is that since?

First Clown Cannot you tell that? every fool can tell that: it was the very day that young Hamlet was born; he that is mad, and sent into England.

HAMLET Ay, marry, why was he sent into England?

First Clown Why, because he was mad: he shall recover his wits there; or, if he do not, it's no great matter there.

HAMLET Why?

First Clown 'Twill, a not be seen in him there; there the men are as mad as he.

HAMLET How came he mad?

First Clown Very strangely, they say.

HAMLET How strangely?

First Clown Faith, e'en with losing his wits.

HAMLET Upon what ground?

First Clown Why, here in Denmark: I have been sexton here, man and boy, thirty years.

HAMLET How long will a man lie i' the earth ere he rot?

First Clown I' faith, if he be not rotten before he die--as we have many pocky corses now-a-days, that will scarce hold the laying in--he will last you some eight year or nine year: a tanner will last you nine year.

HAMLET Why he more than another?

First Clown Why, sir, his hide is so tanned with his trade, that he will keep out water a great while; and your water is a sore decayer of your whoreson dead body.
Here's a skull now; this skull has lain in the earth three and twenty years.

HAMLET Whose was it?

First Clown A whoreson mad fellow's it was: whose do you think it was?

HAMLET Nay, I know not.

First Clown A pestilence on him for a mad rogue! a' poured a flagon of Rhenish on my head once. This same skull, sir, was Yorick's skull, the king's jester.

HAMLET This?

First Clown E'en that.

HAMLET Let me see.

[Takes the skull]

Alas, poor Yorick! I knew him, Horatio: a fellow of infinite jest, of most excellent fancy: he hath borne me on his back a thousand times; and now, how abhorred in my imagination it is! my gorge rims at it. Here hung those lips that I have kissed I know not how oft. Where be your gibes now? your gambols? your songs? your flashes of merriment, that were wont to set the table on a roar? Not one now, to mock your own grinning? quite chap-fallen? Now get you to my lady's chamber, and tell her, let her paint an inch thick, to this favour she must come; make her laugh at that. Prithee, Horatio, tell me one thing.

HORATIO What's that, my lord?

HAMLET Dost thou think Alexander looked o' this fashion i' the earth?

HORATIO E'en so.

HAMLET And smelt so? pah!

[Puts down the skull]

HORATIO E'en so, my lord.

HAMLET To what base uses we may return, Horatio! Why may not imagination trace the noble dust of Alexander, till he find it stopping a bung-hole?

HORATIO 'Twere to consider too curiously, to consider so.

HAMLET No, faith, not a jot; but to follow him thither with modesty enough, and likelihood to lead it: as thus: Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander returneth into dust; the dust is earth; of earth we make loam; and why of that loam, whereto he was converted, might they not stop a beer-barrel? Imperious Caesar, dead and turn'd to clay, Might stop a hole to keep the wind away: O, that that earth, which kept the world in awe, Should patch a wall to expel the winter flaw! But soft! but soft! aside: here comes the king.

[Enter Priest, &c. in procession; the Corpse of OPHELIA, LAERTES and Mourners following; KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, their trains, &c]

The queen, the courtiers: who is this they follow?
And with such maimed rites? This doth betoken
The corse they follow did with desperate hand
Fordo its own life: 'twas of some estate.
Couch we awhile, and mark.

[Retiring with HORATIO]

LAERTES What ceremony else?

HAMLET That is Laertes,
A very noble youth: mark.

LAERTES What ceremony else?

First Priest Her obsequies have been as far enlarged
As we have warrantise: her death was doubtful;
And, but that great command o'ersways the order,
She should in ground unsanctified have lodged
Till the last trumpet: for charitable prayers,
Shards, flints and pebbles should be thrown on her;
Yet here she is allow'd her virgin crants,
Her maiden strewments and the bringing home
Of bell and burial.

LAERTES Must there no more be done?

First Priest No more be done:
We should profane the service of the dead
To sing a requiem and such rest to her
As to peace-parted souls.

LAERTES Lay her i' the earth:
And from her fair and unpolluted flesh
May violets spring! I tell thee, churlish priest,
A ministering angel shall my sister be,
When thou liest howling.

HAMLET What, the fair Ophelia!

QUEEN GERTRUDE Sweets to the sweet: farewell!

[Scattering flowers]

I hoped thou shouldst have been my Hamlet's wife;
I thought thy bride-bed to have deck'd, sweet maid,
And not have strew'd thy grave.

LAERTES O, treble woe
Fall ten times treble on that cursed head,
Whose wicked deed thy most ingenious sense
Deprived thee of! Hold off the earth awhile,
Till I have caught her once more in mine arms:

[Leaps into the grave]

Now pile your dust upon the quick and dead,
Till of this flat a mountain you have made,
To o'ertop old Pelion, or the skyish head
Of blue Olympus.

HAMLET [Advancing] What is he whose grief
Bears such an emphasis? whose phrase of sorrow
Conjures the wandering stars, and makes them stand
Like wonder-wounded hearers? This is I,
Hamlet the Dane.

[Leaps into the grave]

LAERTES The devil take thy soul!

[Grappling with him]

HAMLET Thou pray'st not well.
I prithee, take thy fingers from my throat;
For, though I am not splenitive and rash,
Yet have I something in me dangerous,
Which let thy wiseness fear: hold off thy hand.

KING CLAUDIUS Pluck them asunder.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, Hamlet!

All Gentlemen,--

HORATIO Good my lord, be quiet.

[The Attendants part them, and they come out of the grave]

HAMLET Why I will fight with him upon this theme
Until my eyelids will no longer wag.

QUEEN GERTRUDE O my son, what theme?

HAMLET I loved Ophelia: forty thousand brothers
Could not, with all their quantity of love,
Make up my sum. What wilt thou do for her?

KING CLAUDIUS O, he is mad, Laertes.

QUEEN GERTRUDE For love of God, forbear him.

HAMLET 'Swounds, show me what thou'l do:
Woo't weep? woo't fight? woo't fast? woo't tear thyself?
Woo't drink up eisel? eat a crocodile?
I'll do't. Dost thou come here to whine?
To outface me with leaping in her grave?
Be buried quick with her, and so will I:
And, if thou prate of mountains, let them throw
Millions of acres on us, till our ground,
Singeing his pate against the burning zone,
Make Ossa like a wart! Nay, an thou'l mouth,

I'll rant as well as thou.

QUEEN GERTRUDE This is mere madness:
And thus awhile the fit will work on him;
Anon, as patient as the female dove,
When that her golden couplets are disclosed,
His silence will sit drooping.

HAMLET Hear you, sir;
What is the reason that you use me thus?
I loved you ever: but it is no matter;
Let Hercules himself do what he may,
The cat will mew and dog will have his day.

[Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS I pray you, good Horatio, wait upon him.

[Exit HORATIO]

[To LAERTES]

Strengthen your patience in our last night's speech;
We'll put the matter to the present push.
Good Gertrude, set some watch over your son.
This grave shall have a living monument:
An hour of quiet shortly shall we see;
Till then, in patience our proceeding be.

[Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE II A hall in the castle.

[Enter HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET So much for this, sir: now shall you see the other;
You do remember all the circumstance?

HORATIO Remember it, my lord?

HAMLET Sir, in my heart there was a kind of fighting,
That would not let me sleep: methought I lay
Worse than the mutines in the bilboes. Rashly,
And praised be rashness for it, let us know,
Our indiscretion sometimes serves us well,
When our deep plots do pall: and that should teach us

There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
Rough-hew them how we will,--

HORATIO That is most certain.

HAMLET Up from my cabin,
My sea-gown scarf'd about me, in the dark
Groped I to find out them; had my desire.
Finger'd their packet, and in fine withdrew
To mine own room again; making so bold,
My fears forgetting manners, to unseal
Their grand commission; where I found, Horatio,--
O royal knavery!--an exact command,
Larded with many several sorts of reasons
Importing Denmark's health and England's too,
With, ho! such bugs and goblins in my life,
That, on the supervise, no leisure bated,
No, not to stay the grinding of the axe,
My head should be struck off.

HORATIO Is't possible?

HAMLET Here's the commission: read it at more leisure.
But wilt thou hear me how I did proceed?

HORATIO I beseech you.

HAMLET Being thus be-netted round with villanies,--
Ere I could make a prologue to my brains,
They had begun the play--I sat me down,
Devised a new commission, wrote it fair:
I once did hold it, as our statists do,
A baseness to write fair and labour'd much
How to forget that learning, but, sir, now
It did me yeoman's service: wilt thou know
The effect of what I wrote?

HORATIO Ay, good my lord.

HAMLET An earnest conjuration from the king,
As England was his faithful tributary,
As love between them like the palm might flourish,
As peace should stiff her wheaten garland wear
And stand a comma 'tween their amities,
And many such-like 'As'es of great charge,
That, on the view and knowing of these contents,
Without debatement further, more or less,
He should the bearers put to sudden death,
Not shriving-time allow'd.

HORATIO How was this seal'd?

HAMLET Why, even in that was heaven ordinant.
I had my father's signet in my purse,
Which was the model of that Danish seal;
Folded the writ up in form of the other,

Subscribed it, gave't the impression, placed it safely,
The changeling never known. Now, the next day
Was our sea-fight; and what to this was sequent
Thou know'st already.

HORATIO So Guildenstern and Rosencrantz go to't.

HAMLET Why, man, they did make love to this employment;
They are not near my conscience; their defeat
Does by their own insinuation grow:
'Tis dangerous when the baser nature comes
Between the pass and fell incensed points
Of mighty opposites.

HORATIO Why, what a king is this!

HAMLET Does it not, think'st thee, stand me now upon--
He that hath kill'd my king and whored my mother,
Popp'd in between the election and my hopes,
Thrown out his angle for my proper life,
And with such cozenage--is't not perfect conscience,
To quit him with this arm? and is't not to be damn'd,
To let this canker of our nature come
In further evil?

HORATIO It must be shortly known to him from England
What is the issue of the business there.

HAMLET It will be short: the interim is mine;
And a man's life's no more than to say 'One.'
But I am very sorry, good Horatio,
That to Laertes I forgot myself;
For, by the image of my cause, I see
The portraiture of his: I'll court his favours.
But, sure, the bravery of his grief did put me
Into a towering passion.

HORATIO Peace! who comes here?

[Enter OSRIC]

OSRIC Your lordship is right welcome back to Denmark.

HAMLET I humbly thank you, sir. Dost know this water-fly?

HORATIO No, my good lord.

HAMLET Thy state is the more gracious; for 'tis a vice to know him. He hath much land, and fertile: let a beast be lord of beasts, and his crib shall stand at
the king's mess: 'tis a chough; but, as I say,
spacious in the possession of dirt.

OSRIC Sweet lord, if your lordship were at leisure, I should impart a thing to you from his majesty.

HAMLET I will receive it, sir, with all diligence of spirit. Put your bonnet to his right use; 'tis for the head.

OSRIC I thank your lordship, it is very hot.

HAMLET No, believe me, 'tis very cold; the wind is northerly.

OSRIC It is indifferent cold, my lord, indeed.

HAMLET But yet methinks it is very sultry and hot for my complexion.

OSRIC Exceedingly, my lord; it is very sultry,--as 'twere,--I cannot tell how. But, my lord, his majesty bade me signify to you that he has laid a great wager on your head: sir, this is the matter,--

HAMLET I beseech you, remember--

[HAMLET moves him to put on his hat]

OSRIC Nay, good my lord; for mine ease, in good faith. Sir, here is newly come to court Laertes; believe me, an absolute gentleman, full of most excellent differences, of very soft society and great showing: indeed, to speak feelingly of him, he is the card or calendar of gentry, for you shall find in him the continent of what part a gentleman would see.

HAMLET Sir, his definement suffers no perdition in you; though, I know, to divide him inventorially would dizzy the arithmetic of memory, and yet but yaw neither, in respect of his quick sail. But, in the verity of extolment, I take him to be a soul of great article; and his infusion of such dearth and rareness, as, to make true diction of him, his semblable is his mirror; and who else would trace him, his umbrage, nothing more.

OSRIC Your lordship speaks most infallibly of him.

HAMLET The concernancy, sir? why do we wrap the gentleman in our more rawer breath?

OSRIC Sir?

HORATIO Is't not possible to understand in another tongue? You will do't, sir, really.

HAMLET What imports the nomination of this gentleman?

OSRIC Of Laertes?

HORATIO His purse is empty already; all's golden words are spent.

HAMLET Of him, sir.

OSRIC I know you are not ignorant--

HAMLET I would you did, sir; yet, in faith, if you did,
it would not much approve me. Well, sir?

OSRIC You are not ignorant of what excellency Laertes is--

HAMLET I dare not confess that, lest I should compare with him in excellency; but, to know a man well, were to know himself.

OSRIC I mean, sir, for his weapon; but in the imputation
laid on him by them, in his meed he's unfellowed.

HAMLET What's his weapon?

OSRIC Rapier and dagger.

HAMLET That's two of his weapons: but, well.

OSRIC The king, sir, hath wagered with him six Barbary
horses: against the which he has imposed, as I take it, six French rapiers and poniards, with their assigns, as girdle, hangers, and so: three of the carriages, in faith, are very dear to fancy, very responsive to the hilts, most delicate carriages,
and of very liberal conceit.

HAMLET What call you the carriages?

HORATIO I knew you must be edified by the Margaret ere you had done.

OSRIC The carriages, sir, are the hangers.

HAMLET The phrase would be more german to the matter, if we could carry cannon by our sides: I would it might be hangers till then. But, on: six Barbary horses against six French swords, their assigns, and three liberal-conceited carriages; that's the French bet
against the Danish. Why is this 'imposed,' as you call it?

OSRIC The king, sir, hath laid, that in a dozen passes
between yourself and him, he shall not exceed you
three hits: he hath laid on twelve for nine; and it would come to immediate trial, if your lordship would vouchsafe the answer.

HAMLET How if I answer 'no'?

OSRIC I mean, my lord, the opposition of your person in trial.

HAMLET Sir, I will walk here in the hall: if it please his majesty, 'tis the breathing time of day with me; let
the foils be brought, the gentleman willing, and the king hold his purpose, I will win for him an I can;

if not, I will gain nothing but my shame and the odd hits.

OSRIC Shall I re-deliver you e'en so?

HAMLET To this effect, sir; after what flourish your nature will.

OSRIC I commend my duty to your lordship.

HAMLET Yours, yours.

[Exit OSRIC]

He does well to commend it himself; there are no
tongues else for's turn.

HORATIO This lapwing runs away with the shell on his head.

HAMLET He did comply with his dug, before he sucked it.
Thus has he--and many more of the same bevy that I know the dressy age dotes on--only got the tune of the time and outward habit of encounter; a kind of yesty collection, which carries them through and through the most fond and winnowed opinions; and do
but blow them to their trial, the bubbles are out.

[Enter a Lord]

Lord My lord, his majesty commended him to you by young Osric, who brings back to him that you attend him in the hall: he sends to know if your pleasure hold to play with Laertes, or that you will take longer time.

HAMLET I am constant to my purpose; they follow the king's pleasure: if his fitness speaks, mine is ready; now
or whensoever, provided I be so able as now.

Lord The king and queen and all are coming down.

HAMLET In happy time.

Lord The queen desires you to use some gentle
entertainment to Laertes before you fall to play.

HAMLET She well instructs me.

[Exit Lord]

HORATIO You will lose this wager, my lord.

HAMLET I do not think so: since he went into France, I have been in continual practise: I shall win at the odds. But thou wouldest not think how ill all's here about my heart: but it is no matter.

HORATIO Nay, good my lord,--

HAMLET It is but foolery; but it is such a kind of gain-giving, as would perhaps trouble a woman.

HORATIO If your mind dislike any thing, obey it: I will forestall their repair hither, and say you are not fit.

HAMLET Not a whit, we defy augury: there's a special providence in the fall of a sparrow. If it be now, 'tis not to come; if it be not to come, it will be now; if it be not now, yet it will come: the readiness is all: since no man has aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, LAERTES, Lords, OSRIC, and Attendants with foils, &c]

KING CLAUDIUS Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me.

[KING CLAUDIUS puts LAERTES' hand into HAMLET's]

HAMLET Give me your pardon, sir: I've done you wrong; But pardon't, as you are a gentleman.
This presence knows,
And you must needs have heard, how I am punish'd
With sore distraction. What I have done,
That might your nature, honour and exception
Roughly awake, I here proclaim was madness.
Was't Hamlet wrong'd Laertes? Never Hamlet:
If Hamlet from himself be ta'en away,
And when he's not himself does wrong Laertes,
Then Hamlet does it not, Hamlet denies it.
Who does it, then? His madness: if't be so,
Hamlet is of the faction that is wrong'd;
His madness is poor Hamlet's enemy.
Sir, in this audience,
Let my disclaiming from a purposed evil
Free me so far in your most generous thoughts,
That I have shot mine arrow o'er the house,
And hurt my brother.

LAERTES I am satisfied in nature,
Whose motive, in this case, should stir me most
To my revenge: but in my terms of honour
I stand aloof; and will no reconciliation,
Till by some elder masters, of known honour,
I have a voice and precedent of peace,
To keep my name ungored. But till that time,
I do receive your offer'd love like love,
And will not wrong it.

HAMLET I embrace it freely;
And will this brother's wager frankly play.
Give us the foils. Come on.

LAERTES Come, one for me.

HAMLET I'll be your foil, Laertes: in mine ignorance
Your skill shall, like a star i' the darkest night,
Stick fiery off indeed.

LAERTES You mock me, sir.

HAMLET No, by this hand.

KING CLAUDIUS Give them the foils, young Osric. Cousin Hamlet,
You know the wager?

HAMLET Very well, my lord
Your grace hath laid the odds o' the weaker side.

KING CLAUDIUS I do not fear it; I have seen you both:
But since he is better'd, we have therefore odds.

LAERTES This is too heavy, let me see another.

HAMLET This likes me well. These foils have all a length?

[They prepare to play]

OSRIC Ay, my good lord.

KING CLAUDIUS Set me the stoops of wine upon that table.
If Hamlet give the first or second hit,
Or quit in answer of the third exchange,
Let all the battlements their ordnance fire:
The king shall drink to Hamlet's better breath;
And in the cup an union shall he throw,
Richer than that which four successive kings
In Denmark's crown have worn. Give me the cups;
And let the kettle to the trumpet speak,
The trumpet to the cannoneer without,
The cannons to the heavens, the heavens to earth,
'Now the king dunks to Hamlet.' Come, begin:
And you, the judges, bear a wary eye.

HAMLET Come on, sir.

LAERTES Come, my lord.

[They play]

HAMLET One.

LAERTES No.

HAMLET Judgment.

OSRIC A hit, a very palpable hit.

LAERTES Well; again.

KING CLAUDIUS Stay; give me drink. Hamlet, this pearl is thine;
Here's to thy health.

[Trumpets sound, and cannon shot off within]

Give him the cup.

HAMLET I'll play this bout first; set it by awhile. Come.

[They play]

Another hit; what say you?

LAERTES A touch, a touch, I do confess.

KING CLAUDIUS Our son shall win.

QUEEN GERTRUDE He's fat, and scant of breath.
Here, Hamlet, take my napkin, rub thy brows;
The queen carouses to thy fortune, Hamlet.

HAMLET Good madam!

KING CLAUDIUS Gertrude, do not drink.

QUEEN GERTRUDE I will, my lord; I pray you, pardon me.

KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] It is the poison'd cup: it is too late.

HAMLET I dare not drink yet, madam; by and by.

QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, let me wipe thy face.

LAERTES My lord, I'll hit him now.

KING CLAUDIUS I do not think't.

LAERTES [Aside] And yet 'tis almost 'gainst my conscience.

HAMLET Come, for the third, Laertes: you but dally;
I pray you, pass with your best violence;
I am afeard you make a wanton of me.

LAERTES Say you so? come on.

[They play]

OSRIC Nothing, neither way.

LAERTES Have at you now!

[LAERTES wounds HAMLET; then in scuffling, they change rapiers, and HAMLET wounds LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Part them; they are incensed.

HAMLET Nay, come, again.

[QUEEN GERTRUDE falls]

OSRIC Look to the queen there, ho!

HORATIO They bleed on both sides. How is it, my lord?

OSRIC How is't, Laertes?

LAERTES Why, as a woodcock to mine own springe, Osric;
I am justly kill'd with mine own treachery.

HAMLET How does the queen?

KING CLAUDIUS She swounds to see them bleed.

QUEEN GERTRUDE No, no, the drink, the drink,--O my dear Hamlet,--
The drink, the drink! I am poison'd.

[Dies]

HAMLET O villany! Ho! let the door be lock'd:
Treachery! Seek it out.

LAERTES It is here, Hamlet: Hamlet, thou art slain;
No medicine in the world can do thee good;
In thee there is not half an hour of life;
The treacherous instrument is in thy hand,
Unbated and envenom'd: the foul practise
Hath turn'd itself on me lo, here I lie,
Never to rise again: thy mother's poison'd:
I can no more: the king, the king's to blame.

HAMLET The point!--envenom'd too!
Then, venom, to thy work.

[Stabs KING CLAUDIUS]

All Treason! treason!

KING CLAUDIUS O, yet defend me, friends; I am but hurt.

HAMLET Here, thou incestuous, murderous, damned Dane,
Drink off this potion. Is thy union here?
Follow my mother.

[KING CLAUDIUS dies]

LAERTES He is justly served;
It is a poison temper'd by himself.
Exchange forgiveness with me, noble Hamlet:
Mine and my father's death come not upon thee,
Nor thine on me.

[Dies]

HAMLET Heaven make thee free of it! I follow thee.
I am dead, Horatio. Wretched queen, adieu!
You that look pale and tremble at this chance,
That are but mutes or audience to this act,
Had I but time--as this fell sergeant, death,
Is strict in his arrest--O, I could tell you--
But let it be. Horatio, I am dead;
Thou livest; report me and my cause aright
To the unsatisfied.

HORATIO Never believe it:
I am more an antique Roman than a Dane:

HAMLET As thou'rt a man,
Give me the cup: let go; by heaven, I'll have't.
O good Horatio, what a wounded name,
Things standing thus unknown, shall live behind me!
If thou didst ever hold me in thy heart
Absent thee from felicity awhile,
And in this harsh world draw thy breath in pain,
To tell my story.

[March afar off, and shot within]

What warlike noise is this?

OSRIC Young Fortinbras, with conquest come from Poland,
To the ambassadors of England gives
This warlike volley.

HAMLET O, I die, Horatio;
The potent poison quite o'er-crows my spirit:
I cannot live to hear the news from England;
But I do prophesy the election lights
On Fortinbras: he has my dying voice;
So tell him, with the occurrents, more and less,
Which have solicited. The rest is silence.

[Dies]

HORATIO Now cracks a noble heart. Good night sweet prince:
And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest!
Why does the drum come hither?

[March within]

[Enter FORTINBRAS, the English Ambassadors,
and others]

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Where is this sight?

HORATIO What is it ye would see?
If aught of woe or wonder, cease your search.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS This quarry cries on havoc. O proud death,
What feast is toward in thine eternal cell,
That thou so many princes at a shot
So bloodily hast struck?

First Ambassador The sight is dismal;
And our affairs from England come too late:
The ears are senseless that should give us hearing,
To tell him his commandment is fulfill'd,
That Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead:
Where should we have our thanks?

HORATIO Not from his mouth,
Had it the ability of life to thank you:
He never gave commandment for their death.
But since, so jump upon this bloody question,
You from the Polack wars, and you from England,
Are here arrived give order that these bodies
High on a stage be placed to the view;
And let me speak to the yet unknowing world
How these things came about: so shall you hear
Of carnal, bloody, and unnatural acts,
Of accidental judgments, casual slaughters,
Of deaths put on by cunning and forced cause,
And, in this upshot, purposes mistook
Fall'n on the inventors' reads: all this can I
Truly deliver.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let us haste to hear it,
And call the noblest to the audience.
For me, with sorrow I embrace my fortune:
I have some rights of memory in this kingdom,
Which now to claim my vantage doth invite me.

HORATIO Of that I shall have also cause to speak,
And from his mouth whose voice will draw on more;
But let this same be presently perform'd,
Even while men's minds are wild; lest more mischance
On plots and errors, happen.

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let four captains
Bear Hamlet, like a soldier, to the stage;
For he was likely, had he been put on,
To have proved most royally: and, for his passage,
The soldiers' music and the rites of war
Speak loudly for him.
Take up the bodies: such a sight as this
Becomes the field, but here shows much amiss.
Go, bid the soldiers shoot.

[A dead march. Exeunt, bearing off the dead bodies; after which a peal of ordnance is shot off]

Therefore I have entreated him along

That if again this apparition come,

He may approve our eyes and speak to it.

Sentence 54: HORATIO Tush, tush, 'twill not appear.

Sentence 55: BERNARDO Sit down awhile;

Sentence 56: HORATIO Well, sit we down,

When yond same star that's westward from the pole

Is not this something more than fantasy?

Sentence 75: What think you on't?

Sentence 76: HORATIO Before my God, I might not this believe
Without the sensible and true avouch
Of mine own eyes.

Sentence 77: MARCELLUS Is it not like the king?

Sentence 78: HORATIO As thou art to thyself:
Such was the very armour he had on
When he the ambitious Norway combated;
So frown'd he once, when, in an angry parle,
He smote the sledded Polacks on the ice.

Sentence 79: 'Tis strange.

Sentence 80: MARCELLUS Thus twice before, and jump at this dead hour,
With martial stalk hath he gone by our watch.

Sentence 81: HORATIO In what particular thought to work I know not;
But in the gross and scope of my opinion,
This bodes some strange eruption to our state.

Sentence 82: MARCELLUS Good now, sit down, and tell me, he that knows,
Why this same strict and most observant watch
So nightly toils the subject of the land,
And why such daily cast of brazen cannon,
And foreign mart for implements of war;
Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task
Does not divide the Sunday from the week;
What might be toward, that this sweaty haste
Doth make the night joint-labourer with the day:
Who is't that can inform me?

Sentence 83: HORATIO That can I;
At least, the whisper goes so.

Sentence 84: Our last king,
Whose image even but now appear'd to us,
Was, as you know, by Fortinbras of Norway,
Thereto prick'd on by a most emulate pride,
Dared to the combat; in which our valiant Hamlet--
For so this side of our known world esteem'd him--
Did slay this Fortinbras; who by a seal'd compact,
Well ratified by law and heraldry,
Did forfeit, with his life, all those his lands
Which he stood seized of, to the conqueror:
Against the which, a moiety competent
Was gaged by our king; which had return'd
To the inheritance of Fortinbras,
Had he been vanquisher; as, by the same covenant,
And carriage of the article design'd,
His fell to Hamlet.

Sentence 85: Now, sir, young Fortinbras,
Of unimproved mettle hot and full,
Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there
Shark'd up a list of lawless resolutes,
For food and diet, to some enterprise
That hath a stomach in't; which is no other--
As it doth well appear unto our state--
But to recover of us, by strong hand
And terms compulsory, those foresaid lands
So by his father lost: and this, I take it,
Is the main motive of our preparations,
The source of this our watch and the chief head

Of this post-haste and romage in the land.

Sentence 86: BERNARDO I think it be no other but e'en so:
 Well may it sort that this portentous figure
 Comes armed through our watch; so like the king
 That was and is the question of these wars.

Sentence 87: HORATIO A mote it is to trouble the mind's eye.

Sentence 88: In the most high and palmy state of Rome,
 A little ere the mightiest Julius fell,
 The graves stood tenantless and the sheeted dead
 Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets:
 As stars with trains of fire and dews of blood,
 Disasters in the sun; and the moist star
 Upon whose influence Neptune's empire stands
 Was sick almost to doomsday with eclipse:
 And even the like precurse of fierce events,
 As harbingers preceding still the fates
 And prologue to the omen coming on,
 Have heaven and earth together demonstrated
 Unto our climatures and countrymen.--
 But soft, behold!

Sentence 89: lo, where it comes again!

Sentence 90: [Re-enter Ghost]

I'll cross it, though it blast me.

Sentence 91: Stay, illusion!

Sentence 92: If thou hast any sound, or use of voice,
 Speak to me:
 If there be any good thing to be done,
 That may to thee do ease and grace to me,
 Speak to me:

[Cock crows]

If thou art privy to thy country's fate,
 Which, happily, foreknowing may avoid, O, speak!

Sentence 93: Or if thou hast uphoarded in thy life
 Extorted treasure in the womb of earth,
 For which, they say, you spirits oft walk in death,
 Speak of it: stay, and speak!

Sentence 94: Stop it, Marcellus.

Sentence 95: MARCELLUS Shall I strike at it with my partisan?

Sentence 96: HORATIO Do, if it will not stand.

Sentence 97: BERNARDO 'Tis here!

Sentence 98: HORATIO 'Tis here!

Sentence 99: MARCELLUS 'Tis gone!

Sentence 100: [Exit Ghost]

We do it wrong, being so majestical,
 To offer it the show of violence;
 For it is, as the air, invulnerable,
 And our vain blows malicious mockery.

Sentence 101: BERNARDO It was about to speak, when the cock crew.

Sentence 102: HORATIO And then it started like a guilty thing
 Upon a fearful summons.

Sentence 103: I have heard,
 The cock, that is the trumpet to the morn,

Doth with his lofty and shrill-sounding throat
 Awake the god of day; and, at his warning,
 Whether in sea or fire, in earth or air,
 The extravagant and erring spirit hies
 To his confine: and of the truth herein
 This present object made probation.

Sentence 104: MARCELLUS It faded on the crowing of the cock.

Sentence 105: Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes
 Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated,
 The bird of dawning singeth all night long:
 And then, they say, no spirit dares stir abroad;
 The nights are wholesome; then no planets strike,
 No fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm,
 So hallow'd and so gracious is the time.

Sentence 106: HORATIO So have I heard and do in part believe it.

Sentence 107: But, look, the morn, in russet mantle clad,
 Walks o'er the dew of yon high eastward hill:
 Break we our watch up; and by my advice,
 Let us impart what we have seen to-night
 Unto young Hamlet; for, upon my life,
 This spirit, dumb to us, will speak to him.

Sentence 108: Do you consent we shall acquaint him with it,
 As needful in our loves, fitting our duty?

Sentence 109: MARCELLUS Let's do't, I pray; and I this morning know
 Where we shall find him most conveniently.

Sentence 110: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE II A room of state in the castle.

Sentence 111: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, HAMLET, POLONIUS, LAERTES, VOLTIMAND, CORNELIUS, Lords,
 and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death
 The memory be green, and that it us befitted
 To bear our hearts in grief and our whole kingdom
 To be contracted in one brow of woe,
 Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature
 That we with wisest sorrow think on him,
 Together with remembrance of ourselves.

Sentence 112: Therefore our sometime sister, now our queen,
 The imperial jointress to this warlike state,
 Have we, as 'twere with a defeated joy,--
 With an auspicious and a dropping eye,
 With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage,
 In equal scale weighing delight and dole,--
 Taken to wife: nor have we herein barr'd

Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone
 With this affair along.

Sentence 113: For all, our thanks.

Sentence 114: Now follows, that you know, young Fortinbras,
 Holding a weak supposal of our worth,
 Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
 Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,
 Colleagued with the dream of his advantage,
 He hath not fail'd to pester us with message,
 Importing the surrender of those lands
 Lost by his father, with all bonds of law,
 To our most valiant brother.

Sentence 115: So much for him.

Sentence 116: Now for ourself and for this time of meeting:
 Thus much the business is: we have here writ
 To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras,--
 Who, impotent and bed-rid, scarcely hears
 Of this his nephew's purpose,--to suppress
 His further gait herein; in that the levies,
 The lists and full proportions, are all made
 Out of his subject: and we here dispatch
 You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltimand,
 For bearers of this greeting to old Norway;
 Giving to you no further personal power
 To business with the king, more than the scope
 Of these delated articles allow.

Sentence 117: Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.

Sentence 118: CORNELIUS |

| In that and all things will we show our duty.

Sentence 119: VOLTIMAND |

KING CLAUDIUS We doubt it nothing: heartily farewell.

Sentence 120: [Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

And now, Laertes, what's the news with you?

Sentence 121: You told us of some suit; what is't, Laertes?

Sentence 122: You cannot speak of reason to the Dane,
 And loose your voice: what wouldst thou beg, Laertes,
 That shall not be my offer, not thy asking?

Sentence 123: The head is not more native to the heart,
 The hand more instrumental to the mouth,
 Than is the throne of Denmark to thy father.

Sentence 124: What wouldst thou have, Laertes?

Sentence 125: LAERTES My dread lord,
 Your leave and favour to return to France;
 From whence though willingly I came to Denmark,
 To show my duty in your coronation,
 Yet now, I must confess, that duty done,
 My thoughts and wishes bend again toward France
 And bow them to your gracious leave and pardon.

Sentence 126: KING CLAUDIUS Have you your father's leave?

Sentence 127: What says Polonius?

Sentence 128: LORD POLONIUS He hath, my lord, wrung from me my slow leave
 By laboursome petition, and at last
 Upon his will I seal'd my hard consent:

I do beseech you, give him leave to go.

Sentence 129: KING CLAUDIUS Take thy fair hour, Laertes; time be thine,
And thy best graces spend it at thy will!

Sentence 130: But now, my cousin Hamlet, and my son,--

HAMLET [Aside] A little more than kin, and less than kind.

Sentence 131: KING CLAUDIUS How is it that the clouds still hang on you?

Sentence 132: HAMLET Not so, my lord; I am too much i' the sun.

Sentence 133: QUEEN GERTRUDE Good Hamlet, cast thy nighted colour off,
And let thine eye look like a friend on Denmark.

Sentence 134: Do not for ever with thy vailed lids

Seek for thy noble father in the dust:

Thou know'st 'tis common; all that lives must die,
Passing through nature to eternity.

Sentence 135: HAMLET Ay, madam, it is common.

Sentence 136: QUEEN GERTRUDE If it be,
Why seems it so particular with thee?

Sentence 137: HAMLET Seems, madam!

Sentence 138: nay it is; I know not 'seems.'

Sentence 139: 'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother,
Nor customary suits of solemn black,
Nor windy suspiration of forced breath,
No, nor the fruitful river in the eye,
Nor the dejected 'havior of the visage,
Together with all forms, moods, shapes of grief,
That can denote me truly: these indeed seem,
For they are actions that a man might play:
But I have that within which passeth show;
These but the trappings and the suits of woe.

Sentence 140: KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis sweet and commendable in your nature, Hamlet,
To give these mourning duties to your father:
But, you must know, your father lost a father;
That father lost, lost his, and the survivor bound
In filial obligation for some term
To do obsequious sorrow: but to persever
In obstinate condolement is a course
Of impious stubbornness; 'tis unmanly grief;
It shows a will most incorrect to heaven,
A heart unfortified, a mind impatient,
An understanding simple and unschool'd:
For what we know must be and is as common
As any the most vulgar thing to sense,
Why should we in our peevish opposition
Take it to heart?

Sentence 141: Fie!

Sentence 142: 'tis a fault to heaven,
A fault against the dead, a fault to nature,
To reason most absurd: whose common theme
Is death of fathers, and who still hath cried,
From the first corse till he that died to-day,
'This must be so.'

Sentence 143: We pray you, throw to earth

This unprevailing woe, and think of us
As of a father: for let the world take note,
You are the most immediate to our throne;
And with no less nobility of love

Than that which dearest father bears his son,
Do I impart toward you.

Sentence 144: For your intent

In going back to school in Wittenberg,
It is most retrograde to our desire:
And we beseech you, bend you to remain
Here, in the cheer and comfort of our eye,
Our chiefest courtier, cousin, and our son.

Sentence 145: QUEEN GERTRUDE Let not thy mother lose her prayers, Hamlet:
I pray thee, stay with us; go not to Wittenberg.

Sentence 146: HAMLET I shall in all my best obey you, madam.

Sentence 147: KING CLAUDIUS Why, 'tis a loving and a fair reply:
Be as ourself in Denmark.

Sentence 148: Madam, come;

This gentle and unforced accord of Hamlet
Sits smiling to my heart: in grace whereof,
No jocund health that Denmark drinks to-day,
But the great cannon to the clouds shall tell,
And the king's rouse the heavens all bruit again,
Re-speaking earthly thunder.

Sentence 149: Come away.

Sentence 150: [Exeunt all but HAMLET]

HAMLET O, that this too too solid flesh would melt
Thaw and resolve itself into a dew!

Sentence 151: Or that the Everlasting had not fix'd
His canon 'gainst self-slaughter!

Sentence 152: O God!

Sentence 153: God!

Sentence 154: How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable,
Seem to me all the uses of this world!

Sentence 155: Fie on't!

Sentence 156: ah fie!

Sentence 157: 'tis an unweeded garden,
That grows to seed; things rank and gross in nature
Possess it merely.

Sentence 158: That it should come to this!

Sentence 159: But two months dead: nay, not so much, not two:
So excellent a king; that was, to this,
Hyperion to a satyr; so loving to my mother
That he might not beteem the winds of heaven
Visit her face too roughly.

Sentence 160: Heaven and earth!

Sentence 161: Must I remember?

Sentence 162: why, she would hang on him,
As if increase of appetite had grown
By what it fed on: and yet, within a month--
Let me not think on't--Frailty, thy name is woman!--
A little month, or ere those shoes were old
With which she follow'd my poor father's body,
Like Niobe, all tears:--why she, even she--
O, God!

Sentence 163: a beast, that wants discourse of reason,
Would have mourn'd longer--married with my uncle,
My father's brother, but no more like my father
Than I to Hercules: within a month:

Ere yet the salt of most unrighteous tears
 Had left the flushing in her galled eyes,
 She married.

- Sentence 164: O, most wicked speed, to post
 With such dexterity to incestuous sheets!
 Sentence 165: It is not nor it cannot come to good:
 But break, my heart; for I must hold my tongue.
 Sentence 166: [Enter HORATIO, MARCELLUS, and BERNARDO]

HORATIO Hail to your lordship!

- Sentence 167: HAMLET I am glad to see you well:
 Horatio,--or I do forget myself.

Sentence 168: HORATIO The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever.

- Sentence 169: HAMLET Sir, my good friend; I'll change that name with you:
 And what make you from Wittenberg, Horatio?

Sentence 170: Marcellus?

Sentence 171: MARCELLUS My good lord--

HAMLET I am very glad to see you.

Sentence 172: Good even, sir.

Sentence 173: But what, in faith, make you from Wittenberg?

Sentence 174: HORATIO A truant disposition, good my lord.

- Sentence 175: HAMLET I would not hear your enemy say so,
 Nor shall you do mine ear that violence,
 To make it truster of your own report
 Against yourself: I know you are no truant.

Sentence 176: But what is your affair in Elsinore?

Sentence 177: We'll teach you to drink deep ere you depart.

Sentence 178: HORATIO My lord, I came to see your father's funeral.

- Sentence 179: HAMLET I pray thee, do not mock me, fellow-student;
 I think it was to see my mother's wedding.

Sentence 180: HORATIO Indeed, my lord, it follow'd hard upon.

Sentence 181: HAMLET Thrift, thrift, Horatio!

Sentence 182: the funeral baked meats

 Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.

- Sentence 183: Would I had met my dearest foe in heaven
 Or ever I had seen that day, Horatio!

Sentence 184: My father!--methinks I see my father.

Sentence 185: HORATIO Where, my lord?

Sentence 186: HAMLET In my mind's eye, Horatio.

Sentence 187: HORATIO I saw him once; he was a goodly king.

- Sentence 188: HAMLET He was a man, take him for all in all,
 I shall not look upon his like again.

Sentence 189: HORATIO My lord, I think I saw him yesternight.

Sentence 190: HAMLET Saw?

Sentence 191: who?

Sentence 192: HORATIO My lord, the king your father.

Sentence 193: HAMLET The king my father!

- Sentence 194: HORATIO Season your admiration for awhile
 With an attent ear, till I may deliver,
 Upon the witness of these gentlemen,
 This marvel to you.

Sentence 195: HAMLET For God's love, let me hear.

- Sentence 196: HORATIO Two nights together had these gentlemen,
 Marcellus and Bernardo, on their watch,
 In the dead vast and middle of the night,

Been thus encounter'd.

Sentence 197: A figure like your father,
 Armed at point exactly, cap-a-pe,
 Appears before them, and with solemn march
 Goes slow and stately by them: thrice he walk'd
 By their oppress'd and fear-surprised eyes,
 Within his truncheon's length; whilst they, distilled
 Almost to jelly with the act of fear,
 Stand dumb and speak not to him.

Sentence 198: This to me

In dreadful secrecy impart they did;
 And I with them the third night kept the watch;
 Where, as they had deliver'd, both in time,
 Form of the thing, each word made true and good,
 The apparition comes: I knew your father;
 These hands are not more like.

Sentence 199: HAMLET But where was this?

Sentence 200: MARCELLUS My lord, upon the platform where we watch'd.

Sentence 201: HAMLET Did you not speak to it?

Sentence 202: HORATIO My lord, I did;
 But answer made it none: yet once methought
 It lifted up its head and did address
 Itself to motion, like as it would speak;
 But even then the morning cock crew loud,
 And at the sound it shrunk in haste away,
 And vanish'd from our sight.

Sentence 203: HAMLET 'Tis very strange.

Sentence 204: HORATIO As I do live, my honour'd lord, 'tis true;
 And we did think it writ down in our duty
 To let you know of it.

Sentence 205: HAMLET Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me.

Sentence 206: Hold you the watch to-night?

Sentence 207: MARCELLUS |
 | We do, my lord.

Sentence 208: BERNARDO |

HAMLET Arm'd, say you?

Sentence 209: MARCELLUS |
 | Arm'd, my lord.

Sentence 210: BERNARDO |

HAMLET From top to toe?

Sentence 211: MARCELLUS |
 | My lord, from head to foot.
 Sentence 212: BERNARDO |

HAMLET Then saw you not his face?

Sentence 213: HORATIO O, yes, my lord; he wore his beaver up.

Sentence 214: HAMLET What, look'd he frowningly?

Sentence 215: HORATIO A countenance more in sorrow than in anger.

Sentence 216: HAMLET Pale or red?

Sentence 217: HORATIO Nay, very pale.

Sentence 218: HAMLET And fix'd his eyes upon you?

Sentence 219: HORATIO Most constantly.
 Sentence 220: HAMLET I would I had been there.
 Sentence 221: HORATIO It would have much amazed you.
 Sentence 222: HAMLET Very like, very like.
 Sentence 223: Stay'd it long?
 Sentence 224: HORATIO While one with moderate haste might tell a hundred.
 Sentence 225: MARCELLUS |
 | Longer, longer.
 Sentence 226: BERNARDO |

HORATIO Not when I saw't.
 Sentence 227: HAMLET His beard was grizzled--no?
 Sentence 228: HORATIO It was, as I have seen it in his life,
 A sable silver'd.
 Sentence 229: HAMLET I will watch to-night;
 Perchance 'twill walk again.
 Sentence 230: HORATIO I warrant it will.
 Sentence 231: HAMLET If it assume my noble father's person,
 I'll speak to it, though hell itself should gape
 And bid me hold my peace.
 Sentence 232: I pray you all,
 If you have hitherto conceal'd this sight,
 Let it be tenable in your silence still;
 And whatsoever else shall hap to-night,
 Give it an understanding, but no tongue:
 I will requite your loves.
 Sentence 233: So, fare you well:
 Upon the platform, 'twixt eleven and twelve,
 I'll visit you.
 Sentence 234: All Our duty to your honour.
 Sentence 235: HAMLET Your loves, as mine to you: farewell.
 Sentence 236: [Exeunt all but HAMLET]

 My father's spirit in arms!
 Sentence 237: all is not well;
 I doubt some foul play: would the night were come!
 Sentence 238: Till then sit still, my soul: foul deeds will rise,
 Though all the earth o'erwhelm them, to men's eyes.
 Sentence 239: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE III A room in Polonius' house.
 Sentence 240: [Enter LAERTES and OPHELIA]

LAERTES My necessaries are embark'd: farewell:
 And, sister, as the winds give benefit

And convoy is assistant, do not sleep,
But let me hear from you.

Sentence 241: OPHELIA Do you doubt that?

Sentence 242: LAERTES For Hamlet and the trifling of his favour,
Hold it a fashion and a toy in blood,
A violet in the youth of primy nature,
Forward, not permanent, sweet, not lasting,
The perfume and suppliance of a minute; No more.

Sentence 243: OPHELIA No more but so?

Sentence 244: LAERTES Think it no more;
For nature, crescent, does not grow alone
In thews and bulk, but, as this temple waxes,
The inward service of the mind and soul
Grows wide withal.

Sentence 245: Perhaps he loves you now,
And now no soil nor cautel doth besmirch
The virtue of his will: but you must fear,
His greatness weigh'd, his will is not his own;
For he himself is subject to his birth:
He may not, as unvalued persons do,
Carve for himself; for on his choice depends
The safety and health of this whole state;
And therefore must his choice be circumscribed
Unto the voice and yielding of that body
Whereof he is the head.

Sentence 246: Then if he says he loves you,
It fits your wisdom so far to believe it
As he in his particular act and place
May give his saying deed; which is no further
Than the main voice of Denmark goes withal.

Sentence 247: Then weigh what loss your honour may sustain,
If with too credent ear you list his songs,
Or lose your heart, or your chaste treasure open
To his unmaster'd importunity.

Sentence 248: Fear it, Ophelia, fear it, my dear sister,
And keep you in the rear of your affection,
Out of the shot and danger of desire.

Sentence 249: The chariest maid is prodigal enough,
If she unmask her beauty to the moon:
Virtue itself 'scapes not calumnious strokes:
The canker galls the infants of the spring,
Too oft before their buttons be disclosed,
And in the morn and liquid dew of youth
Contagious blastments are most imminent.

Sentence 250: Be wary then; best safety lies in fear:
Youth to itself rebels, though none else near.

Sentence 251: OPHELIA I shall the effect of this good lesson keep,
As watchman to my heart.

Sentence 252: But, good my brother,
Do not, as some ungracious pastors do,
Show me the steep and thorny way to heaven;
Whiles, like a puff'd and reckless libertine,
Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads,
And recks not his own rede.

Sentence 253: LAERTES O, fear me not.

Sentence 254: I stay too long: but here my father comes.

Sentence 255: [Enter POLONIUS]

A double blessing is a double grace,
Occasion smiles upon a second leave.

Sentence 256: LORD POLONIUS Yet here, Laertes!

Sentence 257: aboard, aboard, for shame!

Sentence 258: The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail,
And you are stay'd for.

Sentence 259: There; my blessing with thee!

Sentence 260: And these few precepts in thy memory
See thou character.

Sentence 261: Give thy thoughts no tongue,
Nor any unproportioned thought his act.

Sentence 262: Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.

Sentence 263: Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade.

Sentence 264: Beware

Of entrance to a quarrel, but being in,
Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.

Sentence 265: Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice;
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.

Sentence 266: Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man,
And they in France of the best rank and station
Are of a most select and generous chief in that.

Sentence 267: Neither a borrower nor a lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.

Sentence 268: This above all: to thine ownself be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

Sentence 269: Farewell: my blessing season this in thee!

Sentence 270: LAERTES Most humbly do I take my leave, my lord.

Sentence 271: LORD POLONIUS The time invites you; go; your servants tend.

Sentence 272: LAERTES Farewell, Ophelia; and remember well
What I have said to you.

Sentence 273: OPHELIA 'Tis in my memory lock'd,
And you yourself shall keep the key of it.

Sentence 274: LAERTES Farewell.

Sentence 275: [Exit]

LORD POLONIUS What is't, Ophelia, be hath said to you?

Sentence 276: OPHELIA So please you, something touching the Lord Hamlet.

Sentence 277: LORD POLONIUS Marry, well bethought:

'Tis told me, he hath very oft of late
Given private time to you; and you yourself
Have of your audience been most free and bounteous:
If it be so, as so 'tis put on me,
And that in way of caution, I must tell you,
You do not understand yourself so clearly
As it behoves my daughter and your honour.

Sentence 278: What is between you?

Sentence 279: give me up the truth.

Sentence 280: OPHELIA He hath, my lord, of late made many tenders
 Of his affection to me.

Sentence 281: LORD POLONIUS Affection!

Sentence 282: pooh!

Sentence 283: you speak like a green girl,
 Unsifted in such perilous circumstance.

Sentence 284: Do you believe his tenders, as you call them?

Sentence 285: OPHELIA I do not know, my lord, what I should think.

Sentence 286: LORD POLONIUS Marry, I'll teach you: think yourself a baby;
 That you have ta'en these tenders for true pay,
 Which are not sterling.

Sentence 287: Tender yourself more dearly;
 Or--not to crack the wind of the poor phrase,
 Running it thus--you'll tender me a fool.

Sentence 288: OPHELIA My lord, he hath importuned me with love
 In honourable fashion.

Sentence 289: LORD POLONIUS Ay, fashion you may call it; go to, go to.

Sentence 290: OPHELIA And hath given countenance to his speech, my lord,
 With almost all the holy vows of heaven.

Sentence 291: LORD POLONIUS Ay, springes to catch woodcocks.

Sentence 292: I do know,
 When the blood burns, how prodigal the soul
 Lends the tongue vows: these blazes, daughter,
 Giving more light than heat, extinct in both,
 Even in their promise, as it is a-making,
 You must not take for fire.

Sentence 293: From this time
 Be somewhat scanner of your maiden presence;
 Set your entreatments at a higher rate
 Than a command to parley.

Sentence 294: For Lord Hamlet,
 Believe so much in him, that he is young
 And with a larger tether may he walk
 Than may be given you: in few, Ophelia,
 Do not believe his vows; for they are brokers,
 Not of that dye which their investments show,
 But mere implorators of unholy suits,
 Breathing like sanctified and pious bawds,
 The better to beguile.

Sentence 295: This is for all:
 I would not, in plain terms, from this time forth,
 Have you so slander any moment leisure,
 As to give words or talk with the Lord Hamlet.

Sentence 296: Look to't, I charge you: come your ways.

Sentence 297: OPHELIA I shall obey, my lord.

Sentence 298: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

King, father, royal Dane: O, answer me!

Sentence 315: Let me not burst in ignorance; but tell
Why thy canonized bones, hearsed in death,
Have burst their cerements; why the sepulchre,
Wherein we saw thee quietly inurn'd,
Hath oped his ponderous and marble jaws,
To cast thee up again.

Sentence 316: What may this mean,
That thou, dead corse, again in complete steel
Revisit'st thus the glimpses of the moon,
Making night hideous; and we fools of nature
So horridly to shake our disposition
With thoughts beyond the reaches of our souls?

Sentence 317: Say, why is this?

Sentence 318: wherefore?

Sentence 319: what should we do?

Sentence 320: [Ghost beckons HAMLET]

HORATIO It beckons you to go away with it,
As if it some impartment did desire
To you alone.

Sentence 321: MARCELLUS Look, with what courteous action
It waves you to a more removed ground:
But do not go with it.

Sentence 322: HORATIO No, by no means.

Sentence 323: HAMLET It will not speak; then I will follow it.

Sentence 324: HORATIO Do not, my lord.

Sentence 325: HAMLET Why, what should be the fear?

Sentence 326: I do not set my life in a pin's fee;
And for my soul, what can it do to that,
Being a thing immortal as itself?

Sentence 327: It waves me forth again: I'll follow it.

Sentence 328: HORATIO What if it tempt you toward the flood, my lord,
Or to the dreadful summit of the cliff
That beetles o'er his base into the sea,
And there assume some other horrible form,
Which might deprive your sovereignty of reason
And draw you into madness?

Sentence 329: think of it:
The very place puts toys of desperation,
Without more motive, into every brain
That looks so many fathoms to the sea
And hears it roar beneath.

Sentence 330: HAMLET It waves me still.

Sentence 331: Go on; I'll follow thee.

Sentence 332: MARCELLUS You shall not go, my lord.

Sentence 333: HAMLET Hold off your hands.

Sentence 334: HORATIO Be ruled; you shall not go.

Sentence 335: HAMLET My fate cries out,
And makes each petty artery in this body
As hardy as the Nemean lion's nerve.

Sentence 336: Still am I call'd.

Sentence 337: Unhand me, gentlemen.

Sentence 338: By heaven, I'll make a ghost of him that lets me!

Sentence 339: I say, away!

Sentence 340: Go on; I'll follow thee.

Sentence 341: [Exeunt Ghost and HAMLET]

HORATIO He waxes desperate with imagination.

Sentence 342: MARCELLUS Let's follow; 'tis not fit thus to obey him.

Sentence 343: HORATIO Have after.

Sentence 344: To what issue will this come?

Sentence 345: MARCELLUS Something is rotten in the state of Denmark.

Sentence 346: HORATIO Heaven will direct it.

Sentence 347: MARCELLUS Nay, let's follow him.

Sentence 348: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT I

SCENE V Another part of the platform.

Sentence 349: [Enter GHOST and HAMLET]

HAMLET Where wilt thou lead me?

Sentence 350: speak; I'll go no further.

Sentence 351: Ghost Mark me.

Sentence 352: HAMLET I will.

Sentence 353: Ghost My hour is almost come,
When I to sulphurous and tormenting flames
Must render up myself.

Sentence 354: HAMLET Alas, poor ghost!

Sentence 355: Ghost Pity me not, but lend thy serious hearing
To what I shall unfold.

Sentence 356: HAMLET Speak; I am bound to hear.

Sentence 357: Ghost So art thou to revenge, when thou shalt hear.

Sentence 358: HAMLET What?

Sentence 359: Ghost I am thy father's spirit,
Doom'd for a certain term to walk the night,
And for the day confined to fast in fires,
Till the foul crimes done in my days of nature
Are burnt and purged away.

Sentence 360: But that I am forbid

To tell the secrets of my prison-house,
I could a tale unfold whose lightest word
Would harrow up thy soul, freeze thy young blood,
Make thy two eyes, like stars, start from their spheres,
Thy knotted and combined locks to part
And each particular hair to stand on end,
Like quills upon the fretful porpentine:
But this eternal blazon must not be
To ears of flesh and blood.

Sentence 361: List, list, O, list!

Sentence 362: If thou didst ever thy dear father love--

HAMLET O God!

Sentence 363: Ghost Revenge his foul and most unnatural murder.

Sentence 364: HAMLET Murder!

Sentence 365: Ghost Murder most foul, as in the best it is;
But this most foul, strange and unnatural.

Sentence 366: HAMLET Haste me to know't, that I, with wings as swift
As meditation or the thoughts of love,
May sweep to my revenge.

Sentence 367: Ghost I find thee apt;
And duller shouldst thou be than the fat weed
That roots itself in ease on Lethe wharf,
Wouldst thou not stir in this.

Sentence 368: Now, Hamlet, hear:
'Tis given out that, sleeping in my orchard,
A serpent stung me; so the whole ear of Denmark
Is by a forged process of my death
Rankly abused: but know, thou noble youth,
The serpent that did sting thy father's life
Now wears his crown.

Sentence 369: HAMLET O my prophetic soul!

Sentence 370: My uncle!

Sentence 371: Ghost Ay, that incestuous, that adulterate beast,
With witchcraft of his wit, with traitorous gifts,--
O wicked wit and gifts, that have the power
So to seduce!--won to his shameful lust
The will of my most seeming-virtuous queen:
O Hamlet, what a falling-off was there!

Sentence 372: From me, whose love was of that dignity
That it went hand in hand even with the vow
I made to her in marriage, and to decline
Upon a wretch whose natural gifts were poor
To those of mine!

Sentence 373: But virtue, as it never will be moved,
Though lewdness court it in a shape of heaven,
So lust, though to a radiant angel link'd,
Will sate itself in a celestial bed,
And prey on garbage.

Sentence 374: But, soft!

Sentence 375: methinks I scent the morning air;
Brief let me be.

Sentence 376: Sleeping within my orchard,
My custom always of the afternoon,
Upon my secure hour thy uncle stole,
With juice of cursed hebenon in a vial,
And in the porches of my ears did pour
The leperous distilment; whose effect
Holds such an enmity with blood of man
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body,
And with a sudden vigour doth posset
And curd, like eager droppings into milk,
The thin and wholesome blood: so did it mine;
And a most instant tetter bark'd about,
Most lazarus-like, with vile and loathsome crust,
All my smooth body.

Sentence 377: Thus was I, sleeping, by a brother's hand
Of life, of crown, of queen, at once dispatch'd:

Cut off even in the blossoms of my sin,
 Unhouse'd, disappointed, unanel'd,
 No reckoning made, but sent to my account
 With all my imperfections on my head:
 O, horrible!

Sentence 378: O, horrible!
 Sentence 379: most horrible!
 Sentence 380: If thou hast nature in thee, bear it not;
 Let not the royal bed of Denmark be
 A couch for luxury and damned incest.

Sentence 381: But, howsoever thou pursuest this act,
 Taint not thy mind, nor let thy soul contrive
 Against thy mother aught: leave her to heaven
 And to those thorns that in her bosom lodge,
 To prick and sting her.

Sentence 382: Fare thee well at once!
 Sentence 383: The glow-worm shows the matin to be near,
 And 'gins to pale his uneffectual fire:
 Adieu, adieu!

Sentence 384: Hamlet, remember me.
 Sentence 385: [Exit]

HAMLET O all you host of heaven!
 Sentence 386: O earth!
 Sentence 387: what else?
 Sentence 388: And shall I couple hell?
 Sentence 389: O, fie!
 Sentence 390: Hold, hold, my heart;
 And you, my sinews, grow not instant old,
 But bear me stiffly up.

Sentence 391: Remember thee!
 Sentence 392: Ay, thou poor ghost, while memory holds a seat
 In this distracted globe.

Sentence 393: Remember thee!
 Sentence 394: Yea, from the table of my memory
 I'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
 All sows of books, all forms, all pressures past,
 That youth and observation copied there;
 And thy commandment all alone shall live
 Within the book and volume of my brain,
 Unmix'd with baser matter: yes, by heaven!

Sentence 395: O most pernicious woman!
 Sentence 396: O villain, villain, smiling, damned villain!
 Sentence 397: My tables,--meet it is I set it down,
 That one may smile, and smile, and be a villain;
 At least I'm sure it may be so in Denmark:

[Writing]

So, uncle, there you are.
 Sentence 398: Now to my word;
 It is 'Adieu, adieu!'
 Sentence 399: remember me.'
 Sentence 400: I have sworn 't.
 Sentence 401: MARCELLUS |
 | [Within] My lord, my lord,--

HORATIO |

MARCELLUS [Within] Lord Hamlet,--

HORATIO [Within] Heaven secure him!
 Sentence 402: HAMLET So be it!
 Sentence 403: HORATIO [Within] Hillo, ho, ho, my lord!
 Sentence 404: HAMLET Hillo, ho, ho, boy!
 Sentence 405: come, bird, come.
 Sentence 406: [Enter HORATIO and MARCELLUS]

MARCELLUS How is't, my noble lord?
 Sentence 407: HORATIO What news, my lord?
 Sentence 408: HAMLET O, wonderful!
 Sentence 409: HORATIO Good my lord, tell it.
 Sentence 410: HAMLET No; you'll reveal it.
 Sentence 411: HORATIO Not I, my lord, by heaven.
 Sentence 412: MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord.
 Sentence 413: HAMLET How say you, then; would heart of man once think it?
 Sentence 414: But you'll be secret?
 Sentence 415: HORATIO |
 | Ay, by heaven, my lord.
 Sentence 416: MARCELLUS |

HAMLET There's ne'er a villain dwelling in all Denmark
 But he's an arrant knave.
 Sentence 417: HORATIO There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave
 To tell us this.
 Sentence 418: HAMLET Why, right; you are i' the right;
 And so, without more circumstance at all,
 I hold it fit that we shake hands and part:
 You, as your business and desire shall point you;
 For every man has business and desire,
 Such as it is; and for mine own poor part,
 Look you, I'll go pray.
 Sentence 419: HORATIO These are but wild and whirling words, my lord.
 Sentence 420: HAMLET I'm sorry they offend you, heartily;
 Yes, 'faith heartily.
 Sentence 421: HORATIO There's no offence, my lord.
 Sentence 422: HAMLET Yes, by Saint Patrick, but there is, Horatio,
 And much offence too.
 Sentence 423: Touching this vision here,
 It is an honest ghost, that let me tell you:
 For your desire to know what is between us,
 O'ermaster 't as you may.
 Sentence 424: And now, good friends,
 As you are friends, scholars and soldiers,
 Give me one poor request.
 Sentence 425: HORATIO What is't, my lord?
 Sentence 426: we will.
 Sentence 427: HAMLET Never make known what you have seen to-night.
 Sentence 428: HORATIO |
 | My lord, we will not.
 Sentence 429: MARCELLUS |

HAMLET Nay, but swear't.

Sentence 430: HORATIO In faith,
My lord, not I.

MARCELLUS Nor I, my lord, in faith.

Sentence 431: HAMLET Upon my sword.

Sentence 432: MARCELLUS We have sworn, my lord, already.

Sentence 433: HAMLET Indeed, upon my sword, indeed.

Sentence 434: Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

Sentence 435: HAMLET Ah, ha, boy!

Sentence 436: say'st thou so?

Sentence 437: art thou there,
truepenny?

Sentence 438: Come on--you hear this fellow in the cellarage--
Consent to swear.

Sentence 439: HORATIO Propose the oath, my lord.

Sentence 440: HAMLET Never to speak of this that you have seen,
Swear by my sword.

Sentence 441: Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

Sentence 442: HAMLET Hic et ubique?

Sentence 443: then we'll shift our ground.

Sentence 444: Come hither, gentlemen,
And lay your hands again upon my sword:
Never to speak of this that you have heard,
Swear by my sword.

Sentence 445: Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

Sentence 446: HAMLET Well said, old mole!

Sentence 447: canst work i' the earth so fast?

Sentence 448: A worthy pioner!

Sentence 449: Once more remove, good friends.

Sentence 450: HORATIO O day and night, but this is wondrous strange!

Sentence 451: HAMLET And therefore as a stranger give it welcome.

Sentence 452: There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio,
Than are dreamt of in your philosophy.

Sentence 453: But come;
Here, as before, never, so help you mercy,
How strange or odd soe'er I bear myself,
As I perchance hereafter shall think meet
To put an antic disposition on,
That you, at such times seeing me, never shall,
With arms encumber'd thus, or this headshake,
Or by pronouncing of some doubtful phrase,
As 'Well, well, we know,' or 'We could, an if we would,'
Or 'If we list to speak,' or 'There be, an if they might,'
Or such ambiguous giving out, to note
That you know aught of me: this not to do,
So grace and mercy at your most need help you, Swear.

Sentence 454: Ghost [Beneath] Swear.

Sentence 455: HAMLET Rest, rest, perturbed spirit!

Sentence 456: [They swear]

So, gentlemen,
With all my love I do command me to you:
And what so poor a man as Hamlet is

May do, to express his love and friending to you,
 God willing, shall not lack.
 Sentence 457: Let us go in together;
 And still your fingers on your lips, I pray.
 Sentence 458: The time is out of joint: O cursed spite,
 That ever I was born to set it right!
 Sentence 459: Nay, come, let's go together.
 Sentence 460: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE I A room in POLONIUS' house.

Sentence 461: [Enter POLONIUS and REYNALDO]

LORD POLONIUS Give him this money and these notes, Reynaldo.
 Sentence 462: REYNALDO I will, my lord.
 Sentence 463: LORD POLONIUS You shall do marvellous wisely, good Reynaldo,
 Before you visit him, to make inquire
 Of his behavior.
 Sentence 464: REYNALDO My lord, I did intend it.
 Sentence 465: LORD POLONIUS Marry, well said; very well said.
 Sentence 466: Look you, sir,
 Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris;
 And how, and who, what means, and where they keep,
 What company, at what expense; and finding
 By this encompassment and drift of question
 That they do know my son, come you more nearer
 Than your particular demands will touch it:
 Take you, as 'twere, some distant knowledge of him;
 As thus, 'I know his father and his friends,
 And in part him: ' do you mark this, Reynaldo?
 Sentence 467: REYNALDO Ay, very well, my lord.
 Sentence 468: LORD POLONIUS 'And in part him; but' you may say 'not well:
 But, if't be he I mean, he's very wild;
 Addicted so and so: ' and there put on him
 What forgeries you please; marry, none so rank
 As may dishonour him; take heed of that;
 But, sir, such wanton, wild and usual slips
 As are companions noted and most known
 To youth and liberty.
 Sentence 469: REYNALDO As gaming, my lord.
 Sentence 470: LORD POLONIUS Ay, or drinking, fencing, swearing, quarrelling, Drabbing: you may go so far.
 Sentence 471: REYNALDO My lord, that would dishonour him.
 Sentence 472: LORD POLONIUS 'Faith, no; as you may season it in the charge
 You must not put another scandal on him,
 That he is open to incontinency;
 That's not my meaning: but breathe his faults so quaintly

That they may seem the taints of liberty,
 The flash and outbreak of a fiery mind,
 A savageness in unreclaimed blood,
 Of general assault.

Sentence 473: REYNALDO But, my good lord,--

LORD POLONIUS Wherefore should you do this?

Sentence 474: REYNALDO Ay, my lord,
 I would know that.

Sentence 475: LORD POLONIUS Marry, sir, here's my drift;

And I believe, it is a fetch of wit:
 You laying these slight sullies on my son,
 As 'twere a thing a little soil'd i' the working, Mark you,
 Your party in converse, him you would sound,
 Having ever seen in the prenominate crimes
 The youth you breathe of guilty, be assured
 He closes with you in this consequence;
 'Good sir,' or so, or 'friend,' or 'gentleman,'
 According to the phrase or the addition
 Of man and country.

Sentence 476: REYNALDO Very good, my lord.

Sentence 477: LORD POLONIUS And then, sir, does he this--he does--what was I about to say?

Sentence 478: By the mass, I was about to say something: where did I leave?

Sentence 479: REYNALDO At 'closes in the consequence,' at 'friend or so,'
 and 'gentleman.'

Sentence 480: LORD POLONIUS At 'closes in the consequence,' ay, marry;
 He closes thus: 'I know the gentleman;
 I saw him yesterday, or t' other day,
 Or then, or then; with such, or such; and, as you say,
 There was a' gaming; there o'ertook in's rouse;
 There falling out at tennis:' or perchance,
 'I saw him enter such a house of sale,'
 Videlicet, a brothel, or so forth.

Sentence 481: See you now;

Your bait of falsehood takes this carp of truth:
 And thus do we of wisdom and of reach,
 With windlasses and with assays of bias,
 By indirections find directions out:
 So by my former lecture and advice,
 Shall you my son.

Sentence 482: You have me, have you not?

Sentence 483: REYNALDO My lord, I have.

Sentence 484: LORD POLONIUS God be wi' you; fare you well.

Sentence 485: REYNALDO Good my lord!

Sentence 486: LORD POLONIUS Observe his inclination in yourself.

Sentence 487: REYNALDO I shall, my lord.

Sentence 488: LORD POLONIUS And let him ply his music.

Sentence 489: REYNALDO Well, my lord.

Sentence 490: LORD POLONIUS Farewell!

Sentence 491: [Exit REYNALDO]

[Enter OPHELIA]

How now, Ophelia!

Sentence 492: what's the matter?

Sentence 493: OPHELIA O, my lord, my lord, I have been so affrighted!

Sentence 494: LORD POLONIUS With what, i' the name of God?

Sentence 495: OPHELIA My lord, as I was sewing in my closet,

Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced;

No hat upon his head; his stockings foul'd,

Ungarter'd, and down-gyved to his ancle;

Pale as his shirt; his knees knocking each other;

And with a look so piteous in purport

As if he had been loosed out of hell

To speak of horrors,--he comes before me.

Sentence 496: LORD POLONIUS Mad for thy love?

Sentence 497: OPHELIA My lord, I do not know;

But truly, I do fear it.

Sentence 498: LORD POLONIUS What said he?

Sentence 499: OPHELIA He took me by the wrist and held me hard;

Then goes he to the length of all his arm;

And, with his other hand thus o'er his brow,

He falls to such perusal of my face

As he would draw it.

Sentence 500: Long stay'd he so;

At last, a little shaking of mine arm

And thrice his head thus waving up and down,

He raised a sigh so piteous and profound

As it did seem to shatter all his bulk

And end his being: that done, he lets me go:

And, with his head over his shoulder turn'd,

He seem'd to find his way without his eyes;

For out o' doors he went without their helps,

And, to the last, bended their light on me.

Sentence 501: LORD POLONIUS Come, go with me: I will go seek the king.

Sentence 502: This is the very ecstasy of love,

Whose violent property fordoes itself

And leads the will to desperate undertakings

As oft as any passion under heaven

That does afflict our natures.

Sentence 503: I am sorry.

Sentence 504: What, have you given him any hard words of late?

Sentence 505: OPHELIA No, my good lord, but, as you did command,

I did repel his fetters and denied

His access to me.

Sentence 506: LORD POLONIUS That hath made him mad.

Sentence 507: I am sorry that with better heed and judgment

I had not quoted him: I fear'd he did but trifles,

And meant to wreck thee; but, beshrew my jealousy!

Sentence 508: By heaven, it is as proper to our age

To cast beyond ourselves in our opinions

As it is common for the younger sort

To lack discretion.

Sentence 509: Come, go we to the king:

This must be known; which, being kept close, might

move

More grief to hide than hate to utter love.

Sentence 510: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT II

SCENE II A room in the castle.

Sentence 511: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ, GULDENSTERN, and Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Welcome, dear Rosencrantz and Guildenstern!

Sentence 512: Moreover that we much did long to see you,
The need we have to use you did provoke
Our hasty sending.

Sentence 513: Something have you heard
Of Hamlet's transformation; so call it,
Sith nor the exterior nor the inward man
Resembles that it was.

Sentence 514: What it should be,
More than his father's death, that thus hath put him
So much from the understanding of himself,
I cannot dream of: I entreat you both,
That, being of so young days brought up with him,
And sith so neighbour'd to his youth and havior,
That you vouchsafe your rest here in our court
Some little time: so by your companies
To draw him on to pleasures, and to gather,
So much as from occasion you may glean,
Whether aught, to us unknown, afflicts him thus,
That, open'd, lies within our remedy.

Sentence 515: QUEEN GERTRUDE Good gentlemen, he hath much talk'd of you;
And sure I am two men there are not living
To whom he more adheres.

Sentence 516: If it will please you
To show us so much gentry and good will
As to expend your time with us awhile,
For the supply and profit of our hope,
Your visitation shall receive such thanks
As fits a king's remembrance.

Sentence 517: ROSENCRANTZ Both your majesties
Might, by the sovereign power you have of us,
Put your dread pleasures more into command
Than to entreaty.

Sentence 518: GULDENSTERN But we both obey,
And here give up ourselves, in the full bent
To lay our service freely at your feet,
To be commanded.

Sentence 519: KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, Rosencrantz and gentle Guildenstern.

Sentence 520: QUEEN GERTRUDE Thanks, Guildenstern and gentle Rosencrantz:
And I beseech you instantly to visit
My too much changed son.

Sentence 521: Go, some of you,
And bring these gentlemen where Hamlet is.

Sentence 522: GUILDENSTERN Heavens make our presence and our practises
 Pleasant and helpful to him!

Sentence 523: QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay, amen!

Sentence 524: [Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and some Attendants]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS The ambassadors from Norway, my good lord,
 Are joyfully return'd.

Sentence 525: KING CLAUDIUS Thou still hast been the father of good news.

Sentence 526: LORD POLONIUS Have I, my lord?

Sentence 527: I assure my good liege,
 I hold my duty, as I hold my soul,
 Both to my God and to my gracious king:
 And I do think, or else this brain of mine
 Hunts not the trail of policy so sure
 As it hath used to do, that I have found
 The very cause of Hamlet's lunacy.

Sentence 528: KING CLAUDIUS O, speak of that; that do I long to hear.

Sentence 529: LORD POLONIUS Give first admittance to the ambassadors;
 My news shall be the fruit to that great feast.

Sentence 530: KING CLAUDIUS Thyself do grace to them, and bring them in.

Sentence 531: [Exit POLONIUS]

He tells me, my dear Gertrude, he hath found
 The head and source of all your son's distemper.

Sentence 532: QUEEN GERTRUDE I doubt it is no other but the main;
 His father's death, and our o'erhasty marriage.

Sentence 533: KING CLAUDIUS Well, we shall sift him.

Sentence 534: [Re-enter POLONIUS, with VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

Welcome, my good friends!

Sentence 535: Say, Voltimand, what from our brother Norway?

Sentence 536: VOLTIMAND Most fair return of greetings and desires.

Sentence 537: Upon our first, he sent out to suppress

His nephew's levies; which to him appear'd
 To be a preparation 'gainst the Polack;
 But, better look'd into, he truly found
 It was against your highness: whereat grieved,
 That so his sickness, age and impotence
 Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests
 On Fortinbras; which he, in brief, obeys;
 Receives rebuke from Norway, and in fine
 Makes vow before his uncle never more
 To give the assay of arms against your majesty.

Sentence 538: Whereon old Norway, overcome with joy,
 Gives him three thousand crowns in annual fee,
 And his commission to employ those soldiers,
 So levied as before, against the Polack:
 With an entreaty, herein further shown,

[Giving a paper]

That it might please you to give quiet pass
 Through your dominions for this enterprise,

On such regards of safety and allowance
As therein are set down.

Sentence 539: KING CLAUDIUS It likes us well;
And at our more consider'd time well read,
Answer, and think upon this business.

Sentence 540: Meantime we thank you for your well-took labour:
Go to your rest; at night we'll feast together:
Most welcome home!

Sentence 541: [Exeunt VOLTIMAND and CORNELIUS]

LORD POLONIUS This business is well ended.

Sentence 542: My liege, and madam, to expostulate
What majesty should be, what duty is,
Why day is day, night night, and time is time,
Were nothing but to waste night, day and time.

Sentence 543: Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit,
And tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes,
I will be brief: your noble son is mad:
Mad call I it; for, to define true madness,
What is't but to be nothing else but mad?

Sentence 544: But let that go.

Sentence 545: QUEEN GERTRUDE More matter, with less art.

Sentence 546: LORD POLONIUS Madam, I swear I use no art at all.

Sentence 547: That he is mad, 'tis true: 'tis true 'tis pity;
And pity 'tis 'tis true: a foolish figure;
But farewell it, for I will use no art.

Sentence 548: Mad let us grant him, then: and now remains
That we find out the cause of this effect,
Or rather say, the cause of this defect,
For this effect defective comes by cause:
Thus it remains, and the remainder thus.

Sentence 549: Perpend.

Sentence 550: I have a daughter--have while she is mine--
Who, in her duty and obedience, mark,
Hath given me this: now gather, and surmise.

Sentence 551: [Reads]

'To the celestial and my soul's idol, the most
beautified Ophelia,'--
That's an ill phrase, a vile phrase; 'beautified' is a vile phrase: but you shall hear.

Sentence 552: Thus:

[Reads]

'In her excellent white bosom, these, &c.'

QUEEN GERTRUDE Came this from Hamlet to her?

Sentence 553: LORD POLONIUS Good madam, stay awhile; I will be faithful.

Sentence 554: [Reads]

'Doubt thou the stars are fire;
Doubt that the sun doth move;
Doubt truth to be a liar;
But never doubt I love.

Sentence 555: 'O dear Ophelia, I am ill at these numbers;

Let me be no assistant for a state,
But keep a farm and carters.

Sentence 575: KING CLAUDIUS We will try it.

Sentence 576: QUEEN GERTRUDE But, look, where sadly the poor wretch comes reading.

Sentence 577: LORD POLONIUS Away, I do beseech you, both away:
I'll board him presently.

Sentence 578: [Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, and Attendants]

[Enter HAMLET, reading]

O, give me leave:

How does my good Lord Hamlet?

Sentence 579: HAMLET Well, God-a-mercy.

Sentence 580: LORD POLONIUS Do you know me, my lord?

Sentence 581: HAMLET Excellent well; you are a fishmonger.

Sentence 582: LORD POLONIUS Not I, my lord.

Sentence 583: HAMLET Then I would you were so honest a man.

Sentence 584: LORD POLONIUS Honest, my lord!

Sentence 585: HAMLET Ay, sir; to be honest, as this world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.

Sentence 586: LORD POLONIUS That's very true, my lord.

Sentence 587: HAMLET For if the sun breed maggots in a dead dog, being a god kissing carrion,--Have you a daughter?

Sentence 588: LORD POLONIUS I have, my lord.

Sentence 589: HAMLET Let her not walk i' the sun: conception is a blessing: but not as your daughter may conceive.

Sentence 590: Friend, look to 't.

Sentence 591: LORD POLONIUS [Aside] How say you by that?

Sentence 592: Still harping on my daughter: yet he knew me not at first; he said I was a fishmonger: he is far gone, far gone: and truly in my youth I suffered much extremity for love; very near this.

Sentence 593: I'll speak to him again.

Sentence 594: What do you read, my lord?

Sentence 595: HAMLET Words, words, words.

Sentence 596: LORD POLONIUS What is the matter, my lord?

Sentence 597: HAMLET Between who?

Sentence 598: LORD POLONIUS I mean, the matter that you read, my lord.

Sentence 599: HAMLET Slanders, sir: for the satirical rogue says here
that old men have grey beards, that their faces are wrinkled, their eyes purging thick amber and plum-tree gum and that they have a plentiful lack of
wit, together with most weak hams: all which, sir,
though I most powerfully and potently believe, yet
I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down, for yourself, sir, should be old as I am, if like a crab
you could go backward.

Sentence 600: LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Though this be madness, yet there is method in 't.

Sentence 601: Will you walk out of the air, my lord?

Sentence 602: HAMLET Into my grave.

Sentence 603: LORD POLONIUS Indeed, that is out o' the air.

Sentence 604: [Aside]

How pregnant sometimes his replies are!

Sentence 605: a happiness
 that often madness hits on, which reason and sanity could not so prosperously be delivered of.

Sentence 606: I will leave him, and suddenly contrive the means of meeting between him and my daughter.--My honourable
 lord, I will most humbly take my leave of you.

Sentence 607: HAMLET You cannot, sir, take from me any thing that I will more willingly part withal: except my life, except
 my life, except my life.

Sentence 608: LORD POLONIUS Fare you well, my lord.

Sentence 609: HAMLET These tedious old fools!

Sentence 610: [Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

LORD POLONIUS You go to seek the Lord Hamlet; there he is.

Sentence 611: ROSENCRANTZ [To POLONIUS] God save you, sir!

Sentence 612: [Exit POLONIUS]

GUILDENSTERN My honoured lord!

Sentence 613: ROSENCRANTZ My most dear lord!

Sentence 614: HAMLET My excellent good friends!

Sentence 615: How dost thou,
 Guildenstern?

Sentence 616: Ah, Rosencrantz!

Sentence 617: Good lads, how do ye both?

Sentence 618: ROSENCRANTZ As the indifferent children of the earth.

Sentence 619: GUILDENSTERN Happy, in that we are not over-happy;
 On fortune's cap we are not the very button.

Sentence 620: HAMLET Nor the soles of her shoe?

Sentence 621: ROSENCRANTZ Neither, my lord.

Sentence 622: HAMLET Then you live about her waist, or in the middle of
 her favours?

Sentence 623: GUILDENSTERN 'Faith, her privates we.

Sentence 624: HAMLET In the secret parts of fortune?

Sentence 625: O, most true; she is a strumpet.

Sentence 626: What's the news?

Sentence 627: ROSENCRANTZ None, my lord, but that the world's grown honest.

Sentence 628: HAMLET Then is doomsday near: but your news is not true.

Sentence 629: Let me question more in particular: what have you,
 my good friends, deserved at the hands of fortune,
 that she sends you to prison hither?

Sentence 630: GUILDENSTERN Prison, my lord!

Sentence 631: HAMLET Denmark's a prison.

Sentence 632: ROSENCRANTZ Then is the world one.

Sentence 633: HAMLET A goodly one; in which there are many confines, wards and dungeons, Denmark being one o' the worst.

Sentence 634: ROSENCRANTZ We think not so, my lord.

Sentence 635: HAMLET Why, then, 'tis none to you; for there is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so: to me
 it is a prison.

Sentence 636: ROSENCRANTZ Why then, your ambition makes it one; 'tis too narrow for your mind.

Sentence 637: HAMLET O God, I could be bounded in a nut shell and count myself a king of infinite space, were it not that I have bad dreams.

Sentence 638: GUILDENSTERN Which dreams indeed are ambition, for the very substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream.

Sentence 639: HAMLET A dream itself is but a shadow.

Sentence 640: ROSENCRANTZ Truly, and I hold ambition of so airy and light a quality that it is but a shadow's shadow.

Sentence 641: HAMLET Then are our beggars bodies, and our monarchs and outstretched heroes the beggars' shadows.

Sentence 642: Shall we to the court?

Sentence 643: for, by my fay, I cannot reason.

Sentence 644: ROSENCRANTZ |
| We'll wait upon you.

Sentence 645: GUILDENSTERN |

HAMLET No such matter: I will not sort you with the rest
of my servants, for, to speak to you like an honest man, I am most dreadfully attended.

Sentence 646: But, in the beaten way of friendship, what make you at Elsinore?

Sentence 647: ROSENCRANTZ To visit you, my lord; no other occasion.

Sentence 648: HAMLET Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks; but I thank you: and sure, dear friends, my thanks are too dear a halfpenny.

Sentence 649: Were you not sent for?

Sentence 650: Is it
your own inclining?

Sentence 651: Is it a free visitation?

Sentence 652: Come,
deal justly with me: come, come; nay, speak.

Sentence 653: GUILDENSTERN What should we say, my lord?

Sentence 654: HAMLET Why, any thing, but to the purpose.

Sentence 655: You were sent for; and there is a kind of confession in your looks
which your modesties have not craft enough to colour:
I know the good king and queen have sent for you.

Sentence 656: ROSENCRANTZ To what end, my lord?

Sentence 657: HAMLET That you must teach me.

Sentence 658: But let me conjure you, by the rights of our fellowship, by the consonancy of our youth, by the obligation of our ever-preserved
love, and by what more dear a better proposer could charge you withal, be even and direct with me,
whether you were sent for, or no?

Sentence 659: ROSENCRANTZ [Aside to GUILDENSTERN] What say you?

Sentence 660: HAMLET [Aside] Nay, then, I have an eye of you.--If you love me, hold not off.

Sentence 661: GUILDENSTERN My lord, we were sent for.

Sentence 662: HAMLET I will tell you why; so shall my anticipation prevent your discovery, and your secrecy to the king and queen moult no feather.

Sentence 663: I have of late--but wherefore I know not--lost all my mirth, forgone all custom of exercises; and indeed it goes so heavily with my disposition that this goodly frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory, this most excellent canopy, the air, look you, this brave o'erhanging firmament, this majestical roof fretted with golden fire, why, it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapours.

Sentence 664: What a piece of work is a man!

Sentence 665: how noble in reason!

Sentence 666: how infinite in faculty!

Sentence 667: in form and moving how express and admirable!

Sentence 668: in action how like an angel!

Sentence 669: in apprehension how like a god!

Sentence 670: the beauty of the world!

Sentence 671: the paragon of animals!

Sentence 672: And yet, to me, what is this quintessence of dust?

Sentence 673: man delights not me: no, nor woman neither, though by your smiling you seem to say so.

Sentence 674: ROSENCRANTZ My lord, there was no such stuff in my thoughts.

Sentence 675: HAMLET Why did you laugh then, when I said 'man delights not me'?

Sentence 676: ROSENCRANTZ To think, my lord, if you delight not in man, what lenten entertainment the players shall receive from you: we coted them on the way; and hither are they coming, to offer you service.

Sentence 677: HAMLET He that plays the king shall be welcome; his majesty shall have tribute of me; the adventurous knight shall use his foil and target; the lover shall not sigh gratis; the humourous man shall end his part in peace; the clown shall make those laugh whose lungs are tickled o' the sere; and the lady shall say her mind freely, or the blank verse shall halt for't.

Sentence 678: What players are they?

Sentence 679: ROSENCRANTZ Even those you were wont to take delight in, the tragedians of the city.

Sentence 680: HAMLET How chances it they travel?

Sentence 681: their residence, both in reputation and profit, was better both ways.

Sentence 682: ROSENCRANTZ I think their inhibition comes by the means of the late innovation.

Sentence 683: HAMLET Do they hold the same estimation they did when I was in the city?

Sentence 684: are they so followed?

Sentence 685: ROSENCRANTZ No, indeed, are they not.

Sentence 686: HAMLET How comes it?

Sentence 687: do they grow rusty?

Sentence 688: ROSENCRANTZ Nay, their endeavour keeps in the wonted pace: but there is, sir, an aery of children, little eyases, that cry out on the top of question, and are most tyrannically clapped for't: these are now the fashion, and so berattle the common stages--so they call them--that many wearing rapiers are afraid of goose-quills and dare scarce come thither.

Sentence 689: HAMLET What, are they children?
Sentence 690: who maintains 'em?
Sentence 691: how are they escoted?
Sentence 692: Will they pursue the quality no longer than they can sing?
Sentence 693: will they not say afterwards, if they should grow themselves to common players--as it is most like, if their means are no better--their writers do them wrong, to make them
exclaim against their own succession?
Sentence 694: ROSENCRANTZ 'Faith, there has been much to do on both sides; and the nation holds it no sin to tarre them to controversy: there was, for a while, no money bid
for argument, unless the poet and the player went to
cuffs in the question.
Sentence 695: HAMLET Is't possible?
Sentence 696: GUILDENSTERN O, there has been much throwing about of brains.
Sentence 697: HAMLET Do the boys carry it away?
Sentence 698: ROSENCRANTZ Ay, that they do, my lord; Hercules and his load to o.
Sentence 699: HAMLET It is not very strange; for mine uncle is king of Denmark, and those that would make mows at him while my father lived, give twenty, forty, fifty, an hundred ducats a-piece for his picture in little.
Sentence 700: 'Sblood, there is something in this more than natural, if philosophy could find it out.
Sentence 701: [Flourish of trumpets within]

GUILDENSTERN There are the players.
Sentence 702: HAMLET Gentlemen, you are welcome to Elsinore.
Sentence 703: Your hands,
come then: the appurtenance of welcome is fashion
and ceremony: let me comply with you in this garb,
lest my extent to the players, which, I tell you,
must show fairly outward, should more appear like entertainment than yours.
Sentence 704: You are welcome: but my uncle-father and aunt-mother are deceived.
Sentence 705: GUILDENSTERN In what, my dear lord?
Sentence 706: HAMLET I am but mad north-north-west: when the wind is southerly I know a hawk from a handsaw.
Sentence 707: [Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS Well be with you, gentlemen!
Sentence 708: HAMLET Hark you, Guildenstern; and you too: at each ear a hearer: that great baby you see there is not yet out of his swaddling-cloths.
Sentence 709: ROSENCRANTZ Happily he's the second time come to them; for they say an old man is twice a child.
Sentence 710: HAMLET I will prophesy he comes to tell me of the players;
mark it.
Sentence 711: You say right, sir: o' Monday morning;
'twas so indeed.
Sentence 712: LORD POLONIUS My lord, I have news to tell you.
Sentence 713: HAMLET My lord, I have news to tell you.

Sentence 714: When Roscius was an actor in Rome,--

LORD POLONIUS The actors are come hither, my lord.

Sentence 715: HAMLET Buz, buz!

Sentence 716: LORD POLONIUS Upon mine honour,--

HAMLET Then came each actor on his ass,--

LORD POLONIUS The best actors in the world, either for tragedy,
comedy, history, pastoral, pastoral-comical,
historical-pastoral, tragical-historical, tragicalcomical-historical-pastoral, scene individable, or poem unlimited: Seneca cannot be too heavy, nor Plautus too light.

Sentence 717: For the law of writ and the liberty, these are the only men.

Sentence 718: HAMLET O Jephthah, judge of Israel, what a treasure hadst thou!

Sentence 719: LORD POLONIUS What a treasure had he, my lord?

Sentence 720: HAMLET Why,
'One fair daughter and no more,
The which he loved passing well.'

Sentence 721: LORD POLONIUS [Aside] Still on my daughter.

Sentence 722: HAMLET Am I not i' the right, old Jephthah?

Sentence 723: LORD POLONIUS If you call me Jephthah, my lord, I have a daughter
that I love passing well.

Sentence 724: HAMLET Nay, that follows not.

Sentence 725: LORD POLONIUS What follows, then, my lord?

Sentence 726: HAMLET Why,
'As by lot, God wot,'
and then, you know,
'It came to pass, as most like it was,'--
the first row of the pious chanson will show you
more; for look, where my abridgement comes.

Sentence 727: [Enter four or five Players]

You are welcome, masters; welcome, all.

Sentence 728: I am glad to see thee well.

Sentence 729: Welcome, good friends.

Sentence 730: O, my old friend!

Sentence 731: thy face is valenced since I saw thee last:
comest thou to beard me in Denmark?

Sentence 732: What, my young lady and mistress!

Sentence 733: By'r lady, your ladyship is nearer to heaven than when I saw you last, by the altitude of a chopine.

Sentence 734: Pray God, your voice, like apiece of uncurrent gold, be not cracked within the ring.

Sentence 735: Masters, you are all welcome.

Sentence 736: We'll e'en to't like French falconers, fly at any thing we see:
we'll have a speech straight: come, give us a taste of your quality; come, a passionate speech.

Sentence 737: First Player What speech, my lord?

Sentence 738: HAMLET I heard thee speak me a speech once, but it was never acted; or, if it was, not above once; for the play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviare to the general: but it was--as I received it, and others, whose judgments in such matters cried in the top of mine--an excellent play, well digested in the scenes, set down with as much modesty as cunning.

Sentence 739: I remember, one said there were no sallets in the lines to make the matter savoury, nor no matter in the phrase that might indict the author of affectation; but called it an honest method, as wholesome as sweet, and by very much more handsome than fine.

Sentence 740: One speech in it I chiefly loved: 'twas Aeneas' tale to Dido; and thereabout of it especially, where he speaks of Priam's slaughter: if it live in your memory, begin at this line: let me see, let me see--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, like the Hyrcanian beast,'-- it is not so:--it begins with Pyrrhus:--
 'The rugged Pyrrhus, he whose sable arms, Black as his purpose, did the night resemble When he lay couched in the ominous horse, Hath now this dread and black complexion smear'd With heraldry more dismal; head to foot Now is he total gules; horridly trick'd With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sons, Baked and impasted with the parching streets, That lend a tyrannous and damned light To their lord's murder: roasted in wrath and fire, And thus o'er-sized with coagulate gore, With eyes like carbuncles, the hellish Pyrrhus Old grandsire Priam seeks.'

Sentence 741: So, proceed you.

Sentence 742: LORD POLONIUS 'Fore God, my lord, well spoken, with good accent and good discretion.

Sentence 743: First Player 'Anon he finds him Striking too short at Greeks; his antique sword, Rebellious to his arm, lies where it falls, Repugnant to command: unequal match'd, Pyrrhus at Priam drives; in rage strikes wide; But with the whiff and wind of his fell sword The unnerved father falls.

Sentence 744: Then senseless Ilium, Seeming to feel this blow, with flaming top Stoops to his base, and with a hideous crash Takes prisoner Pyrrhus' ear: for, lo!

Sentence 745: his sword, Which was declining on the milky head Of reverend Priam, seem'd i' the air to stick: So, as a painted tyrant, Pyrrhus stood, And like a neutral to his will and matter, Did nothing.

Sentence 746: But, as we often see, against some storm,
 A silence in the heavens, the rack stand still,
 The bold winds speechless and the orb below
 As hush as death, anon the dreadful thunder
 Doth rend the region, so, after Pyrrhus' pause,
 Aroused vengeance sets him new a-work;
 And never did the Cyclops' hammers fall
 On Mars's armour forged for proof eterne
 With less remorse than Pyrrhus' bleeding sword
 Now falls on Priam.

Sentence 747: Out, out, thou strumpet, Fortune!

Sentence 748: All you gods,
 In general synod 'take away her power;
 Break all the spokes and fellies from her wheel,
 And bowl the round nave down the hill of heaven,
 As low as to the fiends!'

Sentence 749: LORD POLONIUS This is too long.

Sentence 750: HAMLET It shall to the barber's, with your beard.

Sentence 751: Prithee, say on: he's for a jig or a tale of bawdry, or he sleeps: say on: come to Hecuba.

Sentence 752: First Player 'But who, O, who had seen the mobled queen--'

HAMLET 'The mobled queen?'

Sentence 753: LORD POLONIUS That's good; 'mobled queen' is good.

Sentence 754: First Player 'Run barefoot up and down, threatening the flames
 With bisson rheum; a clout upon that head
 Where late the diadem stood, and for a robe,
 About her lank and all o'er-teemed loins,
 A blanket, in the alarm of fear caught up;
 Who this had seen, with tongue in venom steep'd,
 'Gainst Fortune's state would treason have
 pronounced:
 But if the gods themselves did see her then
 When she saw Pyrrhus make malicious sport
 In mincing with his sword her husband's limbs,
 The instant burst of clamour that she made,
 Unless things mortal move them not at all,
 Would have made milch the burning eyes of heaven,
 And passion in the gods.'

Sentence 755: LORD POLONIUS Look, whether he has not turned his colour and has tears in's eyes.

Sentence 756: Pray you, no more.

Sentence 757: HAMLET 'Tis well: I'll have thee speak out the rest soon.

Sentence 758: Good my lord, will you see the players well bestowed?

Sentence 759: Do you hear, let them be well used; for they are the abstract and brief chronicles of the time: after your death you were better have a bad
 epitaph than their ill report while you live.

Sentence 760: LORD POLONIUS My lord, I will use them according to their desert.

Sentence 761: HAMLET God's bodykins, man, much better: use every man after his desert, and who should 'scape whipping?

Sentence 762: Use them after your own honour and dignity: the less they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty.

Sentence 763: Take them in.

Sentence 764: LORD POLONIUS Come, sirs.
 Sentence 765: HAMLET Follow him, friends: we'll hear a play to-morrow.
 Sentence 766: [Exit POLONIUS with all the Players but the First]

Dost thou hear me, old friend; can you play the Murder of Gonzago?
 Sentence 767: First Player Ay, my lord.
 Sentence 768: HAMLET We'll ha't to-morrow night.
 Sentence 769: You could, for a need,
 study a speech of some dozen or sixteen lines, which
 I would set down and insert in't, could you not?
 Sentence 770: First Player Ay, my lord.
 Sentence 771: HAMLET Very well.
 Sentence 772: Follow that lord; and look you mock him
 not.
 Sentence 773: [Exit First Player]

My good friends, I'll leave you till night: you are welcome to Elsinore.
 Sentence 774: ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord!
 Sentence 775: HAMLET Ay, so, God be wi' ye;

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Now I am alone.
 Sentence 776: O, what a rogue and peasant slave am I!
 Sentence 777: Is it not monstrous that this player here,
 But in a fiction, in a dream of passion,
 Could force his soul so to his own conceit
 That from her working all his visage wann'd,
 Tears in his eyes, distraction in's aspect,
 A broken voice, and his whole function suiting
 With forms to his conceit?
 Sentence 778: and all for nothing!
 Sentence 779: For Hecuba!
 Sentence 780: What's Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba,
 That he should weep for her?
 Sentence 781: What would he do,
 Had he the motive and the cue for passion
 That I have?
 Sentence 782: He would drown the stage with tears
 And cleave the general ear with horrid speech,
 Make mad the guilty and appal the free,
 Confound the ignorant, and amaze indeed
 The very faculties of eyes and ears.
 Sentence 783: Yet I,
 A dull and muddy-mettled rascal, peak,
 Like John-a-dreams, unpregnant of my cause,
 And can say nothing; no, not for a king,
 Upon whose property and most dear life
 A damn'd defeat was made.
 Sentence 784: Am I a coward?
 Sentence 785: Who calls me villain?
 Sentence 786: breaks my pate across?
 Sentence 787: Plucks off my beard, and blows it in my face?
 Sentence 788: Tweaks me by the nose?

Sentence 789: gives me the lie i' the throat,
 As deep as to the lungs?
 Sentence 790: who does me this?
 Sentence 791: Ha!
 Sentence 792: 'Swounds, I should take it: for it cannot be
 But I am pigeon-liver'd and lack gall
 To make oppression bitter, or ere this
 I should have fatted all the region kites
 With this slave's offal: bloody, bawdy villain!
 Sentence 793: Remorseless, treacherous, lecherous, kindless villain!
 Sentence 794: O, vengeance!
 Sentence 795: Why, what an ass am I!
 Sentence 796: This is most brave,
 That I, the son of a dear father murder'd,
 Prompted to my revenge by heaven and hell,
 Must, like a whore, unpack my heart with words,
 And fall a-cursing, like a very drab,
 A scullion!
 Sentence 797: Fie upon't!
 Sentence 798: foh!
 Sentence 799: About, my brain!
 Sentence 800: I have heard
 That guilty creatures sitting at a play
 Have by the very cunning of the scene
 Been struck so to the soul that presently
 They have proclaim'd their malefactions;
 For murder, though it have no tongue, will speak
 With most miraculous organ.
 Sentence 801: I'll have these players
 Play something like the murder of my father
 Before mine uncle: I'll observe his looks;
 I'll tent him to the quick: if he but blench,
 I know my course.
 Sentence 802: The spirit that I have seen
 May be the devil: and the devil hath power
 To assume a pleasing shape; yea, and perhaps
 Out of my weakness and my melancholy,
 As he is very potent with such spirits,
 Abuses me to damn me: I'll have grounds
 More relative than this: the play 's the thing
 Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the king.
 Sentence 803: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE I A room in the castle.

Sentence 804: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS,
 OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS And can you, by no drift of circumstance,
 Get from him why he puts on this confusion,
 Grating so harshly all his days of quiet
 With turbulent and dangerous lunacy?

Sentence 805: ROSENCRANTZ He does confess he feels himself distracted;
 But from what cause he will by no means speak.

Sentence 806: GUILDENSTERN Nor do we find him forward to be sounded,
 But, with a crafty madness, keeps aloof,
 When we would bring him on to some confession
 Of his true state.

Sentence 807: QUEEN GERTRUDE Did he receive you well?

Sentence 808: ROSENCRANTZ Most like a gentleman.

Sentence 809: GUILDENSTERN But with much forcing of his disposition.

Sentence 810: ROSENCRANTZ Niggard of question; but, of our demands,
 Most free in his reply.

Sentence 811: QUEEN GERTRUDE Did you assay him?

Sentence 812: To any pastime?

Sentence 813: ROSENCRANTZ Madam, it so fell out, that certain players
 We o'er-raught on the way: of these we told him;
 And there did seem in him a kind of joy
 To hear of it: they are about the court,
 And, as I think, they have already order
 This night to play before him.

Sentence 814: LORD POLONIUS 'Tis most true:
 And he beseech'd me to entreat your majesties
 To hear and see the matter.

Sentence 815: KING CLAUDIUS With all my heart; and it doth much content me
 To hear him so inclined.

Sentence 816: Good gentlemen, give him a further edge,
 And drive his purpose on to these delights.

Sentence 817: ROSENCRANTZ We shall, my lord.

Sentence 818: [Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Sweet Gertrude, leave us too;
 For we have closely sent for Hamlet hither,
 That he, as 'twere by accident, may here
 Affront Ophelia:
 Her father and myself, lawful espials,
 Will so bestow ourselves that, seeing, unseen,
 We may of their encounter frankly judge,
 And gather by him, as he is behaved,
 If 't be the affliction of his love or no
 That thus he suffers for.

Sentence 819: QUEEN GERTRUDE I shall obey you.

Sentence 820: And for your part, Ophelia, I do wish
 That your good beauties be the happy cause
 Of Hamlet's wildness: so shall I hope your virtues
 Will bring him to his wonted way again,
 To both your honours.

Sentence 821: OPHELIA Madam, I wish it may.

Sentence 822: [Exit QUEEN GERTRUDE]

LORD POLONIUS Ophelia, walk you here.

Sentence 823: Gracious, so please you,
 We will bestow ourselves.

Sentence 824: [To OPHELIA]

Read on this book;
That show of such an exercise may colour
Your loneliness.

Sentence 825: We are oft to blame in this,--

'Tis too much proved--that with devotion's visage
And pious action we do sugar o'er
The devil himself.

Sentence 826: KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] O, 'tis too true!

Sentence 827: How smart a lash that speech doth give my conscience!

Sentence 828: The harlot's cheek, beautied with plastering art,

Is not more ugly to the thing that helps it
Than is my deed to my most painted word:
O heavy burthen!

Sentence 829: LORD POLONIUS I hear him coming: let's withdraw, my lord.

Sentence 830: [Exeunt KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET To be, or not to be: that is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
And by opposing end them?

Sentence 831: To die: to sleep;

No more; and by a sleep to say we end
The heart-ache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wish'd.

Sentence 832: To die, to sleep;

To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub;
For in that sleep of death what dreams may come
When we have shuffled off this mortal coil,
Must give us pause: there's the respect
That makes calamity of so long life;
For who would bear the whips and scorns of time,
The oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely,
The pangs of despised love, the law's delay,
The insolence of office and the spurns
That patient merit of the unworthy takes,
When he himself might his quietus make
With a bare bodkin?

Sentence 833: who would fardels bear,

To grunt and sweat under a weary life,
But that the dread of something after death,
The undiscover'd country from whose bourn
No traveller returns, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of?

Sentence 834: Thus conscience does make cowards of us all;

And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought,
And enterprises of great pith and moment
With this regard their currents turn awry,
And lose the name of action.--Soft you now!

Sentence 835: The fair Ophelia!

Sentence 836: Nymph, in thy orisons
 Be all my sins remember'd.

Sentence 837: OPHELIA Good my lord,
 How does your honour for this many a day?

Sentence 838: HAMLET I humbly thank you; well, well, well.

Sentence 839: OPHELIA My lord, I have remembrances of yours,
 That I have longed long to re-deliver;
 I pray you, now receive them.

Sentence 840: HAMLET No, not I;
 I never gave you aught.

Sentence 841: OPHELIA My honour'd lord, you know right well you did;
 And, with them, words of so sweet breath composed
 As made the things more rich: their perfume lost,
 Take these again; for to the noble mind
 Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind.

Sentence 842: There, my lord.

Sentence 843: HAMLET Ha, ha!

Sentence 844: are you honest?

Sentence 845: OPHELIA My lord?

Sentence 846: HAMLET Are you fair?

Sentence 847: OPHELIA What means your lordship?

Sentence 848: HAMLET That if you be honest and fair, your honesty should admit no discourse to your beauty.

Sentence 849: OPHELIA Could beauty, my lord, have better commerce than
 with honesty?

Sentence 850: HAMLET Ay, truly; for the power of beauty will sooner transform honesty from what it is to a bawd than the force of honesty can translate beauty into his likeness: this was sometime a paradox, but now the time gives it proof.

Sentence 851: I did love you once.

Sentence 852: OPHELIA Indeed, my lord, you made me believe so.

Sentence 853: HAMLET You should not have believed me; for virtue cannot so inoculate our old stock but we shall relish of it: I loved you not.

Sentence 854: OPHELIA I was the more deceived.

Sentence 855: HAMLET Get thee to a nunnery: why wouldest thou be a breeder of sinners?

Sentence 856: I am myself indifferent honest;
 but yet I could accuse me of such things that it were better my mother had not borne me: I am very proud, revengeful, ambitious, with more offences at my beck than I have thoughts to put them in, imagination to give them shape, or time to act them in.

Sentence 857: What should such fellows as I do crawling between earth and heaven?

Sentence 858: We are arrant knaves,
 all; believe none of us.

Sentence 859: Go thy ways to a nunnery.

Sentence 860: Where's your father?

Sentence 861: OPHELIA At home, my lord.

Sentence 862: HAMLET Let the doors be shut upon him, that he may play the fool no where but in's own house.

Sentence 863: Farewell.

Sentence 864: OPHELIA O, help him, you sweet heavens!

Sentence 865: HAMLET If thou dost marry, I'll give thee this plague for thy dowry: be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny.

Sentence 866: Get thee to a nunnery, go: farewell.

Sentence 867: Or, if thou wilt needs marry, marry a fool; for wise men know well enough what monsters you make of them.

Sentence 868: To a nunnery, go, and quickly too.

Sentence 869: Farewell.

Sentence 870: OPHELIA O heavenly powers, restore him!

Sentence 871: HAMLET I have heard of your paintings too, well enough; God has given you one face, and you make yourselves another: you jig, you amble, and you lisp, and nick-name God's creatures, and make your wantonness your ignorance.

Sentence 872: Go to, I'll no more on't; it hath made me mad.

Sentence 873: I say, we will have no more marriages: those that are married already, all but one, shall live; the rest shall keep as they are.

Sentence 874: To a nunnery, go.

Sentence 875: [Exit]

OPHELIA O, what a noble mind is here o'erthrown!

Sentence 876: The courtier's, soldier's, scholar's, eye, tongue, sword; The expectancy and rose of the fair state, The glass of fashion and the mould of form, The observed of all observers, quite, quite down!

Sentence 877: And I, of ladies most deject and wretched, That suck'd the honey of his music vows, Now see that noble and most sovereign reason, Like sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh; That unmatch'd form and feature of blown youth Blasted with ecstasy: O, woe is me, To have seen what I have seen, see what I see!

Sentence 878: [Re-enter KING CLAUDIUS and POLONIUS]

KING CLAUDIUS Love!

Sentence 879: his affections do not that way tend; Nor what he spake, though it lack'd form a little, Was not like madness.

Sentence 880: There's something in his soul, O'er which his melancholy sits on brood; And I do doubt the hatch and the disclose Will be some danger: which for to prevent, I have in quick determination Thus set it down: he shall with speed to England, For the demand of our neglected tribute Haply the seas and countries different With variable objects shall expel This something-settled matter in his heart, Whereon his brains still beating puts him thus

From fashion of himself.

Sentence 881: What think you on't?

Sentence 882: LORD POLONIUS It shall do well: but yet do I believe
The origin and commencement of his grief
Sprung from neglected love.

Sentence 883: How now, Ophelia!

Sentence 884: You need not tell us what Lord Hamlet said;
We heard it all.

Sentence 885: My lord, do as you please;
But, if you hold it fit, after the play
Let his queen mother all alone entreat him
To show his grief: let her be round with him;
And I'll be placed, so please you, in the ear
Of all their conference.

Sentence 886: If she find him not,
To England send him, or confine him where
Your wisdom best shall think.

Sentence 887: KING CLAUDIUS It shall be so:
Madness in great ones must not unwatch'd go.

Sentence 888: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE II A hall in the castle.
Sentence 889: [Enter HAMLET and Players]

HAMLET Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly on the tongue: but if you mouth it, as many of your players do, I had as lief the town-crier spoke my lines.

Sentence 890: Nor do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus, but use all gently; for in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, the whirlwind of passion, you must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness.

Sentence 891: O, it
offends me to the soul to hear a robustious periwig-pated fellow tear a passion to tatters, to very rags, to split the ears of the groundlings, who for the most part are capable of nothing but inexplicable dumbshows and noise: I would have such a fellow whipped for o'erdoing Termagant; it out-herods Herod: pray you, avoid it.

Sentence 892: First Player I warrant your honour.

Sentence 893: HAMLET Be not too tame neither, but let your own discretion be your tutor: suit the action to the word, the word to the action; with this special o'erstep not the modesty of nature: for any thing so overdone is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first and now, was and is, to hold, as 'twere, the mirror up to nature; to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure.

Sentence 894: Now this overdone, or come tardy off, though it make the unskilful laugh, cannot but make the judicious grieve; the censure of the which one must in your allowance o'erweigh a whole theatre of others.

Sentence 895: O, there be players that I have seen play, and heard others praise, and that highly, not to speak it profanely, that, neither having the accent of Christians nor the gait of Christian, pagan, nor man, have so strutted and bellowed that I have thought some of nature's journeymen had made men and not made them well, they imitated humanity so abominably.

Sentence 896: First Player I hope we have reformed that indifferently with us, sir.

Sentence 897: HAMLET O, reform it altogether.

Sentence 898: And let those that play your clowns speak no more than is set down for them;
 for there be of them that will themselves laugh, to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too; though, in the mean time, some necessary question of the play be then to be considered:
 that's villanous, and shows a most pitiful ambition
 in the fool that uses it.

Sentence 899: Go, make you ready.

Sentence 900: [Exeunt Players]

[Enter POLONIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

How now, my lord!

Sentence 901: I will the king hear this piece of work?

Sentence 902: LORD POLONIUS And the queen too, and that presently.

Sentence 903: HAMLET Bid the players make haste.

Sentence 904: [Exit POLONIUS]

Will you two help to hasten them?

Sentence 905: ROSENCRANTZ |
 | We will, my lord.

Sentence 906: GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

HAMLET What ho!

Sentence 907: Horatio!

Sentence 908: [Enter HORATIO]

HORATIO Here, sweet lord, at your service.

Sentence 909: HAMLET Horatio, thou art e'en as just a man
 As e'er my conversation coped withal.

Sentence 910: HORATIO O, my dear lord,--

HAMLET Nay, do not think I flatter;
 For what advancement may I hope from thee
 That no revenue hast but thy good spirits,
 To feed and clothe thee?

Sentence 911: Why should the poor be flatter'd?
 Sentence 912: No, let the candied tongue lick absurd pomp,
 And crook the pregnant hinges of the knee
 Where thrift may follow fawning.

Sentence 913: Dost thou hear?

Sentence 914: Since my dear soul was mistress of her choice
 And could of men distinguish, her election
 Hath seal'd thee for herself; for thou hast been
 As one, in suffering all, that suffers nothing,
 A man that fortune's buffets and rewards
 Hast ta'en with equal thanks: and blest are those
 Whose blood and judgment are so well commingled,
 That they are not a pipe for fortune's finger
 To sound what stop she please.

Sentence 915: Give me that man
 That is not passion's slave, and I will wear him
 In my heart's core, ay, in my heart of heart,
 As I do thee.--Something too much of this.--
 There is a play to-night before the king;
 One scene of it comes near the circumstance
 Which I have told thee of my father's death:
 I prithee, when thou seest that act afoot,
 Even with the very comment of thy soul
 Observe mine uncle: if his occulted guilt
 Do not itself unkennel in one speech,
 It is a damned ghost that we have seen,
 And my imaginations are as foul
 As Vulcan's stithy.

Sentence 916: Give him heedful note;
 For I mine eyes will rivet to his face,
 And after we will both our judgments join
 In censure of his seeming.

Sentence 917: HORATIO Well, my lord:
 If he steal aught the whilst this play is playing,
 And 'scape detecting, I will pay the theft.

Sentence 918: HAMLET They are coming to the play; I must be idle:
 Get you a place.

Sentence 919: [Danish march.]

Sentence 920: A flourish.

Sentence 921: Enter KING CLAUDIUS,
 QUEEN GERTRUDE, POLONIUS, OPHELIA, ROSENCRANTZ,
 GUILDENSTERN, and others]

KING CLAUDIUS How fares our cousin Hamlet?

Sentence 922: HAMLET Excellent, i' faith; of the chameleon's dish: I eat
 the air, promise-crammed: you cannot feed capons so.

Sentence 923: KING CLAUDIUS I have nothing with this answer, Hamlet; these words are not mine.

Sentence 924: HAMLET No, nor mine now.

Sentence 925: [To POLONIUS]

My lord, you played once i' the university, you say?
 Sentence 926: LORD POLONIUS That did I, my lord; and was accounted a good actor.
 Sentence 927: HAMLET What did you enact?
 Sentence 928: LORD POLONIUS I did enact Julius Caesar: I was killed i' the Capitol; Brutus killed me.
 Sentence 929: HAMLET It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf there.
 Sentence 930: Be the players ready?
 Sentence 931: ROSENCRANTZ Ay, my lord; they stay upon your patience.
 Sentence 932: QUEEN GERTRUDE Come hither, my dear Hamlet, sit by me.
 Sentence 933: HAMLET No, good mother, here's metal more attractive.
 Sentence 934: LORD POLONIUS [To KING CLAUDIUS] O, ho!
 Sentence 935: do you mark that?
 Sentence 936: HAMLET Lady, shall I lie in your lap?
 Sentence 937: [Lying down at OPHELIA's feet]

OPHELIA No, my lord.
 Sentence 938: HAMLET I mean, my head upon your lap?
 Sentence 939: OPHELIA Ay, my lord.
 Sentence 940: HAMLET Do you think I meant country matters?
 Sentence 941: OPHELIA I think nothing, my lord.
 Sentence 942: HAMLET That's a fair thought to lie between maids' legs.
 Sentence 943: OPHELIA What is, my lord?
 Sentence 944: HAMLET Nothing.
 Sentence 945: OPHELIA You are merry, my lord.
 Sentence 946: HAMLET Who, I?
 Sentence 947: OPHELIA Ay, my lord.
 Sentence 948: HAMLET O God, your only jig-maker.
 Sentence 949: What should a man do but be merry?
 Sentence 950: for, look you, how cheerfully my mother looks, and my father died within these two hours.
 Sentence 951: OPHELIA Nay, 'tis twice two months, my lord.
 Sentence 952: HAMLET So long?
 Sentence 953: Nay then, let the devil wear black, for I'll have a suit of sables.
 Sentence 954: O heavens!
 Sentence 955: die two months ago, and not forgotten yet?
 Sentence 956: Then there's hope a great man's memory may outlive his life half
 a year: but, by'r lady, he must build churches,
 then; or else shall he suffer not thinking on, with
 the hobby-horse, whose epitaph is 'For, O, for, O,
 the hobby-horse is forgot.'
 Sentence 957: [Hautboys play.
 Sentence 958: The dumb-show enters]

[Enter a King and a Queen very lovingly; the Queen embracing him, and he her.
 Sentence 959: She kneels, and makes show of protestation unto him.
 Sentence 960: He takes her up,
 and declines his head upon her neck: lays him down
 upon a bank of flowers: she, seeing him asleep, leaves him.

Sentence 961: Anon comes in a fellow, takes off his crown, kisses it, and pours poison in the King's ears, and exit.

Sentence 962: The Queen returns; finds the King dead, and makes passionate action.

Sentence 963: The Poisoner, with some two or three Mutes, comes in again, seeming to lament with her.

Sentence 964: The dead body is carried away.

Sentence 965: The Poisoner woos the Queen with gifts: she seems loath and unwilling awhile, but in the end accepts his love]

[Exeunt]

OPHELIA What means this, my lord?

Sentence 966: HAMLET Marry, this is micing mallecho; it means mischief.

Sentence 967: OPHELIA Belike this show imports the argument of the play.

Sentence 968: [Enter Prologue]

HAMLET We shall know by this fellow: the players cannot keep counsel; they'll tell all.

Sentence 969: OPHELIA Will he tell us what this show meant?

Sentence 970: HAMLET Ay, or any show that you'll show him: be not you ashamed to show, he'll not shame to tell you what it means.

Sentence 971: OPHELIA You are naught, you are naught: I'll mark the play.

Sentence 972: Prologue For us, and for our tragedy, Here stooping to your clemency, We beg your hearing patiently.

Sentence 973: [Exit]

HAMLET Is this a prologue, or the posy of a ring?

Sentence 974: OPHELIA 'Tis brief, my lord.

Sentence 975: HAMLET As woman's love.

Sentence 976: [Enter two Players, King and Queen]

Player King Full thirty times hath Phoebus' cart gone round Neptune's salt wash and Tellus' orbed ground, And thirty dozen moons with borrow'd sheen About the world have times twelve thirties been, Since love our hearts and Hymen did our hands Unite commutual in most sacred bands.

Sentence 977: Player Queen So many journeys may the sun and moon Make us again count o'er ere love be done!

Sentence 978: But, woe is me, you are so sick of late, So far from cheer and from your former state, That I distrust you.

Sentence 979: Yet, though I distrust, Discomfort you, my lord, it nothing must: For women's fear and love holds quantity; In neither aught, or in extremity.

Sentence 980: Now, what my love is, proof hath made you know; And as my love is sized, my fear is so: Where love is great, the littlest doubts are fear; Where little fears grow great, great love grows there.

Sentence 981: Player King 'Faith, I must leave thee, love, and shortly too;
 My operant powers their functions leave to do:
 And thou shalt live in this fair world behind,
 Honour'd, beloved; and haply one as kind
 For husband shalt thou--

Player Queen O, confound the rest!

Sentence 982: Such love must needs be treason in my breast:
 In second husband let me be accurst!

Sentence 983: None wed the second but who kill'd the first.

Sentence 984: HAMLET [Aside] Wormwood, wormwood.

Sentence 985: Player Queen The instances that second marriage move
 Are base respects of thrift, but none of love:
 A second time I kill my husband dead,
 When second husband kisses me in bed.

Sentence 986: Player King I do believe you think what now you speak;
 But what we do determine oft we break.

Sentence 987: Purpose is but the slave to memory,
 Of violent birth, but poor validity;
 Which now, like fruit unripe, sticks on the tree;
 But fall, unshaken, when they mellow be.

Sentence 988: Most necessary 'tis that we forget
 To pay ourselves what to ourselves is debt:
 What to ourselves in passion we propose,
 The passion ending, doth the purpose lose.

Sentence 989: The violence of either grief or joy
 Their own enactures with themselves destroy:
 Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament;
 Grief joys, joy grieves, on slender accident.

Sentence 990: This world is not for aye, nor 'tis not strange
 That even our loves should with our fortunes change;
 For 'tis a question left us yet to prove,
 Whether love lead fortune, or else fortune love.

Sentence 991: The great man down, you mark his favourite flies;
 The poor advanced makes friends of enemies.

Sentence 992: And hitherto doth love on fortune tend;
 For who not needs shall never lack a friend,
 And who in want a hollow friend doth try,
 Directly seasons him his enemy.

Sentence 993: But, orderly to end where I begun,
 Our wills and fates do so contrary run
 That our devices still are overthrown;
 Our thoughts are ours, their ends none of our own:
 So think thou wilt no second husband wed;
 But die thy thoughts when thy first lord is dead.

Sentence 994: Player Queen Nor earth to me give food, nor heaven light!

Sentence 995: Sport and repose lock from me day and night!

Sentence 996: To desperation turn my trust and hope!

Sentence 997: An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope!

Sentence 998: Each opposite that blanks the face of joy
 Meet what I would have well and it destroy!

Sentence 999: Both here and hence pursue me lasting strife,
 If, once a widow, ever I be wife!

Sentence 1000: HAMLET If she should break it now!

Sentence 1001: Player King 'Tis deeply sworn.

Sentence 1002: Sweet, leave me here awhile;

My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile
The tedious day with sleep.

Sentence 1003: [Sleeps]

Player Queen Sleep rock thy brain,
And never come mischance between us twain!

Sentence 1004: [Exit]

HAMLET Madam, how like you this play?

Sentence 1005: QUEEN GERTRUDE The lady protests too much, methinks.

Sentence 1006: HAMLET O, but she'll keep her word.

Sentence 1007: KING CLAUDIUS Have you heard the argument?

Sentence 1008: Is there no offence in 't?

Sentence 1009: HAMLET No, no, they do but jest, poison in jest; no offence
i' the world.

Sentence 1010: KING CLAUDIUS What do you call the play?

Sentence 1011: HAMLET The Mouse-trap.

Sentence 1012: Marry, how?

Sentence 1013: Tropically.

Sentence 1014: This play is the image of a murder done in Vienna: Gonzago is the duke's name; his wife, Baptista: you shall see anon; 'tis a knavish piece of work: but what o'

that?

Sentence 1015: your majesty and we that have free souls, it touches us not: let the galled jade wince, our
withers are unrun.

Sentence 1016: [Enter LUCIANUS]

This is one Lucianus, nephew to the king.

Sentence 1017: OPHELIA You are as good as a chorus, my lord.

Sentence 1018: HAMLET I could interpret between you and your love, if I could see the puppets dallying.

Sentence 1019: OPHELIA You are keen, my lord, you are keen.

Sentence 1020: HAMLET It would cost you a groaning to take off my edge.

Sentence 1021: OPHELIA Still better, and worse.

Sentence 1022: HAMLET So you must take your husbands.

Sentence 1023: Begin, murderer;
pox, leave thy damnable faces, and begin.

Sentence 1024: Come:

'the croaking raven doth bellow for revenge.'

Sentence 1025: LUCIANUS Thoughts black, hands apt, drugs fit, and time agreeing;
Confederate season, else no creature seeing;
Thou mixture rank, of midnight weeds collected,
With Hecate's ban thrice blasted, thrice infected,
Thy natural magic and dire property,
On wholesome life usurp immediately.

Sentence 1026: [Pours the poison into the sleeper's ears]

HAMLET He poisons him i' the garden for's estate.

Sentence 1027: His name's Gonzago: the story is extant, and writ in choice Italian: you shall see anon how the murderer gets the love of Gonzago's wife.

Sentence 1028: OPHELIA The king rises.

Sentence 1029: HAMLET What, frightened with false fire!

Sentence 1030: QUEEN GERTRUDE How fares my lord?
 Sentence 1031: LORD POLONIUS Give o'er the play.
 Sentence 1032: KING CLAUDIUS Give me some light: away!
 Sentence 1033: All Lights, lights, lights!
 Sentence 1034: [Exeunt all but HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET Why, let the stricken deer go weep,
 The hart ungalled play;
 For some must watch, while some must sleep:
 So runs the world away.

Sentence 1035: Would not this, sir, and a forest of feathers-- if the rest of my fortunes turn Turk with me--with two Provincial roses on my razed shoes, get me a fellowship in a cry of players, sir?

Sentence 1036: HORATIO Half a share.

Sentence 1037: HAMLET A whole one, I.

Sentence 1038: For thou dost know, O Damon dear,
 This realm dismantled was
 Of Jove himself; and now reigns here
 A very, very--pajock.

Sentence 1039: HORATIO You might have rhymed.

Sentence 1040: HAMLET O good Horatio, I'll take the ghost's word for a thousand pound.

Sentence 1041: Didst perceive?

Sentence 1042: HORATIO Very well, my lord.

Sentence 1043: HAMLET Upon the talk of the poisoning?

Sentence 1044: HORATIO I did very well note him.

Sentence 1045: HAMLET Ah, ha!

Sentence 1046: Come, some music!

Sentence 1047: come, the recorders!

Sentence 1048: For if the king like not the comedy,
 Why then, belike, he likes it not, perdy.

Sentence 1049: Come, some music!

Sentence 1050: [Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, vouchsafe me a word with you.

Sentence 1051: HAMLET Sir, a whole history.

Sentence 1052: GUILDENSTERN The king, sir,--

HAMLET Ay, sir, what of him?

Sentence 1053: GUILDENSTERN Is in his retirement marvellous distempered.

Sentence 1054: HAMLET With drink, sir?

Sentence 1055: GUILDENSTERN No, my lord, rather with choler.

Sentence 1056: HAMLET Your wisdom should show itself more richer to signify this to his doctor; for, for me to put him to his purgation would perhaps plunge him into far more choler.

Sentence 1057: GUILDENSTERN Good my lord, put your discourse into some frame and start not so wildly from my affair.

Sentence 1058: HAMLET I am tame, sir: pronounce.

Sentence 1059: GUILDENSTERN The queen, your mother, in most great affliction of spirit, hath sent me to you.

Sentence 1060: HAMLET You are welcome.

Sentence 1061: GUILDENSTERN Nay, good my lord, this courtesy is not of the right breed.

Sentence 1062: If it shall please you to make me a wholesome answer, I will do your mother's commandment: if not, your pardon and my return shall be the end of my business.

Sentence 1063: HAMLET Sir, I cannot.

Sentence 1064: GUILDENSTERN What, my lord?

Sentence 1065: HAMLET Make you a wholesome answer; my wit's diseased: but, sir, such answer as I can make, you shall command; or, rather, as you say, my mother: therefore no more, but to the matter: my mother, you say,--

ROSENCRANTZ Then thus she says; your behavior hath struck her into amazement and admiration.

Sentence 1066: HAMLET O wonderful son, that can so astonish a mother!

Sentence 1067: But is there no sequel at the heels of this mother's admiration?

Sentence 1068: Impart.

Sentence 1069: ROSENCRANTZ She desires to speak with you in her closet, ere you go to bed.

Sentence 1070: HAMLET We shall obey, were she ten times our mother.

Sentence 1071: Have you any further trade with us?

Sentence 1072: ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you once did love me.

Sentence 1073: HAMLET So I do still, by these pickers and stealers.

Sentence 1074: ROSENCRANTZ Good my lord, what is your cause of distemper?

Sentence 1075: you do, surely, bar the door upon your own liberty, if you deny your griefs to your friend.

Sentence 1076: HAMLET Sir, I lack advancement.

Sentence 1077: ROSENCRANTZ How can that be, when you have the voice of the king himself for your succession in Denmark?

Sentence 1078: HAMLET Ay, but sir, 'While the grass grows,'--the proverb is something musty.

Sentence 1079: [Re-enter Players with recorders]

O, the recorders!

Sentence 1080: let me see one.

Sentence 1081: To withdraw with you:--why do you go about to recover the wind of me, as if you would drive me into a toil?

Sentence 1082: GUILDENSTERN O, my lord, if my duty be too bold, my love is too unmannishly.

Sentence 1083: HAMLET I do not well understand that.

Sentence 1084: Will you play upon this pipe?

Sentence 1085: GUILDENSTERN My lord, I cannot.

Sentence 1086: HAMLET I pray you.

Sentence 1087: GUILDENSTERN Believe me, I cannot.

Sentence 1088: HAMLET I do beseech you.

Sentence 1089: GUILDENSTERN I know no touch of it, my lord.

Sentence 1090: HAMLET 'Tis as easy as lying: govern these ventages with your lingers and thumb, give it breath with your mouth, and it will discourse most eloquent music.

Sentence 1091: Look you, these are the stops.

Sentence 1092: GUILDENSTERN But these cannot I command to any utterance of harmony; I have not the skill.

Sentence 1093: HAMLET Why, look you now, how unworthy a thing you make of me!

Sentence 1094: You would play upon me; you would seem to know my stops; you would pluck out the heart of my mystery; you would sound me from my lowest note to the top of my compass: and there is much music, excellent voice, in this little organ; yet cannot you make it speak.

Sentence 1095: 'Sblood, do you think I am easier to be played on than a pipe?

Sentence 1096: Call me what instrument you will, though you can fret me, yet you cannot play upon me.

Sentence 1097: [Enter POLONIUS]

God bless you, sir!

Sentence 1098: LORD POLONIUS My lord, the queen would speak with you, and presently.

Sentence 1099: HAMLET Do you see yonder cloud that's almost in shape of a camel?

Sentence 1100: LORD POLONIUS By the mass, and 'tis like a camel, indeed.

Sentence 1101: HAMLET Methinks it is like a weasel.

Sentence 1102: LORD POLONIUS It is backed like a weasel.

Sentence 1103: HAMLET Or like a whale?

Sentence 1104: LORD POLONIUS Very like a whale.

Sentence 1105: HAMLET Then I will come to my mother by and by.

Sentence 1106: They fool
me to the top of my bent.

Sentence 1107: I will come by and by.

Sentence 1108: LORD POLONIUS I will say so.

Sentence 1109: HAMLET By and by is easily said.

Sentence 1110: [Exit POLONIUS]

Leave me, friends.

Sentence 1111: [Exeunt all but HAMLET]

Tis now the very witching time of night,
When churchyards yawn and hell itself breathes out
Contagion to this world: now could I drink hot blood,
And do such bitter business as the day
Would quake to look on.

Sentence 1112: Soft!

Sentence 1113: now to my mother.

Sentence 1114: O heart, lose not thy nature; let not ever
The soul of Nero enter this firm bosom:
Let me be cruel, not unnatural:
I will speak daggers to her, but use none;
My tongue and soul in this be hypocrites;
How in my words soever she be shent,
To give them seals never, my soul, consent!

Sentence 1115: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE III A room in the castle.

Sentence 1116: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS I like him not, nor stands it safe with us
To let his madness range.

Sentence 1117: Therefore prepare you;

I your commission will forthwith dispatch,
And he to England shall along with you:
The terms of our estate may not endure
Hazard so dangerous as doth hourly grow
Out of his lunacies.

Sentence 1118: GUILDENSTERN We will ourselves provide:
Most holy and religious fear it is
To keep those many many bodies safe
That live and feed upon your majesty.

Sentence 1119: ROSENCRANTZ The single and peculiar life is bound,
With all the strength and armour of the mind,
To keep itself from noyance; but much more
That spirit upon whose weal depend and rest
The lives of many.

Sentence 1120: The cease of majesty

Dies not alone; but, like a gulf, doth draw
What's near it with it: it is a massy wheel,
Fix'd on the summit of the highest mount,
To whose huge spokes ten thousand lesser things
Are mortised and adjoin'd; which, when it falls,
Each small annexment, petty consequence,
Attends the boisterous ruin.

Sentence 1121: Never alone

Did the king sigh, but with a general groan.

Sentence 1122: KING CLAUDIUS Arm you, I pray you, to this speedy voyage;
For we will fetters put upon this fear,
Which now goes too free-footed.

Sentence 1123: ROSENCRANTZ |
| We will haste us.

Sentence 1124: GUILDENSTERN |

[Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

[Enter POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS My lord, he's going to his mother's closet:
Behind the arras I'll convey myself,
To hear the process; and warrant she'll tax him home:
And, as you said, and wisely was it said,
'Tis meet that some more audience than a mother,
Since nature makes them partial, should o'erhear
The speech, of vantage.

Sentence 1125: Fare you well, my liege:
I'll call upon you ere you go to bed,
And tell you what I know.

Sentence 1126: KING CLAUDIUS Thanks, dear my lord.

Sentence 1127: [Exit POLONIUS]

O, my offence is rank it smells to heaven;
It hath the primal eldest curse upon't,
A brother's murder.

Sentence 1128: Pray can I not,
Though inclination be as sharp as will:
My stronger guilt defeats my strong intent;
And, like a man to double business bound,
I stand in pause where I shall first begin,
And both neglect.

Sentence 1129: What if this cursed hand
Were thicker than itself with brother's blood,
Is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens
To wash it white as snow?

Sentence 1130: Whereto serves mercy
But to confront the visage of offence?

Sentence 1131: And what's in prayer but this two-fold force,
To be forestalled ere we come to fall,
Or pardon'd being down?

Sentence 1132: Then I'll look up;
My fault is past.

Sentence 1133: But, O, what form of prayer
Can serve my turn?

Sentence 1134: 'Forgive me my foul murder'?

Sentence 1135: That cannot be; since I am still possess'd
Of those effects for which I did the murder,
My crown, mine own ambition and my queen.

Sentence 1136: May one be pardon'd and retain the offence?

Sentence 1137: In the corrupted currents of this world
Offence's gilded hand may shove by justice,
And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself
Buys out the law: but 'tis not so above;
There is no shuffling, there the action lies
In his true nature; and we ourselves compell'd,
Even to the teeth and forehead of our faults,
To give in evidence.

Sentence 1138: What then?

Sentence 1139: what rests?

Sentence 1140: Try what repentance can: what can it not?

Sentence 1141: Yet what can it when one can not repent?

Sentence 1142: O wretched state!

Sentence 1143: O bosom black as death!

Sentence 1144: O limed soul, that, struggling to be free,
Art more engaged!

Sentence 1145: Help, angels!

Sentence 1146: Make assay!

Sentence 1147: Bow, stubborn knees; and, heart with strings of steel,
Be soft as sinews of the newborn babe!

Sentence 1148: All may be well.

Sentence 1149: [Retires and kneels]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now might I do it pat, now he is praying;

And now I'll do't.

Sentence 1150: And so he goes to heaven;

And so am I revenged.

Sentence 1151: That would be scann'd:

A villain kills my father; and for that,
I, his sole son, do this same villain send
To heaven.

Sentence 1152: O, this is hire and salary, not revenge.

Sentence 1153: He took my father grossly, full of bread;

With all his crimes broad blown, as flush as May;
And how his audit stands who knows save heaven?

Sentence 1154: But in our circumstance and course of thought,

'Tis heavy with him: and am I then revenged,
To take him in the purging of his soul,
When he is fit and season'd for his passage?

Sentence 1155: No!

Sentence 1156: Up, sword; and know thou a more horrid hent:

When he is drunk asleep, or in his rage,
Or in the incestuous pleasure of his bed;
At gaming, swearing, or about some act
That has no relish of salvation in't;
Then trip him, that his heels may kick at heaven,
And that his soul may be as damn'd and black
As hell, whereto it goes.

Sentence 1157: My mother stays:

This physic but prolongs thy sickly days.

Sentence 1158: [Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS [Rising] My words fly up, my thoughts remain below:
Words without thoughts never to heaven go.

Sentence 1159: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT III

SCENE IV The Queen's closet.

Sentence 1160: [Enter QUEEN MARGARET and POLONIUS]

LORD POLONIUS He will come straight.

Sentence 1161: Look you lay home to him:

Tell him his pranks have been too broad to bear with,
And that your grace hath screen'd and stood between
Much heat and him.

Sentence 1162: I'll sconce me even here.

Sentence 1163: Pray you, be round with him.

Sentence 1164: HAMLET [Within] Mother, mother, mother!

Sentence 1165: QUEEN GERTRUDE I'll warrant you,
Fear me not: withdraw, I hear him coming.

Sentence 1166: [POLONIUS hides behind the arras]

[Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Now, mother, what's the matter?
 Sentence 1167: QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, thou hast thy father much offended.
 Sentence 1168: HAMLET Mother, you have my father much offended.
 Sentence 1169: QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, come, you answer with an idle tongue.
 Sentence 1170: HAMLET Go, go, you question with a wicked tongue.
 Sentence 1171: QUEEN GERTRUDE Why, how now, Hamlet!
 Sentence 1172: HAMLET What's the matter now?
 Sentence 1173: QUEEN GERTRUDE Have you forgot me?
 Sentence 1174: HAMLET No, by the rood, not so:
 You are the queen, your husband's brother's wife;
 And--would it were not so!--you are my mother.
 Sentence 1175: QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, then, I'll set those to you that can speak.
 Sentence 1176: HAMLET Come, come, and sit you down; you shall not budge;
 You go not till I set you up a glass
 Where you may see the inmost part of you.
 Sentence 1177: QUEEN GERTRUDE What wilt thou do?
 Sentence 1178: thou wilt not murder me?
 Sentence 1179: Help, help, ho!
 Sentence 1180: LORD POLONIUS [Behind] What, ho!
 Sentence 1181: help, help, help!
 Sentence 1182: HAMLET [Drawing] How now!
 Sentence 1183: a rat?
 Sentence 1184: Dead, for a ducat, dead!
 Sentence 1185: [Makes a pass through the arras]

LORD POLONIUS [Behind] O, I am slain!
 Sentence 1186: [Falls and dies]

QUEEN GERTRUDE O me, what hast thou done?
 Sentence 1187: HAMLET Nay, I know not:
 Is it the king?
 Sentence 1188: QUEEN GERTRUDE O, what a rash and bloody deed is this!
 Sentence 1189: HAMLET A bloody deed!
 Sentence 1190: almost as bad, good mother,
 As kill a king, and marry with his brother.
 Sentence 1191: QUEEN GERTRUDE As kill a king!
 Sentence 1192: HAMLET Ay, lady, 'twas my word.
 Sentence 1193: [Lifts up the array and discovers POLONIUS]

Thou wretched, rash, intruding fool, farewell!
 Sentence 1194: I took thee for thy better: take thy fortune;
 Thou find'st to be too busy is some danger.
 Sentence 1195: Leave wringing of your hands: peace!
 Sentence 1196: sit you down,
 And let me wring your heart; for so I shall,
 If it be made of penetrable stuff,
 If damned custom have not brass'd it so
 That it is proof and bulwark against sense.
 Sentence 1197: QUEEN GERTRUDE What have I done, that thou darest wag thy tongue
 In noise so rude against me?
 Sentence 1198: HAMLET Such an act
 That blurs the grace and blush of modesty,
 Calls virtue hypocrite, takes off the rose

From the fair forehead of an innocent love
 And sets a blister there, makes marriage-vows
 As false as dicers' oaths: O, such a deed
 As from the body of contraction plucks
 The very soul, and sweet religion makes
 A rhapsody of words: heaven's face doth glow:
 Yea, this solidity and compound mass,
 With tristful visage, as against the doom,
 Is thought-sick at the act.

Sentence 1199: QUEEN GERTRUDE Ay me, what act,
 That roars so loud, and thunders in the index?

Sentence 1200: HAMLET Look here, upon this picture, and on this,
 The counterfeit presentment of two brothers.

Sentence 1201: See, what a grace was seated on this brow;
 Hyperion's curls; the front of Jove himself;
 An eye like Mars, to threaten and command;
 A station like the herald Mercury
 New-lighted on a heaven-kissing hill;
 A combination and a form indeed,
 Where every god did seem to set his seal,
 To give the world assurance of a man:
 This was your husband.

Sentence 1202: Look you now, what follows:
 Here is your husband; like a mildew'd ear,
 Blasting his wholesome brother.

Sentence 1203: Have you eyes?

Sentence 1204: Could you on this fair mountain leave to feed,
 And batten on this moor?

Sentence 1205: Ha!

Sentence 1206: have you eyes?

Sentence 1207: You cannot call it love; for at your age
 The hey-day in the blood is tame, it's humble,
 And waits upon the judgment: and what judgment
 Would step from this to this?

Sentence 1208: Sense, sure, you have,
 Else could you not have motion; but sure, that sense
 Is apoplex'd; for madness would not err,
 Nor sense to ecstasy was ne'er so thrall'd
 But it reserved some quantity of choice,
 To serve in such a difference.

Sentence 1209: What devil was't
 That thus hath cozen'd you at hoodman-blind?

Sentence 1210: Eyes without feeling, feeling without sight,
 Ears without hands or eyes, smelling sans all,
 Or but a sickly part of one true sense
 Could not so mope.

Sentence 1211: O shame!

Sentence 1212: where is thy blush?

Sentence 1213: Rebellious hell,

If thou canst mutine in a matron's bones,
 To flaming youth let virtue be as wax,
 And melt in her own fire: proclaim no shame
 When the compulsive ardour gives the charge,
 Since frost itself as actively doth burn
 And reason panders will.

Sentence 1214: QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, speak no more:

Thou turn'st mine eyes into my very soul;
 And there I see such black and grained spots
 As will not leave their tinct.

Sentence 1215: HAMLET Nay, but to live
 In the rank sweat of an enseamed bed,
 Stew'd in corruption, honeying and making love
 Over the nasty sty,--

QUEEN GERTRUDE O, speak to me no more;
 These words, like daggers, enter in mine ears;
 No more, sweet Hamlet!

Sentence 1216: HAMLET A murderer and a villain;
 A slave that is not twentieth part the tithe
 Of your precedent lord; a vice of kings;
 A cutpurse of the empire and the rule,
 That from a shelf the precious diadem stole,
 And put it in his pocket!

Sentence 1217: QUEEN GERTRUDE No more!

Sentence 1218: HAMLET A king of shreds and patches,--

[Enter Ghost]

Save me, and hover o'er me with your wings,
 You heavenly guards!

Sentence 1219: What would your gracious figure?

Sentence 1220: QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, he's mad!

Sentence 1221: HAMLET Do you not come your tardy son to chide,
 That, lapsed in time and passion, lets go by
 The important acting of your dread command?

Sentence 1222: O, say!

Sentence 1223: Ghost Do not forget: this visitation
 Is but to whet thy almost blunted purpose.

Sentence 1224: But, look, amazement on thy mother sits:
 O, step between her and her fighting soul:
 Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works:
 Speak to her, Hamlet.

Sentence 1225: HAMLET How is it with you, lady?

Sentence 1226: QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, how is't with you,
 That you do bend your eye on vacancy
 And with the incorporal air do hold discourse?

Sentence 1227: Forth at your eyes your spirits wildly peep;
 And, as the sleeping soldiers in the alarm,
 Your bedded hair, like life in excrements,
 Starts up, and stands on end.

Sentence 1228: O gentle son,
 Upon the heat and flame of thy distemper
 Sprinkle cool patience.

Sentence 1229: Wheron do you look?

Sentence 1230: HAMLET On him, on him!

Sentence 1231: Look you, how pale he glares!

Sentence 1232: His form and cause conjoin'd, preaching to stones,
 Would make them capable.

Sentence 1233: Do not look upon me;
 Lest with this piteous action you convert
 My stern effects: then what I have to do
 Will want true colour; tears perchance for blood.

Sentence 1234: QUEEN GERTRUDE To whom do you speak this?
 Sentence 1235: HAMLET Do you see nothing there?
 Sentence 1236: QUEEN GERTRUDE Nothing at all; yet all that is I see.
 Sentence 1237: HAMLET Nor did you nothing hear?
 Sentence 1238: QUEEN GERTRUDE No, nothing but ourselves.
 Sentence 1239: HAMLET Why, look you there!
 Sentence 1240: look, how it steals away!
 Sentence 1241: My father, in his habit as he lived!
 Sentence 1242: Look, where he goes, even now, out at the portal!
 Sentence 1243: [Exit Ghost]

QUEEN GERTRUDE This the very coinage of your brain:

This bodiless creation ecstasy
 Is very cunning in.

Sentence 1244: HAMLET Ecstasy!

Sentence 1245: My pulse, as yours, doth temperately keep time,
 And makes as healthful music: it is not madness
 That I have utter'd: bring me to the test,
 And I the matter will re-word; which madness
 Would gambol from.

Sentence 1246: Mother, for love of grace,
 Lay not that mattering unction to your soul,
 That not your trespass, but my madness speaks:
 It will but skin and film the ulcerous place,
 Whilst rank corruption, mining all within,
 Infects unseen.

Sentence 1247: Confess yourself to heaven;
 Repent what's past; avoid what is to come;
 And do not spread the compost on the weeds,
 To make them ranker.

Sentence 1248: Forgive me this my virtue;
 For in the fatness of these pursy times
 Virtue itself of vice must pardon beg,
 Yea, curb and woo for leave to do him good.

Sentence 1249: QUEEN GERTRUDE O Hamlet, thou hast cleft my heart in twain.

Sentence 1250: HAMLET O, throw away the worser part of it,
 And live the purer with the other half.

Sentence 1251: Good night: but go not to mine uncle's bed;
 Assume a virtue, if you have it not.

Sentence 1252: That monster, custom, who all sense doth eat,
 Of habits devil, is angel yet in this,
 That to the use of actions fair and good
 He likewise gives a frock or livery,
 That aptly is put on.

Sentence 1253: Refrain to-night,
 And that shall lend a kind of easiness
 To the next abstinence: the next more easy;
 For use almost can change the stamp of nature,
 And either [] the devil, or throw him out
 With wondrous potency.

Sentence 1254: Once more, good night:
 And when you are desirous to be bless'd,
 I'll blessing beg of you.

Sentence 1255: For this same lord,

[Pointing to POLONIUS]

I do repent: but heaven hath pleased it so,
To punish me with this and this with me,
That I must be their scourge and minister.

Sentence 1256: I will bestow him, and will answer well
The death I gave him.

Sentence 1257: So, again, good night.

Sentence 1258: I must be cruel, only to be kind:
Thus bad begins and worse remains behind.

Sentence 1259: One word more, good lady.

Sentence 1260: QUEEN GERTRUDE What shall I do?

Sentence 1261: HAMLET Not this, by no means, that I bid you do:
Let the bloat king tempt you again to bed;
Pinch wanton on your cheek; call you his mouse;
And let him, for a pair of reechy kisses,
Or paddling in your neck with his damn'd fingers,
Make you to ravel all this matter out,
That I essentially am not in madness,
But mad in craft.

Sentence 1262: 'Twere good you let him know;
For who, that's but a queen, fair, sober, wise,
Would from a paddock, from a bat, a gib,
Such dear concernings hide?

Sentence 1263: who would do so?

Sentence 1264: No, in despite of sense and secrecy,
Unpeg the basket on the house's top.

Sentence 1265: Let the birds fly, and, like the famous ape,
To try conclusions, in the basket creep,
And break your own neck down.

Sentence 1266: QUEEN GERTRUDE Be thou assured, if words be made of breath,
And breath of life, I have no life to breathe
What thou hast said to me.

Sentence 1267: HAMLET I must to England; you know that?

Sentence 1268: QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack,
I had forgot: 'tis so concluded on.

Sentence 1269: HAMLET There's letters seal'd: and my two schoolfellows,
Whom I will trust as I will adders fang'd,
They bear the mandate; they must sweep my way,
And marshal me to knavery.

Sentence 1270: Let it work;
For 'tis the sport to have the engineer
Hoist with his own petard: and 't shall go hard
But I will delve one yard below their mines,
And blow them at the moon: O, 'tis most sweet,
When in one line two crafts directly meet.

Sentence 1271: This man shall set me packing:
I'll lug the guts into the neighbour room.

Sentence 1272: Mother, good night.

Sentence 1273: Indeed this counsellor
Is now most still, most secret and most grave,
Who was in life a foolish prating knave.

Sentence 1274: Come, sir, to draw toward an end with you.

Sentence 1275: Good night, mother.

Sentence 1276: [Exeunt severally; HAMLET dragging in POLONIUS]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE I A room in the castle.

Sentence 1277: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, ROSENCRANTZ, and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS There's matter in these sighs, these profound heaves:
You must translate: 'tis fit we understand them.

Sentence 1278: Where is your son?

Sentence 1279: QUEEN GERTRUDE Bestow this place on us a little while.

Sentence 1280: [Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Ah, my good lord, what have I seen to-night!

Sentence 1281: KING CLAUDIUS What, Gertrude?

Sentence 1282: How does Hamlet?

Sentence 1283: QUEEN GERTRUDE Mad as the sea and wind, when both contend
Which is the mightier: in his lawless fit,
Behind the arras hearing something stir,
Whips out his rapier, cries, 'A rat, a rat!'

Sentence 1284: And, in this brainish apprehension, kills
The unseen good old man.

Sentence 1285: KING CLAUDIUS O heavy deed!

Sentence 1286: It had been so with us, had we been there:
His liberty is full of threats to all;
To you yourself, to us, to every one.

Sentence 1287: Alas, how shall this bloody deed be answer'd?

Sentence 1288: It will be laid to us, whose providence
Should have kept short, restrain'd and out of haunt,
This mad young man: but so much was our love,
We would not understand what was most fit;
But, like the owner of a foul disease,
To keep it from divulging, let it feed
Even on the pith of Life.

Sentence 1289: Where is he gone?

Sentence 1290: QUEEN GERTRUDE To draw apart the body he hath kill'd:
O'er whom his very madness, like some ore
Among a mineral of metals base,
Shows itself pure; he weeps for what is done.

Sentence 1291: KING CLAUDIUS O Gertrude, come away!

Sentence 1292: The sun no sooner shall the mountains touch,
But we will ship him hence: and this vile deed
We must, with all our majesty and skill,
Both countenance and excuse.

Sentence 1293: Ho, Guildenstern!

Sentence 1294: [Re-enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Friends both, go join you with some further aid:
Hamlet in madness hath Polonius slain,
And from his mother's closet hath he dragg'd him:

Go seek him out; speak fair, and bring the body
Into the chapel.

Sentence 1295: I pray you, haste in this.

Sentence 1296: [Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

Come, Gertrude, we'll call up our wisest friends;
And let them know, both what we mean to do,
And what's untimely done []
Whose whisper o'er the world's diameter,
As level as the cannon to his blank,
Transports his poison'd shot, may miss our name,
And hit the woundless air.

Sentence 1297: O, come away!

Sentence 1298: My soul is full of discord and dismay.

Sentence 1299: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE II Another room in the castle.

Sentence 1300: [Enter HAMLET]

HAMLET Safely stowed.

Sentence 1301: ROSENCRANTZ: |
| [Within] Hamlet!

Sentence 1302: Lord Hamlet!

Sentence 1303: GUILDENSTERN: |

HAMLET What noise?

Sentence 1304: who calls on Hamlet?

Sentence 1305: O, here they come.

Sentence 1306: [Enter ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

ROSENCRANTZ What have you done, my lord, with the dead body?

Sentence 1307: HAMLET Compounded it with dust, whereto 'tis kin.

Sentence 1308: ROSENCRANTZ Tell us where 'tis, that we may take it thence
And bear it to the chapel.

Sentence 1309: HAMLET Do not believe it.

Sentence 1310: ROSENCRANTZ Believe what?

Sentence 1311: HAMLET That I can keep your counsel and not mine own.

Sentence 1312: Besides, to be demanded of a sponge!

Sentence 1313: what

replication should be made by the son of a king?

Sentence 1314: ROSENCRANTZ Take you me for a sponge, my lord?

Sentence 1315: HAMLET Ay, sir, that soaks up the king's countenance, his rewards, his authorities.

Sentence 1316: But such officers do the king best service in the end: he keeps them, like an ape, in the corner of his jaw; first mouthed, to be last swallowed: when he needs what you have gleaned, it is but squeezing you, and, sponge, you

shall be dry again.

Sentence 1317: ROSENCRANTZ I understand you not, my lord.

Sentence 1318: HAMLET I am glad of it: a knavish speech sleeps in a foolish ear.

Sentence 1319: ROSENCRANTZ My lord, you must tell us where the body is, and go with us to the king.

Sentence 1320: HAMLET The body is with the king, but the king is not with the body.

Sentence 1321: The king is a thing--

GUILDENSTERN A thing, my lord!

Sentence 1322: HAMLET Of nothing: bring me to him.

Sentence 1323: Hide fox, and all after.

Sentence 1324: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE III Another room in the castle.

Sentence 1325: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, attended]

KING CLAUDIUS I have sent to seek him, and to find the body.

Sentence 1326: How dangerous is it that this man goes loose!

Sentence 1327: Yet must not we put the strong law on him:

He's loved of the distracted multitude,
Who like not in their judgment, but their eyes;
And where tis so, the offender's scourge is weigh'd,
But never the offence.

Sentence 1328: To bear all smooth and even,
This sudden sending him away must seem
Deliberate pause: diseases desperate grown
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all.

Sentence 1329: [Enter ROSENCRANTZ]

How now!

Sentence 1330: what hath befall'n?

Sentence 1331: ROSENCRANTZ Where the dead body is bestow'd, my lord,
We cannot get from him.

Sentence 1332: KING CLAUDIUS But where is he?

Sentence 1333: ROSENCRANTZ Without, my lord; guarded, to know your pleasure.

Sentence 1334: KING CLAUDIUS Bring him before us.

Sentence 1335: ROSENCRANTZ Ho, Guildenstern!

Sentence 1336: bring in my lord.

Sentence 1337: [Enter HAMLET and GUILDENSTERN]

KING CLAUDIUS Now, Hamlet, where's Polonius?
 Sentence 1338: HAMLET At supper.
 Sentence 1339: KING CLAUDIUS At supper!
 Sentence 1340: where?
 Sentence 1341: HAMLET Not where he eats, but where he is eaten: a certain convocation of politic worms are e'en at him.
 Sentence 1342: Your worm is your only emperor for diet: we fat all creatures else to fat us, and we fat ourselves for maggots: your fat king and your lean beggar is but variable service, two dishes, but to one table:
 that's the end.
 Sentence 1343: KING CLAUDIUS Alas, alas!
 Sentence 1344: HAMLET A man may fish with the worm that hath eat of a king, and cat of the fish that hath fed of that worm.
 Sentence 1345: KING CLAUDIUS What dost you mean by this?
 Sentence 1346: HAMLET Nothing but to show you how a king may go a progress through the guts of a beggar.
 Sentence 1347: KING CLAUDIUS Where is Polonius?
 Sentence 1348: HAMLET In heaven; send hither to see: if your messenger find him not there, seek him i' the other place yourself.
 Sentence 1349: But indeed, if you find him not within this month, you shall nose him as you go up the stairs into the lobby.
 Sentence 1350: KING CLAUDIUS Go seek him there.
 Sentence 1351: [To some Attendants]

HAMLET He will stay till ye come.
 Sentence 1352: [Exeunt Attendants]

KING CLAUDIUS Hamlet, this deed, for thine especial safety,--
 Which we do tender, as we dearly grieve
 For that which thou hast done,--must send thee hence
 With fiery quickness: therefore prepare thyself;
 The bark is ready, and the wind at help,
 The associates tend, and every thing is bent
 For England.
 Sentence 1353: HAMLET For England!
 Sentence 1354: KING CLAUDIUS Ay, Hamlet.
 Sentence 1355: HAMLET Good.
 Sentence 1356: KING CLAUDIUS So is it, if thou knew'st our purposes.
 Sentence 1357: HAMLET I see a cherub that sees them.
 Sentence 1358: But, come; for England!
 Sentence 1359: Farewell, dear mother.
 Sentence 1360: KING CLAUDIUS Thy loving father, Hamlet.
 Sentence 1361: HAMLET My mother: father and mother is man and wife; man and wife is one flesh; and so, my mother.
 Sentence 1362: Come, for England!
 Sentence 1363: [Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow him at foot; tempt him with speed aboard;
 Delay it not; I'll have him hence to-night:
 Away!
 Sentence 1364: for every thing is seal'd and done

That else leans on the affair: pray you, make haste.
 Sentence 1365: [Exeunt ROSENCRANTZ and GUILDENSTERN]

And, England, if my love thou hold'st at aught--
 As my great power thereof may give thee sense,
 Since yet thy cicatrice looks raw and red
 After the Danish sword, and thy free awe
 Pays homage to us--thou mayst not coldly set
 Our sovereign process; which imports at full,
 By letters congruing to that effect,
 The present death of Hamlet.

Sentence 1366: Do it, England;
 For like the hectic in my blood he rages,
 And thou must cure me: till I know 'tis done,
 Howe'er my haps, my joys were ne'er begun.

Sentence 1367: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE IV A plain in Denmark.

Sentence 1368: [Enter FORTINBRAS, a Captain, and Soldiers, marching]

PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go, captain, from me greet the Danish king;
 Tell him that, by his licence, Fortinbras
 Craves the conveyance of a promised march
 Over his kingdom.

Sentence 1369: You know the rendezvous.

Sentence 1370: If that his majesty would aught with us,
 We shall express our duty in his eye;
 And let him know so.

Sentence 1371: Captain I will do't, my lord.

Sentence 1372: PRINCE FORTINBRAS Go softly on.

Sentence 1373: [Exeunt FORTINBRAS and Soldiers]

[Enter HAMLET, ROSENCRANTZ, GUILDENSTERN, and others]

HAMLET Good sir, whose powers are these?

Sentence 1374: Captain They are of Norway, sir.

Sentence 1375: HAMLET How purposed, sir, I pray you?

Sentence 1376: Captain Against some part of Poland.

Sentence 1377: HAMLET Who commands them, sir?

Sentence 1378: Captain The nephews to old Norway, Fortinbras.

Sentence 1379: HAMLET Goes it against the main of Poland, sir,
 Or for some frontier?

Sentence 1380: Captain Truly to speak, and with no addition,
 We go to gain a little patch of ground
 That hath in it no profit but the name.

Sentence 1381: To pay five ducats, five, I would not farm it;

Nor will it yield to Norway or the Pole
 A ranker rate, should it be sold in fee.

Sentence 1382: HAMLET Why, then the Polack never will defend it.

Sentence 1383: Captain Yes, it is already garrison'd.

Sentence 1384: HAMLET Two thousand souls and twenty thousand ducats

Will not debate the question of this straw:

This is the imposthume of much wealth and peace,
 That inward breaks, and shows no cause without
 Why the man dies.

Sentence 1385: I humbly thank you, sir.

Sentence 1386: Captain God be wi' you, sir.

Sentence 1387: [Exit]

ROSENCRANTZ Wilt please you go, my lord?

Sentence 1388: HAMLET I'll be with you straight go a little before.

Sentence 1389: [Exeunt all except HAMLET]

How all occasions do inform against me,
 And spur my dull revenge!

Sentence 1390: What is a man,
 If his chief good and market of his time
 Be but to sleep and feed?

Sentence 1391: a beast, no more.

Sentence 1392: Sure, he that made us with such large discourse,
 Looking before and after, gave us not
 That capability and god-like reason
 To fust in us unused.

Sentence 1393: Now, whether it be
 Bestial oblivion, or some craven scruple
 Of thinking too precisely on the event,
 A thought which, quarter'd, hath but one part wisdom
 And ever three parts coward, I do not know
 Why yet I live to say 'This thing's to do;'
 Sith I have cause and will and strength and means
 To do't.

Sentence 1394: Examples gross as earth exhort me:
 Witness this army of such mass and charge
 Led by a delicate and tender prince,
 Whose spirit with divine ambition puff'd
 Makes mouths at the invisible event,
 Exposing what is mortal and unsure
 To all that fortune, death and danger dare,
 Even for an egg-shell.

Sentence 1395: Rightly to be great
 Is not to stir without great argument,
 But greatly to find quarrel in a straw
 When honour's at the stake.

Sentence 1396: How stand I then,
 That have a father kill'd, a mother stain'd,
 Excitements of my reason and my blood,
 And let all sleep?

Sentence 1397: while, to my shame, I see
 The imminent death of twenty thousand men,
 That, for a fantasy and trick of fame,
 Go to their graves like beds, fight for a plot
 Whereon the numbers cannot try the cause,

Which is not tomb enough and continent
To hide the slain?
Sentence 1398: O, from this time forth,
My thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!
Sentence 1399: [Exit]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE V Elsinore.

Sentence 1400: A room in the castle.
Sentence 1401: [Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE, HORATIO, and a Gentleman]

QUEEN GERTRUDE I will not speak with her.
Sentence 1402: Gentleman She is importunate, indeed distract:
Her mood will needs be pitied.
Sentence 1403: QUEEN GERTRUDE What would she have?
Sentence 1404: Gentleman She speaks much of her father; says she hears
There's tricks i' the world; and hems, and beats her heart;
Spurns enviously at straws; speaks things in doubt,
That carry but half sense: her speech is nothing,
Yet the unshaped use of it doth move
The hearers to collection; they aim at it,
And botch the words up fit to their own thoughts;
Which, as her winks, and nods, and gestures
yield them,
Indeed would make one think there might be thought,
Though nothing sure, yet much unhappily.
Sentence 1405: HORATIO 'Twere good she were spoken with; for she may strew
Dangerous conjectures in ill-breeding minds.
Sentence 1406: QUEEN GERTRUDE Let her come in.
Sentence 1407: [Exit HORATIO]

To my sick soul, as sin's true nature is,
Each toy seems prologue to some great amiss:
So full of artless jealousy is guilt,
It spills itself in fearing to be spilt.
Sentence 1408: [Re-enter HORATIO, with OPHELIA]

OPHELIA Where is the beauteous majesty of Denmark?
Sentence 1409: QUEEN GERTRUDE How now, Ophelia!
Sentence 1410: OPHELIA [Sings]

How should I your true love know
From another one?
Sentence 1411: By his cockle hat and staff,
And his sandal shoon.
Sentence 1412: QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, sweet lady, what imports this song?
Sentence 1413: OPHELIA Say you?
Sentence 1414: nay, pray you, mark.

Sentence 1415: [Sings]

He is dead and gone, lady,
He is dead and gone;
At his head a grass-green turf,
At his heels a stone.

Sentence 1416: QUEEN GERTRUDE Nay, but, Ophelia,--

OPHELIA Pray you, mark.

Sentence 1417: [Sings]

White his shroud as the mountain snow,--

[Enter KING CLAUDIUS]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alas, look here, my lord.

Sentence 1418: OPHELIA [Sings]

Larded with sweet flowers
Which bewept to the grave did go
With true-love showers.

Sentence 1419: KING CLAUDIUS How do you, pretty lady?

Sentence 1420: OPHELIA Well, God 'ild you!

Sentence 1421: They say the owl was a baker's daughter.

Sentence 1422: Lord, we know what we are, but know not what we may be.

Sentence 1423: God be at your table!

Sentence 1424: KING CLAUDIUS Conceit upon her father.

Sentence 1425: OPHELIA Pray you, let's have no words of this; but when they ask you what it means, say you this:

[Sings]

To-morrow is Saint Valentine's day,
All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window,
To be your Valentine.

Sentence 1426: Then up he rose, and donn'd his clothes,
And dupp'd the chamber-door;
Let in the maid, that out a maid
Never departed more.

Sentence 1427: KING CLAUDIUS Pretty Ophelia!

Sentence 1428: OPHELIA Indeed, la, without an oath, I'll make an end on't:

[Sings]

By Gis and by Saint Charity,
Alack, and fie for shame!

Sentence 1429: Young men will do't, if they come to't;
By cock, they are to blame.

Sentence 1430: Quoth she, before you tumbled me,
You promised me to wed.

Sentence 1431: So would I ha' done, by yonder sun,
An thou hadst not come to my bed.

Sentence 1432: KING CLAUDIUS How long hath she been thus?

Sentence 1433: OPHELIA I hope all will be well.
Sentence 1434: We must be patient: but I cannot choose but weep, to think they should lay him
i' the cold ground.
Sentence 1435: My brother shall know of it:
and so I thank you for your good counsel.
Sentence 1436: Come, my coach!
Sentence 1437: Good night, ladies; good night, sweet ladies;
good night, good night.
Sentence 1438: [Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Follow her close; give her good watch,
I pray you.

Sentence 1439: [Exit HORATIO]

O, this is the poison of deep grief; it springs
All from her father's death.

Sentence 1440: O Gertrude, Gertrude,
When sorrows come, they come not single spies
But in battalions.

Sentence 1441: First, her father slain:
Next, your son gone; and he most violent author
Of his own just remove: the people muddied,
Thick and unwholesome in their thoughts and whispers,
For good Polonius' death; and we have done but greenly,
In hugger-mugger to inter him: poor Ophelia
Divided from herself and her fair judgment,
Without the which we are pictures, or mere beasts:
Last, and as much containing as all these,
Her brother is in secret come from France;
Feeds on his wonder, keeps himself in clouds,
And wants not buzzers to infect his ear
With pestilent speeches of his father's death;
Wherein necessity, of matter beggar'd,
Will nothing stick our person to arraign
In ear and ear.

Sentence 1442: O my dear Gertrude, this,
Like to a murdering-piece, in many places
Gives me superfluous death.

Sentence 1443: [A noise within]

QUEEN GERTRUDE Alack, what noise is this?

Sentence 1444: KING CLAUDIUS Where are my Switzers?

Sentence 1445: Let them guard the door.

Sentence 1446: [Enter another Gentleman]

What is the matter?

Sentence 1447: Gentleman Save yourself, my lord:
The ocean, overpeering of his list,
Eats not the flats with more impetuous haste
Than young Laertes, in a riotous head,
O'erbears your officers.

Sentence 1448: The rabble call him lord;
And, as the world were now but to begin,
Antiquity forgot, custom not known,

The ratifiers and props of every word,
 They cry 'Choose we: Laertes shall be king:'
 Caps, hands, and tongues, applaud it to the clouds:
 'Laertes shall be king, Laertes king!'
 Sentence 1449: QUEEN GERTRUDE How cheerfully on the false trail they cry!
 Sentence 1450: O, this is counter, you false Danish dogs!
 Sentence 1451: KING CLAUDIUS The doors are broke.
 Sentence 1452: [Noise within]

[Enter LAERTES, armed; Danes following]

LAERTES Where is this king?
 Sentence 1453: Sirs, stand you all without.
 Sentence 1454: Danes No, let's come in.
 Sentence 1455: LAERTES I pray you, give me leave.
 Sentence 1456: Danes We will, we will.
 Sentence 1457: [They retire without the door]

LAERTES I thank you: keep the door.
 Sentence 1458: O thou vile king,
 Give me my father!
 Sentence 1459: QUEEN GERTRUDE Calmly, good Laertes.
 Sentence 1460: LAERTES That drop of blood that's calm proclaims me bastard,
 Cries cuckold to my father, brands the harlot
 Even here, between the chaste unsmirched brow
 Of my true mother.
 Sentence 1461: KING CLAUDIUS What is the cause, Laertes,
 That thy rebellion looks so giant-like?
 Sentence 1462: Let him go, Gertrude; do not fear our person:
 There's such divinity doth hedge a king,
 That treason can but peep to what it would,
 Acts little of his will.
 Sentence 1463: Tell me, Laertes,
 Why thou art thus incensed.
 Sentence 1464: Let him go, Gertrude.
 Sentence 1465: Speak, man.
 Sentence 1466: LAERTES Where is my father?
 Sentence 1467: KING CLAUDIUS Dead.
 Sentence 1468: QUEEN GERTRUDE But not by him.
 Sentence 1469: KING CLAUDIUS Let him demand his fill.
 Sentence 1470: LAERTES How came he dead?
 Sentence 1471: I'll not be juggled with:
 To hell, allegiance!
 Sentence 1472: vows, to the blackest devil!
 Sentence 1473: Conscience and grace, to the profoundest pit!
 Sentence 1474: I dare damnation.
 Sentence 1475: To this point I stand,
 That both the worlds I give to negligence,
 Let come what comes; only I'll be revenged
 Most thoroughly for my father.
 Sentence 1476: KING CLAUDIUS Who shall stay you?
 Sentence 1477: LAERTES My will, not all the world:
 And for my means, I'll husband them so well,
 They shall go far with little.
 Sentence 1478: KING CLAUDIUS Good Laertes,
 If you desire to know the certainty

Of your dear father's death, is't writ in your revenge,
 That, swoopstake, you will draw both friend and foe,
 Winner and loser?

Sentence 1479: LAERTES None but his enemies.

Sentence 1480: KING CLAUDIUS Will you know them then?

Sentence 1481: LAERTES To his good friends thus wide I'll ope my arms;
 And like the kind life-rendering pelican,
 Repast them with my blood.

Sentence 1482: KING CLAUDIUS Why, now you speak
 Like a good child and a true gentleman.

Sentence 1483: That I am guiltless of your father's death,
 And am most sensible in grief for it,
 It shall as level to your judgment pierce
 As day does to your eye.

Sentence 1484: Danes [Within] Let her come in.

Sentence 1485: LAERTES How now!

Sentence 1486: what noise is that?

Sentence 1487: [Re-enter OPHELIA]

O heat, dry up my brains!

Sentence 1488: tears seven times salt,
 Burn out the sense and virtue of mine eye!

Sentence 1489: By heaven, thy madness shall be paid by weight,
 Till our scale turn the beam.

Sentence 1490: O rose of May!

Sentence 1491: Dear maid, kind sister, sweet Ophelia!

Sentence 1492: O heavens!

Sentence 1493: is't possible, a young maid's wits
 Should be as moral as an old man's life?

Sentence 1494: Nature is fine in love, and where 'tis fine,
 It sends some precious instance of itself
 After the thing it loves.

Sentence 1495: OPHELIA [Sings]

They bore him barefaced on the bier;
 Hey non nonny, nonny, hey nonny;
 And in his grave rain'd many a tear:--
 Fare you well, my dove!

Sentence 1496: LAERTES Hadst thou thy wits, and didst persuade revenge,
 It could not move thus.

Sentence 1497: OPHELIA [Sings]

You must sing a-down a-down,
 An you call him a-down-a.

Sentence 1498: O, how the wheel becomes it!

Sentence 1499: It is the false
 steward, that stole his master's daughter.

Sentence 1500: LAERTES This nothing's more than matter.

Sentence 1501: OPHELIA There's rosemary, that's for remembrance; pray, love, remember: and there is pansies.

Sentence 1502: that's for thoughts.

Sentence 1503: LAERTES A document in madness, thoughts and remembrance fitted.

Sentence 1504: OPHELIA There's fennel for you, and columbines: there's rue for you; and here's some for me: we may call it herb-grace o' Sundays: O you must wear your rue with a difference.

Sentence 1505: There's a daisy: I would give you some violets, but they withered all when my father died: they say he made a good end,--

[Sings]

For bonny sweet Robin is all my joy.

Sentence 1506: LAERTES Thought and affliction, passion, hell itself,
 She turns to favour and to prettiness.

Sentence 1507: OPHELIA [Sings]

And will he not come again?

Sentence 1508: And will he not come again?

Sentence 1509: No, no, he is dead:

Go to thy death-bed:

He never will come again.

Sentence 1510: His beard was as white as snow,

All flaxen was his poll:

He is gone, he is gone,

And we cast away moan:

God ha' mercy on his soul!

Sentence 1511: And of all Christian souls, I pray God.

Sentence 1512: God be wi' ye.

Sentence 1513: [Exit]

LAERTES Do you see this, O God?

Sentence 1514: KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, I must commune with your grief,
 Or you deny me right.

Sentence 1515: Go but apart,

Make choice of whom your wisest friends you will.

Sentence 1516: And they shall hear and judge 'twixt you and me:

If by direct or by collateral hand

They find us touch'd, we will our kingdom give,

Our crown, our life, and all that we can ours,

To you in satisfaction; but if not,

Be you content to lend your patience to us,

And we shall jointly labour with your soul

To give it due content.

Sentence 1517: LAERTES Let this be so;

His means of death, his obscure funeral--

No trophy, sword, nor hatchment o'er his bones,

No noble rite nor formal ostentation--

Cry to be heard, as 'twere from heaven to earth,

That I must call't in question.

Sentence 1518: KING CLAUDIUS So you shall;

And where the offence is let the great axe fall.

Sentence 1519: I pray you, go with me.

Sentence 1520: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VI Another room in the castle.

Sentence 1521: [Enter HORATIO and a Servant]

HORATIO What are they that would speak with me?

Sentence 1522: Servant Sailors, sir: they say they have letters for you.

Sentence 1523: HORATIO Let them come in.

Sentence 1524: [Exit Servant]

I do not know from what part of the world
I should be greeted, if not from Lord Hamlet.

Sentence 1525: [Enter Sailors]

First Sailor God bless you, sir.

Sentence 1526: HORATIO Let him bless thee too.

Sentence 1527: First Sailor He shall, sir, an't please him.

Sentence 1528: There's a letter for you, sir; it comes from the ambassador that was bound for England; if your name be Horatio, as I am
let to know it is.

Sentence 1529: HORATIO [Reads] 'Horatio, when thou shalt have overlooked
this, give these fellows some means to the king:
they have letters for him.'

Sentence 1530: Ere we were two days old at sea, a pirate of very warlike appointment gave us chase.

Sentence 1531: Finding ourselves too slow of sail, we put on a compelled valour, and in the grapple I boarded them: on the instant they got clear of our ship; so
I alone became their prisoner.

Sentence 1532: They have dealt with me like thieves of mercy: but they knew what they did; I am to do a good turn for them.

Sentence 1533: Let the king
have the letters I have sent; and repair thou to me with as much speed as thou wouldest fly death.

Sentence 1534: I
have words to speak in thine ear will make thee
dumb; yet are they much too light for the bore of the matter.

Sentence 1535: These good fellows will bring thee where I am.

Sentence 1536: Rosencrantz and Guildenstern hold their course for England: of them I have much to tell thee.

Sentence 1537: Farewell.

Sentence 1538: 'He that thou knowest thine, HAMLET.'

Sentence 1539: Come, I will make you way for these your letters;
And do't the speedier, that you may direct me
To him from whom you brought them.

Sentence 1540: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT IV

SCENE VII Another room in the castle.

Sentence 1541: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS and LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Now must your conscience my acquaintance seal,
 And you must put me in your heart for friend,
 Sith you have heard, and with a knowing ear,
 That he which hath your noble father slain
 Pursued my life.

Sentence 1542: LAERTES It well appears: but tell me
 Why you proceeded not against these feats,
 So crimeful and so capital in nature,
 As by your safety, wisdom, all things else,
 You mainly were stirr'd up.

Sentence 1543: KING CLAUDIUS O, for two special reasons;
 Which may to you, perhaps, seem much unsinew'd,
 But yet to me they are strong.

Sentence 1544: The queen his mother
 Lives almost by his looks; and for myself--
 My virtue or my plague, be it either which--
 She's so conjunctive to my life and soul,
 That, as the star moves not but in his sphere,
 I could not but by her.

Sentence 1545: The other motive,
 Why to a public count I might not go,
 Is the great love the general gender bear him;
 Who, dipping all his faults in their affection,
 Would, like the spring that turneth wood to stone,
 Convert his gyves to graces; so that my arrows,
 Too slightly timber'd for so loud a wind,
 Would have reverted to my bow again,
 And not where I had aim'd them.

Sentence 1546: LAERTES And so have I a noble father lost;
 A sister driven into desperate terms,
 Whose worth, if praises may go back again,
 Stood challenger on mount of all the age
 For her perfections: but my revenge will come.

Sentence 1547: KING CLAUDIUS Break not your sleeps for that: you must not think
 That we are made of stuff so flat and dull
 That we can let our beard be shook with danger
 And think it pastime.

Sentence 1548: You shortly shall hear more:
 I loved your father, and we love ourself;
 And that, I hope, will teach you to imagine--

[Enter a Messenger]

How now!

Sentence 1549: what news?

Sentence 1550: Messenger Letters, my lord, from Hamlet:

This to your majesty; this to the queen.

Sentence 1551: KING CLAUDIUS From Hamlet!

Sentence 1552: who brought them?

Sentence 1553: Messenger Sailors, my lord, they say; I saw them not:
They were given me by Claudio; he received them
Of him that brought them.

Sentence 1554: KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, you shall hear them.

Sentence 1555: Leave us.

Sentence 1556: [Exit Messenger]

[Reads]

'High and mighty, You shall know I am set naked on your kingdom.

Sentence 1557: To-morrow shall I beg leave to see your kingly eyes: when I shall, first asking your pardon thereunto, recount the occasion of my sudden and more strange return.

Sentence 1558: 'HAMLET.'

Sentence 1559: What should this mean?

Sentence 1560: Are all the rest come back?

Sentence 1561: Or is it some abuse, and no such thing?

Sentence 1562: LAERTES Know you the hand?

Sentence 1563: KING CLAUDIUS 'Tis Hamlets character.

Sentence 1564: 'Naked!'

Sentence 1565: And in a postscript here, he says 'alone.'

Sentence 1566: Can you advise me?

Sentence 1567: LAERTES I'm lost in it, my lord.

Sentence 1568: But let him come;
It warms the very sickness in my heart,
That I shall live and tell him to his teeth,
'Thus didest thou.'

Sentence 1569: KING CLAUDIUS If it be so, Laertes--
As how should it be so?

Sentence 1570: how otherwise?--
Will you be ruled by me?

Sentence 1571: LAERTES Ay, my lord;
So you will not o'errule me to a peace.

Sentence 1572: KING CLAUDIUS To thine own peace.

Sentence 1573: If he be now return'd,
As checking at his voyage, and that he means
No more to undertake it, I will work him
To an exploit, now ripe in my device,
Under the which he shall not choose but fall:
And for his death no wind of blame shall breathe,
But even his mother shall uncharge the practise
And call it accident.

Sentence 1574: LAERTES My lord, I will be ruled;
The rather, if you could devise it so
That I might be the organ.

Sentence 1575: KING CLAUDIUS It falls right.

Sentence 1576: You have been talk'd of since your travel much,
And that in Hamlet's hearing, for a quality
Wherein, they say, you shine: your sum of parts
Did not together pluck such envy from him
As did that one, and that, in my regard,

Of the unworthiest siege.

Sentence 1577: LAERTES What part is that, my lord?

Sentence 1578: KING CLAUDIUS A very riband in the cap of youth,
Yet needful too; for youth no less becomes
The light and careless livery that it wears
Than settled age his sables and his weeds,
Importing health and graveness.

Sentence 1579: Two months since,

Here was a gentleman of Normandy:--
I've seen myself, and served against, the French,
And they can well on horseback: but this gallant
Had witchcraft in't; he grew unto his seat;
And to such wondrous doing brought his horse,
As he had been incorpse and demi-natured
With the brave beast: so far he topp'd my thought,
That I, in forgery of shapes and tricks,
Come short of what he did.

Sentence 1580: LAERTES A Norman was't?

Sentence 1581: KING CLAUDIUS A Norman.

Sentence 1582: LAERTES Upon my life, Lamond.

Sentence 1583: KING CLAUDIUS The very same.

Sentence 1584: LAERTES I know him well: he is the brooch indeed
And gem of all the nation.

Sentence 1585: KING CLAUDIUS He made confession of you,

And gave you such a masterly report
For art and exercise in your defence
And for your rapier most especially,
That he cried out, 'twould be a sight indeed,
If one could match you: the scrimers of their nation,
He swore, had had neither motion, guard, nor eye,
If you opposed them.

Sentence 1586: Sir, this report of his

Did Hamlet so envenom with his envy
That he could nothing do but wish and beg
Your sudden coming o'er, to play with him.

Sentence 1587: Now, out of this,--

LAERTES What out of this, my lord?

Sentence 1588: KING CLAUDIUS Laertes, was your father dear to you?

Sentence 1589: Or are you like the painting of a sorrow,
A face without a heart?

Sentence 1590: LAERTES Why ask you this?

Sentence 1591: KING CLAUDIUS Not that I think you did not love your father;
But that I know love is begun by time;
And that I see, in passages of proof,
Time qualifies the spark and fire of it.

Sentence 1592: There lives within the very flame of love

A kind of wick or snuff that will abate it;
And nothing is at a like goodness still;
For goodness, growing to a plurisy,
Dies in his own too much: that we would do
We should do when we would; for this 'would' changes
And hath abatements and delays as many
As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents;
And then this 'should' is like a spendthrift sigh,
That hurts by easing.

Sentence 1593: But, to the quick o' the ulcer:--

Hamlet comes back: what would you undertake,
To show yourself your father's son in deed
More than in words?

Sentence 1594: LAERTES To cut his throat i' the church.

Sentence 1595: KING CLAUDIUS No place, indeed, should murder sanctuarize;
Revenge should have no bounds.

Sentence 1596: But, good Laertes,
Will you do this, keep close within your chamber.

Sentence 1597: Hamlet return'd shall know you are come home:

We'll put on those shall praise your excellency
And set a double varnish on the fame
The Frenchman gave you, bring you in fine together
And wager on your heads: he, being remiss,
Most generous and free from all contriving,
Will not peruse the foils; so that, with ease,
Or with a little shuffling, you may choose
A sword unbated, and in a pass of practise
Requite him for your father.

Sentence 1598: LAERTES I will do't:

And, for that purpose, I'll anoint my sword.

Sentence 1599: I bought an unction of a mountebank,
So mortal that, but dip a knife in it,
Where it draws blood no cataplasm so rare,
Collected from all simples that have virtue
Under the moon, can save the thing from death
That is but scratch'd withal: I'll touch my point
With this contagion, that, if I gall him slightly,
It may be death.

Sentence 1600: KING CLAUDIUS Let's further think of this;
Weigh what convenience both of time and means
May fit us to our shape: if this should fail,
And that our drift look through our bad performance,
'Twere better not assay'd: therefore this project
Should have a back or second, that might hold,
If this should blast in proof.

Sentence 1601: Soft!

Sentence 1602: let me see:

We'll make a solemn wager on your cunning: I ha't.

Sentence 1603: When in your motion you are hot and dry--
As make your bouts more violent to that end--
And that he calls for drink, I'll have prepared him
A chalice for the nonce, whereon but sipping,
If he by chance escape your venom'd stuck,
Our purpose may hold there.

Sentence 1604: [Enter QUEEN GERTRUDE]

How now, sweet queen!

Sentence 1605: QUEEN GERTRUDE One woe doth tread upon another's heel,
So fast they follow; your sister's drown'd, Laertes.

Sentence 1606: LAERTES Drown'd!

Sentence 1607: O, where?

Sentence 1608: QUEEN GERTRUDE There is a willow grows aslant a brook,
That shows his hoar leaves in the glassy stream;
There with fantastic garlands did she come
Of crow-flowers, nettles, daisies, and long purples

That liberal shepherds give a grosser name,
 But our cold maids do dead men's fingers call them:
 There, on the pendent boughs her coronet weeds
 Clambering to hang, an envious sliver broke;
 When down her weedy trophies and herself
 Fell in the weeping brook.

Sentence 1609: Her clothes spread wide;
 And, mermaid-like, awhile they bore her up:
 Which time she chanted snatches of old tunes;
 As one incapable of her own distress,
 Or like a creature native and indued
 Unto that element: but long it could not be
 Till that her garments, heavy with their drink,
 Pull'd the poor wretch from her melodious lay
 To muddy death.

Sentence 1610: LAERTES Alas, then, she is drown'd?

Sentence 1611: QUEEN GERTRUDE Drown'd, drown'd.

Sentence 1612: LAERTES Too much of water hast thou, poor Ophelia,
 And therefore I forbid my tears: but yet
 It is our trick; nature her custom holds,
 Let shame say what it will: when these are gone,
 The woman will be out.

Sentence 1613: Adieu, my lord:
 I have a speech of fire, that fain would blaze,
 But that this folly douts it.

Sentence 1614: [Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS Let's follow, Gertrude:
 How much I had to do to calm his rage!

Sentence 1615: Now fear I this will give it start again;
 Therefore let's follow.

Sentence 1616: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE I A churchyard.

Sentence 1617: [Enter two Clowns, with spades, &c]

First Clown Is she to be buried in Christian burial that wilfully seeks her own salvation?

Sentence 1618: Second Clown I tell thee she is: and therefore make her grave straight: the crowner hath sat on her, and finds it
 Christian burial.

Sentence 1619: First Clown How can that be, unless she drowned herself in her own defence?

Sentence 1620: Second Clown Why, 'tis found so.

Sentence 1621: First Clown It must be 'se offendendo;' it cannot be else.

Sentence 1622: For

here lies the point: if I drown myself wittingly, it argues an act: and an act hath three branches: it is, to act, to do, to perform: argal, she drowned herself wittingly.

Sentence 1623: Second Clown Nay, but hear you, goodman delver,--

First Clown Give me leave.

Sentence 1624: Here lies the water; good: here stands the man; good; if the man go to this water, and drown himself, it is, will he, nill he, he goes,--mark you that; but if the water come to him and drown him, he drowns not himself: argal, he that is not guilty of his own death shortens not his own life.

Sentence 1625: Second Clown But is this law?

Sentence 1626: First Clown Ay, marry, is't; crowner's quest law.

Sentence 1627: Second Clown Will you ha' the truth on't?

Sentence 1628: If this had not been a gentlewoman, she should have been buried out o'

 Christian burial.

Sentence 1629: First Clown Why, there thou say'st: and the more pity that great folk should have countenance in this world to drown or hang themselves, more than their even Christian.

Sentence 1630: Come, my spade.

Sentence 1631: There is no ancient gentleman but gardeners, ditchers, and grave-makers:
 they hold up Adam's profession.

Sentence 1632: Second Clown Was he a gentleman?

Sentence 1633: First Clown He was the first that ever bore arms.

Sentence 1634: Second Clown Why, he had none.

Sentence 1635: First Clown What, art a heathen?

Sentence 1636: How dost thou understand the Scripture?

Sentence 1637: The Scripture says 'Adam digged:'
 could he dig without arms?

Sentence 1638: I'll put another question to thee: if thou answerest me not to the purpose, confess thyself--

Second Clown Go to.

Sentence 1639: First Clown What is he that builds stronger than either the mason, the shipwright, or the carpenter?

Sentence 1640: Second Clown The gallows-maker; for that frame outlives a thousand tenants.

Sentence 1641: First Clown I like thy wit well, in good faith: the gallows does well; but how does it well?

Sentence 1642: it does well to those that do in: now thou dost ill to say the gallows is built stronger than the church: argal, the gallows may do well to thee.

Sentence 1643: To't again, come.

Sentence 1644: Second Clown 'Who builds stronger than a mason, a shipwright, or a carpenter?'

Sentence 1645: First Clown Ay, tell me that, and unyoke.

Sentence 1646: Second Clown Marry, now I can tell.

Sentence 1647: First Clown To't.

Sentence 1648: Second Clown Mass, I cannot tell.

Sentence 1649: [Enter HAMLET and HORATIO, at a distance]

First Clown Cudgel thy brains no more about it, for your dull ass will not mend his pace with beating; and, when you are asked this question next, say 'a grave-maker: 'the houses that he makes last till doomsday.

Sentence 1650: Go, get thee to Yaughan: fetch me a stoup of liquor.

Sentence 1651: [Exit Second Clown]

[He digs and sings]

In youth, when I did love, did love,
Methought it was very sweet,
To contract, O, the time, for, ah, my behove,
O, methought, there was nothing meet.

Sentence 1652: HAMLET Has this fellow no feeling of his business, that he sings at grave-making?

Sentence 1653: HORATIO Custom hath made it in him a property of easiness.

Sentence 1654: HAMLET 'Tis e'en so: the hand of little employment hath the daintier sense.

Sentence 1655: First Clown [Sings]

But age, with his stealing steps,
Hath claw'd me in his clutch,
And hath shipped me intil the land,
As if I had never been such.

Sentence 1656: [Throws up a skull]

HAMLET That skull had a tongue in it, and could sing once:
how the knave jowls it to the ground, as if it were Cain's jaw-bone, that did the first murder!

Sentence 1657: It might be the pate of a politician, which this ass now o'er-reaches; one that would circumvent God, might it not?

Sentence 1658: HORATIO It might, my lord.

Sentence 1659: HAMLET Or of a courtier; which could say 'Good morrow, sweet lord!

Sentence 1660: How dost thou, good lord?'

Sentence 1661: This might be my lord such-a-one, that praised my lord such-a-one's horse, when he meant to beg it; might it not?

Sentence 1662: HORATIO Ay, my lord.

Sentence 1663: HAMLET Why, e'en so: and now my Lady Worm's; chapless, and knocked about the mazzard with a sexton's spade: here's fine revolution, an we had the trick to see't.

Sentence 1664: Did these bones cost no more the breeding, but to play at loggats with 'em?

Sentence 1665: mine ache to think on't.

Sentence 1666: First Clown: [Sings]

A pick-axe, and a spade, a spade,

For and a shrouding sheet:
 O, a pit of clay for to be made
 For such a guest is meet.

Sentence 1667: [Throws up another skull]

HAMLET There's another: why may not that be the skull of a lawyer?

Sentence 1668: Where be his quiddities now, his quilletts, his cases, his tenures, and his tricks?

Sentence 1669: why does he suffer this rude knave now to knock him about the sconce with a dirty shovel, and will not tell him of his action of battery?

Sentence 1670: Hum!

Sentence 1671: This fellow might be in's time a great buyer of land, with his statutes, his recognizances, his fines, his double vouchers, his recoveries: is this the fine of his fines, and the recovery of his recoveries, to have his fine pate full of fine dirt?

Sentence 1672: will his vouchers vouch him no more of his purchases, and double ones too, than the length and breadth of a pair of indentures?

Sentence 1673: The very conveyances of his lands will hardly lie in this box; and must the inheritor himself have no more, ha?

Sentence 1674: HORATIO Not a jot more, my lord.

Sentence 1675: HAMLET Is not parchment made of sheepskins?

Sentence 1676: HORATIO Ay, my lord, and of calf-skins too.

Sentence 1677: HAMLET They are sheep and calves which seek out assurance in that.

Sentence 1678: I will speak to this fellow.

Sentence 1679: Whose grave's this, sirrah?

Sentence 1680: First Clown Mine, sir.

Sentence 1681: [Sings]

O, a pit of clay for to be made
 For such a guest is meet.

Sentence 1682: HAMLET I think it be thine, indeed; for thou liest in't.

Sentence 1683: First Clown You lie out on't, sir, and therefore it is not yours: for my part, I do not lie in't, and yet it is mine.

Sentence 1684: HAMLET 'Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say it is thine: 'tis for the dead, not for the quick; therefore thou liest.

Sentence 1685: First Clown 'Tis a quick lie, sir; 'twill away gain, from me to you.

Sentence 1686: HAMLET What man dost thou dig it for?

Sentence 1687: First Clown For no man, sir.

Sentence 1688: HAMLET What woman, then?

Sentence 1689: First Clown For none, neither.

Sentence 1690: HAMLET Who is to be buried in't?

Sentence 1691: First Clown One that was a woman, sir; but, rest her soul, she's dead.

Sentence 1692: HAMLET How absolute the knave is!

Sentence 1693: we must speak by the card, or equivocation will undo us.

Sentence 1694: By the Lord,

Horatio, these three years I have taken a note of it; the age is grown so picked that the toe of the peasant comes so near the heel of the courtier, he gaffs his kibe.

Sentence 1695: How long hast thou been a grave-maker?

Sentence 1696: First Clown Of all the days i' the year, I came to't that day that our last king Hamlet overcame Fortinbras.

Sentence 1697: HAMLET How long is that since?

Sentence 1698: First Clown Cannot you tell that?

Sentence 1699: every fool can tell that: it was the very day that young Hamlet was born; he that is mad, and sent into England.

Sentence 1700: HAMLET Ay, marry, why was he sent into England?

Sentence 1701: First Clown Why, because he was mad: he shall recover his wits there; or, if he do not, it's no great matter there.

Sentence 1702: HAMLET Why?

Sentence 1703: First Clown 'Twill, a not be seen in him there; there the men are as mad as he.

Sentence 1704: HAMLET How came he mad?

Sentence 1705: First Clown Very strangely, they say.

Sentence 1706: HAMLET How strangely?

Sentence 1707: First Clown Faith, e'en with losing his wits.

Sentence 1708: HAMLET Upon what ground?

Sentence 1709: First Clown Why, here in Denmark: I have been sexton here, man and boy, thirty years.

Sentence 1710: HAMLET How long will a man lie i' the earth ere he rot?

Sentence 1711: First Clown I' faith, if he be not rotten before he die--as we have many pocky corses now-a-days, that will scarce hold the laying in--he will last you some eight year or nine year: a tanner will last you nine year.

Sentence 1712: HAMLET Why he more than another?

Sentence 1713: First Clown Why, sir, his hide is so tanned with his trade, that he will keep out water a great while; and your water is a sore decayer of your whoreson dead body.

Sentence 1714: Here's a skull now; this skull has lain in the earth three and twenty years.

Sentence 1715: HAMLET Whose was it?

Sentence 1716: First Clown A whoreson mad fellow's it was: whose do you think it was?

Sentence 1717: HAMLET Nay, I know not.

Sentence 1718: First Clown A pestilence on him for a mad rogue!

Sentence 1719: a' poured a flagon of Rhenish on my head once.

Sentence 1720: This same skull, sir, was Yorick's skull, the king's jester.

Sentence 1721: HAMLET This?

Sentence 1722: First Clown E'en that.

Sentence 1723: HAMLET Let me see.

Sentence 1724: [Takes the skull]

Alas, poor Yorick!

Sentence 1725: I knew him, Horatio: a fellow of infinite jest, of most excellent fancy: he hath borne me on his back a thousand times; and now, how abhorred in my imagination it is!

Sentence 1726: my gorge rims at it.

Sentence 1727: Here hung those lips that I have kissed I know not how oft.

Sentence 1728: Where be your gibes now?

Sentence 1729: your gambols?

Sentence 1730: your songs?

Sentence 1731: your flashes of merriment, that were wont to set the table on a roar?

Sentence 1732: Not one now, to mock your own grinning?

Sentence 1733: quite chap-fallen?

Sentence 1734: Now get you to my lady's chamber, and tell her, let her paint an inch thick, to this favour she must come; make her laugh at that.

Sentence 1735: Prithee, Horatio, tell me one thing.

Sentence 1736: HORATIO What's that, my lord?

Sentence 1737: HAMLET Dost thou think Alexander looked o' this fashion i'
the earth?

Sentence 1738: HORATIO E'en so.

Sentence 1739: HAMLET And smelt so?

Sentence 1740: pah!

Sentence 1741: [Puts down the skull]

HORATIO E'en so, my lord.

Sentence 1742: HAMLET To what base uses we may return, Horatio!

Sentence 1743: Why may not imagination trace the noble dust of Alexander, till he find it stopping a bung-hole?

Sentence 1744: HORATIO 'Twere to consider too curiously, to consider so.

Sentence 1745: HAMLET No, faith, not a jot; but to follow him thither with modesty enough, and likelihood to lead it: as thus: Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander returneth into dust; the dust is earth; of earth we make loam; and why of that loam, whereto he was converted, might they not stop a beer-barrel?

Sentence 1746: Imperious Caesar, dead and turn'd to clay,
Might stop a hole to keep the wind away:
O, that that earth, which kept the world in awe,
Should patch a wall to expel the winter flaw!

Sentence 1747: But soft!

Sentence 1748: but soft!

Sentence 1749: aside: here comes the king.

Sentence 1750: [Enter Priest, &c. in procession; the Corpse of OPHELIA, LAERTES and Mourners following; KING
CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, their trains, &c]

The queen, the courtiers: who is this they follow?

Sentence 1751: And with such maimed rites?

Sentence 1752: This doth betoken

The corse they follow did with desperate hand
Fordo its own life: 'twas of some estate.

Sentence 1753: Couch we awhile, and mark.

Sentence 1754: [Retiring with HORATIO]

LAERTES What ceremony else?

Sentence 1755: HAMLET That is Laertes,
A very noble youth: mark.

Sentence 1756: LAERTES What ceremony else?

Sentence 1757: First Priest Her obsequies have been as far enlarged
As we have warrantise: her death was doubtful;
And, but that great command o'ersways the order,
She should in ground unsanctified have lodged
Till the last trumpet: for charitable prayers,
Shards, flints and pebbles should be thrown on her;
Yet here she is allow'd her virgin crants,
Her maiden strewments and the bringing home
Of bell and burial.

Sentence 1758: LAERTES Must there no more be done?

Sentence 1759: First Priest No more be done:
We should profane the service of the dead
To sing a requiem and such rest to her
As to peace-parted souls.

Sentence 1760: LAERTES Lay her i' the earth:
And from her fair and unpolluted flesh
May violets spring!

Sentence 1761: I tell thee, churlish priest,
A ministering angel shall my sister be,
When thou liest howling.

Sentence 1762: HAMLET What, the fair Ophelia!

Sentence 1763: QUEEN GERTRUDE Sweets to the sweet: farewell!
Sentence 1764: [Scattering flowers]

I hoped thou shouldst have been my Hamlet's wife;
I thought thy bride-bed to have deck'd, sweet maid,
And not have strew'd thy grave.

Sentence 1765: LAERTES O, treble woe
Fall ten times treble on that cursed head,
Whose wicked deed thy most ingenious sense
Deprived thee of!

Sentence 1766: Hold off the earth awhile,
Till I have caught her once more in mine arms:

[Leaps into the grave]

Now pile your dust upon the quick and dead,
Till of this flat a mountain you have made,
To o'ertop old Pelion, or the skyish head
Of blue Olympus.

Sentence 1767: HAMLET [Advancing] What is he whose grief
Bears such an emphasis?

Sentence 1768: whose phrase of sorrow
Conjures the wandering stars, and makes them stand
Like wonder-wounded hearers?

Sentence 1769: This is I,
Hamlet the Dane.

Sentence 1770: [Leaps into the grave]

LAERTES The devil take thy soul!

Sentence 1771: [Grappling with him]

HAMLET Thou pray'st not well.

Sentence 1772: I prithee, take thy fingers from my throat;
For, though I am not splenitive and rash,
Yet have I something in me dangerous,
Which let thy wiseness fear: hold off thy hand.

Sentence 1773: KING CLAUDIUS Pluck them asunder.

Sentence 1774: QUEEN GERTRUDE Hamlet, Hamlet!

Sentence 1775: All Gentlemen,--

HORATIO Good my lord, be quiet.

Sentence 1776: [The Attendants part them, and they come out of the grave]

HAMLET Why I will fight with him upon this theme
Until my eyelids will no longer wag.

Sentence 1777: QUEEN GERTRUDE O my son, what theme?

Sentence 1778: HAMLET I loved Ophelia: forty thousand brothers
Could not, with all their quantity of love,
Make up my sum.

Sentence 1779: What wilt thou do for her?

Sentence 1780: KING CLAUDIUS O, he is mad, Laertes.

Sentence 1781: QUEEN GERTRUDE For love of God, forbear him.

Sentence 1782: HAMLET 'Swounds, show me what thou'l do:
Woo't weep?

Sentence 1783: woo't fight?

Sentence 1784: woo't fast?

Sentence 1785: woo't tear thyself?

Sentence 1786: Woo't drink up eisel?

Sentence 1787: eat a crocodile?

Sentence 1788: I'll do't.

Sentence 1789: Dost thou come here to whine?

Sentence 1790: To outface me with leaping in her grave?

Sentence 1791: Be buried quick with her, and so will I:
And, if thou prate of mountains, let them throw
Millions of acres on us, till our ground,
Singeing his pate against the burning zone,
Make Ossa like a wart!

Sentence 1792: Nay, an thou'l mouth,
I'll rant as well as thou.

Sentence 1793: QUEEN GERTRUDE This is mere madness:
And thus awhile the fit will work on him;
Anon, as patient as the female dove,
When that her golden couplets are disclosed,
His silence will sit drooping.

Sentence 1794: HAMLET Hear you, sir;
What is the reason that you use me thus?

Sentence 1795: I loved you ever: but it is no matter;
Let Hercules himself do what he may,
The cat will mew and dog will have his day.

Sentence 1796: [Exit]

KING CLAUDIUS I pray you, good Horatio, wait upon him.

Sentence 1797: [Exit HORATIO]

[To LAERTES]

Strengthen your patience in our last night's speech;
We'll put the matter to the present push.

Sentence 1798: Good Gertrude, set some watch over your son.
 Sentence 1799: This grave shall have a living monument:
 An hour of quiet shortly shall we see;
 Till then, in patience our proceeding be.
 Sentence 1800: [Exeunt]

HAMLET

ACT V

SCENE II A hall in the castle.
 Sentence 1801: [Enter HAMLET and HORATIO]

HAMLET So much for this, sir: now shall you see the other;
 You do remember all the circumstance?
 Sentence 1802: HORATIO Remember it, my lord?
 Sentence 1803: HAMLET Sir, in my heart there was a kind of fighting,
 That would not let me sleep: methought I lay
 Worse than the mutines in the bilboes.
 Sentence 1804: Rashly,
 And praised be rashness for it, let us know,
 Our indiscretion sometimes serves us well,
 When our deep plots do pall: and that should teach us
 There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
 Rough-hew them how we will,--

HORATIO That is most certain.
 Sentence 1805: HAMLET Up from my cabin,
 My sea-gown scarf'd about me, in the dark
 Groped I to find out them; had my desire.
 Sentence 1806: Finger'd their packet, and in fine withdrew
 To mine own room again; making so bold,
 My fears forgetting manners, to unseal
 Their grand commission; where I found, Horatio,--
 O royal knavery!--an exact command,
 Larded with many several sorts of reasons
 Importing Denmark's health and England's too,
 With, ho!

Sentence 1807: such bugs and goblins in my life,
 That, on the supervise, no leisure bated,
 No, not to stay the grinding of the axe,
 My head should be struck off.

Sentence 1808: HORATIO Is't possible?
 Sentence 1809: HAMLET Here's the commission: read it at more leisure.
 Sentence 1810: But wilt thou hear me how I did proceed?
 Sentence 1811: HORATIO I beseech you.
 Sentence 1812: HAMLET Being thus be-netted round with villanies,--
 Ere I could make a prologue to my brains,

They had begun the play--I sat me down,
 Devised a new commission, wrote it fair:
 I once did hold it, as our statists do,
 A baseness to write fair and labour'd much
 How to forget that learning, but, sir, now
 It did me yeoman's service: wilt thou know
 The effect of what I wrote?

Sentence 1813: HORATIO Ay, good my lord.

Sentence 1814: HAMLET An earnest conjuration from the king,
 As England was his faithful tributary,
 As love between them like the palm might flourish,
 As peace should stiff her wheaten garland wear
 And stand a comma 'tween their amities,
 And many such-like 'As'es of great charge,
 That, on the view and knowing of these contents,
 Without debatement further, more or less,
 He should the bearers put to sudden death,
 Not shriving-time allow'd.

Sentence 1815: HORATIO How was this seal'd?

Sentence 1816: HAMLET Why, even in that was heaven ordainant.

Sentence 1817: I had my father's signet in my purse,
 Which was the model of that Danish seal;
 Folded the writ up in form of the other,
 Subscribed it, gave't the impression, placed it safely,
 The changeling never known.

Sentence 1818: Now, the next day

Was our sea-fight; and what to this was sequent
 Thou know'st already.

Sentence 1819: HORATIO So Guildenstern and Rosencrantz go to't.

Sentence 1820: HAMLET Why, man, they did make love to this employment;
 They are not near my conscience; their defeat
 Does by their own insinuation grow:
 'Tis dangerous when the baser nature comes
 Between the pass and fell incensed points
 Of mighty opposites.

Sentence 1821: HORATIO Why, what a king is this!

Sentence 1822: HAMLET Does it not, think'st thee, stand me now upon--
 He that hath kill'd my king and whored my mother,
 Popp'd in between the election and my hopes,
 Thrown out his angle for my proper life,
 And with such cozenage--is't not perfect conscience,
 To quit him with this arm?

Sentence 1823: and is't not to be damn'd,
 To let this canker of our nature come
 In further evil?

Sentence 1824: HORATIO It must be shortly known to him from England
 What is the issue of the business there.

Sentence 1825: HAMLET It will be short: the interim is mine;
 And a man's life's no more than to say 'One.'

Sentence 1826: But I am very sorry, good Horatio,
 That to Laertes I forgot myself;
 For, by the image of my cause, I see
 The portraiture of his: I'll court his favours.

Sentence 1827: But, sure, the bravery of his grief did put me
 Into a towering passion.

Sentence 1828: HORATIO Peace!

Sentence 1829: who comes here?

Sentence 1830: [Enter OSRIC]

OSRIC Your lordship is right welcome back to Denmark.

Sentence 1831: HAMLET I humbly thank you, sir.

Sentence 1832: Dost know this water-fly?

Sentence 1833: HORATIO No, my good lord.

Sentence 1834: HAMLET Thy state is the more gracious; for 'tis a vice to know him.

Sentence 1835: He hath much land, and fertile: let a beast be lord of beasts, and his crib shall stand at the king's mess: 'tis a chough; but, as I say, spacious in the possession of dirt.

Sentence 1836: OSRIC Sweet lord, if your lordship were at leisure, I should impart a thing to you from his majesty.

Sentence 1837: HAMLET I will receive it, sir, with all diligence of spirit.

Sentence 1838: Put your bonnet to his right use; 'tis for the head.

Sentence 1839: OSRIC I thank your lordship, it is very hot.

Sentence 1840: HAMLET No, believe me, 'tis very cold; the wind is northerly.

Sentence 1841: OSRIC It is indifferent cold, my lord, indeed.

Sentence 1842: HAMLET But yet methinks it is very sultry and hot for my complexion.

Sentence 1843: OSRIC Exceedingly, my lord; it is very sultry,--as 'twere,--I cannot tell how.

Sentence 1844: But, my lord, his majesty bade me signify to you that he has laid a great wager on your head: sir, this is the matter,--

HAMLET I beseech you, remember--

[HAMLET moves him to put on his hat]

OSRIC Nay, good my lord; for mine ease, in good faith.

Sentence 1845: Sir, here is newly come to court Laertes; believe me, an absolute gentleman, full of most excellent differences, of very soft society and great showing: indeed, to speak feelingly of him, he is the card or calendar of gentry, for you shall find in him the continent of what part a gentleman would see.

Sentence 1846: HAMLET Sir, his definement suffers no perdition in you; though, I know, to divide him inventorially would dizzy the arithmetic of memory, and yet but yaw neither, in respect of his quick sail.

Sentence 1847: But, in the verity of extolment, I take him to be a soul of great article; and his infusion of such dearth and rareness, as, to make true diction of him, his semblable is his mirror; and who else would trace him, his umbrage, nothing more.

Sentence 1848: OSRIC Your lordship speaks most infallibly of him.

Sentence 1849: HAMLET The concernancy, sir?

Sentence 1850: why do we wrap the gentleman in our more rawer breath?

Sentence 1851: OSRIC Sir?

Sentence 1852: HORATIO Is't not possible to understand in another tongue?
Sentence 1853: You will do't, sir, really.
Sentence 1854: HAMLET What imports the nomination of this gentleman?
Sentence 1855: OSRIC Of Laertes?
Sentence 1856: HORATIO His purse is empty already; all's golden words are spent.
Sentence 1857: HAMLET Of him, sir.
Sentence 1858: OSRIC I know you are not ignorant--

HAMLET I would you did, sir; yet, in faith, if you did, it would not much approve me.

Sentence 1859: Well, sir?

Sentence 1860: OSRIC You are not ignorant of what excellency Laertes is--

HAMLET I dare not confess that, lest I should compare with him in excellency; but, to know a man well, were to know himself.

Sentence 1861: OSRIC I mean, sir, for his weapon; but in the imputation laid on him by them, in his meed he's unfellowed.

Sentence 1862: HAMLET What's his weapon?

Sentence 1863: OSRIC Rapier and dagger.

Sentence 1864: HAMLET That's two of his weapons: but, well.

Sentence 1865: OSRIC The king, sir, hath wagered with him six Barbary horses: against the which he has imposed, as I take it, six French rapiers and poniards, with their assigns, as girdle, hangers, and so: three of the carriages, in faith, are very dear to fancy, very responsive to the hilts, most delicate carriages,
and of very liberal conceit.

Sentence 1866: HAMLET What call you the carriages?

Sentence 1867: HORATIO I knew you must be edified by the Margaret ere you had done.

Sentence 1868: OSRIC The carriages, sir, are the hangers.

Sentence 1869: HAMLET The phrase would be more German to the matter, if we could carry cannon by our sides: I would it might be hangers till then.

Sentence 1870: But, on: six Barbary horses against six French swords, their assigns, and three liberal-conceited carriages; that's the French bet against the Danish.

Sentence 1871: Why is this 'imposed,' as you call it?

Sentence 1872: OSRIC The king, sir, hath laid, that in a dozen passes between yourself and him, he shall not exceed you three hits: he hath laid on twelve for nine; and it would come to immediate trial, if your lordship
would vouchsafe the answer.

Sentence 1873: HAMLET How if I answer 'no'?

Sentence 1874: OSRIC I mean, my lord, the opposition of your person in trial.

Sentence 1875: HAMLET Sir, I will walk here in the hall: if it please his majesty, 'tis the breathing time of day with me; let
the foils be brought, the gentleman willing, and the king hold his purpose, I will win for him an I can;
if not, I will gain nothing but my shame and the odd hits.

Sentence 1876: OSRIC Shall I re-deliver you e'en so?

Sentence 1877: HAMLET To this effect, sir; after what flourish your nature will.

Sentence 1878: OSRIC I commend my duty to your lordship.

Sentence 1879: HAMLET Yours, yours.

Sentence 1880: [Exit OSRIC]

He does well to commend it himself; there are no tongues else for's turn.

Sentence 1881: HORATIO This lapwing runs away with the shell on his head.

Sentence 1882: HAMLET He did comply with his dug, before he sucked it.

Sentence 1883: Thus has he--and many more of the same bevy that I know the dressy age dotes on--only got the tune of the time and outward habit of encounter; a kind of yesty collection, which carries them through and through the most fond and winnowed opinions; and do but blow them to their trial, the bubbles are out.

Sentence 1884: [Enter a Lord]

Lord My lord, his majesty commended him to you by young Osric, who brings back to him that you attend him in the hall: he sends to know if your pleasure hold to play with Laertes, or that you will take longer time.

Sentence 1885: HAMLET I am constant to my purpose; they follow the king's pleasure: if his fitness speaks, mine is ready; now or whensoever, provided I be so able as now.

Sentence 1886: Lord The king and queen and all are coming down.

Sentence 1887: HAMLET In happy time.

Sentence 1888: Lord The queen desires you to use some gentle entertainment to Laertes before you fall to play.

Sentence 1889: HAMLET She well instructs me.

Sentence 1890: [Exit Lord]

HORATIO You will lose this wager, my lord.

Sentence 1891: HAMLET I do not think so: since he went into France, I have been in continual practise: I shall win at the odds.

Sentence 1892: But thou wouldest not think how ill all's here about my heart: but it is no matter.

Sentence 1893: HORATIO Nay, good my lord,--

HAMLET It is but foolery; but it is such a kind of gain-giving, as would perhaps trouble a woman.

Sentence 1894: HORATIO If your mind dislike any thing, obey it: I will forestall their repair hither, and say you are not fit.

Sentence 1895: HAMLET Not a whit, we defy augury: there's a special providence in the fall of a sparrow.

Sentence 1896: If it be now,
'tis not to come; if it be not to come, it will be now; if it be not now, yet it will come: the readiness is all: since no man has aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?

Sentence 1897: [Enter KING CLAUDIUS, QUEEN GERTRUDE, LAERTES, Lords, OSRIC, and Attendants with foils, &c]

KING CLAUDIUS Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me.

Sentence 1898: [KING CLAUDIUS puts LAERTES' hand into HAMLET's]

HAMLET Give me your pardon, sir: I've done you wrong;
But pardon't, as you are a gentleman.

Sentence 1899: This presence knows,

And you must needs have heard, how I am punish'd
With sore distraction.

Sentence 1900: What I have done,
That might your nature, honour and exception
Roughly awake, I here proclaim was madness.

Sentence 1901: Was't Hamlet wrong'd Laertes?

Sentence 1902: Never Hamlet:
If Hamlet from himself be ta'en away,
And when he's not himself does wrong Laertes,
Then Hamlet does it not, Hamlet denies it.

Sentence 1903: Who does it, then?

Sentence 1904: His madness: if't be so,
Hamlet is of the faction that is wrong'd;
His madness is poor Hamlet's enemy.

Sentence 1905: Sir, in this audience,
Let my disclaiming from a purposed evil
Free me so far in your most generous thoughts,
That I have shot mine arrow o'er the house,
And hurt my brother.

Sentence 1906: LAERTES I am satisfied in nature,
Whose motive, in this case, should stir me most
To my revenge: but in my terms of honour
I stand aloof; and will no reconciliation,
Till by some elder masters, of known honour,
I have a voice and precedent of peace,
To keep my name ungored.

Sentence 1907: But till that time,
I do receive your offer'd love like love,
And will not wrong it.

Sentence 1908: HAMLET I embrace it freely;
And will this brother's wager frankly play.

Sentence 1909: Give us the foils.

Sentence 1910: Come on.

Sentence 1911: LAERTES Come, one for me.

Sentence 1912: HAMLET I'll be your foil, Laertes: in mine ignorance
Your skill shall, like a star i' the darkest night,
Stick fiery off indeed.

Sentence 1913: LAERTES You mock me, sir.

Sentence 1914: HAMLET No, by this hand.

Sentence 1915: KING CLAUDIUS Give them the foils, young Osric.

Sentence 1916: Cousin Hamlet,
You know the wager?

Sentence 1917: HAMLET Very well, my lord
Your grace hath laid the odds o' the weaker side.

Sentence 1918: KING CLAUDIUS I do not fear it; I have seen you both:
But since he is better'd, we have therefore odds.

Sentence 1919: LAERTES This is too heavy, let me see another.

Sentence 1920: HAMLET This likes me well.

Sentence 1921: These foils have all a length?

Sentence 1922: [They prepare to play]

OSRIC Ay, my good lord.

Sentence 1923: KING CLAUDIUS Set me the stoops of wine upon that table.

Sentence 1924: If Hamlet give the first or second hit,
Or quit in answer of the third exchange,
Let all the battlements their ordnance fire:

The king shall drink to Hamlet's better breath;
 And in the cup an union shall he throw,
 Richer than that which four successive kings
 In Denmark's crown have worn.

Sentence 1925: Give me the cups;
 And let the kettle to the trumpet speak,
 The trumpet to the cannoneer without,
 The cannons to the heavens, the heavens to earth,
 'Now the king dunks to Hamlet.'

Sentence 1926: Come, begin:
 And you, the judges, bear a wary eye.

Sentence 1927: HAMLET Come on, sir.

Sentence 1928: LAERTES Come, my lord.

Sentence 1929: [They play]

HAMLET One.

Sentence 1930: LAERTES No.

Sentence 1931: HAMLET Judgment.

Sentence 1932: OSRIC A hit, a very palpable hit.

Sentence 1933: LAERTES Well; again.

Sentence 1934: KING CLAUDIUS Stay; give me drink.

Sentence 1935: Hamlet, this pearl is thine;
 Here's to thy health.

Sentence 1936: [Trumpets sound, and cannon shot off within]

Give him the cup.

Sentence 1937: HAMLET I'll play this bout first; set it by awhile.

Sentence 1938: Come.

Sentence 1939: [They play]

Another hit; what say you?

Sentence 1940: LAERTES A touch, a touch, I do confess.

Sentence 1941: KING CLAUDIUS Our son shall win.

Sentence 1942: QUEEN GERTRUDE He's fat, and scant of breath.

Sentence 1943: Here, Hamlet, take my napkin, rub thy brows;
 The queen carouses to thy fortune, Hamlet.

Sentence 1944: HAMLET Good madam!

Sentence 1945: KING CLAUDIUS Gertrude, do not drink.

Sentence 1946: QUEEN GERTRUDE I will, my lord; I pray you, pardon me.

Sentence 1947: KING CLAUDIUS [Aside] It is the poison'd cup: it is too late.

Sentence 1948: HAMLET I dare not drink yet, madam; by and by.

Sentence 1949: QUEEN GERTRUDE Come, let me wipe thy face.

Sentence 1950: LAERTES My lord, I'll hit him now.

Sentence 1951: KING CLAUDIUS I do not think't.

Sentence 1952: LAERTES [Aside] And yet 'tis almost 'gainst my conscience.

Sentence 1953: HAMLET Come, for the third, Laertes: you but dally;
 I pray you, pass with your best violence;
 I am afear'd you make a wanton of me.

Sentence 1954: LAERTES Say you so?

Sentence 1955: come on.

Sentence 1956: [They play]

OSRIC Nothing, neither way.

Sentence 1957: LAERTES Have at you now!

Sentence 1958: [LAERTES wounds HAMLET; then in scuffling, they change rapiers, and HAMLET wounds LAERTES]

KING CLAUDIUS Part them; they are incensed.

Sentence 1959: HAMLET Nay, come, again.

Sentence 1960: [QUEEN GERTRUDE falls]

OSRIC Look to the queen there, ho!

Sentence 1961: HORATIO They bleed on both sides.

Sentence 1962: How is it, my lord?

Sentence 1963: OSRIC How is't, Laertes?

Sentence 1964: LAERTES Why, as a woodcock to mine own springe, Osric;
I am justly kill'd with mine own treachery.

Sentence 1965: HAMLET How does the queen?

Sentence 1966: KING CLAUDIUS She swounds to see them bleed.

Sentence 1967: QUEEN GERTRUDE No, no, the drink, the drink,--O my dear Hamlet,--
The drink, the drink!

Sentence 1968: I am poison'd.

Sentence 1969: [Dies]

HAMLET O villany!

Sentence 1970: Ho!

Sentence 1971: let the door be lock'd:

Treachery!

Sentence 1972: Seek it out.

Sentence 1973: LAERTES It is here, Hamlet: Hamlet, thou art slain;

No medicine in the world can do thee good;
In thee there is not half an hour of life;
The treacherous instrument is in thy hand,
Unbated and envenom'd: the foul practise
Hath turn'd itself on me lo, here I lie,
Never to rise again: thy mother's poison'd:
I can no more: the king, the king's to blame.

Sentence 1974: HAMLET The point!--envenom'd too!

Sentence 1975: Then, venom, to thy work.

Sentence 1976: [Stabs KING CLAUDIUS]

All Treason!

Sentence 1977: treason!

Sentence 1978: KING CLAUDIUS O, yet defend me, friends; I am but hurt.

Sentence 1979: HAMLET Here, thou incestuous, murderous, damned Dane, Drink off this potion.

Sentence 1980: Is thy union here?

Sentence 1981: Follow my mother.

Sentence 1982: [KING CLAUDIUS dies]

LAERTES He is justly served;

It is a poison temper'd by himself.

Sentence 1983: Exchange forgiveness with me, noble Hamlet:

Mine and my father's death come not upon thee,
Nor thine on me.

Sentence 1984: [Dies]

HAMLET Heaven make thee free of it!

Sentence 1985: I follow thee.

Sentence 1986: I am dead, Horatio.

Sentence 1987: Wretched queen, adieu!

Sentence 1988: You that look pale and tremble at this chance,

That are but mutes or audience to this act,
 Had I but time--as this fell sergeant, death,
 Is strict in his arrest--O, I could tell you--
 But let it be.

Sentence 1989: Horatio, I am dead;
 Thou livest; report me and my cause aright
 To the unsatisfied.

Sentence 1990: HORATIO Never believe it:
 I am more an antique Roman than a Dane:

Sentence 1991: HAMLET As thou'rt a man,
 Give me the cup: let go; by heaven, I'll have't.

Sentence 1992: O good Horatio, what a wounded name,
 Things standing thus unknown, shall live behind me!

Sentence 1993: If thou didst ever hold me in thy heart

Sentence 1996: HAMLET O, I die, Horatio;
 The potent poison quite o'er-crows my spirit:
 I cannot live to hear the news from England;
 But I do prophesy the election lights
 On Fortinbras: he has my dying voice;
 So tell him, with the occurrents, more and less,
 Which have solicited.

Sentence 1997: The rest is silence.

Sentence 1998: [Dies]

Sentence 1999: Good night sweet prince:
 And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest!

Sentence 2004: PRINCE FORTINBRAS This quarry cries on havoc.

Sentence 2005: O proud death,
 What feast is toward in thine eternal cell,
 That thou so many princes at a shot
 So bloodyly hast struck?

Sentence 2006: First Ambassador The sight is dismal;
 And our affairs from England come too late:
 The ears are senseless that should give us hearing,
 To tell him his commandment is fulfill'd,
 That Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead:

Where should we have our thanks?

Sentence 2007: HORATIO Not from his mouth,
 Had it the ability of life to thank you:
 He never gave commandment for their death.

Sentence 2008: But since, so jump upon this bloody question,
 You from the Polack wars, and you from England,
 Are here arrived give order that these bodies
 High on a stage be placed to the view;
 And let me speak to the yet unknowing world
 How these things came about: so shall you hear
 Of carnal, bloody, and unnatural acts,
 Of accidental judgments, casual slaughters,
 Of deaths put on by cunning and forced cause,
 And, in this upshot, purposes mistook
 Fall'n on the inventors' reads: all this can I
 Truly deliver.

Sentence 2009: PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let us haste to hear it,
 And call the noblest to the audience.

Sentence 2010: For me, with sorrow I embrace my fortune:
 I have some rights of memory in this kingdom,
 Which now to claim my vantage doth invite me.

Sentence 2011: HORATIO Of that I shall have also cause to speak,
 And from his mouth whose voice will draw on more;
 But let this same be presently perform'd,
 Even while men's minds are wild; lest more mischance
 On plots and errors, happen.

Sentence 2012: PRINCE FORTINBRAS Let four captains
 Bear Hamlet, like a soldier, to the stage;
 For he was likely, had he been put on,
 To have proved most royally: and, for his passage,
 The soldiers' music and the rites of war
 Speak loudly for him.

 Becomes the field, but here shows much amiss.

 bodies; after which a peal of ordnance is shot off]
